THE UNION DRUG STORE.

J. W. SHOEMAKER & CO., have just received one of the largest stocks of all kinds of School Books and Stationery ever brought to Bloomington, and they propose to undersell the cheapest. Call and see.

BLOOMINGTON PROGRESS.

ISSUED EVERY WEDNESDAY, at $2 per year.

WILLIAM A. GABE, Editor and Proprietor

—Every sixtieth man in Fort Wayne keeps a saloon.

—The new union depot at Richmond will cost $50,000.

—Jeffersonville was laid out on a plan drawn by Thomas Jefferson in 1808.

—Jack Hampton, a colored youth of Noblesville, carries a ball in his thigh—the result of foolin' with a pistol.

—A poor little kitten died of delirium tremens, after riding six squares in the pocket of a New Albany toper.

—The State Printer, Dick Bright, has advices from various parts of the State, in which wild-cats are reported numerous. They are not the kind he is after.

—Prof. Ewald was shot, on Christmas day, at Russellville, Ky., and seriously wounded. He will be remembered as Agent for an Indianapolis Piano House while here.

—Michael Brady, of Franklin, intoxicated on Christmas, slipped on the landing of a flight of outside stairs, and fell over the bannister to the pavement, causing his death.

—Little Johnny Cummins, of Brownstown, got his toy pistol mixed up with a powder flask in his trowsers pocket, and his new Christmas clothes are a perfect wreck.

—The State Prison South, at Jeffersonville, is being enlarged to double its former proportions, and transformed into a mammoth car factory with convicts for operators.

—Mrs. Dr. Osbone, of Lafayette, was thrown from her carriage, by an unruly horse, last week, and painfully injured. The animal stepped in her face leaving marks which will always remain.

—Jack Ricketts, a saloon keeper at Knightstown, stopped to let down the locks of his double barreled gun with his toe while out hunting last week. He leaves a wife and one child.

—A little child of Mr. Ergan Bright, living near Ladoga, fell and plunged its arms into a kettle of boiling lard up to its elbows, literally cooking them.

—It is said that the intensely Democratic editor of the Ft. Wayne Sentinel dismissed a physician, during a late illness, because the medicine man proposed to effect a "radical" cure.

—A Warren county farmer set a steel trap in the door of his corn-crib, one night recently, and a lazy neighbor was very much disgusted when the machine snapped his leg and kept him till morning. He excused himself by saying that it was the quickest way to "raise corn."

—At a Springville wedding recently, a nicely ornamented cake was most horribly mutilated by an old gentleman who mistook it for a dish of mashed potatoes, and thrust a spoon into it, with the remark, "I will next carve the potatoes."

—Chas. Bruce and wife, of Spencer county, returned from church a short time since, and found their little child, aged three years, burned to death by the ignition of its dress at the fire. Now, if they had been off attending a circus, wouldn't there have been a moral howl?

—A woman was granted a divorce, in the Noble County Common Pleas Court, and immediately upon the decision, Judge Clapp suspended the business of the court, and re-married her to another man, before the divorce had been entered upon record.

—"Molly, shut the door; it's getting awful cold in here!" was the remark of a Lafayette husband, as he hung his coat on a hitching post, and prepared to retire on the curbstone, under the impression that he had arrived at home.

—Sylvester Meeks, an employe of Levi Farr, of Sullivan county, manifests anything but meekness. Last Monday he made a murderous assault upon Mr. Farr with a billet of wood. Failing in his purpose he took to the woods, and has not yet been caught.

—Monday a week, John Dodson of Sullivan, while cleaning out an old musket, innocently ran a red-hot ramrod down the barrel, among the loose powder. He felt very much shocked at the conduct of the gun, when the ramrod in its haste to escape gently peeled his nose.

—A man named Sutherland, at Petersburg, Pike county, was quarreling with his wife, and becoming infuriated, threw a hatchet at her. It missed the woman, but struck their babe, inflicting a dangerous and probably fatal wound. The woman had no business to talk back.

—An Elkhart county man made a mistake in church, the other day, when the contribution box was held to him. He reached for his

—At Shick's mill, seven miles west of Seymour, on the O. & M. Railroad, an old cannon being fired off to celebrate Christmas, burst and instantly killed William Dobbins and a blacksmith named Crews. A young man named August Kaust had his left hand so badly injured that it had to be amputated.

—John Menaifold was riding on horseback at a rapid pace, through Noblesville, last week, when he came upon a calf lying in the street, which caused the horse to stumble and throw his rider, whose foot caught in the stirrup. He was dragged some distance, and so badly injured that he died in one hour after.

—A man named Storms had a dispute with Purcipile & Son, merchants of Rensselaer, about a grocery bill, last week, and Purcipile attempted to seize Storms' horses for the bill, without process of law. Storms resisted, when young Purcipile approached from behind and struck Storms a blow on the head, fracturing his skull. He is not expected to recover.

—Dr. Rariden of Bedford, on the strength of a prayer which he didn't make, but which the New Albany Standard reported all the same, is set down by the Indianapolis Journal as a Democrat. The Doctor promptly explains, and as he is the present owner of the celebrated jack-knife—the property of the ugliest man—the Standard editor stands a good chance of being scientifically dissected.—Evansville Journal.

—Mrs. Litten, of Owen county, a young married woman, shot herself because her husband went to writing school after she had expressly forbidden him to do so. After lingering in great agony for more than a week, Mrs. Litten died. Now we may expect that writing schools will become very popular with dissatisfied husbands. All cannot be in luck though.

—A few days ago, an unmarried man by the name of Belt, ran away from Mt. Vernon, with a Mr. Atkinson's wife, and went to Princeton. On arriving at that place, Mr. Belt got sick of his bargain, and started back home. He met Atkinson in Henderson, Ky., looking for his wife. Belt offered to return the recreant spouse, but Atkinson refused to take her back unless Belt would pay her expenses to Henderson, and $15. Belt at once forked over the currency and thus got out of his entanglements.

—The People, (Indianapolis,) "wants to know you know" if Benjowski, who was acquitted the other day at Franklin, on the ground of insanity, for a murder committed at Shelbyville, last spring, has been sent to the Insane Asylum—and if not, why not? Better be looking after quarters in the Asylum for the jury that acquitted him. Or, is there no provision for receiving fools in that institution?

—A White county girl brings a suit for slander against a well known merchant of Monticello, for saving, among other slanderous things, that she did not amount to much when unbuilt—that she was an old mummy, made up of whalebone, cotton, some bran and very little brains," all of which she alleges to be untrue in point of fact, a gross slander, and since by inference it reflected upon her name (in this that the plaintiff assumed to know whereof he affirmed,) her reputation is damaged to the sum of $10,000.

—One of our young New Year callers, recently from the "rural districts," in his rounds was offered a whole cake that had not been cut yet. Overcome by the generous hospitality of the young lady who did the honors of the mansion, he exclaimed, "Oh, my, Miss, I am overcome by your liberal hospitality; I'm afraid I can't eat half this cake;" but with heroic fortitude he took the plate upon his lap and commenced the process of demolition. Failing to consume more than half the cake, he deliberately wrapped up the remainder in his handkerchief and took his leave, his fair hostess ready to cry with vexation at the disappearance of the choice cake, upon which she expected to be complimented a dozen times during the day.—Lawrenceburg Register.

—The Cincinnati & Terre Haute Railroad has unearthed two living human curiosities in Riley township, this county. A gentleman whose word can be relied upon says that he saw them a few days since. The first is a son of Daniel Kimmerly, who has been a living skeleton from infancy; he is now eleven years old, is about four feet high, and weighs only ten and one-fourth pounds; does not talk, but can understand what is said to him; has very long hair, heavy eyebrows and eyelashes; his upper and lower teeth are double all around. The other is a perfectly blind man, named Solomon Follett, who chops his cord of wood a day. He selects his own tree, fells it, cuts it into cord wood, and piles it up without any help.—T. H. Express.

—Rev. Mr. Nasby has been visiting a number of cities in the West, getting up meetings in the interest of the Democracy—attempting to introduce the "Passive Policy" into the rural districts. He has recently published a very discouraging diary of his trip, in which occurs the following mention of an effort made in our own beloved State:

Noblesville, Ind.—Got together

ten of the latter. One had bin histed from the post office, and the other nine had applied for it in vain. Ther wuz much enthousiasm at the beginnin, till the question happened to arise ez to the distribution uv the offices in the event uv success. The ten disgusted Republikins insisted that they shood be given them, ez without their assistance the Democrisy cooden't do nothin, and the Democrisy insisted that if the Republikin renegades wuz to hev the offices, they didn't care a tinker's cuss whether they did anything or not. "Ef the Republikins is to hev the places anyhow," yelled the Democracy all in korus, "we'd rather it would be the decent ones." Meetin broke up in a row. Paid my own expenses out uv tewn.

Geo. W. Julian is mentioned as a candidate for Congressman-at-large for the State.

SMALL-POX BY MAIL.—The Wheeling, (West Va.,) Intelligencer says: "A young lady now ill with smallpox in this city, recently received a letter from a sister in Pittsburg, who wrote that she was then sick with the small-pox. Exactly eleven days after the letter was received the young lady who received it was taken with the disease. She was not exposed to it in any other way, and there seems to be no doubt the contagion was communicated by the letter.

Tom McGehan, who was acquitted of the crime of murdering Thos. S. Myers, at Hamilton, several months since, and whose trial recently took place at Dayton, has been requested by the citizens of his home to not take up his residence among them. A public meeting on Monday night passed some severe resolutions to that effect, and also severely censured Judge McKemp, who presided at the trial.

STOP AND READ.

The undersigned, Auditor and Treasurer, wish to call the attention of the Tax Payers of Monroe county to Section 7 of the Acts of 1869, page 123, which reads as follows, to-wit:

"The amount and value of all bonds issued by bodies corporate or politic, all corporation stocks, Indiana State stocks and stocks of other States and of the United States, whether within or without this State, excepting stocks of the Indiana State Bank, and such other stocks as may be specifically taxed: Provided, that if any person shall have converted moneys, credits, or other personal property in the year preceding the first day of January of the current year, into bonds or other securities of the United States, and shall hold or control said bonds or other securities when he is required to list his property, he shall list the monthly average value of such moneys, credits, or other property thus converted, while such moneys, credits, or other property was held or controlled by him: And provided further, that any indebtedness of such person or persons represented by him, created by investment in said bonds or other securities, shall not be deducted from the amount of credits in making up his list for taxation."

The above section is plain in its provisions, and effectually prevents the covering up of taxable property by converting the same into Greenbacks, or United States securities before the first day of January. Each person is required to pay tax on the monthly average of his personal property without reference to the fact that he may have converted the same into any of the above named securities before the first day of January.

J. F. MANLEY, Auditor. I. MILT. ROGERS, Treasurer.

State of Indiana, Monroe county, ss:

I, James F. Manley, Auditor of Monroe county, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true, full and correct list of Lands and Town Lots, returned and remaining delinquent for the non-payment of taxes, for the Year One Thousand Eight Hundred and Seventy, (subject to be advertised), together with the current taxes due thereon, penalty, interest and cost of advertising the same respectively—as returned by I. Milton Rogers, Treasurer and Collector of said County, and that the same were duly recorded, as the law directs.

JAMES F. MANLEY, Aud. Mon. Co.

Bloomington, Dec. 27, 1871.

State of Indiana, County of Monroe, ss:

Notice is hereby given that, so much of the Lands and Town Lots contained in the foregoing list, as may be necessary to discharge the taxes, interest and charges due thereon, or due from the owner thereof at the time of sale, will be sold at public auction, at the Court House, in the Town of Bloomington, in said county of Monroe, commencing on the first Monday of February, 1872 and continuing from day to day until all are sold.

JAMES F. MANLEY,

AUDITOR OF MONROE COUNTY.

Bloomington, Dec 27, 1871.

I hereby certify that the personal property has been exhausted in the case of each
