Casey at the Bat.

This famous poem is contained in the Coca-Cola Baseball Record Book for 1910, together with records, schedules for both leagues and other valuable baseball information compiled by authorities. This interesting book sent by the Coca-Cola Co., of Atlanta, Ga., on receipt of 2c stamp for postage. Also copy of their booklet "The Truth About Coca-Cola" which tells all about this delicious beverage and why it is so pure, wholesome and refreshing. Are you ever hot—tired—thirsty? Drink Coca-Cola—it is cooling, relieves fatigue and quenches the thirst. At soda fountains and carbonated in bottles—5c everywhere.

WESTERN CANADA

What Governor Deneen, of Illinois, Says About It:

Governor Deneen, of Illinois, owns a section of land in Saskatchewan, Canada. He has said in an interview:

"As an American I am delighted to see the remarkable progress of Western Canada. Our people are flocking across the boundary in thousands, and I have not yet met one who admitted he had made a mistake. They are all doing well. There is scarcely a community in the Middle or Western States that has not a representative in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta."

125 Million Bushels of Wheat in 1909

Western Canada field crops for 1909 will easily yield to the farmer $170,000,000.00 in cash.

Free Homesteads of 160 acres, and pre-emptions of 160 acres at $3.00 an acre. Railway and Land Companies have land for sale at reasonable prices. Many farmers have paid for their land out of the proceeds of one crop. Splendid climate, good schools, excellent railway facilities, low freight rates, wood, water and lumber easily obtained.

For pamphlet "Last Best West," particulars as to suitable location and low settlers' rate, apply to Sup't of Immigration, Ottawa, Can., or to Canadian Gov't Agent.

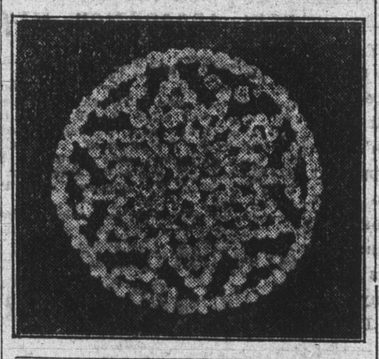
SHOW LESS GLITTER

SPARKLE IS BEING TAKEN AWAY FROM HATPINS.

Paris Has Determined Fashion, Which the World Will Follow—Some of the Newest Designs Just Now in Vogue.

Although much sparkle and glitter is still in evidence, hatpins seem destined to grow less gleaming, if not less conspicuous. Entirely new departures are promised in Paris, where so many trinkets are made and so carefully made. The latest of the designs incrusted with strass brilliants is the "chantecler," dashing and strident. He is all in rhinestone, except his little red eyes which simulate rubies. This is about the only way in which his bigness of the barn yard has been accepted with any degree of warmth, for millinery decoration.

But if Paris has new things for us, they are jealously guarded. Irish jewels set round with brilliants and pins of shell or jet in which rhinestones and pearls are embedded, may point the direction which fashion will soon take. They are a safe investment, at any rate, because they are really tasteful. The shell is of course a celluloid composition and is shown in many colors, including amber and gray, as well as tortoise markings. Colored miniatures on a black or dark background, set round with rhinestones, compel admiration. In hatpins and brooches, famous beauties of other days, whose charms inspired the best efforts of master painters, are everywhere repeated. Whereever the spirits of these pretty ladies may roam, if they revisit the glimpses of the moon now, they must be pleased to know how lasting is the appreciation of their beauty.



The oriental pins, having a large jewel at the center and dull, yellow gold, in filigree, as a setting, show tiny points of light, in little mock-jewels of many colors embedded in the gilt mounting. They are not new and they are not destined to be discarded as old fashioned at any time. They are like the ancient, ornate, jewelry one finds in the bazaars which bear the vague name of oriental shops.

Perhaps Egypt will furnish the inspiration for new things that are promised, in the meantime any of the pins discussed is worth while.

For outing hats pins are rather destructive. Hat fasteners, sewed to the edge of the headsize, should be used instead. They are like long hairpins made of wire. They fasten the hat very securely to the head, cannot be lost and save the straw. They are made both curved and straight and are either sewed or pinned into the hat.

Drawn Work.

If something new be your aim in the matter of the ornamentation of a blouse, drawn work is suggested by some of the most successful makers as an effective relief from the perennial insertion or embroidery.

The coarse meshes so much in use this season offer stability and an unusual coolness, to which characteristics is added the easy "drawing" quality.

When marquisette or voile is drawn and worked with coarse linen thread in some of the simpler drawn-work patterns the decorative value is wonderfully increased. Squares, lines and pointed plastrons are attainable and when the whole blouse is built over a contrasting color to bring it into harmony with the skirt the result is decidedly successful.

WINDOW BOX ARRANGEMENT

Home Decoration Capable of Adding Immensely to Appearance of the House.

The artistic arrangement of window boxes is a form of decoration that interests almost every woman, especially the home gardener, who has discovered that certain combinations flourish so they need no renewing throughout the season. Of the latter geraniums are satisfactory because they require little care and put forth an endless succession of flowers. I often wonder why climbing geraniums are not used more, for they are effective. In England one sees them everywhere and they grow finely in any place except where hot sun beats on them all day. They require little shade and an even amount of moisture. Given that they flourish.

English daisies are also pretty for boxes and if clipped occasionally will put forth blooms several times a season. Their foliage is fine and the little white blossoms are lovely. Nasturtiums are as obvious as geraniums, and for the same reason.

Many persons will say that heliotrope will not thrive in window or piazza boxes, but such has not been the experience of the home gardener. She has raised both purple and white ones. Nor does she find the care of them difficult. Heliotrope cannot have too much sun, and it must be watered often. Heliotrope cannot be placed in a box which is narrow or thin because the roots will feel the heat of the sun too much. The box holding them must be deep, so the same conditions will prevail as if they were in the ground.

Petunias, especially the double varieties, are charming for window boxes. Not good for cutting, the flowers have a delicate odor which becomes evident the instant they are damp. Double white petunias suggest roses, and once firmly established these grow rapidly.

Amateurs must not try to raise them from seed. The small plants in two-inch pots cost little and bear transplanting.

The most common cause of spindling and scraggy looking window boxes is that the roots are not kept at an even degree of moisture. To douse the soil to a condition of mud and then let it dry to powder affects the plant precisely as extreme changes of temperature do human beings. They become weak trying to adapt themselves.

The soil must be kept damp, and to do this successfully the boxes must be intelligently observed each day. When a high wind has been blowing the dirt will be dryer than on a damp day, and when the sun beats down severely moisture will naturally dry sooner. For this reason the amount of water given varies from day to day.

For Brides.

The home-embroidered wedding veil is new—if old things can ever be new. It is, at any rate, a revival, and the lace work, which is of the hand-run variety, extends down the whole front edge, like the border on a delicate lace curtain.

With the veil laid simply over the top of the head and falling gracefully down over the sides of the face, the whole border of lace is in evidence.

Tulle, a little heavier than the most perishable illusion, is chosen for veils that are to be thus embroidered.

FOR SCHOOL WEAR

We show here a useful style for school wear. Cherry red linen would look very nice made in this way. A panel is taken down center of front and back; the sides are slightly shaped in at the waist. A linen collar and singlet are worn. The sleeves are plaited in to fit the wrists.

SKIN HUMOR 25 YEARS

"Cuticura did wonders for me. For twenty-five years I suffered agony from a terrible humor, completely covering my head, neck and shoulders, so even to my wife, I became an object of dread. At large expense I consulted the most able doctors far and near. Their treatment was of no avail, nor was that of the —— Hospital, during six months' efforts. I suffered on and concluded there was no help for me this side of the grave. Then I heard of some one who had been cured by Cuticura Remedies and thought that a trial could do no harm. In a surprisingly short time I was completely cured. S. P. Keyes, 147 Congress St., Boston, Mass., Oct. 12, '09."

Face Covered with Pimples

"I congratulate Cuticura upon my speedy recovery from pimples which covered my face. I used Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Resolvent for ten days and my face cleared and I am perfectly well. I had tried doctors for several months but got no results. Wm. J. Sadlier, 1614 Susquehanna Ave., Philadelphia, May 1, 1909."

Coming in Relays.

Twins were born to Mrs. O'Brien. When the first one was born the nurse called Jimmy and said:

"Tell your aunt to come right over. The stork has brought you a little brother."

The aunt could not come over immediately. In a half hour the nurse called Jimmy again and said:

"Run over and tell auntie the stork has brought you another brother."

Jimmy ran to his aunt's house and said:

"Auntie, the stork has brought another brother. I wonder how many he will bring before night."

"Foot-Tabs for Foot-Tubs."

Probably True.

A raw Lrishman shipped as one of the crew on a revenue cutter. His turn at the wheel came around, and after a somewhat eccentric session in the pilot house he found himself the butt of no little humor below.

"Begorrah," he growled, at last, "and ye needn't talk. I bet I done more steerin' in tin minutes 'n ye done in yer howl watch."—Success.

A Trained Nurse's Experiences with Resinol Ointment.

I applied Resinol to an ulcerated leg of six months' standing. Almost everything had been tried to heal it. Made two applications a day for four weeks and leg was permanently healed.

I have used Resinol on children's faces to heal eruptions and for everything that seemed to need an ointment with satisfactory results in every case.

Mrs. Isadore E. Cameron,
Augusta, Me. (Graduated Nurse.)

From the Greek.

It is said of the inhabitants of Iasus off Caria that when a certain harper was performing the people who were listening heard the bell for the opening of the fish market, and rushed off, with the exception of one man who was a little deaf. The harper, coming up, addressed him thus: "My good sir, I am much flattered by your staying to hear me when all the rest ran off at the sound of a bell." "What?" said he, "has the fish-bell rung? Then I'm off too. Good-by."—Strabo.

Hard Task, Indeed!

Little Helen was at the seaside with her aunt, and in the house where they were staying was a telephone. One day she heard her mother talking from the city, and she was so terrified that she burst into tears.

"Oh, auntie, auntie!" she sobbed, "how shall we ever get mamma out of that little hole?"

THIRD OPERATION PREVENTED

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Chicago, Ill. — "I want to tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. I was so sick that two of the best doctors in Chicago said I would die if I did not have an operation. I had already had two operations, and they wanted me to go through a third one. I suffered day and night from inflammation and a small tumor, and never thought of seeing a well day again. A friend told me how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had helped her, and I tried it, and after the third bottle was cured."—MRS. ALVENA SPERLING, 1468 Clybourne Ave., Chicago, Ill.

If you are ill do not drag along at home or in your place of employment until an operation is necessary, but build up the feminine system, and remove the cause of those distressing aches and pains by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs.

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it?

Think of Last Summer—

You can remember days when the heat inside your kitchen was so great you could hardly bear it. With the right stove you would have made a better hostess. Save your health. Don't put up with the drudgery of a coal range. You can have a clean, cool, pleasant kitchen. The does away with all drudgery of cooking. Why should you be a slave to a coal range when you can have an Oil Cook-Stove that is cheaper than coal, cleaner than coal, doesn't "smell," doesn't smoke, lights instantly, can be put out instantly, leaves no ashes, and doesn't heat the kitchen. With one of these stoves you can boil, bake or roast the most elaborate dinner. You can change from a slow to a quick fire, or the other way about, by simply turning a wick. Apply a match, and instantly the heat from an intense blue flame shoots upward through the turquoise-blue enamel chimneys to the bottom of pot, kettle or oven—but nowhere else. The stove has every convenience that can be thought of: Cabinet Top with shelf for keeping food and dishes hot, drop shelves to hold coffee or teapots, towel rack; in fact every convenience possible.

New Perfection
WICK BLUE FLAME

The nickel finish, with the bright blue of the chimneys, makes the stove ornamental and attractive.

Cautionary Note: Be sure you get this stove—see that the name-plate reads "New Perfection."

Made with 1, 2 and 3 burners; the 2 and 3-burner stoves can be had with or without Cabinet.
