Alexander's Modern

ACTING DRAMA,

THE publisher has been induced, from the extensive patronage bestowed on his work, materially to change its typographical appearance and to improve and enlarge its pages—it is already known to be the most popular edition of Plays which has ever been attempted in this country, and the prospect of its further success is ample and satisfactory. In future the MODERN ACTING DRAMA will be published in monthly numbers of 48 pages each—12 of which will constitute a volume, or one years subscription—embracing in all five hundred and seventy-six pages.—Every Play or Farce is to be accompanied by a beautiful and appropriate Engraving—making in the course of the year nearly Fifty-two Embellishments—to which will be added as a Frontispiece to the work, a full sized steel engraving containging the likeness of six distinguished Actors and Actresses. Every person who desires preserve an invaluable collection of the best Dramatic Authors should forward his name forthwith, as the edition will be limited to the number which is absolutely subscribed for. ☞ The publisher pledges himself to make this work equal in interest and superiority of execution to his prospectus, or he will refund the price of subscription, free of all charges.

The first number of the new series will appear about the first of March—this delay is occasioned by the time necessarily consumed in preparing the engravings. The terms of the Modern Acting Drama is three dollars per annum, payable in advance. Subscribers to the Gentleman's Vade Mecum will be furnished with both works for five dollars.

☞ Any person collecting four subscribers to the Gentleman's Vade Mecum, or the Modern Acting Drama, and remitting the amount of one years subscription ($) for each—shall be presented with the Novelist's Magazine, in two volumes, a work of considerable popularity, and which is now selling for $3—it contains the productions of eight different authors, well known to the public as among the most interesting writers of the day.

☞ A large and beatiful sheet, and imperial size, filled on both sides with Humorous and costly Engravings, will be published every quarter as a supplement to the Salmagundi. It will be furnished gratuitously to all new subscribers to the Gentleman's Vade Mecum or the Modern Acting Drama, and to all the old subscribers of these works who forward their subscriptions, for the present year, in advance, without further solicitation.

Notice.

The subscriber, having been appointed assessor of TAXABLE PROPERTY, in Jefferson township, under the act "to provide for an equitable mode of levying the taxes of this state, will call upon the citizens shortly, for a list of their taxable property. He wishes each and every person to have their list made out, ready to be sworn to, and delivered when called upon. That they may not be ignorant of their duty, he refers them to the first section of said act, for the subjects of taxation, which is in the following words:—that all lands and town lots, with all buildings erected or made thereon or attached thereto, together with all improvement, which are the property of any individual or individuals, body corporate, or politic, and ALL PERSONAL PROPERTY, shall be, and the same are hereby declared subject to taxation; with the exceptions hereinafter specified; to be levied and collected agreeably to law. The terms "personal property," in this section, shall be construed to mean and include household furniture, all monies on hand, also all monies loaned at interest, GOODS, CHATTLES, public stocks, and stocks in monied institutions." The necessary beds and bedding, not exceeding two to each family, and wearing apparel, excepted.

The sixth section, makes it my duty "to call on each person resident in my district, and request of such person a list of his property liable to taxation as aforesaid in said district, carefully informing such person what property is subject to taxation," &c.

GREAT AMERICAN WORK.

Illustrated with between 100 and 200 Engravings.

AMERICAN JOURNAL

SCIENTIFIC AND USEFUL KNOWLEDGE.

SO numerous are the productions of the press, in this period of cheap literature, that an individual who proposes to make an addition to them, should be well convinced that the wants of the community are such as require it. But every class requires a book adapted to itself, and that book should contain such matters as will convey new and interesting information, not speculative and useless description, which only retards the acquisition of more solid attainments. Practical and useful knowledge, adapted to the necessities of society, will always find a market, and be sought after with an avidity proportioned to its estimate and importance. The thirst for knowledge, which so highly distinguishes the present period, should be hailed with universal satisfaction, and it is a cheering reflection that the door is so widely thrown open, that none are so poor as to be debarred. The success that has attended the dissemination of the penny Magazine, has induced the proprietors to issue this prospectus, for the publication of the American Journal of Scientific and Useful Knowledge, and it is hoped that its merits will be such as to entitle it to a liberal share of public patronage, without clashing with the interests of others, or underating the merits which may of them undoubtedly possess. The editor will make a general range through the field of usefulness. The Journal embraces Biographical sketches of eminent men, Historical Tales, Discoveries, Inventions, Natural History, Chemistry, Shrewd Observations, &c., all calculated to expand the intellect, improve the moral powers, and convey useful information.

Each number will contain numerous engravings, illustrative of the subject thus described.

A number is to be published on the 15th of every month, containing between forty and fifty imperial octavo pages, and between twenty and thirty engravings, with printed covers.

☞ Terms—$1 per annum, payable in advance—18¾ cents per single number.
