SILAS GRIMES,
Sheriff Monroe County, Ind.

Administrator's Sale of Real Estate.

THE UNDERSIGNED Administrator of the estate of John L. Shirley, deceased, will, in order of the Monroe Circuit Court, Terre Haute, Indiana, at Private Sale the few parcels of the undivided two-thirds interest, and subject to the widow's undivided one-third interest therein, the following described real estate in Monroe County, Indiana, to-wit:

The northeast quarter of section thirty-two [32], town eight [8], range two [2] west.
Also, a part of the northeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section thirty-
except twenty acres heretofore sold to Samuel Grable off of the south end of said tract, and lying southwest of the Bloomington road.

Exceping also, a part of said quarter bounded as follows: Beginning at a stone at the northwest corner of the northeast quarter of the northeast quarter of said section thirty-two [32]; thence running south to the road to a stone in the east corner, town eight [8], range two [2] west, except twenty acres heretofore sold to
Bloomington road.

An Illinois man writes that he lost his moral character serving in the army and wants to know whether he is entitled to a pension or not. If not, he wants a law passed covering the case as he says he knows others in the same fix.

—Terre Haute Gazette: Parents are nursing a delusion who affect to believe that their boys are learning rail-waying by climbing around on freight cars in motion in the yards. Possibly a boy might become president of a road that way, or, better still, a conductor, but it is much more likely to end his days as a cripple on some poor farm.

—Fortes Morris is said to be the largest single fortification in the world. It has already cost the Government over $3,000,000. The water battery is considered one of the finest military works in existence.

The Dutch papers mention the discovery of a "certain cure" for gout. A peasant who was confined to his bed by a sharp attack was stung by a bee, and almost immediately he felt better and next day he was well. A short time after another patient thought he would try the same remedy, and, having induced a bee to sting him on the part affected, he also was cured.

Two men were quarreling.
Said the first: "I would fight you instantly, but it might not be a fair fight." Said the second: "Why not?" "Because," returned the first, "If I am stronger it would not be fair for me to fight a weaker man. If you are stronger, it would not be fair for you to fight a weaker man. In any event the fight can't possibly prove which is right." "Then," said the second,
"let us go and get a cup of coffee."

Republican Progress

Printed each Tuesday Morning, by WILLIAM A. GALE, Editor and Publisher.

—A prominent Democratic member of Congress said that the Democracy had "very much more money in the last presidential campaign than most people had any idea of." He admitted that they had "more than any committee of the same party for many years." It was raised by voluntary contributions, and was not wasted in printing documents no one would read, but carefully husbanded.
This in a large degree brought about the tidal-wave Congress that now sits at Washington City. This presidential year will develop the full vote of both parties, and the reactionary wave has already set in.

—Mr. Tilden, in an interview with a Southern journalist, said he would not allow the use of his name in the Chicago Convention, on account of his health. He thinks Hooley would be a good man for nomination, owing to his strength and popularity with the Germans. Randall was favorably mentioned. In his opinion Blaine or Arthur will receive the Republican nomination. He stated he had favored the Electoral Commission, but its action was a great wrong that cannot be righted.

—Alleviating a Cancer by Electro-therapy.

From the Globe-Democrat.

An astonishing change has lately been manifested in the condition of Mrs. Henry Bingham, wife of the Philadelphia Representative in Congress. A year since a cancer developed itself in her mouth, and the most eminent surgeon in Phil-adelphiawas consulted. An operation was performed, but late last fall the cancer reappeared, and after several consultations Dr. Agnew and the other physicians pronounced it incurable, and upon her repeated commands told Mrs. Bingham that she could not live more than three months, at the most. A few weeks ago Mme. de Struve, the wife of the Russian Minister, learned of Mrs. Bingham's condition, and was urged to go and see her.
Mme. de Struve is a most wonderful woman in every way; of strong and decided character, a fine mind, and great nerve and courage. Before her marriage she studied medicine, and, although a member of one of the most distinguished Russian families, a favorite at the court of the late Empress and the possessor of a great fortune, she was determined upon beginning the regular practice of her profession. M. de Struve persuaded her out of this promised career, and she practices her art now on the members of her own family. In theory Mme. de Struve is a homoeopathist, and she uses chiefly the medicines of the great Dr. Mattei, of Bologna, Italy. Dr. Mattei has been especially successful in the treatment of cancers, and Mme. de Struve keeps with her always a full case of his preparations. When Mme. de Struve came to see Mrs. Bingham she began with a course of Dr.
Mattei's medicine. Within these few weeks Mrs. Bingham has improved wonderfully. The opium is wholly discontinued, she eats, she sleeps, the cancer is diminishing in size, and a few days since Mrs.
Bingham was able to ride out.

—A Western woman applied to a doctor for a prescription for her husband's rheumatism. "Get that prepared," said the medical man, "and rub it well into your husband's back." If it does him any good let me know; I've got a touch of rheumatism myself."

—A little boy was asked if he didn't hurt himself. He replied, "I don't hurt myself at all." "But if you don't study hard you will never be a prudet," said his questioner. "Now," returned the boy, "I don't expect to be a Demmyocrat."

PHOTOGRAPHING ON LINEN
St. Louis Spectator.

Mr. Douglass has not failed to profit by the opportunities that have opened up before him, and has followed the injunction to "Put money in thy purse." He has a large and well-furnished residence at Uniontown, a sort of suburb to Washington. Some years ago he was appointed Marshal of the District of Columbia, which office had then a salary attached of $10,000 per annum, and no sooner had he got it than he gave his three sons clerkships. He is now recorder of deeds for the District of Columbia, and gets a salary of $8,000 a year.
None of his children are married, but all live at home.

—The train that makes the run of 912 miles between New York and Chicago in 25½ hours makes only seven stops; but there are so many bridges to cross and villages to pass through that the speed is necessarily relaxed as often as once every ten miles—else the average for the entire run might be much higher than 35.29 miles an hour.
Its greatest speed is on the run between New York and Philadelphia; and here the slowest mile is made in two minutes, and the fastest in fifty-seven seconds. Many a mile is made in sixty seconds.

—Gentry Lowe, a colored man, entered the African Bethel Church in St. Louis, and, kneeling down with the converts, indulged in an outburst of profanity. He said he was anxious to see what effect the prayers of the revivals would have upon him. Thereupon every member of the church began to pray at the top of his lungs. The place was a pandemonium of entreaties and exhortations, but above everything else arose the stentorian blasphemy of the sinner. After two hours the revivals gave it up, and the sinner walked away.
