Facts for Buyers.

It would be impossible to do justice (in the brief space to which we are restricted this week,) to the wholesale and retail Stationers of Mitchell, Ind., Anderson & Hamilton. Capt. Shoemaker, of the Union Drug Store, tells us that he can buy Books, Envelopes, Writing Papers, and everything in that line, of A. & H., at lower figures than from any Cincinnati wholesale house, besides the saving in freight, which is quite an item. This does not apply to large bills alone. To their customers they will sell one book at exactly the same figure charged by wholesalers where a case is ordered. Is there another firm in the West that will do this? We think not. Last week, while the low Eastern freights were ruling, they received 7,000 lbs. of Books at one shipment, and the margin thus given them is passed over to the benefit of their customers. They only ask that country dealers should give them one order—pledging themselves to give full satisfaction, both in their goods and prices—it is their interest to do this. Merchants of White Hall, of Ellitsville, Harrodsburg, Stanford, Smithville, Stinesville, and all other points of Monroe county, try Anderson & Hamilton once, and if you are not pleased with the result, we will 'take back' all we have said on the subject. The following, from the Salem Mercury, is true—every word of it:

ANDERSON & HAMILTON—This widely known and thorough business firm, is just now receiving the largest stock of books and stationery, ever opened in the State. Anything and everything in their line—entirely too numerous to mention—to be obtained wholesale or retail, and every article sold at their counters is reliable. We noticed, while in that establishment one day last week, a stock of 210 dozen spelling books, enough, we thought, to make a respectable bookstore, of themselves. This extensive book house is well worth a visit, and we recommend it to our business readers who deal in anything in the book or stationery line, as the place to buy. Try this house with one order, try how, and if the goods do not open out satisfactorily as to both price and quality, return them to the house at the expense of the firm, and put us down as the loss "yarn" in the newspaper business.

NOTICE.

We this week send statements of account, to all of our customers whose accounts have not been closed within one year, and ask those who receive statements to call and settle the same, as longer indulgence will not be given. McCALLA & Co., Bloomington, Aug. 18, '89 St.

Chase & Co.

On the west side of the square, people of town and country will find the firm whose name heads this article. Some nine years ago the Messrs. Chase concluded that the proper way to sell Boots and Shoes was to make them a special business, as in no other manner could all sizes, styles, and suitable quantities, be kept on hand. To realize a fact and to act upon it, is one and the same thing with these gentlemen, and the result was the opening of a store exclusively for the sale of Boots and Shoes. From that time until now, their trade has been steadily increasing—the best evidence that they have secured the confidence of the people—and their invoice for the six months ending July 1st, shows an increase in sales over the same period last year, of thirty per cent. This has not been accomplished without the most persistent labor and the closest attention to the details of the trade. Every dry goods store in the place keeps a stock of Boots & Shoes, in connection with their other lines of goods, while Chase & Co. must depend entirely upon Boots and Shoes for their profits. Several years ago, Mr. Geo. M. Chase accepted a position as salesman in one of the leading wholesale houses of Indianapolis, (still retaining his interest in the house here,) and during the four years he was thus employed, he improved the many opportunities offered him to form the acquaintance of extensive manufacturers of Boots and Shoes. This has been of incalculable advantage to the firm, and today, Chase & Co. can, and do buy hand-sewed work from the best manufacturers, for less money than they can be bought by some of the wholesale dealers of Indianapolis and Cincinnati. In proof of this assertion, Chase & Co. tell us they will sell to nearly every country merchant small bill of Boots and Shoes, from one to ten cases, at the same prices which the Cincinnati, Louisville, New Albany, or Lafayette men offer them. This is not a mere assertion, with neither goes nor nets to back it—they have done it, and today are ready to duplicate (in price) any wholesale Boot and Shoe bill.

This firm have been in business long enough to learn which of the numerous manufacturers of the country, manufacture the most fitting goods for our market, and in consequence, have secured special ties in Boots as well as Shoes, upon which they have made a large run. Of one class of Women's Shoes, they retained six hundred pairs last fall. So with a custom-made Stock Boot, which they regard as the leading Boot, both in style and quality. A lively competition sprung up between the leading freight lines of the East, several weeks ago, and freights were run down to almost nothing. Freights from Boston to Indianapolis, (first-class) are usually $1.25 per hundred, but during this "fall carrying" war, they were as low as 35 cents. Then it was that Chase & Co. went into the market, and last week they received about eighty cases of coarse Boots at the latter figure, and there are still fairly cases on the way. In addition to the large quantities of Boots and Shoes Chase & Co. buy from Eastern and Western manufacturers, during the past season, besides carrying on a heavy custom-work trade, they have manufactured in their own shop, over four hundred pairs of Plain Shoes. There is another advantage given retail buyers by this firm: They agree to mend all rips in the goods they sell, and as neither stitches nor pegs can be insured not to give way, this is no small item to those who buy shoes for a family of four or eight. This firm propose, during the coming Fall, to make a specialty of serviceable goods for farmers, especially those who fly with cash, and such are invited to call and examine before making their purchases.

I. SANDERS & SONS are again in the market, for the purchase of Wool, at the highest prices, either in cash or goods. They are agents for the Seymour Woolen Mills, and have a large and carefully selected stock of their goods, such as jeans, flannels, cassimeres, blankets, coverlets, etc., specially to exchange for wool. They exchange goods for wholesale, and not retail prices. Farmers, call and see their goods before disposing of your wool elsewhere.

Fair Ground Eating Houses.
The Managers of the County Fair, having built an eating house building near the Fair Ground Gate, Mr. Henry Rott has secured it, and will furnish warm meals to all who may apply. His charges will be reasonable.

40 cents per meal; Regular Boarders $1.00 per day.
He will also keep an eating stand near the Halls, at which may be found, cold meats, cakes, confectionery, home-made candy, ice-cream, (if the weather is warm enough,) and every article usually called for.

John P. Smith has received this week, several fine imported Timing Watches, an article every horse fancier should possess. He now has a lot of Diamond Jewelry, ranging in price from $100 to $600. Don't fail to examine John's diamonds. He warrants his first-class diamonds to be just what they are represented—no "chip" or "paste" diamonds among them. Take a look at his fine watches, any how.

We will endeavor to secure a correct List of the Awards of Premiums made by the Agricultural Society, for publication next week.

"FRIENDS, countrymen and lovers," hearken unto the voice of wisdom, and go to the great New York Store, where all kinds of Summer Goods are selling way down below regular prices, so that the proprietors may find room for a huge Fall stock. Cash buyers, at this establishment, are allowed a discount of 5 per cent. upon all purchases. Persons buying twenty dollars' worth of goods at this house, get them for nineteen dollars. Cautious enough, ain't it?

Tobe Smith is determined that his establishment, in point of decoration alone, shall exceed anything of the kind in the State. After finishing up his rooms in a style of Oriental magnificence and splendor, only real of in Persian fables, he now improves on what he has already done, and is having the ceilings of his store room frescoed in a manner the most expensive and artistic yet discovered. Go to Smith & Co.'s if you wish to feast your eyes.

Don't be humbugged with the foolish idea that catarrh can not be cured. The world moves, and medical science is progressive. The proprietor of Dr. Seale's Liquid Catarrh Remedy, will pay $500 reward for a case of catarrh he cannot cure. Sold by R. H. Campbell, in Bloomington.

An ERROR.—The small bills for the Balloon Ascension, were furnished by Miles & Co. of Cincinnati, and in them it is stated that there would be no extra charge for admission to the Fair Grounds, on Friday. This is plainly an error, as it would be impossible for the Society to pay expenses at the regular admission fee. Cards of admission to witness the ascension, will cost 40 cents each.

A farmer named Bartlett, tells us that he owns a hen, three months old, that has already succeeded in laying fifteen eggs. He also has a stack of corn, upon which are ten well-formed ears.

To John Smith, the well known fruit raiser, we are indebted for some excellent cider.

Chips and Splinters.

On Tuesday afternoon, Aug. 24th, Daniel Stout, a Billiard Room keeper named Croft, and two others, were playing cards in a Saloon, on the south side of the square, kept by Stout. As is usual, upon such occasions, the parties began to quarrel, and Croft and Stout, who were behind the counter, paying across it to their respective partners, indulged in some very harsh language to one another, when Stout suddenly reached under the counter, grasped an ice pick, (an instrument shaped somewhat like a butcher's steel) and dealt Croft two rapid blows on the neck. The wounded man fell to the floor, and Dr. Holtzman was sent for, who dressed his wounds. It was evident from the first that the man was sinking rapidly, and at 2 o'clock on Friday morning, he breathed his last. A post-mortem examination revealed the fact that one of the wounds had penetrated to the spinal marrow at the fifth vertebra, necessarily causing death. On Tuesday evening, Stout was taken before F. T. Butler and required to give bail in the sum of $500, for his appearance on Thursday. On Thursday his bail was raised to six hundred dollars. The above statements as to the affair are from the evidence before the Coroner's jury. Croft has a wife and one child. On Saturday his remains were taken to Paoli for interment, at which place deceased has a brother living.—Judge Hughes arrived at home on the 23d instant.—Under the New Constitution of Indiana, it is only necessary that an individual who desires to practice law, should get some one to state that he has the amount of moral character requisite to make a lawyer. We presume this is not generally known, as young men exhibit little inclination toward the profession. There is no inconsiderable amount of hard work connected with the practice of medicine, and in consequence, medical students are not so plentiful as students of law.—Marriage Licenses have been issued to Levi W. Rhorer and Sarah M. Jacob W. Easton and Sarah J. Todd, A. T. Teague and America A. Carroll.

The circus people laid great stress upon the fact that they had in their company several Bedouin Arabs. Showers & Hendrix have a large number of Bedouin' customers, but they don't brag about it.—Judge David McDonald, died at Indianapolis, on Wednesday last, in the 66th year of his age. Judge McDonald was a resident of Bloomington from 1842 until 1855.—The highest point of land in Indiana, is a hill about three miles north of Bloomington.—The south, west and north sides of the public square, are now McAdamsized, and work has been begun on the east side.—The September Term of the Monroe County Commissioners' Court, will begin on Monday next.—Rev. S. Burton of the Baptist Church, will deliver the next Sunday afternoon Temperance Lecture.

An army of Wild Beasts coming to Bloomington.—To the citizens of Ellitsville, Smithville, Harrodsburg, Stanford, and Monroe County generally.

On Saturday, September 11, the "best and biggest" menagerie and circus in the country, will exhibit in this town, afternoon and evening. This statement we make from the testimony of reliable persons and competent judges who have seen the show elsewhere, and also from the unanimous opinion expressed in every paper published in Chicago and St. Louis, and all the principal towns in this State. This vast organization is composed of one hundred and sixty horses, one hundred and ten men, two elephants, a herd of dromedaries, and an extensive collection of lions, bears, leopards, tigers, hyenas, monkeys, apes and baboons.

THE RHINOCEROS.—Among the specialties is the only rhinoceros in this country, and the first one seen in this section for nearly a quarter of a century. This brute weighs nearly 8,000 pounds, is drawn by 10 English horses, and is said to be worth many times the price of admission to behold. It has two baby lions, only six weeks old, visited by all the children in the above cities during the time the menagerie remained. But we have no space to enumerate the manifold attractions of this department.

Two SEPARATE EXHIBITIONS.—The Menagerie and circus constitute two separate and distinct exhibitions, and only one price of admission is charged to both. The menagerie levee continues one hour, at the close of which the circus performances commence. This will enable everybody to attend, and obviate all prejudice existing in the minds of many good people regarding circuses.

THE PROCESSION will be a most imposing affair, and will enter the city about ten o'clock in the morning. It will be preceded by the elephants in harness, and 10 camels, all elegantly bedecked in Eastern trappings, and drawing the great golden car of Alexandria, the first and largest chariot in the world. It will contain Withers' Washington Coronet Band, in uniform, who will enliven the scene with the favorite and popular airs of the day. Then will come the circus troupe of ladies and gentlemen, mounted on their splendidly formed horses, and in new and elegant costumes. The massive dens, cages, vans, and the entire retinue of the vast concern, will follow in regular order. This splendid street pageant will be worth a journey of many miles to witness.

THE CIRCUS.—The equestrian department is composed of free lady riders and gymnasts, and thirty of the most famous athletes, acrobats and riders, in the world. The performing horses and trick ponies are said to be unequalled in beauty and skill. Altogether, we think we are safe in saying it is the most complete and comprehensive menagerie and circus ever in the west; therefore, turn out everybody, and come to town and see the big show on third day.

On Monday last, Daniel Stout's bond was increased to $3,000, which amount was given.

Transfers of Real Estate.—For the week ending August 28, 1889, reported by Wm. H. Jones, Recorder:

Joseph Thacker to David Richardson, 40 acres of land Marion township, $340.
Celia Smith, Administratrix to George W. Kirk, the two-thirds of 40 acres of land in Indian Creek township, $250.
John W. French to Simpson Skirvin, 80 acres of land in Benton township, $100.
Wm. Kriner to James C. Worley and wife, a part of Out-lot No. 71 in the town of Bloomington, east of the University Campus, $300.
George Galyon to the minor heirs of Samuel Alexander, deceased, 120 acres of land in Benton township, for the sum of $100.
George Galyon to Wm. B. Alexander, twenty-five acres or more of land in Benton township, $150.
Jas. C. Worley to Geo. Sheeks, 80 acres of land in Benton township, $500.
Geo. W. Kirk to Elijah Morgan, 10 acres of land in Indian Creek township, $150.
Wm. Kriner to George Guardian, 10 acres of land in Indian Creek township, $150.
Burt's sixty acres of land in Van Buren township, $500 00.
James M. Hendrix to Lavina Robinson, In-lot 335 in the town of Bloomington, $1,500.

Bully for Our Boys.
The Bedford Base Ball Club sent a challenge to Bloomington, last week, and although we had no Club, the challenge was accepted. J. Glass McPheeters then went to work, and after considerable trouble, got a Club organized. The Bedford Club came up on the freight, yesterday afternoon, and the game was played at the Fair Ground. Six innings were played, the score standing, when the game closed:

Thomas J. Lemon.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, THAT the undersigned Commissioner, under and by virtue of a decree of the Monroe Common Pleas Court, rendered at the August term, 1889, will on Saturday, September 18, 1889, sell, on the premises at public outcry, to the highest responsible bidder, the following described real estate, situated in the County of Monroe and State of Indiana, viz:

The west half of the south-west quarter, and the north-west quarter of the north-east quarter, and the north-west quarter of section thirty-three (33).
Also, two acres in the north-east corner of the south-east quarter, in section thirty-two, (32) to include a certain spring, all in township seven, (7) north of range one west, containing two hundred and eighty-two (282) acres.
The above land will be sold on the following terms, namely: One third in cash, one third in twelve, and one third in twenty-four months, without interest, the purchaser giving good freehold surety, waiving relief from the valuation or appraisement. A certificate of purchase will be issued to the purchaser, and when full payment is made, deed will be made therefor. The land will have to sell for two-thirds of its appraised value. The land above described constitutes one of the best farms in Monroe County. There is one hundred acres in Clear Creek bottom. It is well watered. There is a good frame house on it. There is a good orchard on it. There are meadows and pastures. The Louisville, New Albany and Chicago Railroad runs through the farm, and it is situated one half mile south of the Harrodsburg Depot, and is known as the Lemon or Round Bottom farm. Any further information will be given by the undersigned, at Harrodsburg. Any person desiring to purchase the above farm, is requested to examine the premises.
J. D. URMEY,
Commissioner.
Sept. 1, 1889.

A Cheap Farm.

THE undersigned offers for sale the cheapest farm ever offered in Monroe county, consisting of 180 acres, situated 44 miles southeast of Bloomington. 78 acres in cultivation, water plentiful, small house and barn. Now offered for $15 per acre. Terms easy—$1,000 down, the rest in two years. Call and see it.
