GOOD NEWS!

PHILADELPHIA MIRROR.

THE [illegible] publishers beg leave to inform the [illegible] that the Philadelphia Saturday Courier, [illegible] the largest Family Newspaper in the United States, with a list of near twenty six thousand subscribers. The new features recently introduced of furnishing their readers with new books of the best literature (this day, having proved so eminently successful, the plan will be continued.) Six volumes of the celebrated novelettes of Captain Marryatt and sixty five of Mr. Reade's valuable letters from Europe, have already been published with [illegible] with its news and miscellaneous reading. The Courier is the largest and cheapest family newspaper ever issued in this country, containing articles on literature, science, and arts; interesting intelligence; agriculture; in short every variety of information, introduced into a public journal. Going full account of sales, markets and sales of the latest date.

It is published at the low price of $2. For the small sum subscribers get a full and entertaining matter, and work enough to fill a book [illegible] and equal to [illegible] and which is estimated to be read, annually, by at least two hundred thousand people, scattered in all parts of the country, from Maine to Florida, and from the seaboard to the lakes. The paper has been now so long established and so widely known it too well known to require an extended prospectus. The publishers therefore, will do no more than to refer to the two leading daily political papers of the city, viz. The Pennsylvanian says—"The Saturday Courier is the largest, and one of the best family newspapers in the Union. The other, the Inquirer and Daily Chronicle says, it is the largest journal published in Philadelphia, and one of the very best in the United States." The New York Mercury—"[illegible]"

[illegible] Attorney [illegible] 1836. [illegible] the Saturday Courier, published in this city and other [illegible] publication [illegible] Mesars. Woodward & Clark, of Philadelphia, to compile in its columns, in the course of a year, several of the most interesting new works that issue from the British press, which cannot fail to give it a permanent interest, and render it worthy of preservation. To meet this wishes, therefore, of all of their subscribers as desire to have their numbers bound, they are determined on issuing an edition of the Courier in the quarto form, which will render it much more convenient for reading when it is bound in a volume, and thus greatly enhance its value.

THE QUARTO EDITION.

Under the title of the PHILADELPHIA MIRROR, will commence with the publication of the Prize Tale, to which was awarded the prize of $100, written by Miss Leslie, editor of the splendid Annual the Token, and author of Pencil Sketches, and other valuable contributions to American Literature. A large number of songs, poems, tales, &c. offered in competition for the $100 premiums, will add value and interest to the succeeding numbers, which will also be enriched by a story from Miss Sedgwick, author of Hope Leslie, The Linwoods, &c., whose talents have been so justly and extensively appreciated, both at home and abroad.

This approved family newspaper is strictly neutral in religious and political matters, and the uncompromising opponent of quackery of every kind.

MAPS.

In addition to all of which the publishers intend furnishing their patrons with a series of engraved maps, embracing the twenty five states of the Union, &c. exhibiting the situation &c. of rivers, towns, mountains, lakes, the sea board, internal improvements, as displayed in canals, rail roads, &c. with other interesting and useful features, roads, distances, &c. forming a complete Atlas for general use and information, handsomely executed, and each distinct map on a large quarto sheet, at an expence which nothing but the splendid patronage which for six years past has been so generously extended to them, could warrant.

TERMS.

The Philadelphia Saturday Courier is still continued in its large form, at the same price as heretofore. The Philadelphia Mirror, being a quarto edition of the Saturday Courier, with its increased attractions, and printed on the best fine white paper of the same size of the New York Albion, will be put at precisely one half the price of that valuable journal, viz: Three Dollars per annum payable in advance, (including the maps)

LAMOTT'S COUGH DROPS.

VEGETABLE MEDICINE FOR COUGHS AND CONSUMPTION

THIS Elixir, in its original form of prescription has stood the test of twenty years experience, in the general use of it, and is now offered, with the addition of some articles from the vegetable kingdom, the virtues of which have been fully attested and highly appreciated which render this composition more truly adapted to the present prevailing disorders of the breast and lungs, leading to consumption.—Common colds and coughs, which are occasioned by obstructed perspiration, will readily yield to its influence, removing those troublesome irritations, which act as a constant stimulant to coughing. It eases pain, and induces rest to an eminent degree. Persons afflicted with pulmonary complaints, bleeding of the lungs, or symptoms tending palpitation of the heart, and consumptive affections, even in the most advanced stages of the, will find immediate relief, from its remarkable power of diminishing irritability of the system and the velocity of the circulation, and by equalizing and healing the disordered parts. It also [illegible] relief in the hooping cough.—203-1

Dr. Judkin's

SPECIFIC OINTMENT.

THIS valuable medicine is celebrated for curing the following diseases: White Swellings of long standing—Sore Legs and Ulcers of long standing—Glandular Tumors—Pelons or Catarrhs—Rheumatic pains of the Joints; Sprains; Bruises; and Pattern Chilblains or parts affected by frost. It is approved for Scalds and Burns.

For external swellings, it is superior to any medicine yet known. It is much safer than mercurial applications, for it does not contain the smallest atom of that metal; and because it does not lay the patient liable to injury from exposure of cold.

It cures the worst Felons or Whitlows on the application of eight hours. Rheumatisms which have [illegible] to become a systematic disorder, require medicine to be taken inward to remove them [illegible]. But in most cases, by applying these ointments externally as directed, it will give relief.

Certificates of important cures—also directions for accompany each bottle. 203-1y

The above articles are sold by D. McCullough Vevay and Jeffersonville, and Lyman W. Mix, Mt. Sterling.

Caution to Farmers.

THE undersigned cautions farmers and others to beware of whose father lives in Bartholomew county, in this state. He came to my house to labor on a farm, worked a few days and was taken sick. I called upon an able physician to attend on him; but as soon as he was able to be about he hastily absconded, leaving me to pay the doctor bill and other expenses. He also contracted debts with a merchant in the neighborhood and has not paid them. When he had plenty of cash, he also stole a pair of socks from another neighbor. Look out for him—guard well your stables, henroosts and smoke houses.

James Harris,

THE SILK GROWER'S GUIDE.

With various Engravings.

At $2 per annum, in advance.

ON Wednesday, August 2, 1836, the first number of the SILK GROWER'S GUIDE, will be published by the subscriber, and continued every other Wednesday thereafter, each number containing 16 large super royal octavo pages, double column, expressly adapted for binding, and the whole subject fully illustrated by appropriate engravings.

Every possible source of information will be used to make this a standard publication for American cultivators of silk. The editor is extensively familiar with the subject, from personal experience in its most important branches, and comes prepared to furnish his readers with information so much desired on this interesting subject. He will also be assisted with valuable pens in this city and vicinity, where the mulberry tree and silk worm have for many years received close attention.

The cultivators of the mulberry tree, in all its varieties—the rearing of silk worms—production of cocoons—reeling, manufacturing, and dyeing silk—the easy introduction of the silk business—its immense value to every farmer—its profits—its peculiar applicability to our climate, and the habits of our farmers, with numerous other considerations, will be fully and honestly elucidated in this publication. Philadelphia, as a focus, possesses remarkable facilities for the acquisition and dissemination of this important knowledge. The beet root sugar culture, and agricultural subjects in general, will be assiduously attended to. To make the subject peculiarly intelligible, engravers will be freely employed to illustrate the work, and no expense spared to place it in the first rank as the most complete publication on silk husbandry in America.

It will be printed on fine paper, with good type, and packed up to defy injury by the mail. Six copies will be sent for $10—thirteen for $20.
