Republican Ratification.

On Friday evening last, our Republican friends, having learned by telegrph, that "Old Abe," as they fondly and familiarly call Mr. Lincoln, was nominated, they got up a ratification, or more properly—jollification. They felt well and manifested a commendable zeal and enthusiasm. We were glad to see them rejoice; and they acted wisely in doing it while there was an opportunity. A bonfire was built in the street, in front of Hewett & Woodward's store; two anvils taken off their blocks; a dry goods box up-endnd in the street; a fife and drum brought out and "blowed on," which served to attract the attention of our citizens generally. By the time they had fired the anvils three or four times and blowed their instruments, they had gathered quite a number of spectators. The programme was not varied. Part first, was to seize some one that was "gist about to spile," with a speech undelivered, hoist him on the box where he had ample room to give vent to his "pheelinks." When the flow of eloquence stopped, they would blow off the drums and touch off the anvils. Then it was time for the juveniles, Young America—who formed a large proportion of the crowd—to vociferate. The entertainment was divided into about one dozen parts: that is, there were about that many fellows run up, who made poor speeches and then came down.

Senator Brown, we believe, was not in attendance, or, if he was, he had too much sense to climb the box, owing to the fact that some evenings since, while addressing the Club here, he fell off the platform twice—all owing to his ardor in the cause, of course, as the Senator is a great temperance lecturer. As the Senator is a prominent man in the party, we hope for the respectability of the party that the platform made at Chicago will be large enough for this distinguished statesman to work on without falling off.

From the street they moved to the depot depot, where they kept up a constant firing under the flag supported by a Democratic stolen rail, (of which we have spoken elsewhere,) until the train on which the Delegates were returning, had gone, when they adjourned, and went to their respective homes. Since then we have heard several political seats on the street, the Republicans saying that "honest Old Abe" is the greatest man of the age, while many of our Democratic friends tell them that Lincoln is entirely indebted to Stephen A. Douglas for his notoriety. He has the honor to have been beaten once by Senator Douglas.—Were it not for this, and his waggery, he would not have been more extensively known than O. P. Morton of this State, than whom there is not a greater blockhead of a statesman in the Northwest.

"In a fix."—Adolph Myers has, ever since he came to this place, some three years ago, been trying to get himself into a "fix." We have often thought he would, and have intimated as much to some of our friends. He is a young man who has heretofore sustained the best reputation, as an honest dealer, and also a most agreeable and courteous gentleman. This reputation is, in a great measure, the cause of his getting into the predicament we are going to speak of; but there is another, and the cause of his getting into this fix. He has been advertising his jewelry business very extensively, and has gotten up such an extensive trade that he can scarcely supply the demands of his numerous customers. This is the "fix" he has gotten into. He still sustains his good name, reputation and gentlemanly qualities, and will try and wait on you if you wish anything in his line of trade.

Funny.—We understand that a certain little whiffet in our town offered to kick us, provided his Republican friends would make him up the sum of fifteen cents. This was certainly cheap enough, and those of his friends who wanted the job "did," need not expect to get it done for less. However, as they appear to be backward about the matter, we will raise him the amount ourself, if the muscular gentleman is "spillin" for a job of this kind. If such threats afford this fiste any relief, we hope he will continue to bark, as it is a source of amusement to ourself and friends, to see him funce about in this manner. As we have no "obstropulous" feelings toward the gentleman as a friend, we advise him to "let the job" to a competent person.

Godey for June.—This standard Magazine is on our table for June. It is a most welcome number to the ladies, containg many fashions for the season. It is the standard ladies' magazine of the country. It contains everything that can be expected or desired in a magazine—fashions, literature, drawing, needle-work, music, &c., besides much useful information that does not come under any regular caption. It is only a wonder that it can be gotten up so cheap; and, seeing that it is so very cheap, that every lady does not subscribe for it. Terms, $3.00 per year. Single subscribers less per clubs. Address L. A. Godey, Philadelphia.

Home charity society.—Some of the girls of our village have formed a Society of the above name, for the purpose of clothing the destitute. They have already done much, and as their Society is increasing, they will doubless do much more. They derserve great praise and assistance from their friends, as they are doing a truly charitable and humane work. They will never regret having formed this Society, and the recolleition of it will be a pleasant thought in old age.

Attention is called to the communication of J. M. Hick, which will be found on the outside of this issue. It would have appeared last week, but we had not time to get it in type.

☞ Messrs. McKyhan are now in this county taking up subscription for a valuable and highly interesting work entitled "History of Slavery and the Slave Trade," describing the forms of Slavery that prevailed in ancient nations, particularly in Greece and Rome. It is almost a library within itself, and should be in the possession of every family and library. They also wish to employ a number of active and energetic men, agents to sell the same work, as they wish to have all Northern Indiana canvassed. Persons applying for an agency will address them at Plymouth, Marshall county Indiana, and they will receive prompt attention.

Seminary grounds.— The Seminary grounds are being paled in, which adds much to them and their surroundings. When the fence is completed and painted, as we suppose it will be, we will have an institution that will reflect still more credit upon our town, which has, for some time past, enjoyed the reputation of being one of the foremost in the cause of education in this part of the State. The Seminiry is a good building, and is located in a lovely spot, surrounded by trees and shrubbery of nature's own planting, which are now beginning to look most beautiful.

Street clearing and sprinkling.—The business men along Michigan and Laporte streets, evince much taste and cleanliness by ridding the streets of the litter that is usually to be seen in them. They have also made another good arrangement. When "kind Providence does not send his "rain on the just and the unjust" here abouts, until there is a "dust kicked up" in consequence of the drouth, they have made an arrangement with Jas. Wolf to "lay the dust," and "keep things cool." Who will say that ours is not as neat and lively a city as there is in these parts.

Our schools.—Our town is now supporting four or five schools. The teachers with whom we are acquainted, are entirely competent to take charge of those committed to their care; and, what is somewhat unusal, they are giving entire satisfaction to parents and pupils. This speaks well for both teachers and patrons. May this state of affairs long exist; for nothing is more unpleasant than bickerings about schools and their management.

The club meeting last Thursday evening was well attended, and very enthusiastic. Speeches were made by M. O. A. Packard, A. C. Capron and Ed. Van. The meeting then adjourned, to meet this (Thursday) evening, at half past 7 o'clock. Remember the hour. We want the band boys to be on hand, and save the trouble of running after them. The meetings should be commenced earlier and end in better season than they commonly do.

New side-walks.—The newly elected Marshall of our place, Wm. M. Patterson, has been having some very much needed improvements made in the side-walks of some of the prominent streets. It is to be hoped that he will continue in the good work begun, for many of the walks are so badly out of repair that they are dangerous to pass over, especially after night.

D. MOTT'S CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE PILLS OF IRON.

And aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified by combustion in Hydrogen.—Sanctioned by the highest Medical authorities, both in Europe and the United States, and prescribed in their practice.

The experiences of thousands daily proves that no preparation of iron can be compared with it.—Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case.

Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried, it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz

In debility, nervous affections, emaciation, dyspepsia, constipation, diarrhœa, dysentery, incipient consumption, scrofulous Tuberculosis, Salt Rheum, mismenstruation, whites, chlorosis, liver complaints, chronic headaches, rheumatism, intermittent fevers, pimples on the face, &c.

In cases of general debility, whether the result of acute disease, or of the continued diminition of nervous and muscalar energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful which no description or attestation wo'd render credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden so long as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if just returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physicians have no name.

In Nervous Affections of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and overheating; and gently regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflic ing a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property among others which makes it so remarkably effective for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency which forms them.

In Dyspepsia, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendent costiveness

In unchecked Diarrhœa, even when advanced to Dysentary, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough and remittent hectic, which generally indicate incipient consumption, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In Scrofulous Tuberculosis, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well known liabilities

The attention of females cannot be too confidently directed to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them

In Rheumatism, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles

In Intermittent Fevers it must be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness

No remedy has ever been discovered in the whole history of medicine which exerts such prompt happy, and fully restorative effects Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by druggists and dealers Will be sent free to any address on receipt of the price All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to Dry Goods and Groceries.

DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE.

WHEN in the course of trade, it becomes necessary for one firm to dessolve the mercantile bonds which have connected them with others, and to assume among the stores of Plymouth that prominent position, to which selling goods at a lower price entitles them, a decent respect for the opinions of the citizens of Marshall county require the causes which should impel them to the separation. We hold these truthes to be self evident; that all do not sell goods equal; that those who buy cheaper can sell at a lower price, that the store which sells at the lowest price is entitled to the patronage of the community.

LOW PRICE STORE!!

Has always received a large share of that patronage, and to secure a continuance of favors has brought on a much larger stock than before, consisting of a comple assortment of

Dry Goods,
