

NEW Cash Store.

New Store!

New Goods!
New Prices!

THE UNDERSIGNED beg leave to inform the citizens of Bloomington and Monroe county, that they have opened out a Large and Well Selected stock of Dry Goods and Notions, which they propose to sell for cash, in the room

Formerly Occupied by James Small.

Our stock consists in part of CALICOES, TICKINGS, BLEACHED AND BROWN MUSLINS, HICKORY AND STRIPES.

The famous Seymour Jeans and Flannels, Cloths, Cassimeres and Boys' Wear. All prices, colored and black, in great variety. Plain Poplins, Stripes and Checked Notions. Wool Delaines, Brocades, French and English Merinos, very cheap. Table Linens, cheap. Cravats, Towels, &c. Call and examine our stock. Not trouble to show Goods. Remember the Store—JAMES SMALL'S OLD STAND, feb13 C. C. DETCH & CO.

JAS. B. CLARK. JOHN C. ORCHARD.

CLARK & ORCHARD, DEALERS IN

Fancy and Staple

GOODS,

Provisions, Queensware, &c.

Masonic Hall Building, Bloomington, - - Indiana.

The highest prices paid for all kinds of country produce. Jan 26/79

E. T. TAYLOR. S. EWING.

TAYLOR & CO., DEALERS IN

Choice Family Groceries,

Queensware

AND NOTIONS.

The highest market price paid for country produce. Northeast corner of the public square, Bloomington, Indiana. Jan 26/79

MCKINNEY & ALEXANDER

WOULD CALL THE ATTENTION of their friends in Bloomington to the fact that they have opened a

NEW MEAT SHOP,

in a new building north of the Post Office. We will keep none but the best of Beef, Pork, Mutton and Sausage.

A share of the public patronage is solicited.

L. E. MCKINNEY. MART ALEXANDER. Bloomington, Ind., Dec. 8, 1869.

H. F. TRUEBLOOD. CYRUS TRUEBLOOD.

Trueblood & Co.

Have just opened a fresh stock of

Family Groceries,

Provisions, &c.

West side of the Public Square, next door to Stuart & Co.

Country Produce wanted in exchange for goods. Bloomington, Ind., Feb. 16, 1870.

JAMES W. COOKERLY,

LIVERY, SALE AND

FEED STABLE,

REAR OF BLOOMINGTON HOTEL, Bloomington, Ind.

SADDLE HORSES, Horses and Buggies, and teams, hired on reasonable terms. Stable just east of the Postoffice, and in rear of the Bloomington Hotel. sets 69

Bakery and

Confectionery,

East Side Public Square, BLOOMINGTON, IND.

Fresh Bread, Cakes and Candies, made daily. All kinds of Nuts, Foreign Fruits, Oysters, Sardines, Spices, &c., always on hand. All orders filled promptly to satisfaction. HENRY ROTT.

THE UNDERSIGNED are prepared to do all kinds of House Painting, promptly and in good style.

Graining and Varnishing.

Imitations of

Oak,

Walnut,

Mahogany,

Asa,

Maple,

STONE AND MARBLE.

All kinds of Sign Writing on wood, glass and canvass.

Paper Hanging.

Ceilings Whitened superior to lime-wash. Beautiful shades in

CALSONINE,

for ceilings, kitchen walls, halls, &c. Now is the time to

Re-Paint and Paper.

Give us a call. HUNTER & BEATLY, Bloomington, Ind., Mar. 23, 1870.

THE DOTY WASHER, UNIVERSAL CLOTHES WRINGER.

Hear what the People say of them: W. J. Allen—Dear Sir:

The Doty Washer and Wringer, which we purchased of you, are a perfect success. We would not be without them. Washing day is no longer a terror to our families.

Rev. Wm. Turner, E. P. Cole, Luke W. Sanders, Jos. M. Howe, Nicholas Mayfield, Wm. A. Gabe.

Sold only in Monroe county, by Wm. J. Allen, south side of the public square, Bloomington, Ind. mar27-79-3m

The Bloomington Progress.

Established A. D. 1835.

BLOOMINGTON, IND., APRIL 13, 1870.

New Series, Vol. 3—No. 50.

JAMES HUGHES. NICE, VAN HORN.

HUGHES & VAN HORN,

Attorneys at Law,

BLOOMINGTON, IND.,

WILL practice in the Supreme and inferior Courts of the State, and in the District Court of the U.S. for Indiana. The collection of claims in any part of the State, will receive prompt attention. Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 24, 1869.

S. H. BUSKIRK. JOHN W. BUSKIRK.

BUSKIRK & BUSKIRK,

Attorneys at Law,

BLOOMINGTON, IND.,

(Office over Levi Tannenbaum's Store.) WILL PRACTICE IN THE COURTS OF THE STATE.

Special attention given to Probate business, and to collections. Jan 19/79

GEORGE A. BUSKIRK. J. S. SMITH HUNTER.

BUSKIRK & HUNTER,

ATTORNEYS AT LAW AND PRIVATE BANKERS,

Bloomington, Ind., office north side of the public square.

We will attend to all business entrusted to our care, in the Courts of this State, and are also prepared to discount good and solvent paper, on reasonable terms.

References—Messrs. McDonald & Beach, Attorneys, Indianapolis; Messrs. Winslow, Lumber & Co., Bankers, No. 52 Wall street, New York; Messrs. McCulla & Co., Merchants, Bloomington, Ind. may 9

A NEW

Shoe Shop.

HENRY L. HEWSON, has opened a shop, over Simon Kahn's store room, on the west side of the public square, and is now prepared to manufacture California Boots, to order, in the most workmanlike manner, and at reasonable prices.

Repairing promptly attended to.

Remember the place—over Simon Kahn's store room.

Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 1, 1869.

Hoover & Fish,

MANUFACTURERS OF

BUGGIES, CARRIAGES AND

Spring Wagons.

Bloomington, - - Indiana.

Fifteen Years' experience in this place attests the durability of our work. We will have ready this Spring a good assortment of the latest styles and of superior finish, and will

Sell on Liberal Terms,

OR MAKE TO ORDER.

Repairing promptly and neatly done. FOR CASH.

All Work Warranted.

Finishing and Sale Rooms in W. O. Fee's Building.

E. H. LUNTER. W. M. BEATLY.

HOUSE,

Sign and Ornamental

Painting.

"CITY PAINT SHOP."

North Side Public Square.

THE UNDERSIGNED are prepared to do all kinds of House Painting, promptly and in good style.

Graining and Varnishing.

Imitations of

Oak,

Walnut,

Mahogany,

Asa,

Maple,

STONE AND MARBLE.

All kinds of Sign Writing on wood, glass and canvass.

Paper Hanging.

Ceilings Whitened superior to lime-wash. Beautiful shades in

CALSONINE,

for ceilings, kitchen walls, halls, &c. Now is the time to

Re-Paint and Paper.

Give us a call. HUNTER & BEATLY, Bloomington, Ind., Mar. 23, 1870.

Bloomington, Ill. Nursery.

19th Year! 500 Acres! 10 Green-houses! Largest, best stock and shipping facilities.

APPLES 1,2,3 year, 1000 fine 1 year, $25.

Nursery Stocks, Seeds, Orange, Apple, Peach, Wild-rose, Plum, Osage Hedge, 10,000 s.s.

Evergreen, Rose, 1000 $100. Dublin, Gladiolus, Green-house, Bedding Plants. Send 10 cents for Catalogue, dec29/74-

F. K. PHOENIX.

EARLY ROSE

ANNOUNCEMENT.

Price List for the Month of March:

"Please announce to Bro. JAMES, and all others whom it may concern," that I have a few bushels of the above named, justly celebrated Potatoes, for sale at the following, greatly reduced, prices, viz: 10cts per bushel; $1.00 per peck; $1.75 per half bushel; $3.00 per bushel.

They can be procured at present, at my residence, eight miles south-west of Bloomington, and after the fifteenth inst., at PEARSON'S Store, north side of the square, Bloomington, Ind. "My name is"

Mar 2 70

H. BLAIR.

Goods! Goods!

GOODS!

W. O. Fee

KEEPS THE GREATEST VARIETY,

Largest Stock

AND AT

LOWER PRICES

THAN ANY STORE IN

BLOOMINGTON.

Common Prints 8c.

Best Prints 12c.

Com. Brown Muslin 8

Best heavy 10c.

Prime Rio Coffee 22

Choice " 25

English Soda 8c.

Sugar 14c 20

And all other Goods as cheap

FOR CASH.

I am selling the remaining stock of Heavy Winter Goods, at cost. I have determined that the north side of the public square shall be the cheap side for Goods, and I will make it so for a "sell."

W. O. FEE.

Bloomington, Ind., Feb. 1870.

NEW! NEW! NEW!

Winter Clothing.

BENJ. MCGEE,

DEALER IN EVERY STYLE OF

Ready-Made Clothing,

North Side of Public Square, BLOOMINGTON, INDIANA.

BENJ. MCGEE has one of the largest stocks of Clothing, in his store, at the present time ever brought to the Athens of Indiana, and he is selling them at much lower prices than elsewhere. He has

Every Style of Clothing for Men and Boys.

Embracing a full line of fine and coarse

Coats, Pants, Vests, Linen Shirts,

Under Shirts, Drawers, Suspenders and Neck-ties.

Special attention is directed to a stock of recently purchased, which comprise the latest and most popular styles.

HAIR

Gen's Furnishing Goods.

At this store, a full stock of Gen's Furnishing Goods can always be found—the newest novelties being secured as rapidly as they are introduced in the Eastern cities.

A good stock of Trunks, Traveling

Bags and Valises,

Always in store. I would call particular attention to the Ben's Paper Collar, of which I keep a full supply.

I have, by far, the largest stock of

Broad Cloths, Cassimeres, Silk

Velvets, and Worsteds Goods,

Which will be cut and made up in the highest style of the art.

BENJAMIN MCGEE.

Bloomington, Ind., June 30, 1869.

M. A. DUNN. E. BATTERTON. E. C. DUNN.

DUNN & CO.,

General Produce, Commission

And Forwarding Merchants,

Wholesale and Retail

GROCERS.

And dealers in Nails, Kannah and Lake Salt, White Fish, &c., Bloomington, Ind. May 26/79

Orchard House.

S. M. ORCHARD & SONS,

Proprietors.

Faculty Ind. State University.

REV. CHAS. NUTT, D.D., President and Professor of Mental, Moral and Political Philosophy.

REV. THEOPHILUS A. WYLLIE, D.D., Professor of Natural Philosophy.

RICHARD OWEN, A.M., M.D., Professor of Natural Science.

DANIEL SIKKWOOD, LL.D., Professor of Mathematics.

REV. ELISHA BALLESTIER, A.M., Professor of the Greek Language and Literature.

Hon. GEORGE W. HOSS, A.M., Professor of English Literature and Theory and Practice of Teaching.

REV. JOHN A. REUBEN, D.D., Professor of History and Modern Languages.

Col. JAMES THOMPSON, U.S.A., Professor of Military Science and Art Engineering.

Hon. GEORGE A. BULL, LL.D., Professor of Law.

Hon. JOHN U. PETTIT, LL.D., Professor of Law.

REV. JEREMY W. BALLESTIER, A.M., Professor of Latin Language and Literature.

REV. AMELIATWATER, A.M., Professor of Latin Language and Literature, elc.

ALISON MAXWELL, A.B., Tutor.

SVIT BUTLER, A.M.

Words of Commendation

By those who have personally examined White's File, and are competent to judge of the importance of preserving our valuable literature, and the best method of doing it:

"Having examined the Patent Newspaper File, invented by Rev. Mr. White, we find it a most convenient article for holding all kinds of papers, firmly in a book form. It is easy to adjust, not liable to get out of repair, and occupies the smallest amount of space possible for the required purpose.

As our leading papers, religious and secular, are of general and permanent interest, some simple and cheap device for holding and preserving them, would not only be a convenience, but also a benefit to the community, by affording the same material to a vastly greater number of readers. We therefore most heartily recommend it to all who would blend cheapness and efficiency in the preservation of papers, etc.

Rev. M. Simpson, D.D., Bishop of the M. E. Church; Samuel S. Jackson, State Librarian of Massachusetts; E. Thompson, Bishop of the M. E. Church; J. W. Olmsted, Editor of the Watchman and Recorder

GEORGE BANCROFT.

A Mississippi Steamer.

A correspondent of the Boston Traveller writes as follows: The boats on the Mississippi are known and famed for their colossal proportions. The construction of a Mississippi river steamer is somewhat peculiar. The finer ones are built with horizontal engines, thus placing the machinery all below, and leaving the hull or engine immense, stupendous, prairie, while various parts of the cabin deck outside the saloon are divided into sections for the convenience of passengers and crew. For instance, that portion of the deck aft of the starboard wheel-house, is the back yard, where the youngsters roll hoop, play marbles, swing, jump ropes, etc. Opposite is the croquet ground, where the young Venuses and Adonises assemble to enjoy that jolly, chatty, love-making, heart-rending game. Forward of the wheel-house, on the same side, the theater is usually situated, accommodating from ten to twelve hundred people, while on the opposite side is a barber shop, tobaccoist, and supper rooms. Inside the saloon, one looks up about four or five stories high; and at the forward part of the saloon is the elevator, transporting people to each floor almost instantly. The space between the sides forming the saloon, is, of course, covered with an ample roof, to keep the "weather" out, on top of this we find a magnificent garden, in which orange and magnolia blossoms fill the atmosphere with sweetest fragrance. The last third portion of the park is divided into a sort of museum, in which wild animals are displayed in wire cages, while the feathered tribe find many representatives, of which the domestic poultry, intended for consumption, is the most prominent. How can one help enjoying a trip under such circumstances? There will always be found, of course, hosts of people of all classes, kin and kindred, from the latest girl of the period and the lipping, fawning dandy, to the hardy, corn-fed "gas" and raw-boned frontier man of old "Kentuck" and "Arkansas." The former, with the female portion of the latter, grouping in the after part of the cabin, and the latter gathering about the stove in the forward part of the boat, enjoying the salutary phenomena so common to that portion of the country.

A Judge in Sauk Rapids, Minn., combines with his judicial duties the business of a provision dealer. A newspaper speaks of having seen a nice fat beef hanging up in the court room while a case was on trial, besides bins of grain and feed, and sacks of flour strewn about the room. His Honor was often obliged to leave the bench to attend to his customers, the excited lawyers in the meantime grinding their tobacco between their teeth while they waited impatiently for his return.

BUSINESS HINTS.—A grocer

meets a customer on the street and says to him, "I have a fine lot of general groceries, teas, hams, flour (eleven millions of barrels of the latter), at my store, call in;" that has no special attraction. But if he says, "I have just got over a stilton cheese from old Mr. Stilton himself, which will just suit you, and a couple of jars of those nice pickled grasshoppers," the customer's curiosity is aroused and he steps around to secure a piece of the stilton. Of course when he is there he buys other things—so weak is human nature. Advertising works in the same way. If the grocer puts in a general advertisement of himself and his business, it attracts little attention, comparatively. But if he calls attention to specialties, offers something new or good, directly people will be interested. The use of an advertisement is not the same as that of a sign put up over the door. An advertisement is a means of communicating; in order to be successful it must be a living thing in the nature of a short, open letter, from one who has something in particular to sell to some one likely to want to buy that thing. A dry goods advertisement, for instance, should be definite. To post up in the paper, in big letters, "John Snooks, all sorts of dry and wet dress goods, No. 11 Topsiside," does not move in the world. But when John Snooks says he has "a couple of choice brimble cravats," which he will show on Tuesday, everybody's wife goes to see them. And if he changes his announcement every day, or only advertises when he has something that he wants to call public attention to, he will keep himself fresh in the public mind.—Hartford Courant.

The Milwaukee Wisconsin relates the adventures of a German in that city, who seems to have had a rather singular experience. As a train of flat cars was moving out at the rate of five miles an hour, he attempted to jump aboard but fell on the track. The first wheel struck his head and pushed it off against the snow, but turned his legs across the rail. The next wheel pushed the legs off and turned the head on again, and in this way he was kept spinning around like a top, until the whole train had passed. Some spectators ran to the spot, expecting to find a mutilated corpse, but found instead a disgusted Teuton. He said he thought he was under the train about three-quarters of an hour; that at first he expected every wheel would cut off his head or his legs, but he soon got accustomed to it, and concluded there was no danger. Through all his horizontal sumersaults, he clung to his cigar, an instance of devotion to the weed under adverse circumstances, which it would be hard to match.

A man in Somerset county, Delaware, who bought his coffin two years ago, became discouraged on Thursday, feeling that he was losing the interest on his investment, and with a knife cut his throat.

A San Franciscan speaking of the orchestra in the Chinese theater there, says: "I tell you, you can go your bottom dollar that you never heard any thing like it; why, when that band strikes up it sounds like ten thousand wash boilers tumbling off a five story building on to a brick sidewalk."

A clergyman in Louisville threatens to "shake hell" out of that place. Whereupon a very wicked Cincinnati editor remarks that if he succeeds in his very laudable purpose the remnants of that village will scarcely be worth looking after.

Yoorches' tilt against Senator Morton reminds us of the fly that attacked the elephant. When the little entomologist, fighter was asked what he expected to accomplish, he replied, "I don't expect to hurt the huge creature, but I must have my regular exercise."—Terre Haute Express.

The sickness which has been prevailing in Daviess county for some time past, is now said to bear a close resemblance to the disease known as cold plague. It is very fatal, and is spreading to the adjacent counties. A correspondent of the New Albany Ledger says "the disease first manifested itself by a chill; and in those cases which prove fatal, the victim becomes insensible in a few minutes, and is sealed for death from the very first indications of the disease." He farther says that the physicians meet with little success in treating the malady.

Temperance Column.

Edited by a Committee.

257 Communications solicited for this column. Direct to Lock Box No. 98.

Liquor Sellers.

"In angry souls, passions not soon suppressed, Like wounded whales do struggle till they die."

By their impatience they do increase the smart, Provoke their pains, and vex a harmless dart, Tossing the mighty mass till they're on ground, Their rage more fatal than the little wound.

When men become furious and angry because some one has said something about the business in which they are engaged, is it not an open confession that they are ashamed of that business; is it not an open confession that they do not engage in it with a clear conscience; is it not an open acknowledgment that they are carrying on a business in disregard to the best interests of society, and that they "love darkness rather than light, because their deeds