THE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE FAITH CURE.

It seems somewhat remarkable in this age of intelligence and difused information that there are numbers of people in many parts of the country, that believe the curing of the sick, the lame, the halt and the blind, may be accomplished by prayers alone, that medicine or examination and treatment by men on scientific principles are useless, that appeals to the Almighty is all that is necessary to bring about a complete restoration of health. There are numbers of believers in such fiction and fanaticism. A case of this kind was brought to light at Dayton, Ohio, last week. A little girl named Mead became sick, and evidence was plain that if treated by a physician her ailment could have been banished and health restored. Her parents, however, were believers in the Christian Science Cure, and absolutely refused to allow a physician to enter her sick chamber. The girl rapidly grew worse in spite of their prayers, and died. They or the "doctors" of the faith cure have been indicted and can now have a test of their praying qualities, while standing a trial for man slaughter. The believers in such rot are descendents, no doubt, of those who believed that Jonah was swallowed by a whale and after three days was vomited forth a live man. Stories of miracles, witches, ghosts, etc., are the foundation of their belief, no doubt, and is their preferred choice of all literature. The liberal and enlightened Christians of today do not take any stock in such nonsense. When they get sick they send for a physician for treatment, and do not wait to test the efficacy of prayer. They are in a better condition for giving thanks after they are restored to health. The belief of the Christian scientists summarized is that God is all powerful and omnipresent, and that they trust in appeals to him, with an understanding of his laws, as a result of study and faith in the laws. They said no medicines were given the sick child. It received tender nursing and whatever nurishment was desired, and was a subject of constant prayer.

THE MOORE BILL.

The Moore bill which will become a law when the acts are published and distributed is just now a highly interesting measure to many people in Indiana. Section thirteen is the one of particular interest just now, which confers upon city councils this power: "To license, regulate and restrain all shops, inns, taverns or other places where intoxicating liquors are kept for sale, to be used in and on the premises, and in regulating, restraining and licensing such inns, taverns, shops or places aforesaid, they shall have the power to designate the room, shop, building or structure where such liquor may be sold, and may exclude such sales from the suburban or residence portion of such city, and may direct the arrangement and construction of the doors, windows and openings of the particular room in such building where such sales may be had, or such intoxicating liquors be drank, and may direct the location, arrangement and construction of the bar kept therein, and the interior arrangement and construction of such room, and may direct what games may be carried on therein, and may forbid the keeping and use of wine rooms."

In the strife for State spoils the spoilsmen are particular to carry out all law precedents, in such cases made and provided, to the letter. The appointment of directors of the two State prisons is an instance in point. The republicans have selected directors, all old time political schemers, and the Governor has also selected the same number. The republican directors must go and demand possession of the prisons, those at present in charge must refuse to give them up. The refused parties must take the case to the Circuit Court of the counties in which the prisons are located. From that court whichever party is defeated must take it to the Supreme Court for final decision. All this of course is according to Hoyle or Blackstone, it is immaterial which. Now if all these spoilsmen and bloodsuckers were forced to pay the expenses of the whole thing from start to finish, the public would care little about it, as it is all a game of dog eat dog.

Gresham, Secretary of State, is receiving much praise lately from republican newspapers who formerly devoted columns to his abuse. They think his "aggressive foreign policy" is just the thing and in no other way can best illustrate his ability or his statesmanship. Gresham seems indifferent to the praise or abuse of these politicians. Had he have supported Harrison for President he would, of course, have been all right in everything he did.

THE MONEY QUESTION.

All indications point to the certainty that the leading issue in the campaign of 1896 will be the money question, and all parties will in their platforms make it the leading subject. The panic of two years ago, and the dull times and general prostration of business resulted from an unsettled and satisfactory condition of finances. It is apparent to persons of intelligence that for years the legislation in this country has been made favorable to capital at the expense of other portions of the people, and that wealth is every year obtaining a firmer grip upon the government and the people. The west and south are favorable to bimetalism, the equality of gold and silver, neither to have by legislation any advantage over the other in the commercial transactions of the country.

It is too plain to need demonstration that the demonitization of silver was solely in the interest of capital. It was the work of a republican Congress and administration todying to capital. It was engineered in the interest of Wall street and Wall street profited largely by it. It is the same to-day. The legislation is for Wall street and the mon eyed people of the east against the masses all over the country. If silver was the equal of gold at any time in the history of this country prior to the war why cannot it be to-day? Is there any reason that silver should be made to depreciate in value? None whatever. If it was worth 100 cents to the dollar thirty years ago why is it not to day? Firm and decided grounds must be taken on the question next year when it will be argued from all points. The democracy must take advanced and reasonable grounds, on the money question. There must be no truckling nor evasion of the question. There can be no middle ground. It resolves itself simply into the question, shall the producers, the makers of wealth, bow their heads to the growing money power of the country? It has been just about that way for the past few years. The lessons of history of many nations teach us of the danger of encroaching wealth and capital. We should heed them, and by voice, vote and actions favor those who create the wealth of the country, and not those who speculate upon it.

ENFORCING THE LAW.

The Nicholson temperance law, like any other similar enactment, will fail in its intended effect if not enforced. City and county officials desiring "a pull" with the liquor influence for future political reward, will often shirk their plain duty under the law and often wink at its violation. This has always been the case when it came to enforcing any strict provisions of temperance laws and we have no reason to doubt that it will be again. If you can rid one-half of the voters of this country of the taste for office, or hope of future political standing, then can you reasonably hope to have rigid temperance laws enforced, otherwise not. In a year or two from this time we believe the Nicholson law will inspire no more terror among retailers of ardent spirits than the present law. A new broom sweeps clean for a time and makes dirt fly, but after a time it becomes stubby, the wires work loose and much dirt is left behind. So with the new temperance law, which for a time may create consternation, but after a time officials become slack in their duties, and violations become common place. No use for a law that is not enforced.

SOUTHERN EMIGRATION.

People looking for new homes are turning their faces toward the South and it would seem that the cry "Westward Ho!" is to be changed to "Southward Ho!" Colonies, we see it stated, are forming in Wisconsin, Iowa, Indiana and other States, which are to invest in lands in Georgia, Alabama and Texas, and an immense emigration may be expected to the southern country this year and next. And why should they not? The old anti-northern feeling has almost faded away. They offer cheap and rich lands at low prices. They have no drouth stricken country, or snowey bleak plains to offer. Their crops are as reasonably certain of steady renumeration as are those of most Northern States. Plenty of timber and good water abound. A change is rapidly taking place in the South. Improvements of every kind are being put under way. A hospitable people welcomes those from the north. Go South, young man. There is where chances to rise in the world seem to offer great inducements.

WAR RUMORS.

The fact that a Spanish vessel fired into an American off the coast of Cuba the other day, was the cause of many predictions of a war between Spain and this country. Spain, however, apologizes and promises to do so no more, and war prospects are fading away fast. This country has no need of war with any foreign nation. We have had enough of war to last a century or two. Of course many alleged patriots (?) who would be looking out for sutlerships, quartermaster's positions, and similar soft snaps, are ready for war at any time, but the majority of American people desire no war at all if it can be possibly avoided.

The evil of over indulgence of children by their parents is seen in the case of Frank Yeagley, who, last week, was sentenced to a year in the penitentiary for purloining a sleigh. Yeagley had the best of parents, a kind father and an affectionate mother. He would not go to school nor learn a trade, which he should have been forced to do. His every wish was gratified with money, but this did no good. He was idle because he had not been compelled to labor. An idle brain is the devil's workshop, and it proved true in Yeagley's case. He was constantly getting his father in trouble through his unlawful schemings. He has come to a halt now. In the solitude of his cell at the prison he will have time to reflect on his past wicked and disgraceful course, and it may eventually be the means of producing in him a better man.

President Cleveland last week appointed a man named Herod, a republican, to a lucrative position in Japan. Cleveland in al. his extensive acquaintance and knowledge of public men probably thought there was no democrat competent to fill the place. There will be few agree with him, and if the democracy ever again elect a President it is to be hoped that he will not be so ungrateful as to choose persons for positions of trust and emolument who oppose him politically. We would insist on a guarantee next time that democratic Presidents appoint only democrats to office.

Such an amount of hair splitting and petty quibbles going on over the veto of the Custodian bill, its final deposit in the Secretary of State's office, and other matters relating to it, at the State capitol has not been known for years. The fact seems to be that none of those connected with it seem to know anything about it legally speaking, and whether the present custodian of the State House will remain as such or be ousted none of them seem to know.

$100 Reward, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address,

A woman in Jacksonville, Fla., while cooking mashed her finger. She rushed out of the house, screaming "Murder!" "Fire!" an accommodating neighbor kindly turned in an alarm of fire, and in a few minutes the fire department was at the woman's house.

To Make Pure Blood.

There is no medicine before the people equal to Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is the standard spring medicine and blood purifier and it possesses peculiar merit which others try in vain to reach. It really makes the weak strong. Do not neglect to purify your blood this spring. Take Hood's Sarsaparilla now.

Hood's Pills become the favorite cathartic with every one who tries them. 25c. per box.

Red stockings were worn by Miss Eva Dooley, of Boston, Ind. The dye caused blood poisoning, and to save her life the girl had to suffer amputation of both legs below the knee.

Use it in Time.

Catarrh starts in the nasal passages, affecting eyes, ears and throat, and is in fact, the great enemy of the mucous membrane. Neglected colds in the head almost invariably precede catarrh, causing an excessive flow of mucous, and if the mucous discharge becomes interrupted the disagreeable results of catarrh will follow, such as bad breath, severe pain across forehead and about the eyes, a roaring and buzzing sound in the ears and oftentimes a very offensive discharge. Ely' Cream Balm is the acknowledged cure for these troubles.
