It would be good policy on the part of the customers of the New York Store, to call at their establishment within the next thirty days, as Tuley & Co. have been making "Great Reductions" in order to sell out their Summer Goods. They say they have marked down their Lawns and Dress Goods, to such a figure, that no one can help but buy. Go and see.

HOTEL KEEPER WANTED.

Mr. Cookerly wishes to state that any gentleman who "knows how to keep a hotel," can find a good opening in Bloomington. He desires to rent the Bloomington House to some one who will keep a creditable hotel, and such an individual can secure very favorable terms. Bloomington contains a population of near 3,500 souls, is rapidly growing, and is one of the most healthful towns in the State. The House is a handsome, new four-story brick, furnished throughout, centrally located, and it well kept, would command a good custom. A man who understands running a hotel, can make this house pay, and it is fully for any one else to undertake it. Address James W. Cookerly, Bloomington, Ind.

THE DEMOCRAT had much to say, last Fall, about "carpet-baggers"—men who come into a town or neighborhood, remaining only long enough to get a little office, or pick up a few dollars—and now it grows virtuously indignant because we claim that our own citizens should be preferred and protected, rather than the class of persons known to the Democracy as carpet-baggers. Oh, consistency.

THE proprietor of the Indianapolis Sentinel, will erect a handsome building this fall, to be occupied as an office, the corner stone for which was laid on the 17th. The Indianapolis papers are keeping pace with the growing wealth and importance of the city; and they should be enabled to do so through the patronage of the people; for to the efforts of the press, more than to any other cause, can the march of public improvement be traced. We trust the day may come when every newspaper proprietor in the country, will be able to erect a handsome building in which to carry on his business. The Sentinel has our best wishes for its financial prosperity.

If a common laborer, when returning home from a week of toil steps into an auction room and finds that he can lay an article of merchandise, which he or his family needs, for one half less than he can get it of our merchants, it is but simple justice that he be permitted to do so. But the Progress man says that the merchants have rights that should be respected and protected. One of these rights is that they should demand of the Council that they enact a law whereby the Mechanics, Farmers and Common Laborers of our town and county shall buy of our merchants or not at all; or in other words, that the Council stand between them and domestic competition. This is a species of high protective tariff more contemptible than any ever advoed before by any sane man, and we do not believe the merchants of Bloomington endorse any such doctrine.—Bloomington Democrat.

The business men of Bloomington do not demand, and never have demanded that the Council should "enact a law whereby the Mechanics, Farmers and Common Laborers of our town and county shall buy of our merchants, or NOT AT ALL," and the Democrat man knows that he is perverting facts when he makes the assertion. No one has ever said that the "common laborer when returning home from a week of toil, should not be allowed to buy his goods for one-half less than he can get it of our merchants," except the Democrat. We have only claimed, and do so yet, that the peddler who stops three or four days in our town, and neither contributes to our local wealth, nor helps to bear the burdens of taxation, should be compelled to pay a sum for his privileges, somewhat in proportion to the amount of his benefits. No intelligent working man would for a moment pay the least attention to the laborer effort of the Democrat to make capital by insinuations without the shadow of a foundation. The poor man has a right to buy when and where he pleases, and the Democrat cannot argue him out of that right; but at the same time, the mechanic, the manufacturer, the shop keeper and the merchant, have a right to demand that the local laws shall favor them, rather than the men who stop but a day or two in our community and feel no interest in our prosperity—caring only to fill their pockets from the hard earnings of our citizens. If the Democrat is so much in love with Gypsies, peddlers and people of that class, why does it not depend upon them for its support? It has no right to ask the men against whom its arguments are directed, to contribute one dollar.

"THINGS ARE WORKING"—We are informed by those who keep their eyes open, that the "Fathers of Democracy," in this county, have virtually begun the canvass. They are full of life and activity, and never let an opportunity pass to slip in a word about "Nigger voting," and the "Nashua Debt." The old chaps have been away from the county feller just long enough to get amazingly hungry, and they avow their determination to give the Radicals of Monroe the liveliest little fight they have yet had. In fact, the Democrats are always organized, and never stop electioneering; while our Republican friends usually "take things easy" until within a few weeks of the nominating election. The Radical party should profit from the example set them by Democrats, and do a little work on their own account.

Remember that we carried the county by only seventy votes last Fall, and that every officer in the county, except a few Justices of the Peace, will be to elect in the Fall of 1870. We have a healthy, working majority, if it is properly cared for, but it will not do for us to ignore the fact that our majority is small, and that larger ones have been overcome.

HENRY ROTT is in receipt of the finest oranges and lemons that can be procured, and sells them for just what they cost. In fact, there is no profit on tropical fruits at the wholesalers figures, counting freight and loss from decay. Call at Rott's for Oranges.

WHEN a peddler or auctioneer comes to Bloomington, he remains but from three to ten days. He carries away the money he makes in our town; he feels no interest in our prosperity, nor does he invest his gains here. Yet these are the people who, according to the Democrat, ought to be encouraged and protected, in preference to our own citizens and tax-payers. The Democrat would be pleased to see the business entirely monopolized by these itinerant damaged-goods men.

SAD.—We were pained, on Monday morning, to observe, in the gutter, a young man whose prospects in life we have always considered uncommonly promising—his name, we shrink from calling it—yet why should it be withheld? Well, it was no less a personage than our popular young merchant, J. Frank Fee. (Here we pause ten minutes in order to allow the gossips time to say: "Just as I expected") But Frank wasn't down—he was only assisting in cutting down an accumulation of dirt that prevented the free flow of water. This mud had been left in the gutter and on the edge of the pavement, by the hundreds of eager customers who daily cross the street to enter the well known Dry Goods House of Wm. O. FEE & Co. The firm have a full stock in every line: Dress Goods, Clothing, Boots and Shoes, Groceries, Hats and Caps, as well as Silks, Laces and Dress Trimmings, and are selling extremely low for cash.

Transfers of Real Estate.

For the week ending July 24, 1869, reported by Wm. H. Jones, Recorder:

Robert Nash and wife to John Fox, 140 acres of land in Perry township, $800.

William J. Sudd to Theodore G. Sudd, et al., 40 acres of land in Polk township, $300.

Joseph Moore to Jonathan Nicholson, a part of Seminary Out-lot No. (36) in the town of Bloomington, $825.

Sarah Chambers to Malinda Sherlock, 40 acres of land in Clear Creek township, $800.

Samuel H. Buskirk and wife to Paris C. Dunning and Ellen D. Dunning, Fractional In-lot 23 in the town of Bloomington, $3,000.

THE Democrat, speaking of the license required from peddlers and auctioneers, expresses its disapprobation in measured terms, and says the mechanics and farmers are "at the mercy of a few men who build costly residences and pay income tax." What terrible tyrants the Democrat would make our business men and mechanics appear. Does the Democrat man think it a great crime upon the part of a citizen of Bloomington, to build a costly residence? We were under the impression that the more costly buildings our citizens put up, the better for the town and its inhabitants. But as the Democrat is opposed to any thing of the kind, it would be well for such of our people as are inclined to exhibit enterprise in that direction, to stop building, and occupy the most dilapidated old shells they can find, for fear they may be charged with having the "mechanics and farmers" at their mercy.

Chips and Splinters.

John W. Davis of New Albany, has been appointed route agent on the L. N. A. & C. Railroad.

A frame farm house, belonging to a Mr. Baker of Stanford, was burned to the ground several weeks ago. No insurance. The building was worth about $1,000.—In Muncie, the ladies hold prayer meetings in the saloons; or, if not allowed to do that, on the pavements immediately in front of the saloons. Hasn't been done here as yet, and hence the temperance people of Bloomington may be counted as behind the age. O, for a spirit of prayer.

We met a farmer named Johnson, last week, who recently returned from Southern Kansas, whither he emigrated some two years ago. He says the climate is warm and relaxing, the soil fruitful, and that it is not difficult to make money, but that himself and family were almost constantly prostrated with ague or malarious fevers, until, becoming thoroughly disheartened, he gathered up his effects and returned to the health-inducing hills of old Monroe. Our soil has not acquired a reputation for great fruitfulness, but the health of the country is so good that, with ordinary prudence and economy, all of our people may become comfortably situated, in time. We believe that very many of the people of our county, who have gone "further west," will yet regret the step. They will always be welcomed home.

The hay crop in this county, is said to be remarkably large. A farmer stated, on Saturday last, that he had forty-five acres of grass, which would yield over two tons to the acre; and his grass is not an exception—much more of the same sort, in old Monroe.—A brakeman on the Southern-bound freight train, named Benjamin Pnett, while making a "running switch," just north of town, on Thursday last, fell between the cars, after uncoupling them, and was literally cut to pieces. His remains were put in as good condition as possible, neatly cofined, and sent to his mother, who lives near Ellettsville.—It is wonderful what an amount of blackberry picking some people can do "early Monday morning," and on no other morning in the week. No one would be so uncharitable as to account for this extraordinary Monday morning industry upon the hypothesis that Sunday is a good day for berryings. No, no, perish the thought.—Only one marriage license granted, during the past week, and that was to Lucien Edwards and Milly Adeline Acton.—Major Parry, while returning from Ellettsville, one day last week, lost his pocket-book, containing about eighty-five dollars in money, and some valuable papers. Of course, it was found by some one—will the finder return it?

The stone-work for the Monroe County Jail and Sheriff's residence, was let to George Finlay & Co.; for the sum of $6,998; the brick work was let to Adams & Denton, for the sum of $4,000. The stone work for the abutments to the bridge, to be built near Harrodsburg, was let to Finlay & Co., for the sum of $1,232. The successful bidders are all citizens of the county.

Rev. H. R. Naylor delivered an eloquent and impressive temperance discourse, in the court house yard, on Sunday afternoon last. It is the intention of the temperance people, we learn, to have a lecture at the same place, each Sunday afternoon during this summer.—On Thursday last, Mrs. Campbell, widow of the late Robert Campbell, died at her residence, fourteen miles north-east of Bloomington, of cholera morbus, at the age of seventy years.—The katydids have begun their nightly songs, and according to the old "sign," it is but seven weeks till frost.

LARGE MEN.—We notice in a number of our exchanges, statements of the weight of large men in the several counties, and as Monroe is not behind any in this particular, we give below the weights of eight of our citizens:

David V. Buskirk.....388

James Buskirk.....361

Geo. A. Buskirk.....244

Joseph Hazle.....300

James Blankenship.....255

Benjamin Ridge.....260

Levi Collier.....247

James Robertson.....250

Total weight.....2,305

Average weight.....288 1/2

David V. Buskirk is six feet ten inches in height, and unlike most large men, is endowed with health and strength in proportion to his size. Several years ago, he was attacked by a mad steer, in one of the fields on his farm in Bean Blossom township, and attempted to get away from the infuriated animal by running; he had gone but fifty or sixty yards, until he felt his coat tail being gently raised by the steer, and thinking that he was getting into quarters too close to be comfortable, he jumped aside, grasped the steer by the horns, and actually held it until assistance arrived.

Miss S. Dudley is canvassing for "Night Scenes in the Bible," in Bloomington and vicinity, and is meeting with great success. The work is one well worth a place in every library, and is sold only by subscription. See advertisement.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

By virtue of a certified copy of a decree to me directed from the Clerk of the Monroe Common Pleas Court, in a cause where Mary Myers is plaintiff and Thomas B. McCune and P. C. Dunning are defendants, requiring me to make the sum of four hundred and twenty-eight dollars and forty-four cents, with interest on said decree and costs, I will expose at public sale to the highest bidder, on Saturday, August 28, 1869, between the hours of 10 o'clock A. M., and 4 o'clock P. M., of said day, at the door of the court house of Monroe county, the rents and profits for a term not exceeding seven years, of the following described real estate to-wit:

Commencing at the south-west corner of lot No. three hundred and forty-five; running thence east ninety-nine feet to a stake; thence north one hundred and thirty-two feet; thence west ninety-nine feet; thence south one hundred and thirty-two feet to the place of beginning, the same being a part of In-lots in the town of Bloomington, and known and designated as follows: In-lots 345 and 346.

If such rents and profits will not sell for a sufficient sum to satisfy said decree, interest and costs, I will, at the same time and place, expose to public sale the fee simple of said real estate, or so much thereof as may be sufficient to discharge said decree, interest and costs.

Said sale will be made without any relief whatever from valuation and appraisal, on laws.

De Soto Mutual Life Ins. Co.,

OF ST. LOUIS, MISSOURI.

CASH CAPITAL, $150,000 00

Stockholders' Responsibility to be Assured, $500,000 00

THE DE SOTO MUTUAL

Takes the position that money being worth more in the West than in the East enables a well managed Western company to declare a better dividend than any Eastern one can. Then why should our citizens send their money East to be loaned at 7 per cent. to build up rival interests, when our own people want the money at 10 per cent. interest, and will furnish just as good security? To concentrate capital at home, to develop the resources of OUR OWN COUNTRY, is a matter in which every Western citizen has an interest.

THE DE SOTO MUTUAL

In maturing its plans and peculiar features, and in getting up the Policy the company issued, secured the aid of the highest mathematical ability they could obtain, and the experience and wisdom of those who have for years made Life Insurance a business and a study. No Life Insurance Company now before the public stands on a more solid and substantial basis, than the De Soto Mutual. The company stands pledged to its policy holders for $30,000—a sum double its cash capital. The stringent law under which it was organized makes each stockholder liable for double the amount of his stock. Every company organized under the new and rigid laws of Missouri has to make a deposit with the Treasurer of State of $100,000, subject to the inspection and under the supervision of the Superintendent of Insurance, whose duty it is to make an annual report to the Legislature, showing the condition of all companies organized or doing business in said State.

The De Soto Mutual

We believe issues a BETTER POLICY than any company in the United States. It is a plain, simple, short, yet comprehensive contract, not liable to the doubtful construction which characterizes many Life Policies, and does not make the usual restrictions on travel.

THE DE SOTO MUTUAL makes all policies non-forfeitable; divides surplus among policy holders; takes only first class risks. Rates as low as leading cash companies. No extra charge for insuring the lives of females.
