Can be found at C. P. TOURNER'S Corner Clothing Store. WE DEFY Competition in Prices or Quality of Goods.

C. P. TOURNER.

THE ADVICE given from week to week by the Progress is being heeded, as the crowds of customers that throng Hemp Wilson's Provision Store would indicate. The store is conveniently located in "Progress Block," corner of 6th street and College Avenue, and special efforts are directed toward keeping the choicest coffees, teas, sugars, and other like supplies. The stock of Glassware and Queensware is well selected and is sold at a small profit. The best butter can always be procured at Wilson's, as some of the best butter makers in the county trade with him. Try his "Webster" cigar.

"IT CANNOT be excelled," is the verdict of every one who goes to McGee's fashionable emporium for clothing. Ben McGee has been in Bloomington a life-time and he never out or made a suit or garment for a man who did not praise him again. He is one of the most ardent and painstaking cutters in the State, and understanding all the details, he sees that suits are made up properly. Leave your measure.

DULL though it may be with the average dealer at this season of the year, Charley Mobley does a good business all the year round. He has served a lifetime apprenticeship at the business, and is not a "Spring and Fall" Merchant only. He understands the requirements of all seasons of the year, and so has a generous and satisfactory trade at the season of the year when some men are doing comparatively nothing. If you want to see a well assorted stock of goods, suited to both sexes, and to town and country trade, go to the "Golden Rule."

FROM all the surrounding counties the people flock to Bloomington to examine Tobe Smith's wonderful display of beautiful goods. His store is a sort of museum, in which every article ever heard of is kept. He is a skillful watchmaker, and turns out some splendid work. The famous five cent counter attracts great crowds when the weather is warm enough to spread the goods out doors. No Store in Indiana carries a better stock of fine jewelry, silverware, watches and clocks.

NOW the Ice Cream season has opened and if you want the choicest Ice Cream, made of the richest cream and purest sugar, you should go to Benckart.

NEAREST Ice Cream Parlor in town, at Benckart's. Entrance on the street—neatly furnished, cleanly and convenient. Just the place for young men to take young ladies.

BREAD the great staff of life is all the better for being extra good. That is the kind Benckart, the baker, bakes. Everybody that has eaten this bread will eat it again. It is superb.

FOR SALE—The residence of Rev. W. P. McNary, on North College Avenue, is offered at private sale. Any one desiring to purchase may learn terms upon inquiry at the house.

BUILDERS, farmers and mechanics, will find it greatly to their interest and profit to call at our hardware store before making purchases. We can give them some inside figures on these specialties. MCPHETERS & SHOEMAKER.

C. VAN ZANDT & SON, UNDERTAKERS, Metallic Burial Cases, Cases and Coffins. Hearse and Carriages furnished to order. Orders by telegraph will receive prompt attention. Shop on College Avenue, north end of W. O. Fox's Building, Bloomington, Indiana.

THE BEST MEAT—J. W. Dickson has to inform his friends, and the general public, that he has bought out the "Progress Block" Butcher Shop, in the "Progress Block," where he intends to keep everything usually found in a first-class shop. Give him a call and see for yourself. April 14, 1884.

A FAVORITE HOTEL is the Orchard House, situated opposite the depot. The house is large, conveniently arranged, and the rooms are comfortably furnished. Good beds, a well supplied table, all that any one might desire, are to be found here. Well arranged sample rooms are situated up in the Orchard House, and Commercial travelers will find the Orchard a good house at which to stop. Meals supplied to persons at reasonable figures. Orchard & Son are the proprietors.

ANY man will be pleased with the new collars and styles in neckwear, just brought on by C. P. Tourner. See our new supplies in shirts, collars, and furnishing goods generally.

SINCE More Kahn has re-opened he has had all he can attend to in waiting on trade. No wonder—he is selling goods at less than cost.

NEW FIRM—I have bought out my partner, in the furniture business, and will continue to sell furniture cheap, in my new room, in Allen & Co's new building. Call before you buy as I can and will give you a bargain. C. C. TURNER. May 11, 1884.

—The father of H. J. Feltus, (Mr. Lambert Feltus) died in Belmont Co. O., recently, with cancer of the stomach, in the 79th year of his age. This disease is becoming alarmingly prevalent.

—The millers are of the opinion that the wheat market will open at from 75 to 80 cents per bushel—not higher, at the best, than 85 cents. The crop this year is the largest and best ever grown in Southern Indiana.

—James is a magical name for Presidential aspirants. We have already had five Chief Magistrates bearing the prenomens—James Madison, James Monroe, James K. Polk, James Buchanan and James A. Garfield.

—We certainly cannot afford to lose Miss Margaret McCalla as Sept. of our Public Schools. Her administrations in the past have been successful and satisfactory. All just means should be used to prevent her retirement.—Courier.

—All fair and legitimate means will be used, for she cannot well be spared.

—On Wednesday of last week Seddy Carmichael, Craig Worley and Wade Galloway left Bloomington for Kansas, on a prospecting trip. Mr. Carmichael and Mr. Worley each intend to remove to Kansas if favorable locations and good openings for business can be found.

—Monroe county is coming to the front in the stock business, 390 head of fat steers having recently been sold to J. F. Saddler & Co. of Cincinnati, O., by Armstrong, Carmichael & Woodward. This firm operates in the vicinity of Harrodsburg, this county. The value of the 390 head of cattle was $33,000.

—Samuel Gordon of this county says that he some time ago made a pledge that if Republicans did not place in nomination a candidate for Representative by the 15th of September, he himself would go before the people for their suffrages. As Mr. Gordon says he proposes to pay his own expenses, and make a good natured canvass, it rests with himself whether he will make the race or not.

—The fifth annual report of the Department of Statistics for the year 1883 has been distributed. At the office of the County Auditor will be found one copy for each newspaper of the county. One copy for each county officer. One copy for the County School Superintendent, and one copy for each Township Library. These parties are requested to call and get the copies to which they are entitled.

—It is believed that, without any drawback, the wheat in north Dakota will average more than twenty-five bushels to the acre this year.

—ICE CREAM in your soda, (with genuine fruit syrups) at Benckart's—all for five cents.

FIVE CENTS will pay for a glass of Soda with pure fruit syrups and ice cream, if you want it, at Benckart's.

Better than Lending Money I have three Building Lots, desirably situated, well set with forest trees, apple, pear and chestnut, which will be sold low to a cash customer. Call soon. LON. D. ROGERS, Real Estate Agent.

—Maj. Jas. Mitchell and family left Indianapolis last Thursday for Ocean Grove, to spend the hot weather.

—A little girl in Concord, N. C., swallowed a lightning bug, which caused her death. This is the first death from such a cause on record.

—The return of hot weather brings up the discussion of hydrophobia. Science has yet discovered no cure for this horrible disease, and the only safe plan is to shoot the dogs before they take it.

—Some days ago while Father Fitzpatrick, of Shoals, was attempting to push a cartridge into a breech-loader, the shell exploded, to the serious injury of his face and eyes. There was fear that the sight in one eye was destroyed, but the Father, who is now under treatment at Indianapolis, is confident of future recovery.

—Spencer Journal: Elijah Marshall, of Monroe county, was in town on Saturday last. He brought over several pots of Begonias of his own sprouting. They were as fine specimens as it has ever been our good fortune to see. Mr. M. is devoting considerable of his time and attention to the cultivation of different varieties of flowers and is meeting with good success.

—The following mention of the marriage of Miss Hanneman, a former well-known student of Indiana University, will be read with interest by many persons:

Aberdeen, Dak., June 26.—Miss Mary E. Hanneman, daughter of the late Dr. Wm. Hanneman, of Indianapolis, and Mr. John R. James, of Columbia, Dak., were married to-day at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Wylie, at Watertown, Dak. Miss H. has held the position of postmaster here, until quite recently, for the past year, and has during her residence here gained many warm friends. Mr. James is one of the leading citizens of Brown county, and is at present Clerk of the district court and postmaster of Columbia. Mr. and Mrs. James returned to Columbia this evening, where they will in future reside.

—The glorious bird of America, proud emblem of our Nation's freedom, that (in pictures) sits perched upon the highest peak of the Rocky Mountains, and with its gigantic tail flaps the waters of the Pacific Ocean into foamy waves that toss the sturdy ships to and fro, while with his cruel beak he fishes for clams and young codfish in the bottom recesses of the broad Atlantic, has finished his 4th of July squawk for 1884 (though he did not squawk in Bloomington to any perceptible extent), and now clambers down from the old pine stub upon which the family nest is built to reconnoiter for bugs and grubs for breakfast, or go hungry; while the echoes of his patriotic yells gently die away in the columns of the country newspapers. Hail, all hail! Hoo-pee!

—We fear our reverend friends of the Midland are losing confidence in human nature. At least the following article in last week's issue, on adulteration, would lead one to suspect as much:

"The tricks of trade are abominable and are training up a generation of rascals. Adulteration is the rule, purity the exception. One can hardly believe the ascription of the seller as to the quality of the article in question. Ignorantly or wittingly he falsifies. Material and workmanship are second-rate and the highest price is demanded of the purchaser. Paste diamonds, shoddy cloth, plated wares, clay sugars, painted and puttied machinery, are palmed off on the unwary without scruple by professed disciples of Jesus, on the general principle that every man must look out for himself."

—The report that Dr. David S. Jordan had severed his connection with the Indiana University, and had accepted a position in the British Museum, is wholly untrue. Dr. Jordan has not accepted a position abroad, and he is still a professor in the Indiana University.

—A long freight train had been backed down the road, near the residence of Mr. Wicks, last Saturday morning, and the engineer had gone after more cars, when an aged, and partially paralyzed colored man, named Alexander, came up on the west side, and growing impatient at the train's delay, crouched down and slowly began to make his way between two stone cars, beneath the coupling. Just as he had got fairly under the link the engine backed up, striking the train with considerable force and driving the cars some thirty yards. The old man was knocked down and dragged by the brake bar the entire distance, and when released was dead. The bar crushed his breast in, and one leg and one arm were each broken in several places. The railroad authorities took charge of the body and shipped it to Kentucky, where the old man's relations are buried.

—The following noble letter from Crit. Cox, of New Albany, late candidate for Auditor of State, was received on Saturday:

Mr. Editor, I desire through your columns to extend my best thanks to the delegates and other Republicans of your county, who so earnestly supported me in our late Convention, for nomination for Auditor of State.

I do not take to myself any credit for the splendid support which was given me, but deem I was so honored by the desire of a Republican State Convention to place in that position, one of that class of men of which the Republican Party is so largely composed. The men whose days are spent in arduous toil, with both muscle and brain.

Not that it is necessary for our party to make any special effort to elect to the Laboring Man, that it is his Champion, for every line of history is replete with such evidence. But that they as a class had asked for a representation upon our State Ticket, in a year's time, and the genuine of the complete success of both our National and State Tickets.

That I was not so honored, was caused by the fact that I was not generally known throughout the State as being a representative of the Laboring Class. Had this been fully understood, my nomination would have been assured.

I desire to assure the Republicans that I have no changing, or soft spots by reason of my defeat, and will give to the entire Ticket my most earnest support.

Truly yours, CRITTENDEN A. COX, New Albany, June 24, 1884.

—Died, at the residence of her parents in Benton tp., June 29, 1884, Monroe Co., Ind., of nervous prostration and fever, Maggie R. Adams, daughter of Wm. L. and R. A. Adams, in her 19th year. The deceased had been complaining for several months, but was only confined to her bed two weeks. She was the idol of all the relations, as she was always ready with a kind word, and a smile on her face. She leaves one brother, two brothers, a father and mother, to mourn her loss, and a large concourse of neighbors and friends. She was a member of the Christian Church at Mt. Gilead. "Blessed are they who in the Lord, for they shall sow their labor, and their works do follow them." WM. L. ADAMS.

A card to my friends and neighbors.—I thank them ten thousand times for the kindness they have shown to me and my family, and daughter Maggie, in her last illness, and especially to Mrs. R. L. Stephens who came to my assistance with all the money I needed. Long may she live in this world, to do good to the needy. WM. L. ADAMS.
