: GREETING. :

SEASON 1898.

IT is with much satisfaction that we announce that our new line of Wall Papers for the season of 1898 is now in, and is far superior to any that we have heretofore carried. This season's collection comprises the best designs and colors of the very best and largest manufacturers in this country, and includes new patterns especially colored to harmonize with the modern fineries and carpets, and to every variety of room or light.

Every Pattern New.

Special attention has been given to the following grades: White Blanks, Glimmers, Scintellaires, Bronzes, Ingrains, Crepe, Leather Papers and Varnish Tiles.

We also carry a full line of Borders. The new colors—Forest and Empire Greens, Imperial Reds, Russet Browns and Rich Blues. Dark, rich effects which will undoubtedly be very largely used this season, have been liberally selected.

We will be able to offer you prices that will command the line in preference to any made by other dealers, and we beg to assure you that an inspection will convice you that we mean exactly what we say. Remember, we do not sell any TRASH. Thanking you for past favors, and soliciting a continuance of the same, we are yours respectfully,

CARE OF THE TEETH.

Important Points In Use of Toothbrush That Are Often Neglected.

It is but a little thing, says the hospital, yet on its proper use depends much of the happiness of modern man. Why civilized teeth should be so rotten is a question which has often been debated, and probably the true answer is more complex than some would think. Many good mothers are content to put all toothache down to lollipops, but that sugar in itself is not responsible for bad teeth is proved by the splendid "ivories" often possessed by negroes, who practically live upon the sugar cane and thrive upon it, too, during the whole of the season when it is in maturity.

Dental decay is common enough, however, among negroes in towns, and it seems clear that the caries of the teeth, which is so common among civilized races, is due not to any particular article of diet so much as to digestive and nutritive changes imposed upon us by our mode of life, and to some extent by the fact that by hook or crook we do somehow manage to live, notwithstanding our bad teeth, whereas in a state of nature the toothless man soon dies. Recognizing, then, that until the time arrives when some great social reformer either mends or ends our present social conditions, our teeth will tend to rot and that, whatever the predisposing causes, the final act in the production of caries is the lodgment of microbes on and around the teeth, we see that for long to come the toothbrush will be a necessity if the health is to be maintained.

It is only by frequent use of this little instrument that those minute accumulations can be removed which are the root of so much mischief. A few elementary lessons in bacteriology would, we fancy, greatly startle many people and certainly would show them the futility of trusting to one scrub a day. The fact is that if people, instead of looking at the toothbrush from an aesthetic point of view and scrubbing away with tooth powders (?) to make their front teeth white, would regard it merely as an aid to cleanliness, they would see that the time to use it is after meals and at night, not just in the morning only, when the debris left from the day before has been fermenting and brewing acid all night through. They would also see how insufficient an instrument the common toothbrush is unless it is used with considerable judgment.

One of the secondary advantages of spending a good deal of money on dentistry is that at least one learns the value of one's teeth. By the time we have got them dotted over with gold stoppings and gold crowns we learn to take care of them, even although that may involve the trouble of cleaning them more than once a day and using perhaps more than one brush for the purpose

Women of Ancient Egypt.

Women always stood on a level with men in ancient Egypt, unlike the custom of other eastern countries. They were allowed to rule as queens as early as the second dynasty. Their palaces were of brick adorned with gorgeously painted walls, rich carpets, rugs of fur, ivory and ebony chairs and couches. Till the end of the eighteenth century there was little change in feminine attire, which consisted of a fine and often transparent linen garment, extending from shoulder to ankle, supported by straps over the shoulders. Colored robes were not frequently worn. Gay plumage was left to the men. Women contented themselves with blackening their eyebrows, letting their hair down and decking themselves with innumerable rings, chains and bracelets.

His Last Name Good Enough.

"I wish," said the young man, "that you would be less formal and call me by my first name."

"I'd rather not," replied his fair companion. "Your last name suits me."

A few minutes later they were discussing the merits of the different firms that supply furniture upon the installment plan. — Philadelphia Press.

LIGHT CONTRACT

NOT YET MADE, BUT BIDS TO BE ASKED FOR.

The New Light Not Accepted, Owing to the Character of the Contract with the Light, Heat and Power Company—Light Bill to Be Reduced.

Council met in adjourned session last night to consider what should be done regarding the renewal of the contract for the little intermediate lights to take the place of the naphtha lamps that glimmer and blink here and there in the subburbs and about the city. There were under consideration by the committee on lights, two bids, that of the Sun Vapor Street Lighting company of Canton for a three-year contract, moonlight schedule, at $25 per light, for the Welsbach street lights of guaranteed eighty candle power each, and the bid of the Best company, an offshoot of the old Sun Vapor, for furnishing first-class naphtha lamps for $14 85 each, on moonlight schedule. The council, on motion of Mr. Whelan, went into "executive session" as a committee of the whole and considered the matter from every visible standpoint. The city now has 66 gas lamps for which she has no contract, paying $20 each, or $1,320; 92 naphtha lamps, at $15 each, or $1,380; making a total of $2,700 for intermediate lights. This in addition to the regulation $16,200 annually paid for electric lights makes a considerable light bill, to say nothing of the bills for gas lights at the public buildings—fire engine houses, city hall, etc. The aim of the council is if possible to cut down that expense, and there is not one of the fourteen men who would vote one dollar raise on the bill. The discussion last night was confined to the plans for getting better service out of the present lot of money expended, or for actually reducing the expenses. The latter was the principal consideration. It was discussed that, as the contract of the city with the Light, Heat and Power company specifically calls for 180 arc lamps, that number could not be reduced and therefore it was not advisable to consider the more expensive Welsbach light, as it had been looked upon favorably as a possible displacer of 30 of the 90 arc lamps. It was then suggested by Mr. Gillilan of the light committee, that the gas lamps be dispensed with, and that in addition to the 93 naptha lamps now in use as intermediate lights, 66 more be added and a bid received for all, from some maker of naptha lamps at the low rates. This suggestion was taken to very kindly by most of the other councilmen, only Mr. Hegger objecting on the ground that the gas lamps were much more effectual than the naptha lights.

The mayor then suggested that the city clerk write to the Sun Vapor Street Light company and to the Best Street Lighting company, asking them to submit bids for furnishing light from 100 to 200 in number, on a moonlight schedule, for three, five or six years. The six year idea was suggested by Mr. Gillilan as Mr. Peterson had thought it might be an advantage to have the lesser contract expire on or about the same date as the expiration of the contract of the Light, Heat & Power company. This was incorporated in a motion by Mr. Whelan, who also suggested that the Light, Heat & Power company be also given an opportunity to bid for the furnishing of gas lights. The motions were passed and adopted as the action of the committee of the whole. It was also brought out that the city owns a lot of serviceable iron posts that might well be taken into consideration in making a new contract.

The committee of the whole then arose and reported back to council, the report being adopted as the sense of council. Mr. Brooks, chairman of the committee of the whole, presented the report. The city clerk is thereby instructed to ask the three companies mentioned for bids on furnishing the intermediate lights, the bids to be in and opened by April 30

It had been suggested in committee, by Mr. Gibbs, that the city purchase the lights outright, put them upon the city's own poles and employ the necessary labor to keep them in order. This matter will be investigated by the councilmen.

Should the contract be awarded to any company for naphtha lights the contractor will be held rigidly to the contract for keeping the lamps in order. It was the opinion of the councilmen that the city had been shamefully treated in the neglect of the lamps under the old contract.

Council adjourned.
