JOHNSON GETS BIG MAJORITY IN MONTANA

(INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE)

BUTTE, Mont., April 24.—Incomplete returns on the presidential preference primary in Montana early Friday from leading cities and towns indicated that Senator Hiram Johnson would carry the state by a large majority. Figures from 228 precincts out of 1380 gave:

Johnson, 7,126; Wood, 1,582; Lowden, 1,079; Hoover, 1,238; Harding, 141.

While there was no Democratic presidential candidate in the primaries, scattering returns showed that the names of W. J. Bryan, Wm. G. McAdoo and President Wilson had been written in as preference.

F. B. LEWIS HEADS COMMUNITY SERVICE

(SPECIAL TO THE TIMES)

WHITING, Ind., April 24.—The Community Service body of Whiting held a meeting in the library club rooms at which the board of directors elected officers, those serving previously having been only temporary.

John C. Hall resigned from the board of directors, necessitating the appointment of a new member. The officers elected were: President, Frank B. Lewis; vice president, Mrs. William Rought; secretary, Thomas S. Boyle; treasurer, John M. Thiele.

The other members of the board are T. S. Cooke, James J. Chilla, Walter E. Schrage, Mrs. James Judson, and Mr. Gallagher.

The board of directors will hold their next meeting on Wednesday of next week.

RED BLOOD FOR PALE PEOPLE!

A big supply of red blood corpuscles is what helps to make any man or woman have a healthy, pink complexion and cheery red lips. Resort to paint and powder are usually unnecessary and besides that, are harmful. Three-grain hypo-nuclame tablets, if used regularly for several months, seem to create a greatly added number of millions to the red and white corpuscles of the blood, and not only improve the color, but add increased flesh to the thin and frail body. These tablets promote assimilation, absorption and digestion and this splendid aid to nature's forces transforms the complexion and figure. They are prescribed by physicians but being of a perfectly harmless character, self-administration is being followed by many, who obtain them direct from any well-stocked apothecary shop.—Adv.

NO FIGHT WILL TAKE PLACE HERE

(SPECIAL TO THE TIMES)

WHITING, April 24.—Maccabee Lodge No. 64 of Whiting will give a dance tonight at the Slovak Home Whiting, for the benefit of the Polarine baseball club. In an announcement of the dance in THE TIMES, Joe Stanley, commander of the lodge and one of the Maccabee state officers, repudiates an assertion in THE TIMES a few days ago which said that there might be a gang fight at the dance. Said Mr. Stanley: "Although it is true that several dance feuds between Irondale-Whiting factions have occurred recently at Slovak Home, there will be nothing of the kind tonight. We are catering only to refined persons and rowdyism will not be tolerated. We have the reputation of running respectable dances for the past twenty-five years and intend to keep it so."

THE TIMES meant no reflection on the Maccabee organization or its dance tonight, and repeated only what is current news in Whiting, where it was learned that a monster meeting was held in a pool room in South Chicago last night and plans were laid by the Irondale gangsters for the Whiting raid.

It is know also that a detachment of Hammond police will be detailed to Forsythe where a dance is scheduled at Indiana Gardens.

TAKE VACATION ON A FARM

WASHINGTON, April 24.—A shortage of farm labor which will be as acute as that of 1918 threatens to curtail the food production on American farms, Secretary of Agriculture Meredith said today in an appeal to business men and college students to spend their vacations working on farms, particularly as helpers in the harvest fields.

The supply of farm labor is only 72 per cent normal, carefully compiled reports to the department indicate, compared with 84 per cent, last year. The fact that the present situation exists despite an increase of 18 to 25 per cent in wages paid farm hands is regarded as highly important by Secretary Meredith. As a result more acreage will be put into grasses and other crops requiring a minimum of labor.

CITIES AIR VIEWS ON DISTRICT

Chicago was opposed to a sanitary district and was ready to go ahead immediately with a sewage disposal plant of its own. The attitude taken by the Chamber of Commerce at a recent meeting appeared to reflect the opinion of the city officials although the administration has not officially taken action opposing a sanitary district.

C. R. Tinkham was the spokesman for the committee and following a short introductory talk by A. M. Turner who acted as chairman read a portion of the report published by the state board of health in 1908 in which sewage disposal for the Calumet region was urged and in which it was stated that the drinking water from Lake Michigan would never be safe until such action had been taken. He then gave a short explanation of the law under which a sanitary district might be established and finished by urging a common policy of sanitation in North Township with a competent central authority to handle construction, to expand and to operate the works. He explained in some detail how the system might cost East Chicago as a municipality more than it would cost Hammond but that as citizens all would pay the same share of the cost.

One of the points upon which the Hammond delegation dwelt at some length and the point which exerted the most influence upon the East Chicago delegation was that Hammond is now engaged in the construction of a deep sewer which would be of immense benefit for a sanitary district.

The question of amalgamation was injected into the discussion when E. W. Wickey asserted that amalgamation would do with less expense and with much greater satisfaction exactly what it was hoped the sanitary district would accomplish. Then followed a discussion of the amalgamation situation in which all present apparently strongly favored amalgamation of Hammond, Whiting and East Chicago. Mayor McCormack stated that amalgamation had been a plank in his campaign platform and that he still favored the union.

Mayor Brown expressed surprise at the attitude of East Chicago toward the sanitary district and stated that although Hammond had been backward in improvements and the city administration had been unable to get any improvements through, the sewer system is now about to be put up to date and if necessary Hammond will be in as good position as East Chicago to take care of its own sewage. He also favored amalgamation.

Need for immediate action was urged by both W. F. Bridge and C. K. Wallace, the city engineers. A. C. Burgin of the Indiana Harbor Civic Club predicted opposition in Indiana Harbor to any amalgamation plans. Jesse Wilson of the Hammond Chamber of Commerce urged a system for the future and not for expediency. F. L. Evans of the East Chicago Chamber of Commerce stated that East Chicago is at present not favorable to a district and J. F. Fetterhoff of the Whiting Commercial Club advocated united action.

QUESTION IS ASKED FREQUENTLY

is now apparent they will represent Indiana to Chicago.

With the majority of political leaders believing that the "big four" will be made up of these men they naturally turn to speculating on the courses Senator Watson and Governor Goodrich may pursue in their capacities as leaders. The primary vote will give one of those men the dominating power on the delegation.

GOODRICH TO BE FACTOR

Governor Goodrich will be the supreme factor if the present state organization is returned by the republican voters and Mr. Wasmuth is reelected. Senator Watson will dominate if the committee is re-organized, because early in the year he served notice that he would strive for what he termed a "friendly organization" in his home state.

If the governor controls the contingent there is no doubt in the minds of political observers but that should the occasion develop at Chicago that a "dark horse" is inevitable he would place Mr. Hays name before the convention as the solution of the difficulty. Mr. Hays, of course, has frequently uttered public denials that he is aspiring to the nomination and has declared that it was his business as national chairman to see that the successful nominee is elected this fall. Nevertheless he has been accused by certain elements with having designs on the presidency and he has a whole lot of friends in Indiana who would like to see him head the ticket.

The ardor of Senator Watson's friend to see him become a candidate for president has not been cooled by the volumes of cold water thrown on their enthusiasm and there has been a hopeful feeling in their breasts for many months that the nomination might fortunately fall on "their Jim." The senator himself has repeatedly denied that he is looking hopefully and longingly toward the White House, but that has not deterred his supporters seeing him as a possible choice of the republicans. They point out that if Senator Watson leads the delegation to Chicago that he will be in a strategic position to stampede the convention if a deadlock makes the selection of one o fthe candidates now in the field impossible.

The senator has declared that he is only seeking to be returned to the senate. The fact that he has already spent $1,538.18 in a campaign for an unopposed nomination leads political observers to speculate on the activity of his lieutenants. The prevailing guess is that the Watson camp has devoted its energies to seeking a realignment of the state committee which will make he senator the dominate power in Indiana politics.

On the democratic side of the vice president is looked upon as the natural of Hoosier democracy and the mention of his name in other states as avilable timber for president has evoked considerable approval. There is no doubt that the Indiana delegation to San Francisco would approve his selection if it became apparent that he is the choice of the convention. Mr. Marshall, however, has insisted in no uncertain terms that he is tired of Washington life and desires to retire from a public position.

Believing that Indiana is the natural home of a vice president, there are many democrats who would be willing to place Mr. Ralston up for the nomination, if Mr. Marshall is not chosen to head the ticket. Reports that the former governor governor was looking kindly on such a movement were quite prevalent at the time he side stepped a demand to again become a candidate for governor.

Provide Homes For Workers Is The Wachewicz Slogan

Frank J. Wachewicz, in speaking about the latest device of the astromoners for recording the noise on Mars, says he has just purchased a brand new telescope that gives him a lot of pleasure in not only hearing things, but actually seeing them right here at home.

"Come, take a look, I'll show you some things that will actually open your eyes."

Then the roof of one of Hammond's skyscrapers was sought, and two fellows went up to "rubber."

"By George," aid one of them, "this thing gives you a closeup view of four big towns, East Chicago, Whiting, Indiana Harbor and Hammond, all of them almost merging into one another, groups and groups of smokestacks telling the story of what's going on inside, then the tremendous spread of the Sinclair Oil company, where millions are being spent in new buildings, covering hundreds of acres of ground.

"As these cities, seemingly edging up to each other are all homes of great industries, in my opinion it will not be long until this entire region will be one great thickly populated city, and in time, the greatest city in the world.

"Now," says Mr. Wachewicz, "if every fellow in the Calumet region could see just what really is going on, there would be no doubting Thomasses as to the future of Hammond, which is now and will always be, the hub of this great industrial wheel.

"The thing to do now is to provide homes for the thousands of workers—most of them skilled men, who are coming into this region every day.

"Very few homes are now being built and this is one of the biggest drawbacks to the four cities. The workers are reluctant to pay the high rents and a bargain in a home now is almost an unknown nthing. The result is that many of them become disgusted and move elsewhere.

The present Wachewicz building program will, ins pite of the high cost of lumber and other building materials, relieve the situation to some extent. He is pushing through to construction ten beautiful homes on Carroll ani Williams street and Ingraham avenue, West Hammond. A contract has also been let to Mr. Wachewicz for a $8,000 home on Ingraham avenue and a $5,000 home on Cameron street for J. S. Thielman.

Mr. Wachewicz is authority for the statement that the North Side is to be presented with one of the best equipped and most modern grade schools in he state. He has just closed a deal whereby the Board of Education comes into possession of one entire block, bounded by Adams, Towle, Winslow and Cameron street, where construction of the school will soon begin.

The Wachewicz home on State Line, is undergoing alterations and when completed will have a park surrounding the entire house, set off with a hedge fence, pergolas and shrubbery that will make the home an outstanding structure in that community.

According to the Wacheficz Real Estate Agency, 1920 will see the greatest activity in home construction and buying the city has ever experienced.

One reason for this is that the average man has seen the folly of paying a landlord fifty dollars a month instead of paying that money to himself and having the sweet satisfaction of being the proprietor of his own home. Another reason is that the fellow who owns his own home can establish credits where the homeless man cannot, as a rule. Still another reason is that the plants must have the workers and in order to get and keep them, housing facilities will have to be provided.

"I am a big believer in the Calumet region," says Mr. Wachewicz. "It is bound to be the Pittsburgh of the west. "If you don't think so, take my telescope up for a look—it looks good enough for me."

"Here's a bit of evidence of what is going on hereabouts. Look it over," he told a TIMES reporter, and handed over the following list of real estate transfers effected through the Wachewicz agency in the last three months:

Frank J. Wachewicz to Board of Education, forty-eight lots, Cameron st.; Frank J. Wachewicz to Peter Popblatz, seven room residence, State st.; F. B.
