From the Indiana Democrat.

We take pleasure in lying before our readers the following interesting correspondence, connected with the Indianapolis celebration of the battle of the Thames.

VINCENNES, October 6th, 1835.

HON. RICHARD M. JOHNSON—

SIR—Your personal and political friends at this place, having learnt with much pleasure of your intended visit to the seat of government of this State, would request, if in your power so to do, that you would extend your trip as far as Vincennes. Your fellow citizens along the valley of the Wabash, who have been unable to attend the celebration at Indianapolis, in common with their friends there, are desirous of tendering you the homage of their sincere regard, if an opportunity so to do could be afforded by your presence among them It is needless to say to you, that here as well as in all parts of Indiana, there are many who feel the highest respect for your character as a man, and your services as a statesman; to say nothing of your fame as a commander—and although party malignity, through the medium of a prostituted press, may calumniate and abuse you, yet the intelligent and high minded of all parties, will acknowledge the debt of gratitude due you, a debt which ere long will be paid by the whole country, and by no portion of that country more cheerfully than by those who have been so greatly benefitted by your services in council and your blood in the battle-field as your fellow citizens of the West.

With sentiments of sincere respect,
Your friends and ob't serv'ts,

JOHN LAW,
JOHN MOORE,
JOSEPH BROWN,
M. ROBINSON,
SAMUEL EMISON,
JAMES P DRAKE,
ELIHU STOUT,
JOHN SCOTT.

GREAT CROSSINGS, 24th Oct. 1835.

GENTLEMEN—I have this day received your highly esteemed communication, transmitted by our mutual friend and respected fellow-citizen, John Cain, Esq. of Indianapolis, inviting me to visit your interesting town, Vincennes, and expressing your friendship and confidence, in consequence of my services to my country. My bosom overflows with gratitude to you, my fellow-citizens, for this evidence of your kindness and attention, and as long as memory will last, time shall only brighten the recollection. The citizens of Indiana have so generally given me such tokens of her confidence, that I feel anxious that a proper opportunity should offer to me, to prove, by my acts, how anxious I am to serve them, and thus became more worthy of the honor which you have done me.

In a long life of thirty years, devoted principally to the service of my country, I have fallen so far below my wishes in all that I have done, that it is to me often a subject of wonder that my fellow citizens should have placed upon them so high an estimate. So far as I have given proof of my devotion to my country, you may place implicit confidence upon a vigilant continuance of the same course, and that no earthly consideration shall diminish my love of liberty and the Union of the States; and moreover, that no excitements or predictions, no matter from what quarter, shall ever diminish my confidence in the people for self government. The trial of fifty years has demonstrated the fact, that the people are able to govern themselves, and to meet and vanquish any foreign enemy that would invade that principle.—In looking at the history of our country as we ought, we have nothing to fear; but the greatest cause of joy and hope, arising from our happy and flourishing condition.

It was not in my power to visit Indianapolis on the 5th, or I should certainly have availed myself of your polite invitation to visit Vincennes. I hope it will not be long, before I can gratify the wish of my friends and my own in this respect.

Most respectfully,
Your friend and fellow citizen
R. M. JOHNSON,

Messrs. JOHN LAW, &c.

THE MURDERER'S FATE.

JOHN W. COWAN the miserable wretch who so inhumanly butchard his wife and two children a short time since, in this city, was arraigned for trial on Saturday last before the Court of Common Please, Judge EATS and his Associates, presiding.

He plead guilty to the charge of murder in the first degree, and peremptorily refused the aid of council. He was informed by the court that he had the right of choosing to be tried by the supreme Court, which would not sit until the spring. The court also stated to him that if he were unable to employ council the Court would appoint competent attorneys to assist him. These several propositions he refused, and insisted on his perfect willingness to be sentenced immediately, no matter what his fate. In the spirit of justice and humanity, the Court nevertheless determined to hear the testimony for its own guidance The murders were amply proved, and to have been committed with the most depraved and deliberate purpose It was also in evidence that he attempted to poison his victims a few days before he committed the butchery, by putting arsenic in the vessel of water from which they were accustomed to drink

When the court asked him if he knew of any cause why sentence of death should not be pronounced against him, he replied that he was willing to abide by the laws of his country.

Judge Eats then addressed him in a very sensible and appropriate speech, and concluded by sentencing him to be hung by the neck until he was dead, on FRIDAY THE 27th OF NOVEMBER, INSTANT.

The Prisoner received the sentance with perfect composure, and smiled as it was pronounced

We understand that he states his purpose of destroying his wife to have been conceived three years ago, but that he could never put it in execution until the period of the fatal catastrophe. He also continues to justify his crime

A more cold blooded and heartless villain we have never heard nor read of in the annals of wickedness and depravity.

As there is not the slightest sympathy excited in his behalf in the bosom of any portion of this people, he will unquestionably be executed at the time appointed, and will go to the grave unwept and despised by the whole community.

Cincinnati Whig and Intel.

A MISERABLE FALLACY.

Some of the "Spoils" presses have drawn the sage conclusion, that because Jackson men are to have a majority in our next Legislature, therefore, Mr. Van Buren will carry the State against GENERAL HARRISON at the next Presidential election! This is pretty kind of logic, surely. The late election in this state, affords no inference of the relative strength of GENERAL HARRISON and Mr. Van Buren, any more than it does as to who will be President of the United States forty years hence. If the friends of Gen. HARRISON had been rallied and organized as such, (as per aps they ought to have been,) and the State Elections predicated on the ground of preference between him and Mr. Van Buren, there would have been an overwhelming majority in favor of the former, and that just as certain as that parties had been, or shall hereafter be, so arrayed. This is precisely the issue the Van Burenites dreaded, and used all their cunning to avoid.—Foreseeing the inevitable result of such a contest, they evaded it by every species of stratagem and falsehood,—asserting, and no doubt making thousands of every party believe, that Gen. HARRISON, was, in truth, NOT a candidate—that he was brought out only for some crafty purpose to serve the interests of Mr. CLAY—that he would be withdrawn immediately after the fall election was over, &c &c. Such was the constant language of the Hemisphere and other "Spoils" prints, which, as our readers will recollect, we noted at the time. And now that these cheated folks have succeeded, by artifice and falsehood, in obtaining a Jackson (not a Van Buren) majority in the Legislature, they claim to have tried issue with Gen. HARRISON and beat him! They may tell that somewhere else—not in Ohio.—Newark Gaz.

A TRUE PORTRAIT.

The editor of the Richmond Whig says a country cotemporary asks, "can the editor of the Whig suppose a contingency in which he would support Martin Van Buren." The editor of the Whig in reply gives the following correct portrait of the Magician:

"We have never set our wits to work on the speculation; but our impulse is that no such contingency can or could possibly occur We believe him in point of capacity, a clever electioneerer and nothing more—in point of honesty, completely after Dr Southerland's rule, "a man of principle in proportion to his interest"—in point of Republicanism, an Aristocrat at heart, assuming for popularity, the external forms of a virtue he has not—in point of Southern interests, opposed to them at every point, but yet affecting as great a show of zeal as may not compromise him with the North. in our sincere belief, he is selfish, cold blooded, intriguing, sinister and faithless—without true ability, warm hearted patriotism or personal magnanimity. Were we to throw the reins on the neck of fancy, we believe we can suppose nor imagine a contingency in which we would support such a man as President of the U. State."

The Van Buren men of Georgia, are supporting for the office of Governor, Judge Schley, an opponent of the last war, an advocate of the Hartford Convention, and a friend of the alien and sedition laws!!! Pretty Democrats the Van Buren men are, truly!!! Albany Advertiser.

ANOTHER BOUNDARY WAR.

By the New Hampshire Statesman, we learn that the Canadian government have intimated their intention of taking possession of the Indian Stream Territory, on the northern confines of New Hampshire, though that tract has been under jurisdiction of that State for 20 years, and was agreed to be left so until the Madawasca question is adjusted Much ill-blood and excitement exist. The inhabitants have rebelled against New Hampshire and the British authorities sustain them in it.

Richmond, Oct 14.—There seems to have been some sensation created by the late fall of Cotton, in the South; and the prices of negroes which for a while were enormous, have also consequently declined. We think, however, the alarm is premature; at least, it is overdone; there being very little to complain of while Cotton sells from 15 to 19 cents.

The most serious cause of apprehension is felt by our Virginia planters, on account of the destruction of their Tobacco crops by the frost. The blight seems to have been very extensive in its range, and the effect upon their pecuniary prospects is necessarily great and severe. Even an advance upon the great prices of the past summer, would not make whole the damages done. Perhaps not half a crop will be saved.—Compiler.

GENERAL HARRISON.

The New Orleans True American says—"In our own state Gen Harrison stands high with all parties and we have every reason to believe that he will receive the electoral vote of Louisiana. This winter we feel assured a movement will be made in his favor."

THE VERACITY OF GEN. JACKSON CONSIDERED

The General, in his electioneering letter to Gwin, written at the Rip Raps, August 8, 1835, says:—

"I never have franked any letters or packages for Major Donelson without being informed of their contents."

Major Donelson, it will be remembered, wrote a letter to Mr. Krepps, of Pennsylvania approving the nomination for a second term The letter was franked by the President.

In relation to that frank, the Major published the following:—

"I will only add, that my answer to General Krepps was written without consultation with the President or any one else; and if it was franked by the President, that he did not know any thing of its contents."

If Major Donelson tells the truth in this statement, it is evident that the President does not The two assertions directly oppose each other which is to be believed? Albany Daily Adv.

Ingenious Villainy.—A Southern house, on receiving a case of English mustard, manufactured in Hull, and sent from this city, found every bottle enveloped in an abolition speech from the debates in Parliament. The article being of a domestic character would naturally have been handed over to the blacks in the kitchen, and thus secretly circulated.

JOHN PURCELL Sheriff K C

Vincennes, Nov 5th 1835.—23-3t.

THE only specific ever offered to the public from which a permanent and radical cure may be obtained of that disagreeable pain, the Tooth-ache, with all its attendant evils; such as fracturing the Jaw in extracting the Teeth, which often proves more painful than the Tooth-ache itself, and cold passing from the decayed Teeth to the Jaw, thence to the head, producing a rheumatic affection, with many other unpleasant effects, such as a disagreeable breath, bad taste in the mouth, &c.; all of which are produced from foul or decayed Teeth.

I am happy to have it in my power to offer to the world a remedy that will not only remove the pain nine times out of ten, if properly applied, but preserve the teeth from further decay, and arrest the disease in such as are decaying and have not commenced aching, restoring them to health and usefulness.

VEGETABLE
RHEUMATIC DROPS.

MANY articles are before the public, as a cure of that most obstinate and tormenting disease, the Rheumatism—and from close observation we are led to believe, that they have, to a very great extent, failed to produce that desirable result: and may it not be attributed to the fact, that articles said to cure this troublesome disorder, are also recommended to cure almost every disease with which our frail bodies are attacked, and in their preparation that object is kept in view, viz: to have the medicine a cure for all diseases.

The Vegetable Rheumatic Drops are offered to the public as a remedy for Rheumatism, and as no case is known where a perfect cure was not effected, we are justified in declaring it a valuable medicine for that painful disease, and or no other is it recommended. Price fifty cents.

LA MOTT'S
COUGH DROPS.

VALUABLE MEDICINE FOR COUGHS AND CONSUMPTION.

THIS Elixir, in its original form of prescription, has stood the test of twenty years experience, in the general use of it, and is now offered, with the addition of some articles from the vegetable kingdom, the virtues of which, have been fully attested and highly appreciated which render this composition peculiarly adapted to the present prevailing disorders of the breast and lungs, leading to consumption.—Common colds and coughs, which are occasioned by obstructed perspiration, will readily yield to its influence, removing those troublesome irritations, which act as a constant stimulant to coughing. It eases pain, and induces rest to an eminent degree. Persons afflicted with pulmonary complaints, bleeding of the lungs, &c spasmodic asthma, palpitation of the heart, and consumptive affections, even in the most advanced periods of life, will find immediate relief, from its remarkable power of diminishing irritability of the system, and the velocity of the circulation, and by cleansing and healing the disordered parts It also affords immediate relief in the hooping cough.

DR. JUDKINS'
SPECIFIC OINTMENT

THIS valuable medicine is celebrated for curing the following diseases: White Swellings of every description—Sore Legs and Ulcers of long standing—Glandular Tumors—Felons or Catarrhs—Rheumatic pains of the Joints; Sprains; Bruises; and Tetters; Chilblains; or parts affected by frost. It is also good for Scalds and Burns.

For glandular swellings, it is superior to any medicine yet known. It is much safer than mercurial applications, (as it does not contain the smallest atom of that mineral) because it does not lay the patient liable to injury from exposure of cold.

It cures the worst Felons or Whitlows on the application of forty-eight hours. Rheumatisms which have stood as long as to become a systematic disorder, require medicine to be taken inwardly to remove them entirely. But in most cases, by applying this ointment externally as directed, it will give relief.

Certificates of important cures—also directions for using, accompany each bottle.

For sale by Hitt & Sawyer, J Maddox, Vincennes; Daniel & Devin, Princeton; Barton, Swift & Barton, New Harmony, Ia. Roddick McCormick, & Co, Washington, Daviess county, Ia.
