THE PLYMOUTH DEMOCRAT.

J. G. OSBORNE, : : : : Editor.

PLYMOUTH, INDIANA:

THURSDAY, JAN. 5, 1865

We understand that the supplemental draft failed to reach good men enough to fill the quota of this (Center) Township. The consequence is another turn of the wheel of inevitable destiny. This drafting business has demonstrated conclusively that blatant Loyal Leaguers, men who in public speeches and private conversation go for the last man and the bottom dollar, are no more ready or willing to shoulder a musket than the most inveterate copperhead in all the country. We don't know a single Leaguer who has been drafted, that has gone into the army if he could possibly get exempted or hire a substitute. They are entirely willing to see their neighbors "grafted into the army" but are constitutionally opposed to going themselves. They are excessively patriotic as home guards, members of the "Indiana Legion" but when it comes to going to the front, why, ahem, that is another matter. Out upon such hypocrisy, such thin skinned patriotism, either stop sponging or shoulder your guns and knapsacks and march right along, especially when you draw a prize in the draft lottery.

The Legislature convenes to-day. The House is republican, while the Senate, in consequence of the defection of Dunning is a tie. The republicans expect to have things pretty much their own way, and hence swarms of hungry pap-suckers are on the alert to secure a draw from the munificent appendage known as a government fat. In as much as there are more hungry and thirsty seekers than places to fasten upon, some must necessarily turn away unsatisfied. We shall probably be able to announce next week the lucky ones in the organization. We regret to all that some chronic office seekers in the democratic party are also on hand as usual, trying to secure a prize in the corruption lottery to be drawn by the present legislature. There is little prospect that anything good will result from the action of the present general assembly of the State of Indiana, we shall endeavor however to keep our readers advised as to the more important movements of that body.

CONGRESS again assembles to-day after an interim of two weeks, spent by the members in enjoying the holidays. Not much has been done as yet by that august body, and it is now pretty certain that little beyond the inevitable negro and shoddy interests will find a place there during the present session. The war goes on the New England shoddy contractors grow fat, Major Generals flourish like dogfennel in June, and small politicians make bunkum speeches, negroes are freed, fed and clothed at the expense of the white man, while law and order, truth and justice, are recklessly trampled under foot in the name of liberty and union. We publish in another column, a severe stricture from a New Jersey co-temporary, who seems to be familiar with Congressional society in Washington, on the state of affairs in that modern citadel of vice and corruption. Whether his picture be overdrawn we cannot say, but hope for the sake of humanity in general, and American society in particular that things are not quite as bad as they are represented.

We call attention to the proclamation of the Adjutant General of this State, requesting the people to raise eleven more regiments of Infantry, &c., &c. These must be raised by the 7th of February or they will be drafted. Now we have no expectation whatever that the quota of this county can be raised by volunteering. Neither democrats nor republicans seem inclined to enter upon the war path as long as they can avoid it. It is important therefore that all should lend a hand in correcting the enrollment, so that this county may not be required to furnish as she has heretofore, more than her equal share of victims. H. B. Reeves, Esq., has been appointed enrolling officer for this county, and is actively engaged in the discharge of his duties, but he desires, and ought to have the aid of his fellow citizens in purging the lists. This must be done immediately or it will avail us nothing in the apportionment of the quota under the present call for 300,000 more.

At the request of Gen. McClellan, the amount of money ($692.10) contributed to purchase him a sword, (after he had been cheated out of that balloted for at the great Sanitary Fair by the Loyal Leaguers) has been turned over to the Patriotic Orphan Asylum located at Flushing, Long Island. Gen. McClellan is still at his home in Orange New Jersey.

Another Stab at Civil Liberty by Military Power.

The heart of the people of this country will be shocked at the rumored result of the late Military Commission sitting at Indianapolis, wherein Messrs. Milligan, Bowles, and Horsey have been found guilty of treason and sentenced to be shot to death. Great God, have we come to this? has our Constitution been entirely trodden under foot; has the genius of Liberty forsaken this once happy land; are we really in the cold and dismal despotism of Russia, where the lives of our people are but stakes in the hands of military despots, who play them for advancement and for power? We can hardly believe that the administration of Abraham Lincoln, with all the outrages perpetrated in the past, will dare to carry this sentence into execution—a sentence that will be looked upon by every lover of liberty in this country and in Europe as the most cruel, diabolical and vindictive outrage that has ever disgraced humanity. This is what the people may now begin to look for, since despotism feels it has got an extended lease of power. The lovers of liberty will wait to see what Abraham Lincoln will do.—[Cin. Enquirer

Proclamation of the Adjutant General of Indiana.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT OF INDIANA
ADJUTANT GENL'S DEP'T.
INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 30, 1864.

To the People of Indiana:

The time for raising 11 regiments of infantry in Indiana, under the recent proclamation of the President of the United States, having been limited by the War Department to the 7th day of February next, the people of the State, and especially the authorities and committees of counties and sub-districts, are earnestly requested to take immediate measures to raise the necessary number of men to fill the regiments called for. The draft will surely be made unless our quota, which will be shortly announced in detail, is promptly filled by volunteers within the time designated. Every facility will be afforded by the Department, and by the military authorities of the Government to insure success, and it is believed that with proper energy and liberality on the part of the people, the necessity for another draft can be avoided. Recruiting officers will be appointed as soon as possible, and full instructions given at once for enlisting, mustering and rendezvousing troops. By order of Gov Morton.

[Signed] W. H. H. TERRELL
Adj't Gen'l of Indiana.

THE NEWS.

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.

A Washington special says that about $400,000 has thus far been expended in paying to paroled prisoners at Anapolis commutation of rations due them while in the hands of the rebels. Up to yesterday 5,000 had received their certificates.

The Post Office Department finding that the letter delivery works badly, has determined to confine it to large cities.

A large number of applications for passes to Savannah have been made to the War Department, but were nearly all refused.

Col. Mulford will go to Richmond this week, authorized to negotiate under a new cartel that will probably exchange the whole of our prisoners in the South. The largest number of our prisoners are at Florence, S. C., 100 miles north of Charleston. A large number have recently been sent to Lynchburg; about 15,000 were sent south from Savannah.

The Richmond Examiner of the 29th says that the pirate Alexandria has been seized at Nassau by order of the British Government. The same paper says that Savannah is full of Yankee merchants and Jews. The cotton probably belonged to them, and we may be assured that they will do everything to prevent its being destroyed. The excuse is that a conflagration would have consumed the town but Savannah had better be in ashes than in Yankee possession.

Sherman says he took 800 prisoners; if he did so they must have been skulkers who wished to be taken.

The Richmond Sentinel of the 29th says that the repulse of the enemy's fleet at Fort Fisher gives great exultation, and turns the tide which turned so much against us.

NEW YORK, Sunday Jan. 1.—The Richmond Examiner of Dec. 29th, says: The seige of Wilmington is over. The telegraphic dispatches tell the whole story, which is as follows:

WILMINGTON, N. C. Dec. 28.—The Federal fleet has disappeared. Only the usual blockaders remain. Gen. Bragg reports that with his present means and disposition of forces, no danger need be apprehended. Had reinforcements arrived sooner we might have captured many prisoners. The enemy drew up in a semi circle and poured a concentric fire into Fort Fisher, destroying every house, and ploughing up the ground. Cols. Lamb and Jamison deserve much credit, as well as the junior reserve. The enemy threw overboard many horses in the gale, and suffered otherwise. There was another gale last night.

The Richmond Examiner of the 29th says the enemy shelled our lines between Dunlaps and Petersburg yesterday with great vigor, but absolutely with no effect. Our batteries wasted no ammunition in reply.

There is a rumor that the Yankee troops are again crossing to the north bank of the James river, but they have made no appearance in front of the lines before Richmond. It is also reported that the enemies vessels appeared in York river, and that some troops had been landed at the White House.

The Express says an official telegram at the War Department states that two brigades of negro troops and one of white cavalry left Memphis December 21st, moving on the State line road. The advance reached Fayette depot on the 22d; the object of the movement is undeveloped.

The Whig of the 27th considers the only point gained in the capture of Savannah is its moral effect and that is not much in a military point of view. It says it was of no value to us whatever.

The Whig expects Sherman to move on Richmond and says he is the very General we desire to see and he brings with him some thousands of those western veterans whose metal we desire to test, for Grant has with him some 7,000 veterans and the rest are the riff raff of creation, to defeat whom is no honor.

The Exchange Question.

NEW YORK, DEC. 31.—The Herald's Washington special says: "The prisoner question is just now a subject of serious consideration and apprehensions are entertained that it may be made a subject of Congressional investigation, when it may possibly appear that our own Government is not free from blame in continuing the suffering of our prisoners. The rebel officials allege they do the best they can, and have invited our Government to send for our prisoners and bring them home.

The Times, special says that notwithstanding there was an agreement made some two months ago between Grant and Lee that each of the parties should send blankets and medical stores to their prisoners, nothing has yet been done by our Government. The rebels, however, have been, and are still engaged in sending supplies to their prisoners.

From the Chicago Tribune, January 2

The news from Thomas' army is important and indicates that Hood is allowed no rest. On the 27th Gen. Stedman crossed the Tennessee River, drove him out of Decatur, Ala., capturing two guns and a large number of prisoners, and at last accounts was still pursuing. Official reports of the battle before Nashville place the number of our wounded at three thousand.

From rebel source we learn that the guerilla Mosby's wound is not a dangerous one, and that the exchange of prisoners will be continued at Wilmington.

The trial of the Chicago conspirators will commence on Tuesday at Cincinnati, Mr. and Mrs. Buckner, S. Morris leading off the list.

Gold closed at the last board Saturday evening at a slight advance, opening at $2:25¼ and closing at 2:27⅝.

Four more of the gang of St. Alban's raiders released by the Canadian justice(?) have been arrested at a conscript camp in Connecticut.

The rebles assert that Lee is prepared to astonish the world within thirty days—In the meantime, if all reports are true, they propose to astonish us by the evacuating Richmond. This latter reports must be taken, however, with many grains of allowance as the same rumor was current one year ago to-day.

The telegraph brings in the intelligence of the death of Hon. George M. Dallas at Philadelphia on Saturday morning. He was born at Philadelphia July 10th, 1792, graduated at Princeton Colledge in 1810 and was admitted to the bar in 1813.—At that time he was selected as private Secretary to Albert Gallatin, Minister at St. Peterburg. In 1828 he was elected Mayor of Philadelphia, and the following year was appointed U. S. Attorney. In 1831 he was elected to fill a vacancy in the U. S. Senate, and was appointed Attorney General in 1835. In 1837 he was appointed Minister to Russia. In 1844 Mr. Dallas was nominated for Vice President by the Democratic National Convention at Baltimore, in connection with James K. Polk for President. Mr. Dallas occupied the office of Vice President until March 4, 1849, when he was succeeded by Mr. Fillmore. In 1855 he was spoken off as a candidate for the Presidency, but his name was not brought before the convention of his party. In 1856 he was confirmed as minister to the Court of St. James, a position which he held until the election of Mr. Lincoln, when he retired to private life.

The New York Post, a leading Republican organ, says:

The Haytiens are much elated over the re-election of President Lincoln. Several of the towns and cities of Hayti were illuminated in honor of the event.

They are probably expecting one of those gifts which our model President proposed to give to the negro nations.—Lincoln will probably give Hayti a gunboat in the name of the United States.
