The Spirit of... CHRISTMAS

By Hal Cochran

When you think of the spirit o' Christmas, my friend,
I wonder, how well do you know the real trend
Of the pleasure a person may possibly get
If the deep, fullest meaning is properly met.

To cheer and bring happiness! That is worth while.
The real Christmas spirit's the price of a smile.
The happiest person has done what he could
Today, and on all days, to make folk feel good.

It isn't the giving, or getting, alone.
Of gifts that has brought on the Christmas time tone
But, rather the peace that your heart holds—and then
The honest good-will that you show unto men.
