

FIGHT!

Murder!

The Cheap Day!

Money Saved for All!

Saturday Next

IS DUNN & CO.'S NEW CHEAP DAY!

READ:

On Saturday, Dec. 8th, Dunn & Co. will sell

Coal Oil at 12-12 cts.
per gallon.

12 lbs. "C" Sugar, $1

11 lbs. "A" Sugar, $1

11 lbs. Granulated Sugar for $1.

Low prices on everything that day. Ask for prices when you come. No one can beat us at that little game. We have the goods, they are paid for, and WE WILL sell them.

REPORT

OF THE CONDITION OF THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK, at Bloomington, in the State of Indiana, at close of business, on the 24th day of October, 1883.

Assets:
Overdrafts and Discounts	$217,254.32
U. S. Bonds to secure circulation	8,946.83
Due from approved Reserve Agents	13,343.75
Due from other National Banks	29,355.18
Due from State and Private Banks and Bankers	3,380.81
Real Estate	$2,635.00
Furniture and Fixtures	4,779.00
Current expenses and Taxes paid	1,839.34
Bills of other Banks	12,617.00
Fractional currency (including Nickel and Cents)	429.07
Gold Coin	19,000.00
Silver Coin	957.00
Legal tender Notes	2,500.00
Redemption fund with U. S. Treasurer (not more than 6 per cent on circulation)	5,400.00
Total	$447,497.09
LIABILITIES:
Capital stock paid in	$120,000.00
Surplus Fund	19,000.00
Undivided profits	5,587.91
Circulating Notes received from Customers	$108,000.00
Individual deposits subject to check	135,487.28
Demand certificates of Deposits	58,136.63
Total	$447,497.09

STATE OF INDIANA,
Monroe County, ss.
I, W. E. WOODBURN, Cashier of the above-named Bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true, to the best of my knowledge and belief.

W. E. WOODBURN, Cashier.
Subscribed and sworn to before me, this 10th day of October, 1883.

JOHN H. LOUDEN,
Notary Public.

Correct—Attest: JOHN WATKINS,
Ransom C. DRYDEN,
NAT. U. HILL,
Directors.

Subscribe

At once for some good weekly paper for the benefit of yourself and family, for

The newspaper is a great educator. With-out it your wife and children can never become the equals in intelligence of your neighbors who read

The New Albany

Paper that has been coming to them for years and which keeps them informed of all the current topics of news, as well as discusses all the important questions

Weekly

And gives them the benefit of correct market reports.

Ledger

For the low price of ONE DOLLAR.
Address Ledger Co.,
New Albany, Indiana.

Republican Progress

Printed each Tuesday Morning, by WILLIAM A. GARR, Editor and Publisher.

News Items Solicited.
Pleasant Visit of a Noted Artist.

Mr. H. C. Ford, who for some years was President of the Chicago School of Design, but has lately made his home on the Pacific Coast, has been making a week's visit to our city. During his stay himself and wife have been the guests of Prof. Atwater, as Mrs. Ford and Mrs. Atwater were old school mates. Mr. Ford ranks among the first Landscape Artists of our country. He studied in Paris and Italy. He has of late years made sketches along the coast and in the mountains of California, especially in the Yosemite, and in the vicinity of his home at Santa Barbara. Recently he has made a special study of the old Franciscan missions of California.

The student of our country's history will remember that over one hundred years ago the Franciscan Monks of Mexico made a great and somewhat successful effort to convert the Indians, and established missions all along the coast some 500 miles. There were 21 of these missions. To these they gathered their Indian converts, taught them their faith and reduced them to a semi-civilization. It was by these missionaries that the famous names San Francisco, Sacramento, Santa Barbara, Los Angeles, etc., were given. About 1827, long before California came into our hands, the Mexican Government made a decree against them and the lands belonging to the missions were confiscated and given to favorites.

Since then the buildings have gradually fallen into disrepair. About half of these are still used for religious service under the direction of the Bishop of San Francisco. Mr. Ford has made an oil painting of each of these missions in their present condition. From his sketches, taken upon the ground, he has prepared a perfect set of etchings, and has spent the season in New York superintending the publication of them, together with a history of the missions.

The whole makes a beautiful and expensive folio volume. During his visit at Prof. Atwater's he has kindly consented to give informal art receptions on three different afternoons. Faculty, and students and citizens have largely accepted the general invitation. At these receptions Mr. Ford has placed his paintings upon the easel, and has made the necessary explanation to the spectators. He is now on his way to California by way of Chicago. While here he presented a fine and valuable collection of the Algae (sea-weeds) of the Pacific Coast to the Scientific department of the University. Mr. Ford carries with him the kind wishes of a large company of our citizens to whom his visit has been a great source of pleasure and profit.

—The Chihuahua Enterprise, published in New Mexico, quotes dressed sheep to be worth in Chihuahua 75 cents at the present time, 25 cents for a hind quarter, and 12 cents for the fore quarter. The price of a sheep is worth 75 cents. From the fallow is realized from $1 to $1.50. Each sheep killed is worth $2.50 to $3.00.

—Extensive preparations are being made for the World's Industrial and Cotton Centennial Exposition which is to be opened in New Orleans in December, 1884. The fair is to be held in the City Park of New Orleans, which is very easy of access by both land and water, and the main building will cover about 28 acres. In one sense it is an out growth and will be a sequel to the Atlanta fair of 1881. It is also a need of the times and will satisfy a growing public sentiment. It is to be not only a world's fair in which all nations are expected to take part, but also a special exhibition of the natural resources and industries of North America from Canada to Mexico. Exhibits are also expected from the States of Central and South America. Furthermore, it is to be a celebration of the centenary of the first exportation of cotton from this country. The first cargo consisted of eight sacks containing not over 200 lbs. of cotton apiece, and was sent from Charleston in 1784. The managers will take advantage of all the suggestions furnished by the Atlanta fair to make the cotton exhibition as complete as possible.

—The Maine man who predicted his own death, and then died at the appointed time, apparently for the sake of establishing a reputation for veracity, is an interesting object for life insurance companies to consider. If his foresight should be shared by any considerable number of persons, the life insurance business would become precarious. If, with or without the aid of soothsayers and wise women, a man can fix the time of his death without taking the trouble to kill himself, he could take out a life insurance policy the day before his death and escape years of premiums. Even to persons of less longevity than Methuselah enjoyed, the plan of the Maine man would be a great saving.

—A locomotive ran through a bridge on the Kansas Pacific railway across Kiowa creek, several years ago, sinking into the mud at the bottom, and has never since been heard from, though repeated efforts have been made by digging and boring to recover so valuable a property. The bottom is quicksand, but even quicksands have limits, and it seems very singular that the longest boring rod has failed to find a trace of the sunken engine. By and by the silent, mysterious operation, may drain the quicksand and harden it into rock, and then, long after the Kansas Pacific road has been forgotten and the Kiowa creek has vanished from the map, some future scientist will discover a curious piece of mechanism, undoubtedly the work of human hands, lying under so many hundred feet of sandstone, and will use the fact as a basis for calculating how many millions of years old the human race must be.

Lightning Rod Agents.

Here is the language of a traveling lightning rod man, and comment is unnecessary:

"I have seen the time I could make $50 a day putting up lightning-rods. Drive up to a house and talk with a man about rodding his barn at so much a foot, and he would figure that it would cost say $16, and he would sign an order. Before the ink was dry I would have seven or eight men with ladders all over the barn. They would go over it like cats over a back fence, and put points on every corner and conductors down every side. The farmer and his family would look on in amazement, and be so pleased with the improved looks of the old barn that they wouldn't kick at the number of points. Then we would go off without collecting the bill, and in about a week our collector would come along with a bill for $387.47, and the farmer's note, all signed and demand the pay. The farmer might faint away, but he had to pay it. Oh, of course, if he seemed hurt, we would throw off the odd cents just to show a christian spirit. But the condemned newspapers have been talking about highway robbery under the disguise of lightning-rod peddlers until it is as much as a man's life is worth to go through the country on a lightning-rod wagon. Actually, they chased me out of Dodge county two years ago with dogs. At least I thought they were after me, but I found out when I got out of the county alive that it was a pack of hounds belonging to Van Burnt, of Horicon, after a fox. But I want to say to you in confidence, that when I heard those hounds and saw the men on horseback, no streak of greater lightning ever made better times than I did with that lightning-rod wagon."

—Walnut City, Mo., was laid out last summer, and lots were sold to the amount of $150,000. Merchants flocked to the place, and Mr. Stewart of Sedalia, Mo., erected a block of business houses and a large three-story hotel that cost $20,000. About 800 persons became residents of the place; but there was nothing to sustain it, and they and the merchants starved while awaiting the building of a railroad and the coming of the "boom"; but last week Thomas Michal, who managed the company's business, was unable to pay the few men who were earning money in the town, and then it leaked out that he was $30,000 short. The railroad scheme was immediately abandoned, and people began to move away. The town is dead.

—"Golden Days," the weekly paper for young folks, published by James Elverson, at Philadelphia, Pa., is without any question the best publication of the kind in the country. We say this after an acquaintance of two years with its attractive pages. It is unsurpassed in the character of its elevated and high-toned reading matter, which is not only highly entertaining, but very instructive. No paper affords the young people so much healthy and pure reading matter, and no boy or girl about the world.

—An infant of Wm. Gay, at Washington, has the smallpox, having taken it from a person recently returned from Louisville. Some alarm is felt, and precautions will be taken to prevent its spread.

—Wm. S. Culbertson, supposed to be worth between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000, is the heaviest tax-payer in New Albany. His taxes are nearly $13,000 annually. He has invested in Minnesota a million or more in clear cash.

—There are 2,000,000 widows in Germany, it is said. Some of the husbands are in heaven, but the majority are in this country.

—Divorces from actors on the ground of cruelty are becoming quite common. This shows that actors when some rehearse all kinds of scenes except those in which love-making is concerned.

NOTICE.—The regular meeting of the Bloomington Prohibition Club, is the first Tuesday night of each month. The next meeting will be December 4th, at the court house, at 7 o'clock P.M. As this will occur soon after the general mass meeting on Monday night previous, there will be only a short session to transact business omitted at a former meeting of the Club. A full attendance of the members is desired.

It's Hard to Find

A learned dandy.
A colored suicide.
A truthful epitaph.
A hard-hearted doctor.
An ugly Indian name.
A new name for a newspaper.
A glass of pure apple cider.
A circus clown with any originality.

A woman who does not chew wax for dyspepsia.

A 10-year old girl who is not familiar with the names of all dress fabrics in a dry goods store.

A person employed by the day, who will go to work before time, but who will not quit ten minutes before time if he gets a chance.

—After noting the proposal to erect a new home for the President of the United States, and to surrender the Executive Mansion to public business, a correspondent says: Many people wonder why it costs so much to keep the Executive Mansion in good order. Col. Rockwell says the wear and tear of the furniture exceeds that of any hotel in the country. The people, to the average of 500 a day, insist upon seeing the White House. They must tread upon the carpets and rest themselves in the tempting chairs. They must examine, with their eyes and fingers, all the upholstery and drapery. When it is remembered that this is repeated every day in the year, it will cease to be a matter of wonder why the wear is so rapid.

—The following item from the Martineville Gazette will apply with equal force to Bloomington: "The boys of this city are inviting an unusual share of public attention, from the fact that we have some very bad boys, and because a number of them have committed very obnoxious crimes. The general inquiry is—'What makes our boys so bad?' We think that the case can be summed up in four comprehensive and significant words, street education at night! The worst privilege a boy can have is to be allowed the liberty to roam the streets at night. This is too frequently a fatal privilege, because during the hours of darkness the most mischief is planned and executed. The boys who are permitted to the freedom of the streets, at night, are the boys who make the hard cases, who commit crimes, and who fill our jails and penitentiaries, bringing sorrow to their parents and shame to the community in which they were raised. If there is any way to prevent it, boys should be kept off the streets at night."

A Preacher in Luck.
INDIANAPOLIS, IND., November 20.—Rev. Love H. Jamieson, who is aged seventy-two years, the celebrated preacher in the city, will leave to-morrow for England on a visit to Timothy J. Coup, a millionaire member of the Campbellite church, who is to bear all expenses of the trip. He has also partially promised to take Mr. Jamieson to the Holy Land. Mr. Jamieson's extreme old age and Mr. Coup's noble generosity make the trip somewhat remarkable. Mr. Coup is already noted for his liberal donations to the cause of the Campbellites, annually giving away many thousands of dollars. Last October he met Mr. Jamieson, who had slightly known him, at a Campbellite meeting in Cincinnati, and there made the generous offer and urged its acceptance. Mr. Coup was the first regularly appointed Campbellite preacher in Indianapolis ever had, coming here in 1842. He is white-haired, but still hale and vigorous. He looks forward to seeing the Holy Land in his old age with pleasant anticipations. His family will go to Florida until his return.

—In anger flew her agile jaw, and cuss words darted from her tongue, the girl was fighting mad because her barge would not stay bung.

—"It must have been slippery weather when the prodigal son returned." The Harlem man asked, "Why, in your opinion, was it slippery?" "Because," said the small boy, "the old man fell on his peach boy."

Out of the Ashes.

The Proprietor of the City Book Store

respectfully announces to all his old patrons, and any number of new ones, that he is at work again, in one of the most elegant store rooms in Indiana, and is fully prepared to meet, in his line, the wants of any number, the more the better. He specially desires, at this time, to call attention to an immense stock of

Christmas Goods, now on sale. To attempt to particularize would be useless. He may in part indicate that among his

FAST STOCK

may be found Oil Paintings, Chromos, Panel Pictures, Steel Engravings, in great variety, including large Illustrated Poems, magnificent and attractive, a full line of the smaller Illustrated and Hinged Poems. A choice variety of for Photos, Toilet and Dressing Cases, Gold Pens, and FANCY ARTICLES, in great variety. The above is a faint suggestion of what he has to offer, inspection only will reveal the full truth. These goods, elegant as they are, were bought low, and will be sold in the same way.

GIFT BOOKS

Velvet & Gold Frames

Remember, I Keep NO SHODDY

GOODS, my stock is just as represented. Ladies and others, desiring to make Christmas Presents, will save money and have their tastes gratified by selecting from our stock.

E. F. COLE,
Bloomington, Ind., Dec. 5, 1883.

—Query: What is the name of the Chief Justice and his associates of the United States?

What are the names of President Arthur's cabinet officers?

Who is our present Chinese minister?

1. Morris R. White, Samuel F. Miller, Stephen J. Field, Joseph Bradley, W. B. Woods, Stanley Mathews, John M. Harlan, Horace Gray, Frederick B. Blatchford.
2. Samuel R. T. Frelinghuysen, Secretary of State; Charles J. Folger, Secretary of the Treasury; Robert T. Lincoln, Secretary of War; W. E. Chandler, Secretary of the Navy; Henry M. Teller, Secretary of the Interior; Walter Q. Gresham, Postmaster-General; Benjamin Harris Brewster, Attorney-General.

3. John Russell Young.

—A largely attended and enthusiastic anti-license meeting was held at the court house, last night. The commissioners will hear the application on Thursday. Van Deman has already withdrawn his application, it is stated.

—Near the mouth of the Little Cheyenne River, in Dakota, is a rock with curious indentations. It is twelve feet long by seven or eight feet wide, and rises above the surface of the ground about eighteen inches. Its edges are angular, its surface flat, and it shows little effect of ice action. It appears to be magnesian limestone, and its whiteness makes it a conspicuous object. On the surface are several deep and perfect footprints, as though made by the left moccasin-foot of a woman or boy. It is known to the Indians as a religious rock, and they worship it. None of the present Indians know anything of the origin of the footprints.

If EPH. HUGHES cannot suit you in the matter of hair cutting, shaving, or in the other specialties of the hair-dressing trade, such as shampooing and coloring, you are certainly hard to please. He always keeps first-class workmen, and his towels are clean and his tools the best that can be bought. He runs a cigar stand in connection with the business, keeping the most popular brands of cigars and tobacco.

—At Newcastle, England, lately, an ostler and his master were charged at the instance of the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals with ill-treating a horse by cutting off a portion of its tail. It was stated that the cutting off a portion of a horse's tail to improve its appearance was a custom that prevailed all over England, and was known as docking. Three veterinary surgeons said that it entailed upon the animal great suffering. The Bench said that in consideration of that being the first prosecution in the north of England they would inflict only a small fine, but if another such case came before them the penalty would be a heavy one.

December St. NICHOLAS opens with a charming frontispiece picture by Rosina Emmet, illustrating a timely little poem by Mary Mapes Dodge, entitled "An April Girl." "Lord Alaport of Moonshine Castle" is a bright comedy for children, by E. S. Brooks. The versatile legend of "Mr. Weathercock" is given by "Aunt Fanny" Berrow. Walter Satterlee has drawn four page-illustrations for some methodical stanzas, called "Lament of the Out-land." The illustrated "Northern Myth" stories are continued with the legend of "The Hoard of the Swartwits." Of interest to many readers will be Dean Green's report on the "Historical Poem" with the names of the one hundred prize winners, and a long roll of honor. Mary N. Prescott, Margaret Johnson and Margaret Vandegrift are among those who contribute poems and sketches, and there are drawings by J. Wells Champney, Walter Shirley, Addie Leyward, J. G. Francis and Jessie McDermott.

EXTRA

Family Flour

65c. per SACK.

SALT,

$1.45 per Barrel.

HEAD LIGHT

15c. per Gallon.

Roasted Coffee

Fifteen Cents per Pound. 15c

Best English SODA, 5c.

Little Florence

TOBACCO, CHEAPEST

and BEST. Everybody Likes. Try it.

THE FINEST

FLOUR Made

IS THE CREAM FLOUR.

TRY IT.

ALL FOR SALE AT THE

Bee Hive Grocery.

Notice to Sell Real-Estate.

PROBATE CAUSE No. 115.

In the Circuit Court of Monroe county, Ind.

Nov. Term, 1883.

Milton Hight and Joseph D. Handy, administrators of the estate of John S. Smith Hunter, deceased, vs. John S. Hunter, Florence Whitworth, John C. Hunter, Lannes H. Beauchamp, Te Olive O. Hunter, Florence Whitworth, John C. Hunter, Lannes H. Beauchamp.

You are severally hereby notified that the above named petitioners, as administrators of the estate of John S. Smith Hunter, deceased, have filed in the Circuit Court of Monroe county, Indiana, a petition, making you defendants therein, and praying therein for an order and decree of said Court, authorizing the sale of certain Real Estate belonging to the estate of said decedent, and in said petition described, to make assets for the payment of the debts and liabilities of said estate; and that said petition, so filed and pending, is set for hearing in said Circuit Court, at the court house in Bloomington, Indiana, on the 13th judicial day of the November Term, 1883, of said court, the same being the third day of December, 1883.

Witness the clerk and seal of said court, this 15th day of October, 1883.

D. W. BROWNING,
Clerk Monroe Circuit Court.
Oct. 17-33. Louden & Miers, attys.

PETERSON'S MAGAZINE.

We have now the December number of this well-known favorite of the ladies' monthly. It is a splendid number, with a perfect gallery of steel-engravings, colored fashion-plates, colored patterns for the work-table, tales, poetry, etc. Undoubtedly, "Peterson" is not only the best, but the cheapest magazine of the kind, being but two dollars a year to single subscribers. To clubs it is cheaper still, with great inducements to those getting up clubs. Subscribe to our magazine until you have seen a copy of "Peterson." Specimens are sent gratis, if written for to persons who wish to get up clubs. Address Charles J. Peterson, 300 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

THE BEST READING.

Every family that desires to provide for its young people wholesome and instructive reading matter should send for specimen copies of the YOUTH'S COMPANION, of Boston. It is the brightest and best of papers for the young people. Its columns give more than TWO HUNDRED STORIES yearly by the most noted authors, including J. T. Rowbridge, William Black, Harriet Beecher Stowe, Thomas Hardy, Mrs. Oliphant and many others, besides scientific articles of eminent specialists, tales of adventure by noted travelers, papers of encouragement and advice by men and women of ability and experience, and reminiscences and anecdotes of famous people. With a circulation rapidly approaching 350,000 copies a week, the Youth's Companion can well afford to spread such a feast before its patrons; and spreading such a feast, it is no wonder it has such a tremendous circulation.

PUBLIC NOTICE

MOSE KAHN'S
One-Price, Gas-Lit, Cash Store,
HAS NO CONNECTION WHATEVER
With a so-called "Queen City" Clothing House, in the Corner Room.

I Don't keep Shoddy

And dislike to be classed with Men who do.

NICE OVERCOATS;

Best Made, in goods, cut or trimmings,

SOLD AT HALF PRICE.

MOSE KAHN, One Price Clothier.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

BY virtue of an execution to me directed from the Clerk of the Monroe circuit court, I will expose at public sale to the highest bidder, on Saturday, December 8th, 1883, between the hours of 10 o'clock a.m. and 4 o'clock p.m. of said day, at the door of the court house of Monroe county, Indiana, the rents and profits for a term not exceeding seven years of the following described real estate, situate in the county of Monroe and State of Indiana, to-wit:

Lots No. 164 and 165 one hundred and sixty-four and one hundred and sixty-five, in the Town of Ellettsville, Monroe county, Indiana.

And on failure to realize the full amount of judgment, interest and costs, I will at the same time and place expose at public sale the fee-simple of said real estate, to-wit:

Taken at the property of Charles Moore at the suit of David E. Beem, Thomas A. Feden, Levi Beem and Henry Ritter.

Said sale will be made without any relief whatever from valuation or appraisal laws.

SILAS GRIMES,
nov14-83 Sheriff of Monroe county.
Buckirk & Duncan, attorneys.

Notice of Administration.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the undersigned has been appointed by the Monroe Circuit Court, appointed Administrator with the will annexed, of the estate of James J. Alexander, late of Monroe county, deceased.

Said estate is supposed to be solvent. THOMAS H. BARNHILL, Administrator. Friedman, Pearson & Friedman, Attys.

Notice to Non-Residents.

State of Indiana, Monroe county, ss.: In the Monroe Circuit Court, November Term, 1883. No. 231. Sarah Golden vs. William Golden.

Be it known that on the 8th day of October, 1883, the above named plaintiff, by her attorney, filed in the office of the clerk of the Circuit Court of Monroe county, in the State of Indiana, her complaint against the above named defendant, for a divorce, and on the fourth day of October, 1883, the said plaintiff filed in the Clerk's office the affidavit of a competent person, showing that said defendant, William Golden, is not a resident of the State of Indiana, and said plaintiff having by endorsement on said complaint, required the clerk of the Circuit Court of Monroe county, to cause the said defendant to be summoned to appear in said court, and answer or demur thereto, on the 10th day of December, 1883.

Now therefore, said defendant last above named, is notified that the filing of the said complaint, and the filing of the said affidavit, and the filing of the said summons, will be heard and determined in the absence of said defendant, on the 31st day of November, 1883, said complaint, and the matters and things therein contained, and alleged, will be heard and determined in his absence.

D. W. BROWNING,
Clerk Monroe Circuit Court.
Eli K. Miller, Attorney.

KEEP UP THE STOCK.

State of Indiana, Monroe County. Commissioners' Court, Special Term.

Be it remembered, that on the 24th day of November, 1883, the following order was passed by the Board of County Commissioners of said county:

Whereas, by the recent floods many farms are entirely devastated of all their fencing and all means of protection from animals running at large; It is ordered that from and after this date no stock of any kind shall be permitted to run at large in Monroe county. This order to continue in force until May 1st, 1884.

By order of the Board,
W. M. ALEXANDER,
Auditor Monroe County.

Take Notice.

I have sold my stock of groceries to Ren G. Scott. Thankful to the citizens of Monroe and Monroe county for the liberal patronage given me while in business, I hope the same will be continued with my successors.

Like every other person who has run a credit business, I have some accounts on my books unsettled. All persons indebted to me will greatly oblige by calling and settling, and that immediately, as I want to get my business settled in full by 1st of January, 1884.

I can be found at the old stand, South-east corner of public square.

JAMES M. HUNTER.

Monroe County Library.

The Trustees of the Monroe County Library are now purchasing a new lot of the literary works, history, novels, etc., by the best authors, and of the latest publications, and will have them on their shelves ready for subscribers, in a few days.

They intend to have the Library kept in first-class style, keeping the same open until 8 o'clock p.m., so as to accommodate all who may wish to avail themselves of cheap and good reading.

The Library now contains some 3000 volumes of choice books, among which is the largest and finest collection of encyclopedias in the county. We are receiving monthly volumes of the celebrated Britannica. We especially invite the attention of the ladies, boys and girls, to our rooms, which are open to all.

Terms, in advance.—One year $5; six months, $3; three