Sick-headache CURED WITHOUT COST.—Dr. Whittlesey's Vegetable Dypasias Cure, is for sale by Shoemaker & Co., and the proprietors of the medicine are so confident that it will cure, that they send a large quantity of bottles to be GIVEN to the afflicted. This is certainly fair enough, and sufferers from sick-headache and dyspepsia, are invited to call and secure a bottle gratis, at the Union Drug Store. 6-4

We all hope to do an immense business when the new Railroad is built, but Tobe Smith says he don't propose to wait that long. He's doing a railroad business now, judging from the quantity of goods he buys and sells. He has a thousand fancy articles that were never seen in Bloomington before, as well as the staples in the jewelry line. If you desire to see genuine Diamonds, Moos Agates, Pearls, etc., step into the "Palace of Beauty," on the south side of the square.

When you want anything like

Window Shades or Wall Paper, remember that Shoemaker & Co. are selling a Rustic Shade that eclipses

anything heretofore offered in this market: it is neat, durable and

handsome. And in Wall Paper,

they have a very large and complete stock. In addition to selling paper

low, they trim it without any extra charge. Remember: Sign of the

"Big Injun."

LADY'S FRIEND.—The Nov.

No. of this magazine, contains a romantic picture, illustrating Herrick's "Night Piece to Julia," and a group of "Dresses for Young Ladies," in which that important portion of humanity will find some loves of toilites. The publishers are,

Deacon & Peterson, 319 Walnuts,

Philadelphia. $2.50 per year.

The Texans complain because

beef is sold at two cents per pound.

Our people pay 15c. without grumbling, but they are kept in a good humor by the bargains John P.

Smith gives them. He has such a nice display of fine Watches, Clocks,

and Silverware, that people delight

to examine and buy. His Holland

Gold Pens are having quite a run

among the young men who desire to acquire a handsome style of penmanship, with little practice.

I. SANDERS & SONS have a very large stock of the celebrated Seymour Woolen Goods at their farm house, which they will exchange for Wool. They would call particular attention to an article of Overcoat-

ing, which they believe to be unsurpassed in this market. Also, to their Jeans and Flannels. These goods were awarded the first premium at the Monroe County Agricultural Fair. Sanders & Sons believe they can offer superior inducements

to those holding Wool, and would

at least solicit a call from the wool

growers of the surrounding country,

before they dispose of their clip.

Call and Settle Up.

All those knowing themselves indebted to the late firm of Leffler & Rice, will please call at the Bloomington Mills and settle up, as we must close up our old outstanding accounts. To those who have got Flour for wheat when threshed we would say, bring on your wheat, as we are prepared to receive it at the highest market price. Thankful for the liberal patronage bestowed on us in the past, we bid the same for our New Firm in the future.

G. d. Putnam, the "fine old chancery lawyer," who in attempting to set aside the sale of the L.N.A. & C. Railway, stepped out of a second story window, at the Lahr House, Lafayette, and unjointed one of his hands, mended. He will yet recover, and suits the aforesaid Railway hip and thigh. You'd better compromise, Mr. Schuyler.—One day last week, an old woman from the country, and her two fair haired daughters, were standing under the shed that projects over the pavement in front of McCalla Co.'s Dry Goods Store, watching the water as it poured from a spout, into the gutter beneath. "Children," said the old woman, "I've seen that water runnin' thar?" Yes. "Well, us country people are taxed to pay for that thar gutter. Us country folks pay all the taxes for these here town people!" Uncle Billy Faris was standing near, and ventured to remark, "I guess you are mistaken, madam, the property owners pay for building these gutters." "I know better," said the aged female, us country people pays for 'em. You are an old bondholder, that's what you are, I guess." "No, I guess not, madam," said Uncle Billy, "I only wish I was. But I believe you are an old Copperhead." "A Copperhead—yes, I am a Copperhead, an' I couldn't be nothin' better, neither," said she, marching off in high rage.—Articles of Association have been filed with the Secretary of State, for the east and west railroad, which it is proposed to build through Bloomington. An election of officers—President, Secretary and Treasurer—is required by law, within twenty days after the filing of the articles. This done, elections will be held in each of the counties along the line, to determine whether a railroad tax shall or shall not be levied. There is another reason, aside from the desirability of railroad competition, why this road should be built: The removal of the National Capital is being earnestly agitated—conventions to urge its removal are being held—St. Louis, Cincinnati and Indianapolis, are eager to secure it, and are becoming excited over the matter. We, at Bloomington, have looked on quietly, while our sister cities have been snarling at each other over the coveted bone, ready, when the propitious hour arrives, to dash in and carry away the prize. And, should the Capitol buildings rear their tall pillars upon our fertile hills, an east and west railroad would be found necessary to bring to Congress the Senators and Members from Maine and California, without change of cars. There is but little question that if the proper course is pursued, the location of the National Capital may be secured as easily by our people as by those of Indianapolis. But suppose that, following immediately upon the removal, the Democracy should elect Gen. Lee, President of the United States, and step squarely into power! Imagine how our quiet little city would become demoralized, with a Democratic Cabinet and Congress located in its midst! Shall we press our claims for the National Capital at once, or await the completion of the Cincinnati & St. Louis Air Line Railroad?—Forepaugh's big Show didn't make a fortune in Bloomington. Came too late. They will winter at Connersville. The Menagerie part of Robinson's Circus, belongs to Adam Forepaugh, for which he receives 12½ per cent. of Robinson's gross receipts.—The Greensburg Chronicle, in speaking of the Cincinnati & St. Louis Railroad, says that "Major MONCKE" is one of the Directors for Monroe county. Now, who in thunder is Major Moncke?—Forepaugh's Menagerie, on its way to Martinsville, crossed Bean Blossom Creek, five miles north of Bloomington, upon a raft of saw logs. The bridge, at that point, is in a very dilapidated condition—liable to fall at any moment—and the Manager of the show would not risk even a horse upon it. During the past summer, we have waited patiently for a "terrible accident" item from that bridge, and to be swindled out of this, our last chance, perhaps, is painful indeed.—A. J. Arnold, of the firm of Shoemaker & Co., was married on Thursday last. Thus is closed out that invoice of old bachelors. We have always entertained

THE TOLEDO WEEKLY BLADE.

—NASBY'S PAPER.—Of the mammoth Weekly sheets now published, the Toledo Blade, the organ of Rev PETROLEUM V. NASBY, ranks among the best. Its eight broad pages are filled with the choicest reading matter, and in typographical appearance and general character it has no superior and few equals.

—Finding it necessary to move our printing press, last week, we called upon B. S. Chase for assistance. Bringing the necessary aid, he lifted around the huge mass of iron, in less time than it takes to tell of it. When the National Capital is to be removed from Washington, Chase shall have the contract.

—While a "discussion" was in progress at Stout's saloon, on last Saturday night, it is said that Bock Hughes made some "remarks" with a pistol, and a man known as Ed. Farmer, "stopped the balls." As Circuit Court convenes next week, the facts will come out before that tribunal. It is difficult to get at the truth, as there are so many rumors afloat—If this is "squaw" winter, what can we reasonably expect when old "he" winter sets in?

Mr. Nasby is now engaged on an original novel, which will be published in the Blade during the coming year. These, with other rare attractions in course of preparation, ought to largely increase its already enormous circulation.

We will furnish the Progress and the Blade one year for $3.50.

Latest Out!

"Red Stockings" and "Isabella" Cigars, and "Luxury" Fine Cut, at FEE & WYLIE.

AMONG the "Personals" in the Indianapolis Mirror, we find the following items:

—Jim Mitchell, Esq., weighs two hundred and six pounds, large, and has dark hair and whiskers from the shoulder. He has just laid in thirty bushels of rawban apples, and six barrels of cider.

Nick Van Horn is going to Bloomington, which is opposite, for he is a blooming young man and weighs almost a ton."

Flour! Flour!!

Having kept several brands of Flour, of late, we find the "Ledge Flour" to be the best, sold in this market. Any one wanting a prime article will please call or send their orders to FEE & WYLIE.

Mrs. BEERS has returned from Cincinnati, with a large and carefully selected stock of Millinery Goods, the choicest and most attractive ever brought to Bloomington.

Attention is directed to the advertisement headed "To the Ladies."

Sage! Sage!!

As the pork packing season approaches, Sage becomes a staple article, and to find the best article is the desire of all. We have on hand a large lot of pure leaf country Sage, that we recommend to the Sausage loving public.

THIS week, the New York Store

will begin to receive the new stock of goods being purchased in the Eastern cities by Mr. Tuley.

We believe that Mr. Tuley is the only retail merchant in Southern Indiana

who buys goods in New York and Philadelphia, in person.

The firm sell a great many goods—so many that western houses can't supply them.

Confort and Bliss, or Pain and Agony.—Dr. TOBIAS' Celebrated Venetian Liniment, whose wonderful cures, and instantaneous action, in cases of Chronic Rheumatism, Headache, Toothache, Croup, Cuts, Burns, Colic, Cramps, Dysentery, etc., have astonished the civilized world, is now a new catch-penny, but an article that has stood the test of twenty-two years. The enormous sale and rapidly increasing demand is at once the surest evidence of its usefulness and popularity. No family should be without a bottle in the house. Hundreds of dollars and many hours of suffering may be saved by its timely use.

Colic, Cramps and Dysentery, yield at once to its pain-relieving properties. It is perfectly innocent, and can be given to the oldest person or youngest child. No matter if you have no confidence in Patent Medicines—try this, and you will be sure to buy again, and recommend to your friends. Hundreds of Physicians recommend it in their practice.
