IT'S AHEAD.

The campaign being made by Hon. J. A. M. Adams for congress in this district is exciting the admiration of many voters, regardless of his political belief. He is meeting daily many men, women and child and nearly night is speaking to large audiences, who are with him heart and soul. He is making such a campaign and is placing the mettle of himself and Mr. Cowen before the voters in such a way that there is but one to choose—Adams. It is up to the Democrats to accomplish the election. There is no question but that the Republicans will furnish sufficient votes to have the trick, and if the Democrats will get out their vote, it is all over but the shouting. This should be encouragement enough for the Democrats to be especially active and energetic during the time mentioned. Adams county Democrats should heed Statemen's entry and late to accomplish this. We might add that the wife of the whole district are—— go, they expect a good report from—— democratic counties, and now is a good time to begin the labor of love. Let it never be said that the Democrats of any county in the district, failed in their sacred duty to democratic opportunity. From every county in the district comes the most favorable reports. Confidence every where indicates that this can time Mr. Adams shall represent the eight congressional district in congress, and to make it an accepted fact, every democrat should work.

AS HE WAS WALKING.

Eugene once walked into the hut of Hal Hawkins, who lived the life of a anchorite in a hut eight feet square close to Fort Phenix in Fairhaven, Mass., where Mr. Rogers' summer home stands now.

"Hal, what would you do if you had [illegible]?" asked Eugene.

"By jings," said the hermit after long meditation, "I'd have this hut built two feet longer."—E. H. Murray's "Dozen St. Nicholas" in Human Life.

IS FRIDAY UNLUCKY DAY?

Many Good and Bad Events Have Occurred.

Upon what events is the superstition based in regard to Friday being unlucky? Primarily it rests upon the fact that Christ was crucified on Friday and there has long been a superstition that Adam and Eve ate the forbidden fruit on Friday. For some reason or other, not clearly defined, the Buddhists and Brahmins look upon the day as a black sheep sort of a day. It has long been known as hangman's day, but this came from the fact that hangings were fixed for that day on account of the old superstition. On the other hand, it is not looked upon as unlucky in Scotland, where Friday is the favorite day for weddings. Here are a few Friday events and you can determine for yourself whether the day has been unlucky as a rule:

The battle of New Orleans was fought Friday.

Washington was born Friday.

Shakespeare was born Friday.

America was discovered Friday.

Richmond was evacuated Friday.

The Bastile was destroyed Friday.

The Mayflower Pilgrims were landed Friday.

Queen Victoria was married Friday.

King Charles I. was assassinated Friday.

The battle of Marengo was fought Friday.

Moscow was burned Friday.

The Battle of Bunker Hill was fought Friday.

REGULAR LIVING.

What Nature Demands to Secure Perfect Good Health.

First of all, one thing that nature won't stand is irregularity. We cannot safely battle up sleep tonight for tomorrow night's use, nor force our stomachs one meal because we expect to eat sparingly the next, nor because exhausted in working night and day, expecting to make it up later.

Nature does nothing before her appointed time, and any attempt to hurry her invariably means ultimate disaster. She takes note of all our transactions, physical, mental and moral, and places every item to our credit.

There is no such thing as cheating nature. She may not present her bill on the day we contract her law, but if we overdraw our account at her bank and give her a mortgage on our health and happiness she will surely foreclose. She may look on all we want today, but tomorrow, like Shylock, she will demand the last ounce of flesh. Nature does not excuse men for weakness, incompetence or ignorance. She demands that he be at the top of his condition.

Nature's machinery, as it exists in the human body, is most complicated and delicately adjusted. No machinery constructed by man can compare with it in the perfection and proportion of all its working parts. Every mechanic knows that his wheels and cams and gearing must run absolutely true and with uniformity or they will soon break down. It is the same with the machine that keeps the human body going.—New York American.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

There's a lot of foolishness to keep out of.

Genius is not rare, but plain common sense is.

Great things can't be very difficult as an ordinary man couldn't accomplish them.

Every one naturally dislikes those people who are so good they suggest the top line in a copy book.

Be content with your air castle. The chimney in an air castle never smokes, and the windows do not rattle in every wind.

Doing business without advertising is like winking at a girl in the dark—you know what you are doing, but nobody else does.

Perhaps you have noticed that children are more willing to work for the neighbors than at home; also that some of them never outgrow the habit.—Anthony Globe.
