ARCH. FLEENER, Chairman.

—The Democrats of Monroe county have now thoroughly organized their party, and will spare no effort to secure success. Should they conclude, before the day of election, that it is impossible to elect their entire county ticket they will then concentrate their trading and swapping, as well as the expenditure of money, upon an effort to elect their candidate for Clerk. To this end an immense "fix" factory has already been started, and men have been secured to ride out over the county and pour them into the ears of such persons as seem willing to listen.

—The Republicans should understand the situation. They can only succeed by great efforts and great vigilance, maintained up to the very closing of the polls on election day. Our opponents are desperate and unscrupulous, and will stop at nothing to achieve success. If Republicans wish to avert the calamity of a Democratic victory they must work harder than they ever worked before, and must not relax their efforts till the last vote is in, nor their watchfulness till the last vote is counted. Money, fraud and the circulation of stories without foundation, are what we have to fear. We can beat them with legitimate weapons, but to this end there must be brave, incessant and unflagging effort.

—It will not do for Republicans to underestimate the ability and determination of the Democracy of this county to make a vigorous fight from now till the closing of the polls. They are nerved up to desperation—they want, and often they are determined to have—if by any hook or crook they can secure the votes. They are resorting to the most contemptible tactics in the efforts to defeat Wall Browning for county Clerk, and will not stop at the use of money, whisky and false statements—in fact they are at now, as is well known to many.

OUR CANDIDATES.

Below we give brief sketches of the men who constitute the Monroe County Republican ticket, and ask a perusal of it by the readers of the Progress. We feel positive that they will lose nothing by comparison with any other equal number of men in the county, and confidently predict their election, on the 7th of November, to the offices for which they each aspire:

D. Wall. Browning.

During the past eight years the progress has had frequent general reference to W. A. Browning, the candidate for Clerk, by reason of his officious and general fitness. As Deputy Clerk he has performed the largest share of the duties of the office, and has performed them so well, so cheerfully and promptly, as to make friends of all who have come in contact with him. Among pensioners he is acknowledged to be the most competent record clerk in the State, and is a great relief to the office of the sheriff, in getting hold of one of Wall Browning's transcripts. In the large pension certificate business done in the county clerk's office, Wall has invariably detailed his fees and services, amounting to hundreds of dollars each year, and this has been in the interest of the widow, the orphan, and of the disabled soldier. He is an untiring worker, and like his father (Wm. F. Browning) is first and last whatever and whenever there is anything to do forward to the cause of Republicanism or charity.

Capt. W. M. Alexander,

the candidate for Auditor, is known to every man, woman and child in Monroe county as "Marty." As a Deputy Sheriff, and afterwards as Sheriff of the county, he braved the storms and floods of winter and summer for years, and was always found to be the same genial, accomodating man, and a true representative of the cause he espoused. There is no politics in Marty's cleverness either, for he has always been as ready to favor or assist a Democrat as a Republican—it was only necessary for him to know that a human being was in distress or needed a favor, and the favor was granted if it was in Mart. Alexander's power.

After serving four years as Sheriff, he retired from that office with the full endorsement of his constituents and friends, as well as Republicans, as a most prompt and efficient officer that had ever filled the position. He was a gallant soldier throughout the war of the rebellion. With the assistance of his friends on the 7th of November, he will duplicate in the Auditor's office, the record he has made as Sheriff.

Isaac Claman.

comes from good Republican stock in Richland tp., and although he has been all his life a farmer, he has become somewhat familiar with the routine work of the Treasurer's office while acting in the capacity of collector. Ike has no enemies, that one ever heard of, and will glide into the office with ease.

Haj. Silas Grimes,

the candidate for Sheriff, has held the office since November, 1880. At the time of his election he was a Clear Creek township farmer, and a successful one, owing to hard work and close attention to the details of his business. When he received the Republican nomination for Sheriff in 1880, the Democrats selected their strongest man, and the person selected was a confidant, but they feel that his popularity and extensive acquaintances would pull him through, that many of them bet their clothes and lost.

Provided further, that payment shall be made by the county auditor by his warrant upon the treasurer to the party of the first part upon the certificate of the treasurer, showing the amount of taxes paid into the county treasury under this contract and not otherwise.

Grand Republican
RALLY

A T

BLOOMINGTON, IND.,

ON

SATURDAY,

NOV. 4,

1882,

AT WHICH

GEN. JAMES M.

SHACKLEFORD,

AND COL. GEO. W.

FRIEDLEY,

Gallant Soldiers, Distinguished Statesmen and Orators will speak upon the Great Questions now before the People of Indiana. Republicans in every Township of Monroe county are called upon to turn out in force, and give this day to their country. Everybody, of all parties, is invited, especially the Ladies. Come one, come all. Speaking will commence at 1 p. m.

Music by Band and Glee Club.

—A number of physicians and other influential men of Boston have united in a petition to the school authorities of that city asking them to suppress the use of tobacco among school children. The cheap cigarette is a tempting shape into which to put tobacco for young boys, and its increased use by them betokens great evils to the upcoming generation. The warning in all cities is very necessary, and might, if wisely enforced, be of more service than some of the ushers, and long-winded "branches" in which they are "drilled."

David P. Burton,

the candidate for Commissioner of the 1st district, is a farmer of Bear Creek township, and has been a practicing physician since the close of the war.

As a member of the 433 regiment, he carried a musket in the thick of the fight in one of the battles of '63, and carries a certificate to that effect in the shape of a crippled arm and hand. He is a true, unflinching Republican, an active worker, and will hold an inquest over the defeated Democracy on the evening of November 7th.

M. H. Buskirk,

the candidate for Surveyor, is the present incumbent. Mr. Buskirk is a farmer of Indian Creek township. He is also a school teacher, and filled the position of Surveyor with greater satisfaction than any man who has ever "run the lines." He also carried a musket during the late "ununderstanding," and there is no misunderstanding as to Buskirk's position or that of any recent contest.

John P. Harrell,

of Clear Creek township, the candidate for Commissioner for the 3d district, resides upon a farm near Smithville. Mr. Burton was educated in Bloomington, and is a thorough business man as well as a successful farmer and stock raiser.

—Indiana Journal: The telegraph fraternity of this city lost by death, on Sunday last, one of their number, Thomas M. Hight, young man of most exemplary character. Some two days before his death he had a paroxysm of appendicitis, dissolved and obtained a leave of absence on the plea of sickness. He went to his father's at Bloomington, Ind., and after a short term of typhoid fever as before stated, died Sunday. His former associates in the office of the Western Union sent a committee consisting of E. A. Hawkins, P. H. Foley, Frank Fairell and John A. Curran, to Bloomington Monday night, to attend the funeral and bear floral tributes and suitable articles of condolence. The floral designs were elaborate and peculiarly appropriate to the telegraphic profession. Expressive articles of condolence have been adopted by the telegraphers of this city.

bands of music and torch-light

processions fall short of the work

needed.

All these are very useful in preparing the field for the final work

of the struggle, but of more importance than all combined is that quiet

work which leads to cautious and

thorough canvass—that influences

by private advice the doubtful voter,

and brings to the ballot-box every one who believes in the right, and

all who are entitled to a vote.

On this quiet work we must rely for a victory. On this quiet work we must rely for the conversions that are to be made.

It is the quiet talker, the one who carries his politics into his daily

life and impresses his neighbors

with the honesty of his views on public affairs, who makes converts to the cause he advocates.

Good neighborhood workers are more valuable to any party than average long winded speech makers.

Question.—Who decides whether

you may vote for or against prohibition?

Answer.—The Legislature.

Ques.—Who are candidates for the Legislature in Monroe county.

Ans.—John Graham, Democrat,

and John Holsapple, Republican.

Ques.—Are they for or against the submission of the amendments.

Ans.—They both declare themselves in favor of and pledge themselves to vote for the submitting of the amendments to a vote of the people?

As the Republicans have no candidate for Representative, it was proposed to have a general election

on the 7th of November.
