SPARKLING ROMANCE AT IND. HARBOR

"Romeo and Juliet" have nothing on Miss Irma Ettruth, of Parish avenue, Indiana Harbor, and Marshal E. Taylor of Richmond, Ind. While the lovers of the days long past have resorted to the use of ladders and ropes in escaping from their homes to meet their "Romeos" it is not so in this case, although there has been some mystery connected with the case in question.

Miss Ettruth, a pretty lassie of about 18 years, met Marshal Taylor about a year and a half ago, and unknown to even her parents, carried on the romance.

Then came the day, the day of all days, when, on Saturday, Miss Ettruth who is employed as a clerk at Rotenberg's grocery, Indiana Harbor, requested a leave of absence. Leaving the store Miss Ettruth went to her home and without a word to any one, packed up her suit cases and watching her chance slipped out of the house, ready to start on a journey with her future pal.

Mr. Taylor, who holds the position of assistant cashier for the Pennsylvania railroad company at Richmond, Ind., was waiting for his "Juliet" They lost no time in making railroad connections, going to Richmond, arriving there Sunday.

On Monday the two lovers were joined in wedlock and all was well.

Then came the final scene, the parents had to be notified, so forthwith came a letter to the parents of the present Mrs. Tayler, asking their forgiveness, which no doubt, will be given soon.

The young couple, following a short honeymoon, will take up their residence in Richmond.

HOW STOCKS OPENED

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—Heavy selling orders at the opening of the stock market today caused a renewal of the decline of yesterday, initial declines being from fractions to 3 points lower.

Crucible Steel was in free supply and yielded 3 points to 79. Steel Common declined 3-8 to 75 5-8. Baldwin was down 1 1-4 to 86 1-4 and Republic Steel slumped over 1 point to 60 5-8.

Vanadium Steel was directly influenced by the reduction in the dividend rate yesterday and dropped 3 points to 26 1-2.

Mexican Petroleum yielded 2 points to 162 1-2, but quickly rallied to 164. Sears Roebuck was in supply, yielding 1 1-2 to 92 1-4. Reading sold down from 82 1-4 to 81 3-4 and then rallied to 82 1-2. Southern Pacific yielded 1-4 to 97, but was in fair demand at that level. Studebaker fell 5-8 to 39 7-8.

After the opening concessions a better tone was in evidence, many of the opening losses being recovered.

ALABAMA ARRIVES SAFE IN MILWAUKEE

CHICAGO, Dec. 16.—The lake steamship Alabama with 140 persons on board reached Milwaukee early today after having been driven across Lake Michigan by a gale that prevented the ship reaching Muskegon, Mich., the port to which she was bound. Reports that the Alabama was safe in Milwaukee reached here just as life-saving crews were preparing to put out in search of her. Fears for the safety of the boat had been entertained ever since she failed to arrive at Muskegon on scheduled time at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Fourteen of the fleet of 30 steamships that put out from Ontario ports last Sunday with cargoes aggregating 3,000,000 bushels of wheat have not reached any lake port, according to word received here today. More than half of the 30 vessels have been forced to put into ports of safety and apprehension is beginning to be felt in lake shipping circles owing to the fact that no word has come from any of the remaining vessels.

Weather indications this morning were that the storm which has menaced lake shipping for the past two days was abating.
