THE DEMOCRAT

Local and Miscellaneous.

A few days since Messrs. Cooley, Farwell & Co, wholesale merchants in Chicago, advertised themselves in the Times as intolerant, proscriptive, ultra and stupid abolitionists, who carried the nigger into counting room. One of the immediate effects of their advertisement in this locality is the entire discontinuance of the trade of two of our business men, one of whom has dealt with them to the amount of $1,100,00 within the past six weeks.—

M. A. O. Packard started for Indianapolis last Saturday, to attend the Legislature, which convenes to-day; his wife having improved very much, in health.

Mr. Cumin's health is improving, and we trust in a few days he will be able to make his appearance in the Legislative Halls.

The Soldier's Aid Society meets at the residence of Mr. Tallman, to-morrow eve.

Accident.—Last Monday eve., Jerry Liggit, in attempting to stop a span of mules, running away, was run over, and had his leg broken.

Our subscribers at, and near Fairmount complain at the irregularity with which our paper is delivered to them. We regularly mail the paper and it leaves Plymouth post office all right. The trouble is at Fairmount, and as soon as we learn the number we will have it remedied.

DIED.—

On the afternoon of the 5th inst., Sarah, wife Joseph Potter, of cerebro spinal meningitis, aged 26 years.

Mrs. Potter was a most estimable lady, beloved by her large circle of warm friends. A loving and beloved wife and tender mother.

Also—On Saturday afternoon, the 3d inst., of the same disease, Theressa, daughter of John and Eliza Pavl, aged 12 years.

Theressa was a beautiful child, a pet with all who knew her; one of the little angels needed in the bright choir above.

Also—On the 3d inst., Silas, son of Daniel and ——— Jacoby, aged 18 years.

The Public School, which has been suspended since last Friday, opens again on Monday next.

Next week will complete half a year since we commenced the publication of the Democrat. Our terms are $1,50 in advance; while a goodly number of our subscribers have complied with the terms, many have neglected to do so. Times are hard and paper is high, hence we are obliged to send out a collector. Ma J. S. Scott General Collecting Agent, will take our accounts. Mr. Scott is an affable gentleman and whatever arrangements he may make will be satisfactory to us. Other parties wishing to put claims in his hands can see him at the Democrat office.

The Real Cause of the War.

The real cause of the war is a matter of much controversy between the different political parties at the present time. On the street, yesterday, as we passed the Post Office corner, our ears were greeted with the remark that the Democrats were all secessionists, and were the sole cause of the present war. We had not proceeded more than half a square when we heard that the Republicans are all abolitionists and bound to free the nigger or dissolve the Union. We passed on, saddened by thoughts of civil war, bloodshed and high taxes, when observing a crowd on the corner south of the Edwards House, we crossed over, and found Rice and Surran opening a large lot of New Dry Goods. We were very much surprised, knowing that only a few weeks before they had received an immense stock; but found they had been compelled to order a large amount in order to keep up their stock.—We noticed some very pretty styles of DeLaines, Prints, Shawls etc., which were going off in a way that shows the Low Price Store is the place to get the bargains.

Prospectus of the Brevier Legislative Reports.

VOLUME VI.

The undersigned now publish their Prospectus for the Sixth volume The Brevier Legislative Reports of the Proceedings and Debates of the Indiana Legislature.

This work, as heretofore proposed and executed will embrace reliable short-hand sketches of the Journals, Proceedings and debates of both Houses of the Forty second General Assembly of the State of Indiana, to be convened to Indianapolis in regular session the 8th day of January, 1863.

It will contain all Motions, Messages, Resolutions and Committee Reports as they shall be made and submitted; it will afford liberal and verbatim sketches of the Debates to the extent of the space prescribed, presenting without partizan bias the position of every member on the floor, with the yeas and nays in every question of moment on which they shall be ordered and taken.

The volume will contain about 400 pages, double column, if the session should continue to the end of the constitutional term. The price is One Dollar for the session.

It is part of the design of this work to regulate the style of journalizing; to suggest that the Journal Clerk of each House of the General Assembly shall be a Reporter, or shall be required to employ such reporting force as may enable him to sketch every proposition in its order and in due form, with the debate and action thereon; and that he be required to contract for his journal to be printed in some newspaper published in the city of Indianapolis, and distributed in both houses the day after the date thereof, conditioned that it shall not exceed a given reasonable amount of matter—the volume of the Journals of the two Houses to be but one book, made up from the columns of the newspaper. In this way thousands of dollars of the cost of printing those clumsy Journals would be saved; and without adding anything to the cost of clerkships, a readable and authentic Journal of the State Legislation would be secured to the public Archives and the newspapers throughout the country, instead of the awkward unreliable matter which now passes for that.

The coming season, without doubt will be unusually interesting, because the Debates will be in a great measure, upon the war policy of the president, and the ways and means of restoring the Union to what it was; and the Brevier Reports, will be, as it has been for years past, the only source from which reliable reports of the Debates of the Legislature can be obtained.

ARIEL and W. H. DRAPIER,
Reporters and Publishers.
South Bend, Indiana, October 25th 1862.

☞No attention will be paid to any order without money. Address the Publishers as above till New Years' Day after that time, until the close of the session, at Indianapolis.
