Illini Headed For Trouble in Big 9 Race

Meet Pesky OSU Saturday in Bid To Keep in Front

CHICAGO, Feb. 7 (UP)—Illinois, with an assist from Ohio State, was back in front in the Big Nine basketball race today, but the speedy Illini could look for trouble Saturday when it's their turn to tangle with the pesky OSU Buckeyes.

The new edition of the whiz kids bumped Wisconsin, 61 to 54, as Minnesota toppled, 48 to 39, before Ohio State's speed and a zone defense.

The combination left Illinois alone in first place with only one defeat in six league games, while Minnesota dropped to second with two losses in eight contests. Defending champion Michigan, which walloped Northwestern, 54 to 46, was coming up on the outside with two losses in five games.

Meet Wildcats Tonight

Illinois tangles with Northwestern at Champaign tonight, but the Illini were heavily favored. In other league games Indiana plays at Ohio State, Iowa at Purdue and Wisconsin at Michigan. The Buckeyes, Purdue and Michigan looked like the winners.

But Saturday Ohio State visits Illinois and the contest could be a game of the year. The two teams met once previously when the Illini took a 64 to 63 decision at Columbus as the Buckeyes made strategical errors in the closing minutes to blow the scrap.

While Illinois will have the advantage of the home floor, Ohio State has more speed and plenty of scoring punch. And even with the home court, Illinois could be beaten.

Other Saturday games are Michigan at Indiana, Iowa at Minnesota and Wisconsin against Northwestern in the Chicago Stadium. Michigan - Indiana and Wisconsin - Northwestern were fairly even but Minnesota will be a big favorite over Iowa.

Kentucky, St. Louis Cage Feud Keeps on Growing

Another Meeting Between Teams Looms as Only Way to Settle National Title Claims

NEW YORK, Feb. 7 (UP)—The national championship feud between the basketball teams of Kentucky and St. Louis today had reached the point where only another meeting between the two in a post-season tournament could come close to a settlement.

The two strongest claimants to the title clashed in the Sugar Bowl tourney in Christmas week and St. Louis shaded the Wildcats by one basket, 42-40.

But followers of the 'Cats cried "fluke" at that time and have been beating the drums louder since then because Kentucky immediately got back in winning stride and began swamping various rivals. St. Louis, meanwhile, was upset by the Oklahoma Aggies and had surprising trouble with other teams before winning.

Kentucky Record 17-1

Kentucky ran its record to 17-1 on Saturday by routing Bradley, 62-52, as big Alex Groza ripped 30 points through the cords.

St. Louis, however, had to go into overtime to beat an undistinguished Long Island U. team, 43-37, to make its record 15-1. Throwing up a zone defense—a strategy that has bothered the Billikens on several occasions—LIU held St. Louis to 12 points in the first half and led for the first 38 minutes of the game.

Hamline, the nation's only major unbeaten team, with a 15-0 record, faces three tests this week, against St. Thomas tonight, Concordia on Thursday and Valparaiso on Saturday. Kentucky has a date with Tennessee on Tuesday and Xavier on Saturday and St. Louis plays Notre Dame Saturday.

Right behind Hamline, Kentucky, and St. Louis as contenders are the Oklahoma Aggies (13-2), Duquesne (13-2), Illinois (14-2), Minnesota (14-2), Akron (12-2), Tulane (18-2, Western Kentucky (17-2), and Washington State (18-2).

Warriors Meet Jets Here Tonight

That chap Joe Fulks, the fellow they say has the softest touch in pro basketball, comes here with the Philadelphia Warriors tonight to do battle with the Indianapolis Jets at the Butler Fieldhouse. Game time is 8:30 p. m.

Fulks has been on a hot scoring streak and is a tough man to handcuff. Last night, as the Warriors defeated St. Louis in an overtime game, he poured 20 of the 77 points scored by the Warriors through the hoops. Philadelphia defeated St. Louis, 77-74.

The Jets come home with a record of 13 won against 30 defeats. They are in last place in the western division, 18 games off the pace set by the Rochester Royals.

Philadelphia is fourth in the eastern division, 12½ games behind league-leading Washington.

Coach Burl Friddle said he would give Jim Spruill, 6-foot, 3-inch Rice Institute star, a trial here with the Jets.

Signs With Pirates

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 7 (UP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates today announced receipt of a signed contract from Johnny Hopp, a 10-year man in the majors and one of the best pinch-hitters in the National League last year.

Risen's Third-Quarter Spree Sets New BAA Record

The Rochester Royals, who seldom disappoint in a crucial game, brushed past the Minneapolis Lakers and into first place in the Western Division of the Basketball Association of America today.

The Royals, paced by Arnie Risen, gained the top spot once again by manhandling the Lakers, 85 to 74, last night. Risen, the lean and elongated former Ohio State star, got all but one of his total of 22 points during the third period to set a new league record.

George Mikan got only two baskets for the Lakers in the first half, but came back strong to wind up with 32 points. The Lakers, playing before 9204 fans, trailed 33 to 38 at halftime and never got close after Risen started his third period basket assault.

The Chicago Stags extended their two-season dominance over the New York Knickerbockers by tripping the Knicks, 87 to 75, at Madison Square Garden.

The Philadelphia Warriors edged the St. Louis Bombers, 77 to 74, in overtime, with Gale Bishop's field goal and a free throw providing the margin of victory. Ft. Wayne ended a five-game losing streak by bumping Washington, 82 to 72, in a rough game at Ft. Wayne. A total of 72 personal fouls were called.

They'll Always Remember The Swaggering Bambino

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK, Feb. 7—The Babe would have been 55 today and, wherever he is, he'd probably like to know that after almost six months from the time he took the final third strike they still haven't forgotten him.

It isn't likely that they ever will.

You felt that last night as the New York Baseball Writers tossed their annual shindig. Few things are sacred when the lads get to clowning. And this clambake was no exception.

They roasted everybody, from Commissioner A. B. Chandler on down to a well-done turn. Chandler, Leo Durocher, Ford Frick the National League president and television all came in for a bit of slow burn.

(The lights dimmed and the crowded ballroom was instantly silent as a picture of George Herman Ruth flashed on the screen.)

They gave Frick, the erstwhile sportswriter and radio commentator, the real business.

The skit went like this:

"He was born nuts—and had a relapse. When he was 2, his parents moved, but he found out where they went. At 4 he ran away but his parents didn't find him—because they didn't look. When he came back, they ran away. Finally he got an athletic scholarship—changing strings on yo-yo's.

"The best thing Frick ever wrote was an expense account. But his writings are a collector's item—a trash collector."

* * *

(The picture of The Babe showed him taking a cut at the ball, and there was poetry in the memory.)

* * *

They hopped next on Chandler with a little superimposed ditty rhymed to the tune of "All I want Is My Two Front Teeth."

Because Chandler has spanked Durocher rather soundly on several occasions, it went like this:

"Everybody said that Lippy would lose his head,

"They figured Happy would knock him dead;

"But then they learned that the punishment,

"Was Leo's front teeth."

* * *

(The joint was noisy, as such affairs are, throughout the program. But it was different when they saw The Bambino. You felt them all jerk upright and the quiet was instant and hurt your ears.)

* * *

The Yankees, who finished only two games out in the American League pennant race and still had the gall to fire Bucky Harris as manager, drew a parody on Buttons and Bows."

Only this epic, dedicated to the Yankee's misfiring mound crew, recalled how they continually would "Buckle and Blow."

(Only The Babe could quiet the rabble. A nd in those few seconds when they saw him once again in all his old glory you could hear rough men clearing their throats and see the sparkle of tears.)

As for video, the writers had it well labeled. They saw, in the future, the firing of umpires for ad libbing games played in the morning so they could be given out by transcription, and the elimination of home runs until the games were presented on a coast to coast hookup.

(Then, briefly, there was a heart-stopping shot of The Babe that dreadful day last summer when for the last time he walked up to the plate in Yankee stadium. It was well that the lights were out.)

Happy Birthday, Babe, and many more. For they proved last night that you'll always be a living part of the game called baseball!

Your right to know!

A NEWSPAPER, like a lamp, is valued for the light it gives. The more you see and know the greater your freedom of action.

The facts and opinions, good and bad, pleasing and displeasing, that are brought to you by the newspaper give you knowledge on which to base your decisions about what to do to get more out of life—to earn more money, raise your family, protect your home and to enjoy all the rights of a free citizen.

Some men and women don't think you should have such freedom. They have other plans for you. They think you should change your way of life to fit their ideas. And as a part of their planning they include the newspaper.

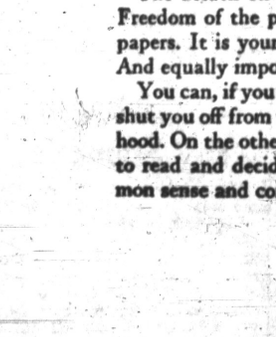
Because they know they can control your thinking if they control your sources of knowledge, they are agitating for control of the press. Not only of newspapers but of all publications. And in the background is control of the radio and the movies. Each of these supplies information to you and helps you remain free. The newspaper is first on their list because it is your main source of facts and opinions.



From the newspaper you get the kind of information you need to see that you get the right representation in government and the right laws. You learn of crime and corruption, of good deeds and better products. You know what is happening and have a free choice of ideas.

That doesn't fit in with what certain individuals and groups have decided. They claim that editors are irresponsible and that you can't be trusted to read what the editors print. They propose a sort of over-all agency to pass on what shall be printed and what shall be read. Hitler had such a set-up. Stalin still has.

You may disagree with much that now appears in newspapers. You may argue for a more enlightened press. But, in place of the great variety of facts and opinions which newspapers now print, what is in prospect is one kind of facts and opinions selected and published to keep you incompletely informed and dutifully subservient.

The attack on a free press is an attack on your freedom. Freedom of the press is not the exclusive property of newspapers. It is your right also. It includes your right to print. And equally important, your right to read and know.

You can, if you wish, be passive and permit your enemies to shut you off from what is going on outside your own neighborhood. On the other hand, you can refuse to give up your right to read and decide for yourself according to your own common sense and conscience. Which do you want?

Your right to know is the key to all your liberties
