THE LADY'S BOOK.

In presenting the August number of the LADY'S BOOK to our patrons we have but one subject of regret, and that is our inability to furnish the Plate, Twice, as we had hoped and expected. Various causes have co-operated to prevent this—among which we may mention as the chief, the absence of several members of the Committee, who, though they have agreed upon the choice, have not yet formally signified to us their decision. As soon as we can procure it the award shall be communicated to the public, and our readers may confidently expect the publication of the Plate Twice in the Essence of Scotch Novelty, in which we also intend furnishing a most superior plate of the fashions, which is now in the course of preparation. By some requital for the disappointment we have involuntarily occasioned, we have been at unusual pains in preparing and arranging the contents of the present number. The embellishments, to which we would call particularly notice, are costly and elegant, and the reading matter contains more than ordinary interest. The Dark Day, founded upon a fact which actually occurred in New England, is a most graphic and admirable narrative, from the pen of a writer whose name is always a sufficient guarantee for the taste and excellence of his productions. Several other articles of great merit are also presented.

Persons wishing to subscribe for the Lady's Book, are requested to send their respective addresses to the nearest agent, or directly to this office, when they will meet with the earliest attention.

The Philadelphia Times,

Mechanics' Free Press and Working Man's Register, is published by John Conrad, No. 7, South Seventh street, every Saturday, and is issued in time for the mails of that morning. It is devoted to the general interests of the Mechanic and the Working Man, the Agriculturalist and the Trader, and contains news, politics, science, literature and amusement. The Times and Free Press carefully abstains from partizan or personal politics, excludes from its columns all theological controversies, and is particularly calculated for the instruction of families. It contains more reading matter than any paper in the country, and is in every respect the cheapest weekly publication in the United States. The Times and Free Press comprises weekly—original and selected Literature, comprising Poetry and Prose, Tales, Essays, &c.; Literary and Miscellaneous Intelligence; Notices of New Works, and of Improvements in the Mechanic Arts; Information for the Agriculturalist; a weekly analysis of Congressional and Legislative Proceedings; Proceedings of Councils, and of the Commissioners of the Incorporated Districts; Reports of Police Cases; Reports of Interesting Trials; Biographical Notices of Living Characters; Marriages and Deaths; carefully selected Excerpts; Items of Intelligence; Prices Current; Prices of Stocks, &c. &c. &c.

The Times is printed on good paper of the largest size, at the very low price of two dollars per annum. Having a very extensive circulation, the Times offers peculiar advantage for advertising. Terms as usual.

Probate Court, August Term, 1832.

James Carmichael, administrator on the estate of James Carmichael Jr. dec'd } Bill for relief vs.
The creditors of said dec'd. }

AND now at this time comes the said complainant by E. H. McJunkins his solicitor, and files his bill of complaint, stating that the estate of said deceased is insufficient to pay the debts and demands outstanding against said estate, and praying generally for relief. It is therefore ordered by the court, that the creditors of said estate be notified of the pendency of said bill, by publication in the Vincennes Gazette, a news paper printed in Vincennes, for six weeks in succession; and that unless the creditors aforesaid notify the said complainant, of the existance and the extent of their respective claims, by filing the same, or a statement of the nature, description and date of the contract or assumpsit upon which the same may be founded, in the office of the Clerk of this Court, previous to a final distribution of the assets of said estate, such claims will be postponed in favor of the more diligent creditors.

CAUTION.

THE public is hereby cautioned against buying or trading for a land certificate for west fraction three, in township three north, of range three west; which certificate was assigned on the back by Reuben Lloyd to me. I let Lott Nutterfield have the said certificate, which was to have been returned in a few days, but have not been able to obtain it. The certificate has since been assigned to said Nutterfield, which assignment is a base forgery.

FOR SALE.

222,000 ACRES OF WABASH & ERIE CANAL LANDS,

On a Credit of 15 Years.

THERE will be offered at public sale, commencing the first Monday in October next, in the town of FORT WAYNE, INDIANA, 222,000 acres of Lands in the canal donation, situated in the valleys of the Wabash, Little and Maumee rivers, on or within five miles of the canal route, from near the mouth of the Tippecanoe river to the State line dividing Indiana and Ohio.

The sale will commence with offering the lands in Township No XXIV North, in range III West, near the mouth of the Tippecanoe, and proceed Northerly and Easterly in regular order from the lowest to the highest township in each range, as the tracts have been numbered in the public surveys, until all shall have been offered. These lands were selected from those of the General Government in tracts of every size, and contain too large a quantity to be specified in an advertisement. Maps shewing the particular tracts which will be offered at the sale, are being deposited in the Clerk's offices of Tippecanoe, Carroll, Cass and Allen counties, which, probably, the Clerk's will show at so requested. Maps of old donations are also in the office of the commissioners at Fort Wayne, and with Jordan Vigus canal commissioner at Logansport, which will be free for the inspection of any person wishing to make an examination.

According to the provisions of the law on this subject, these lands are classed into first, second and third rates, and valued at $3 50 $2 50 and $1 50 per acre. They will be offered at these prices, and if not sold during the public sale, will at any time afterwards be subject to be entered at private sale, at these rates, at the office of the commissioners, at Fort Wayne, or at such other place in the Canal donation as may be located for an office for that purpose.

The terms at either public or private sale, will be one fourth part of the purchase money, with one year interest in advance on the remainder to be paid at the time of sale the interest to be paid annually thereafter until final payment shall be made and the balance of the purchase money to be paid on or before the first October, 1837, conditioned that a failure to pay either principal or interest for more than twenty days after the same shall have become due, forfeits the tract to the State, and subjects it to be sold for the benefit of the Canal Fund.

It is perhaps superfluous to add, that the canal donation is some hundred miles from the apprehended seat of Indian war, in the interior of a country settled many miles beyond it, and entirely remote from danger from that cause—and at this time is equally free from Cholera and any epidemic disease whatever, and from the healthy situation of the country, and its sparse population is expected will remain so.—It is believed to be equally useless to detail the advantages of these lands; it is enough to remark that 30,000 acres of them are selected in small tracts for their superior quality out of more than 200,000 which had never been in market when the choice of the country was free. That they are now offered for sale for the first time; that no part of the remainder which will be offered has been in market before, except once at a public sale which lasted only ten days; that they embrace a considerable portion of the richest lands in Indiana; are situated in a healthy country well watered with springs, mill streams and navigable rivers; that they afford a great variety of timbered and prairie lands, which with the canal commenced under favorable auspices of being completed on a reasonable time, presents as good an opportunity for the Capitalist to invest his money; a Farmer to procure an eligible situation for a farm, with a cash market for his products at his own door, and the Industrious man with his labor to earn a home as has been ever offered in the Western country.

GREAT SALES AT AUCTION.

On Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, the 24th 25th, 26th, 27th, 28th, and 29th September next, at the stores of

MUIR & WILEY, AND WURTS & REINHARD.

BOTH the above Establishments have determined to close their present stock of goods, and will therefore commence the sale of their entire stocks, on the 24th September next.—Sale to continue throughout the whole week, commencing on Monday at Wurts & Reinhard's.

These two stocks comprise, both, in extent and variety, a greater amount of goods, than has perhaps ever before been offered at auction in the West. The sale, too, is of necessity, peremptory, and therefore free from the usual reservations of auction Sales. Merchants throughout the country are invited to attend, under the assurance that goods will be offered in liberal lots correspondent with the magnitude of the proposed sale.

The Goods will be sold as for cash, but those who purchase to an amount exceeding $200, a credit of four months will be extended, by adding interest, and giving a good city acceptance for the amount. The two stocks comprize every article, both staple and fancy, of British, French, India and Domestic DRY GOODS.

Also—50 pieces rich Ingrain and Venitian carpeting hearth rugs, brass andirons tongs and shovels, gilt-frame mantel and pier glasses.—Also—a large and general assortment of Hardware cutlery, and fancy articles. likewise, 50 boxes fur hats; 100 cases ladies' gentlemen's boys', misses' and children's boots, shoes and brogans. To which Will be added, an extensive variety of Groceries. And on consignment—50 bales 3-4 and 5-4 brown and bleached domestic ticking, &c. Also, per special orders, 200 pair rose and point blankets—with a variety of other articles. ☞ Sales to commence at 9 o'clock P. M. on each day.

AUCTION.

SALE OF GOODS.

IN consequence of the death of Thomas D. Berry, late surviving partner of T. D. Berry, & Co., the business of the firm will be closed. The undersigned Executors of said Thomas D. Berry, deceased, will sell at public auction the stock of GOODS ON HAND.

Sale to commence at the Store Room on Market street, on Monday the 3rd day of September next, at 10 o'clock, and continue from day to day, until all are sold. The sale of this stock of Goods is worthy of general attention, as they were purchased advantageously in Philadelphia, and consist principally of articles in demand at this and the ensuing FALL SEASON.

To the public generally, (and to country merchants particularly,) the occasion is inviting. It is thought unnecessary to enumerate the various articles; suffice it to say, that the stock embraces a large and very general assortment of Merchandize.

The terms of the Sale are as follows:

All sums of three dollars and under, cash. On all sums over three dollars, and not exceeding ten, a credit of six months. On all sums over ten, and not exceeding twenty dollars, a credit of nine months. On all sums over twenty dollars, a credit of twelve months will be given. Notes with approved security will be required.

YOUNG LADIES'
FRENCH & ENGLISH ACADEMY,
GOTHIC MANSION, CHESNUT STREET,
PHILADELPHIA.

THE public is respectfully informed that a branch of an Institution conducted in France by a Society of Ladies, known by the name of "Les Dames de la Retraite," is to be established in this city, for the Education of Young Ladies, on a plan as nearly as possible to that which has inspired so much confidence in France.

The course of instruction will embrace the French and English Languages, Sacred and Profane History, Ancient and Modern Geography, Mythology, and all the various kinds of Fancy and Ornamental Needle work. The Library, which will be always at their service, will contain all the select works necessary to form the taste and improve the judgment.

The discipline of the school will be mild, exact, and uniform. The pupils shall be always under the eyes of the Superiors, and advantage will be taken of every opportunity to cultivate their minds, and quintly them for refined and polite society.

The food shall be wholesome and various, the dress simple, and every requisite attention paid to the physical wants and comforts of the boarders. The expenses of slight indisposition will be borne by the Institution, but in severe sickness, medical attendance, apothecaries' bills, and other necessary or incidental charges, must be met by the parents or guardians.

At the end of every three months, a correct report will be furnished of the health, progress application, &c. of the children or wards.

The French shall be exclusively the language of the house, except in the classes of English studies.

The terms are $300 per annum, to be paid quarterly in advance, the price of tuition for day scholars will vary according to the age and progress of the pupils.

Application is to be made at the Institution, to the lady superior, Madame Henry du Jarday, or to the Countess de la Rochefoucault.

These ladies take leave to state that they will not interfere with the religion of any child not a Catholic, that may be placed under their charge, and they entertain the hope that their system of instruction will not be found, on due examination inferior to any already established in this country.

EXTRA CHARGES

Spanish and Italian Languages, Dancing and Music, in all its branches, to be taught by approved masters.

Washing, $2 per quarter; fuel, $5 a year.

The young ladies must be furnished, at entrance, with bed and bedding, knife and fork, silver spoon and goblet.

SALE OF MICHIGAN ROAD LANDS.

THE undersigned commissioner of the Michigan Road, will, at the town of LOGANSPORT, on Monday the 15th of October, commence the sale of the Michigan Road Lands in the state of Indiana, to the highest bidder in tracts as the United States Lands are sold.

For a full description of these lands, see the advertisement of the late sales at South Bend on the 4th of June last past. Owing to the alarm on account of the Indian war, at that time much valuable land was not examined, and but few persons attended the sales; and since then both the Michigan Road and the Wabash and Erie Canal have been put under contract, and the works are progressing, those who wish choice selections in that interesting part of Indiana, will do well to examine and attend the sales. None need stop on account of the rumors of the Indian war, as there is not the remotest probability of danger in that section of the country. Immediately after the conclusion of the sales, an office will be opened for entering the lands that remain unsold.
