From the State Sentinel.

Letter from Governor Wright.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Aug 9th, 1854.

W. C. DEPAUW, Esq., Salem, Ind.:

Dear Sir.—Your communication was duly received and contents considered. A press of business has prevented me from answering it sooner.

I have never been ashamed to boldly avow my political opinions, when such an avowal was called for by my fellow-citizens, or was necessary for the advancement of that political party to which I belong. Yet I rarely, if ever, notice the malicious insinuations of the opposition newspapers, for I know their ungenerous attacks upon my public and private life will be received with many grains of allowance by an impartial public. I deem it due to myself, and to you, to say that from the first agitation in Congress of the Nebraska Kansas question, up to the present hour I have had but one opinion in regard to the great issue presented to the American people by that question, and that opinion has been in favor of the policy of non-intervention by Congress in the domestic affairs of the States and Territories, and of allowing the people therein to choose such forms of government (not inconsistent with the Constitution of the United States,) as to them may be desirable. Neither have I had my opinions under a bushel, as some have insinated.

That the principle of popular sovereignty as shadowed forth by the Nebraska Kansas bills is the true principle of republicanism, I have never for a moment doubted; and the only question for Indiana to consider, in relation thereto, is whether she will continue to occupy her present proud position of nationality, or cease of nationalism. It is to be hoped that she will maintain the dignity of the former, for it is believed that no school girls can rise with any hope of success, or long as the principles of Jefferson are assailed.

The prophetic eye of Jefferson looked forward to the time when this momentous question would convulse this confederacy, and endanger the union of the States. Hence in his letter to Mr. Holmes, under date of April 22d, 1820, concerning the Missouri Compromise, he says: "But this momentous question, like a fire-bell in the night awakened and filled me with terror. I considered it at once as the death-knell of the Union. It is hushed indeed, for the moment. But this is a reprieve only—not a final sentence. A geographical line, coinciding with a marked principle, moral and political, once conceived and held up to the angry passions of men, will never be effaced; and every new occasion will mark it deeper and deeper."

In view of these facts, is there a patriotic son of Indiana, who would wish to see this "marked principle" again opened up to agitation?

Indiana, as a central State, has always maintained a high conservative position, especially on that exciting question which so alarmed the patriotic heart of Mr. Jefferson. And what Indiana is not proud of that exalted position of his beloved State? She is, I trust, convinced that she has wisely selected for her own domestic policy. She is satisfied with the degree of prosperity which, under her present policy, she has attained. While we as a State, enjoy the privilege of making our own laws, in our own way, it would be unjust in the extreme to arrogate to ourselves a course of policy that we would not freely accord to our friends and relatives in Nebraska and Kansas. The centralization of power and patronage, by the general Government, should be avoided as much as is compatible with a strict maintenance of the just interests of the whole Union; hence I think that the principle of non-interposition by Congress, in the domestic affairs of the States and Territories, is the very corner stone of our political superstructure.

In conclusion, allow me to say a word or two in reply to the nominees of the Democratic Convention of the 24th of May last.—The Democracy of Indiana were peculiarly fortunate in selecting its standard-bearers.—They are men of marked ability, and possessed of integrity and prudence. In their hands, the interests of our beloved Indiana will be carefully guarded. It is gratifying to know that within the last year they have managed to liquidate one hundred and twelve thousand dollars of the State debt.

There is no doubt but what the good people of our State will again elect these faithful servants, by an overwhelming majority.

Your obedient servant,

JOSEPH A. WRIGHT.

THE DRAIN OF POPULATION IN GREAT BRITAIN.—The discovery of gold at the Cape of Good Hope will probably lead to another heavy drain on the laboring population of England, already thinned by the exodus to this country and to Australia.—The war will also contribute to diminish its numbers, so that, with all these causes at work, we should not be surprised if, in the course of a few years, the scarcity of hands were severely felt in all branches of her commercial and agricultural operations.

☞ A venerable matron of North Adams, Mass., aged 94 years, recently gave a tea party to her old friends. Among the guests were four ladies of the respective age of 86, 87, 91 and 76, and three gentlemen aged 85, 86 and 83. Six of the above party reside in one neighborhood of less than a mile square, and have been residents of North Adams over fifty years.

☞ A fellow out West recently attempted to end his existence by hanging himself, but he was cut down by an efficient constable who arrested him, and the court being at a loss how to punish him, there being no statute against suicide, finally fixed him out by sending him to Jail for three months for stealing the rope with which he attempted the deed.

☞ The drought has been so great in New York State that the farmers are selling their cattle for want of grass. Cows, which commanded $40 per head last spring, are selling at Fishing, New York, for $12, and sheep in proportion.

South-Eastern Indiana

FEMALE SEMINARY.

A FEMALE Seminary, of a high order, will be opened in this city on the first Monday of September next. The institution, under the care of the Trustees of the New School Presbyterian Congregation, a corporate perpetual body, will be permanent, and meet the educational wants of this city, South-Eastern Indiana, and that portion of Kentucky connected with the business and social interest of Rising Sun; and, it is hoped, command some patronage from other portions of the country.

The building is commodious enough to accommodate about one hundred pupils, and is fitted up in an attractive style—being painted, papered, carpeted and furnished with every useful and comfortable convenience.

A library, and other means for intellectual culture will be obtained, and lectures on Chemistry, Natural Philosophy, Physiology, and kindred sciences, will be delivered during term time. A thoroughly teacher, a graduate of one of the first Female Seminaries in the United States, with several years experience in educating young ladies, is expected to take charge of the Institution. If the public, for whose benefit the Institution is founded, shall extend to it a co-operating confidence and patronage, it will be a credit to this city and a fountain of good to all.

Board can be had at $2 and $2,50 per week; and young ladies from the country, by forming social circles, can board themselves for about $1 per week. Young ladies who take a full and regular course of studies, will be awarded Diplomas of scholarship.

By order of the Trustees.

CHERRY PECTORAL,

For the rapid Cure of

COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, BRONCHITIS, WHOOPING-COUGH, CROUP, ASTHMA, AND CONSUMPTION.

This remedy is offered to the community with the confidence we feel in an article which seldom fails to realize the happiest efforts that can be desired. So widely is the field of its usefulness, and so numerous the cases of its cures, that almost every section of the country abounds in persons gratefully known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind, is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs, which are incident to our climate.

Nothing has endeared lower for the earnest inquiry of medical men than the alarming prevalence that fatality of consumptive complaints, not has any one class of diseases had more of their investigation and care. But as yet no adequate remedy had been provided, it was the professional despair for protection from attacks upon the respiratory organs, until the introduction of the CHERRY PECTORAL. This article is the product of a long laboratory, and I believe successful endeavor to furnish the community with such a remedy. Of this last statement the American people are now the sole judges, and I appeal with confidence to their decision. If there is any dependence to be placed in what men of every class and station certify it has done for them if we can trust our own senses, when we see dangerous affections of the throat and lungs yield to it, it we can depend on the assurance of intelligent physicians, who make it their business to know, in short, if there is any reliance upon anything, that it is irrefutably proven that this medicine does relieve, and does cure the class of diseases it is designed for, beyond any and all others that are known to mankind. If this be true, it cannot be too freely published nor too widely known. The afflicted should know it.—A remedy that cures, is priceless to them. Parents should know it, their children are priceless to them. All should know it for health can be prized to no one. Not only should it be circulated here, but everywhere, only in this country but in all countries. How faithfully we have acted on this conviction, is shown in the fact that already this article has made the circle of the globe. The sun never sees us its limits. No compliment is paid to any general law in other instances as to this. It is employed by the more intelligent in almost all civilized countries. It is extensively employed in both Americas—in Europe, Asia, Africa, Australia and the far off islands of the sea. Life is as dear to its possessors there as here, and they grasp at a valuable remedy with even more avidity. Unlike most preparations of its kind it is an expensive composition of costly material. Still it is afforded at to the public at a reasonably low price, and what is of vastly more importance to them, its quality is never allowed to decline from its original standard of excellence. Every bottle of this medicine, now manufactured, is as good as ever has been made heretofore, as we are capable of making. No toil or cost is spared, in maintaining it in the best perfection which it is possible to produce. Hence the patient who procures the genuine CHERRY PECTORAL, can rely on having as good an article as has ever been laid by those who testify to its cures.

By pursuing this course, I have the hope of doing some good in the world, as well as the satisfaction of believing that much has been done already.

DISSOLUTION OF PARTNERSHIP.

THE partnership heretofore existing between Joseph and Isaac Zeiller has been dissolved by mutual consent.

The business will be continued in the old stand by the undersigned, and no pains will be spared in furnishing my customers with every article in the Dry Goods line on the most accommodating terms.

My Brother having gone to Cincinnati, and engaged himself in the wholesale and jobbing business can and will, render me that assistance in procuring goods by the case, so as to authorize me in saying that nothing in our line of trade shall be neglected, but on the other hand it will be furnished to those wishing to purchase on the most reasonable and easy terms.

I am daily receiving fresh additions to my stock of winter goods.

Feeling grateful for past favors and present patronage, I confidently ask and look for a continuance of the same.
