

—Ind. News: Mr. Treat, of Carmel, is reported as being that six Irishmen in the town's employ trained with republicans and hurried for Blaine until Cleveland's famous altercation was borne upon the wings of the press, and then they turned for the "Jamestown" and voted for Cleveland.

The people who "flopped" so easily and suddenly were not very warm in the cause. They were willing and anxious to find an excuse to vote against Blaine, the Progress believes.

—Governor Porter has received a communication from the National board of health advising him of the prevalence of Asiatic cholera in epidemic form in Europe, and requesting him to call the attention of the legislature to the necessity of appropriate legislation for providing the means whereby the most thorough sanitary service may be immediately organized to prevent a visitation of the disease to this country. The governor will comply with the request.

—G. B. Lamar, of Georgia, entered a suit against the government for the recovery of $100,000 for cotton taken from his plantation in 1865. This is the entering wedge in the election of Cleveland, and shows the animus of the South toward the North. Other suits will follow.

—Col. Barr of Jasper county, Ga., who shot down and killed the negro man Nichols for simply taking possession of a bale of cotton which was his own justly owned property, deserves the rope richly. Barr acknowledged the right of Nichols to the cotton by asking him for the loan of it to assist in paying for the land on which it was raised. Nichols refused this, and Barr shot and killed him. Now let the State of Georgia prove that she can do justice alike to all her citizens, regardless of color.

—The Supreme Court of Indiana recently rendered a decision in a divorce case in these words:
"You voluntarily chose a drunkard for a husband and you should discharge the duties of a drunkard's wife. His failure to keep a pledge of reformation made before marriage does not justify you in deserting him. Having knowingly married a drunkard, you must make yourself content with the sacred relationship."

—We find the following in the Indiana Farmer. What does the allusion to the University mean:

Farmers should make up their minds as to what legislation they desire, or what laws they wish repealed, and let their representatives in the Legislature that assemble next month, understand their wishes. Do not let our law makers fail of making proper legislation for lack of instruction by the people. They are elected to make laws for the people, and it is for the people to say what laws they want. Among others that have been suggested are an improved Stock Law, forbidding stock of all kinds from running at large, a law forbidding the killing of quails for three years or more, the appointment of a State Entomologist and Ornithologist, etc. Do the people desire to have the State university at Bloomington continued under State control? These will suggest other items for legislation.
Let the people speak promptly and freely.

—The opposition to Englishmen acquiring large tracts of land in this country has taken shape in the introduction of a bill in Congress to drive them off the cattle ranges.
The bill is reported from the House Committee on Public Lands, and the gist of it is that if foreigners want to own big tracts of land in this country, they must renounce their allegiance to the crown and become American subjects. The committee report some interesting statistics in connection with the bill from which it is learned that there are over seven millions of acres owned by Englishmen in Texas, nearly as much in New Mexico and Colorado, and a million acres in Kansas are held by British syndicates.

—Cin. Gazette: There are people who think a few acts of Congress could be passed that would cause a general improvement in business. If Congress could legally adjourn for four years there would be an immediate improvement in trade. What the business of the country most wants is to be let alone.

—The Democrats will have 48 majority on joint ballot in Indiana Legislature. To say the least this is something remarkable and worthy of the most serious consideration by the Indiana Republicans. How that it was possible that the Democrats could carry the Legislature with such a majority, after such an unsavory record of the Legislature of 1883, is difficult to understand.
Obviously there is some cause for this. Republicans, high and low, will have ample time to reflect on er the situation, and if possible change the result in the future.

More Valley Items.

The Valley is located in the southwest corner of Benton tp., and is a point in the county not often heard from in the Progress of late.

Elder Krutinger has just closed a two weeks meeting at Mt. Gilead church, with about ten additions.
Baptism was administered in the stream that passes through the valley.

'Squire Adams administers justice to the wayward boys who can not accompany one girl home on the same night.

Mrs. M. H. Kerr and her blooming four have gone on a two weeks visit to her mother and relations in Franklin, Ind.

Our school has taken a recess of two weeks, in order to give Old Santa Claus a fair chance.

The jingle of the sleigh bells and the merry laughter of the young folks tell us that winter is here in earnest.

Mrs. Sewall had a wood-chopping, a few days ago.

It is no wonder that Cleveland was elected when we think of Old Benton having 16 young Democrats to cast their first votes in November, and but one young Republican.

A great many of us have quit work and are sitting down, waiting for that $8 to come along.

G. A. R. S. J. Alexander Post, Unionville, have elected officers as follows: Post Commander, Wm.
Peterson; S. V., Alex. Robinson; J. V., James Skirven; Adj. and Sec'y, W. L. Adams; Q. M., W.
H. Adams; P. S., B. F. Miller; Chaplain, M. Young; O. of Day, Jacob Richardson; O. of G., George Welch; Sentinel, J. T. Langley.
Wm. L. Adams and J. T. Langley were chosen Delegates to the National Encampment. This Post is in a flourishing condition.

We regard the Progress as "old reliable" out here, and are always anxious to get it each week.

E FLURBUS UNUM.

—The supreme court reached a Monroe county case last week with the following decision:

11947. Peter P. Leninger vs.
Rosanna Weirick. Monroe C. C.
Reversed, Howk, J. An objection to a complaint for the recovery of real estate on the ground that the description is insufficient, may be made by a demurrer thereto for want of facts. (5 Blackf. 143, 54 Ind. 592; 55 Ind. 363; 85 Ind.
457.)

—Salem Press: Eld. A. Gardner drove to town last Thursday morning in his buggy, and hitched his horse to the rack in front of Batt's grocery store without taking it from the shafts. He had business that occupied his time all day, and his animal was allowed to stand out in the weather without food or shelter.
About six o'clock in the evening the horse became restless, and began rearing and pitching around, trying to get loose, and finally broke a short piece off the left shaft.
After doing this it again reared and fell to the left, running the broken shaft into its side several inches and no doubt pierced the animal's heart, as it soon bled to death. Why any man should be so thoughtless as to leave a horse standing latched on such a day as last Thursday, without food or shelter, is past the knowledge of most people, and the person guilty of such an act deserves no sympathy when he pays for his foolishness as did Mr. Gardner. It would have been the proper thing if the grand jury had investigated the matter and seen if there was not some cruelty to animals in the case.

Death of Dr. Cyrus N. Nutt.

[New Albany Ledger.]

Dr. Cyrus Newland Nutt, a prominent and successful physician of this city, and son of the late Cyrus Nutt, a former President of the State University at Bloomington, died Tuesday, Dec. 23d at 7 o'clock a. m., of diabetes, after an illness of this disease for several days.

Deceased was born at Greencas-tle, December 21, 1848, and was 36 years of age. He graduated with the highest honors from the Indiana University, and entered at once upon the study of medicine.
He graduated in medicine from the University of the City of New York, winning a high place in the class.
After his graduation he practiced for some time in the hospitals on Blackwell Island, New York. Concluding his course in these institutions he engaged as surgeon on a merchant vessel at New York and sailed for Europe, where he visited the hospitals of London and other cities gaining a large fund of practical knowledge in his profession.

He volunteered in the Union army in 1863, at the age of 16 years, as a drummer boy, and took part in the battle of Nashville. His career in the army, notwithstanding his youth, was most honorable for bravery and gallant acts.

In 1874, Dr. Nutt took up his residence in New Albany and entered upon the practice of medicine.
He was modest, unpretentious and retiring; but being a thoroughly educated physician he succeeded in building up a large and profitable practice, and in winning the respect of the members of his profession and all with whom he became acquainted. He was eminently worthy of the respect and confidence placed in him.

Dr. Nutt was a member of the Knights of Pythias. He was also a member of Wesley Chapel M. E.
Church. The Knights will escort his remains to the depot of the L.
N. A. & C. at 7 o'clock Wednesday morning, and officiate at the funeral, which takes place at Greencastle Wednesday afternoon.

Deceased leaves a mother, sister and two brothers. But to none of these will deeper grief come on account of his death than to his aged mother, with whom he resided and to whom he was attached with a devotion as beautiful as it was noble and grand. His loss will be felt in the profession he honored, and is deplored by the entire circle of his acquaintances.

Fashionable for Girls in their Teens.

[Harper's Bazar.] Wool is preferred for dresses of all kinds for girls from thirteen to sixteen years of age, but there are also pretty laced waists of ruby or blue velvet, with the square opening and sleeves of lace and embroidery.

Sailor blouse suits of blue flannel, with the skirt in wide kid pleats, are still liked for school dresses, and are made heavy and warm for winter.

Buttoned gaiters for misses are made with the low English heels that are becoming popular along with other wholesome English fashions.

Felt round hats, fishwife pokes pointed high above the forehead and turbans of cloth, velvet or fur are worn by young girls.

A pale blue jersey with a white vest and broad white Hercules braids, may be worn with either a blue or white cashmere skirt.

Tan colored gloves of either dressed or undressed kid, are furnished in misses' sizes and are appropriate with any dress.

Calfskin of light quality is used this winter both for ladies' and for young girls' shoes.

Navy blue serge for girls is trimmed with either black, blue or cardinal-red braid.

—Mel. Loftin, a dry goods merchant of Spencer, has made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors, naming Willis Hickman assignee. Assets and liabilities are not known.

Ellettsville Citizen: Yesterday P. O. Harris arrived at this place after an absence of about a year and a half in Detroit. A month ago he went to New Orleans to take in the Exposition, and reports a very pleasant trip. He is favorably impressed with the Northwest, but has no love for the South. Quite a party of young people called at the residence of P. O. Harris last night and renewed their acquaintance with P. O., and had a pleasant evening.

John Hinds, of New Albany, and Alvin Hinds, of Bloomington, are visiting Mrs. Eakin, their sister.

The son of J. T. Robertson's baby was accidentally pulled out of a few days ago by lifting it by the single arm from the floor.

A Successful Institute.
County Institute closed Friday afternoon, after a successful session of five days. Those who were in attendance feel that the time was not lost.

There were eighty enrolled, of whom forty-one are teaching district schools in this county. The only way for a teacher to succeed is to attend the institutes, and compare his ideas with those of other teachers.

The committee on resolutions submitted the following:

1.—We congratulate our new Superintendent, Mr. W. F. Axtell, on his successful management of the present county institute. We feel sure that the common school interests of the county will be properly guarded under his superintendency, and we pledge to him, in the performance of his duties, our encouragement, co-operation, and support.

2.—Professors Woodburn and Beck having sustained their already well known and enviable reputation as instructors, Prof. Bryan having given a series of lessons that placed him in the very first rank of institute workers, and Mr. Norman having given good instruction in his work, we the teachers of Monroe Co. hereby compliment Mr.
Axtell on the wise selection of so efficient a corps of instructors and also extend to them our hearty thanks for their earnest zeal in our behalf.

The above were unanimously adopted. W. H. SMITH, Sec'y.

For one male dog, $1. For each additional male dog, $2. For each female dog, $2.

Each tax-payer may pay the full amount of his or her taxes on or before the 3d Monday in April, 1885, or may, at their option, pay one-half thereof on or before said 3d Monday in April, and the remaining half on or before the 1st Monday in November following.

In all cases where as much as one-half of the amount of Taxes charged against a tax-payer shall not be paid on or before the 3d Monday in April, 1885, the whole amount shall become due and returned delinquent, with 10 per cent. damages and 6 per cent. interest, and collected as provided by law. If you are liable to pay taxes in more than one township, state the fact to the Treasurer, as a separate receipt is given for each township. Examine your receipts before leaving the office, and see if they include all of your property. No county order will be endorsed or ordered paid when the person in whose name it is drawn owes delinquent tax. Tax-payers will find it greatly to their advantage not to put off tax paying until the last two or three days; and those who have their taxes complicated, such as undivided estates, &c., are especially solicited to call when we are at leisure, as it requires time to make the division and separate receipts.

—Girls were introduced as barbers in a Chicago shop, and business was wonderfully brisk for a few weeks, but then suddenly declined. "Once was enough for a man to be shaved by a female," says the proprietor, "and after the cuts healed, he kept clear of the second ordal."

—The workmen employed at the Boston Navy Yard in tearing apart the old United States war ship Virginia find the wood in a good state of preservation. This is attributed to the fact that her timbers were salted. Large lumps of salt have been taken from her that were put there seventy years ago, when she was constructed.

—A very complete filling for open cracks in floors may be made by thoroughly soaking newspapers in paste made of one pound of flour, three quarters of water and a tablespoonful of alum, thoroughly boiled and mixed. Make the final mixture about as thick as putty, and it will harden like papier mache.
