POETICAL.

A Point at a Paint.

Her forehead always had a marble glow,
As when the sun-light beams the driven snows on
But when she swooned away, it was as tho'
Day had departed and the snow had frozen
A white and chill transparency arose on
Her brow of beauty, spreading o'er her neck—
Just like a stream arrested ere it flows on,
When the chill whistle of December blows on
But leaving still a broad carnation speck
Upon each cheek! Yes, with a blooming rose on.
Is rather an odd fancy to suppose on,
And seldom seen, as any body knows on!
The moral is, then when the ladies paint,
They should get wash'd before they faint!
[N. O. Pic.] FRANKS.

Pay of Members of the old Continental Congress.—Jared Sparks, in a lecture in New York, stated that the following was the pay given to the members who formed the Continental Congress, by the several states or colonies whence they were elected:

1. New Hampshire, each member had all his own personal expenses paid, also for his servant and two horses, and a half a guinea besides.
2. Massachusetts, the same as New Hampshire in regard to the expenses, and $2 a day.
3. Connecticut, the same in regard to expenses and $3 a day.
4. Rhode Island, 40 shillings a day, and no expenses paid.
5. New York $4 a day.
6. Pennsylvania 20 shillings a day, and all expenses paid.
7. Maryland, 40 shillings a day, and no expenses paid.
8. Virginia, a half Joannes a day.
9. North Carolina, £500 currency a year.
10. South Carolina, £900 for their services during the first Congress.
11. Georgia, £100 a month during the session.

Santa Fe expedition.—An arrival at this port yesterday, direct from Yucatan, fully confirms the capture of the Santa Fe expedition. It is stated with some more plausibility than was the unconditional surrender of these brave Americans. So far from "not firing a shot," they fired a good many. When within two days' journey from Santa Fe, they were encountered by 1,200 Mexican volunteers, 300 regulars and 300 rancheros, or herdsmen. This body of 1,800 the "expedition" fought for more than 12 hours, killing over 320 Mexicans, and losing only two of their number. They fired away every ounce of their ammunition, and surrendered from that cause only. This is truly in accordance with the Anglo-Saxon character, and bears on its face the aspect of a sadder truth than any report thence, which has obtained circulation. The braves are now, without doubt, in the mines of Mexico, whence nothing but a warlike expedition against Mexico will release them.—Crescent City.

Feeding Geese with Turnips.—An experiment has lately been tried of feeding geese with turnips, cut fine, and put into a trough of water. The effect was that six geese, weighing only nine pounds each, when shut up, actually weighed twenty (eleven) pounds each, after three weeks feeding with this food alone.

Neighbor!—'Mrs. Jenkins,' said a little red-headed girl, with a pug nose and bare feet, 'mother says you will oblege her by lending her a stick of fire wood—fillin' this cruet with vinegar—pumpin' a little soft soap in this pan, and please not let your turkey-gobbler roost on our fence.'

Munificent donation.—A gentleman, whose name we are not at liberty to disclose, has offered to the Presbyterian board of publication the very liberal sum of five hundred dollars, for the purpose of Stereotyping the Select British Reformers in twelve volumes duodecimo, and providing each volume with a portrait of a leading reformer.—This is regarded by the board as a very munificent gift, and they have thankfully acceded to the proposal of the donor, and will commence the work as speedily as practicable. May the blessings of the most high rest upon the enterprise.

Another Case.—It affords us high gratification to state that another individual has offered to the board of publication five hundred dollars, to be used in stereotyping a useful practical work. At some future time the particular work will be mentioned. It is pleasing to witness such instances of well-directed liberality. Success attend them.—Presbyterian.

'Where is your father!' said an angry master to the son of his habitually tippling domestic. 'He is down stairs, sir.' 'Getting drunk, I suppose!' 'No, sir, he an't.' 'What then!' 'Getting sober, sir.'

Washington Estate.—The Mount Vernon estate consisted, soon after the French war, of 9000 acres, and when Washington returned to cultivate it, he had 1200 persons upon it in his employment.—Now, but five slaves live on the place, and 400 acres only are cultivated, chiefly used for raising wheat and Indian corn.—Norfolk Herald.

Management of the President's House. We learn that the affairs of the White House at Washington, are all conducted by a colored man, by the name of Wilkins, whom the President hires at a salary, with perquisites, of $1700 per annum, and who disburses all the expenses of the palace. He has his office, where he keeps his accounts, employs and discharges whomsoever he pleases. His son, much of a gentleman it is said, is employed at $1000 a year, and introduces all strangers to the President. His daughter is also employed at $300 a year. President Tyler has in all 18 colored persons hired. He has but two of his slaves with him as servants. This is the first time that any of our Presidents have made a colored man the chief butler of his household.—Colored American.

Value of one Vote.—In 1839, Marcus Morton was elected Governor by one majority. This year we are elected to a humbler office by precisely the same majority. In 1839, this circumstance filled His Excellency's breast [we quote his message] with feelings of gratitude and excited the deepest sensibility of his heart. This year with us—NITTO!—Lowell Courier.

First Rate.—By a law of Maryland, passed a few years since, all money staked upon the results of elections, is forfeited for the use of Primary Schools in the county where the money is deposited.—A suit was tried in the Baltimore County Court last week, in which the Commissioner of the county claimed two hundred dollars which had been staked upon the result of the last Presidential election in Pennsylvania. Various shifts were resorted to for the purpose of defeating the claim, but the jury gave a verdict for the commissioners.

The Madisonian, of Saturday, has a very fair hit at Colonel Benton, for denouncing President Tyler's plan of a fiscal agency. The point consists in showing that the recommendation of President Tyler, is almost word for word with that made by General Jackson, in his Veto Message in 1832, which was of course lauded by the Missouri Senator.

From the Uncle Sam.

Won't take Twenty Dollars.

Some waggish students at Yale College, a few years since, were treating themselves one evening at the 'Institute,' when an old farmer from the country entered their room, (taking it for a bar-room,) and enquired if he could obtain lodging there. The young chaps immediately answered in the affirmative, inviting him to take a glass of punch. The old fellow who was a shrewd Yankee, saw, at once, that he was to be made the butt of their jests, but quietly laying off his hat and telling a worthless little dog he had with him to lie under the chair, he took a glass of the offered beverage. The students anxiously inquired after the health of the old fancy wife and children, and the farmer, with affected simplicity, gave them the whole pedigree, with numerous anecdotes regarding his farm, stock, &c., &c.

'Don't you belong to the church?' asked one of the wags.

'Yes, the Lord be praised, and so did my father before me.'

'Well, I suppose you would not tell a lie,' replied the student.

'Not for the world,' added the farmer.

'Now what will you take for that dog?' pointing to the farmers cur, who was not worth his weight in Jersey mud.

'I would not take $20 for that dog.'

'Twenty dollars! why he is not worth twenty cents.'

'Well I assure you I would not take twenty dollars for him.'

'Come, my friend,' said the student, who with his companions was bent on having some capital fun with the old man, 'now you say you would tell a lie for the world, let me see if you will not do it for twenty dollars. I'll give you twenty dollars for your dog.'

'I'll not take it,' replied the farmer.

'You will not! Here, let me see if this won't tempt you to tell a lie,' added the student, producing a small bag of half dollars, from which he commenced counting numerous small piles upon the table. The farmer was sitting by the table with his hat in his hand, and apparently unconcerned. 'There,' added the student, 'there are twenty dollars all in silver, I will give you that for your dog.'

The old farmer quietly raised his hat to the edge of the table, and then as quick as thought scraped all the money into it except one half dollar, at the same time exclaiming—

'I won't take twenty dollars! nineteen and a half is as much as the dog is worth—he is your property!'

A tremendous laugh from his fellow students showed the would-be wag that he was completely done up; and that he need not look for help from that quarter, so he good naturedly acknowledged himself beat, and insisted on the old farmer taking another glass, and they parted in great glee—the student retaining his dog which he keeps to this day, as a lesson to him never to attempt to play tricks on men older than himself, and especially to be careful how he tries to wheedle a Yankee Farmer.

Boston Fish Market.—This is the title of a notice in the Albany Evening Journal, in which the advertiser states that he has made arrangements to be supplied with SALMON TROUT, direct from the Boston Market, by the Railroad, and would sell them wholesale and retail. So much for the Western Railroad, the advantage of which, and the noble enterprize and public spirit which carried it on, are every day becoming more and more apparent.

A Caleb Quotem.—There is a man in Mississippi who works at the business of a blacksmith, keeps a postoffice, sells 'gun flints,' (New England rum) 'Percussion caps,' (domestic whiskey) shoes horses, splits wood, blows his own bellows, goes a coon hunting every day, rocks the cradle, and does up chores while his wife goes to meeting, and—and—and pays for his news-papers in advance! What a rare instance of industry and honesty!

There is a Frenchman in Maine so fond of hot dishes that he can swallow nothing but melted lead. He tried boiling brandy and cayenne pepper, but his throat was so frozen up by the experiment that he had to lie in a furnace six weeks before his circulation was restored.

DR. TAYLOR'S

BALSAM OF LIVERWORT.

Has been used successfully for eight years in the cure of Consumption and Liver complaint. Remember the original and genuine is made only at 375 Bowery, N. Y. All others are spurious and unauthorized.

Consumption and Liver Complaint.

AS a general remedy for these diseases, I am fully satisfied, from long experience, there is no medicine equal to Dr. Taylor's Balsam of Liverwort. Being purely vegetable, it can be used with the utmost safety by all persons in every condition. It cleanses the lungs by expectoration, relieves difficult breathing, and seems to heal the chest. There can be no question but this medicine is a certain cure for chronic coughs and colds. I have used it four years in my practice, and always with success.

A. F. ROGERS, M. D.

CONSUMPTION.—The following remarks were taken from the last number of the Medical Magazine:

"The surprising effect produced by Dr. Taylor's Balsam of Liverwort, in consumptive case cannot fail of exciting a deep and thrilling interest throughout the world. We have so long believed this disease (consumption) incurable, that it is difficult to credit our senses when we see persons evidently consumptive, restored to health. Yet this is a fact of daily occurrence; how then can we question the virtue of the above medicine? In our next we shall be more explicit, meantime we hope physicians will make trial of this medicine and report its effects to us."

Note.—The original and genuine Taylor's Balsam of Liverwort is made and sold at 375 Bowery.

TO FEMALES.—The number of females in delicate health is truly surprising. Weakness, loss of appetite, liver complaints, and many other diseases preys upon them, making them pale and lean of flesh. All this can be remedied by the use of strengthening medicine, that will assist nature in all her movements restore tone to the nerves and muscular organs. Of this Dr. Taylor's Balsam of Liverwort, which being all vegetable, purely vegetable, answers females admirably. If all will use it, we are confident an elastic step, good appetite, and ruddy cheeks will follow.—Dose none imitations, the original and genuine is made at 375 Bowery.

Nervous Diseases and Weakness.—Dr. Taylor's Balsam of Liverwort, made at 375 Bowery, is assuredly an excellent remedy for these diseases. My wife has been more or less ill for three this years. She was extremely nervous, and at times so weak that she could not attend to her domestic duties. By the use of this medicine, her strength is wholly restored, and she is as healthy as I can wish her to be. My address is at Dr. Taylor's office.

Cure of Consumption.—Mrs. Martin, a worthy member of my congregation, was taken ill some time ago with what was in the street, and some difficulty of breathing, and in a few days the latter had a violent cough and violent pain in the side which no medicine could relieve. She continued in this way for a long time under the care of Dr. Rea, but finally became consumptive, and was evidently near the end of her earthly sufferings, when she was persuaded her to try Dr. Taylor's Balsam of Liverwort. When she commenced this medicine it did not seem to agree with her for a few days, but by lessening the dose, she found it answered admirably; it relieved her cough and her difficulty of breathing instantly, and was her the pleasure of witnessing her rapid recovery to health.
