"It CANNOT be excelled," is the verdict of every one who goes to McGee's fashionable emporium for clothing. Ben McGee has been in Bloomington a life-time and he never out or made a suit of garment for a man who did not patronize him again. He is one of the most artistic and painstaking cutters in the State, and understanding all the details, the suits are made up properly. Leave your measure.

GRANT Memorial Services.

The Grant Memorial Services, in Bloomington, on last Saturday, were of a solemn and impressive character. At the hour designated by the committee (10 a.m.) the court house park was comfortably filled with men, women and children, who had come together to pay the last sad tribute to the memory of a man whose greatness was acknowledged by the people of the civilized world. The order of exercises was announced by the Chairman of the meeting, Mayor J. B. Mulky, and was carried out in the order indicated below:

Music by Colored Band.
Singing by the Choir.
Prayer by Rev. J. A. Lyon.
Music by the Choir.
Reading Scriptures, by Rev. A. B. Philpott.
Music by the Choir.
Report by Committee on Resolutions, W. F. Browning, Chairman.
ORATION: by Rev. J. E. Brant.
Music by Colored Band.
Short addresses by:
Dr. C. D. McLahan, Harrodsburg,
Dr. D. S. Jordan,
John R. East,
Rev. David Graham,
Maj. H. F. Perry, from G. A. R. Post.
Music by the Choir.
Benediction by Prof. E. Ballentine.

To single out the remarks of any of these gentlemen would be manifestly unjust to the others—they were alike appropriate, patriotic and eloquent, and the meeting as a whole left an impression of solemnity and earnestness that was productive of good. Those who were not there to listen or participate, can make their own excuses. All the prominent business houses were appropriately and tastefully draped, and business was entirely suspended from 10 till 12 o'clock. The following are the resolutions read by the Chairman of the Committee, Hon. Wm. F. Browning:

The occasion that brings the citizens of this nation together everywhere to-day, is to pay tribute to the memory of Gen. Ulysses S. Grant, who was born at Mt. Pleasant, Ohio, April 27th, 1822, and who upon the breaking out of the war of the rebellion, promptly offered his services to his country without condition, and was commissioned Colonel, June 15th, 1861, Brigadier General, August 5th, 1861, Major General of the United States, July 4th, 1863, Lieutenant General, March 2d, 1864, and General, July 26th, 1866, which last commission he held until vacated, March 4th, 1869, by reason of his inauguration as President of the United States.

By his masterly comprehension, by the victories and results achieved, by the physical difficulties met and overcome, he was the peerless soldier of the age, and without a superior in any other age.

In military tactics and brilliant achievements and victories he was our Hannibal; in determined deeds of daring, he was our Caesar; and in establishing this our great government upon a firm and enduring basis he was our Moses.

While traveling abroad with only the title of an American citizen to commend him, he became the guest of the world: The people of every rank vied with each other to see who could pay the greatest homage to the Chief citizen of a Christian nation.

Therefore, Resolved, that it is fitting that as citizens we should assemble ourselves everywhere to-day to express our sorrow at the death of this great American Citizen and Military Chieftain whose fame is only bounded by the world, whose fame was known in every city, village and hamlet in the world, even before he made his circuit of the world.

Resolved, That the skeleton form of death enters with familiar footsteps, the loftiest as well as the humblest stations of life, and to-day we have halted on our journey, beside the open grave of the world's hero, while our nation is in tears, and our country in the weeds of mourning. A short retrospect brings before us scenes that endeared him to our hearts as a soldier and a citizen. Brave, chivalrous, confident, triumphant and generous in war, a crowned knight in the full meridian splendor of his vigorous strength and achievements, this arch angel approached him. The state philosophers of antiquity would have taken refuge in self murder, from the frightful and hideous aspect of the King of Terrors, on which he looked face to face, hour by hour, day by day, week by week, and month by month with unbroken composure; without a whisper of sustaining hope he looked long and steadily at his inevitable doom, and yet no wail or murmur ever escaped his lips, no word of grief or disappointment that the end of his earthly pilgrimage was so near. On the field of his glorious achievements undaunted he stood in the red carcase of war; and before this relentless monarch he appeared even more calm and composed, strong and grand, and bore his inevitable and insidious approach with undaunted serenity. He sought the aid of science, for life was sweet to him. Slowly but surely crept death in its most appalling form, wearing its most cruel and ghastly mien, and no lingering circumstance of torture or horror was omitted from the awful ordeal through which he passed.

The pages of human history in all their wide range present no more striking instance than he did of unquenching lofty heroism, and of sublime submission to the providence of the Supreme Ruler of the Universe, in whom his confidence was firm and unshaken, until he passed from this world to the land of the rest.

Resolved, That in the death of Gen. Ulysses S. Grant the Nation has lost its most illustrious son, loyalty and liberty a devoted supporter, and the cause of humanity an ardent and efficient champion.

Resolved, That while we fully appreciate his great ability as a military chieftain, and the glory he brought to our arms by his victories, we remember with pride and pleasure his magnanimity to a fallen foe.

Resolved, That we will strive to emulate his many virtues and always cherish the memory of his noble deeds in the cause of our country, of liberty and human rights.

JOS. G. McPHEETERS, Sec.

ROBERT W. MILES, WILSON ADAMS, JERRE F. PITTMAN, WM. F. BROWNING, MORTON C. HUNTER, HENRY F. PERRY, Committee.

The Temperance Lawn Social in the Court House Park Thursday evening, a union of all the "lawn social" forces—will probably be the last "lawn" event of the season and deserves to be the largest. Everybody can give a little to a good cause by taking ice cream with the temperance ladies on that occasion. Everybody go, and let us wind up the "socials" with a big ice cream barbecue.

The prospects for the Fall term of college are fair. The Preparatory students, in the old college buildings, will be under the University regulations, and will have their work conducted on the college plan. It is understood that they will be admitted to the college literary societies, and will not be subject to other restrictions in recitations and chapel exercises that the University students are accustomed to. We presume that most of the students from town who intend to go to college will attend the Preparatory School. The High School will also furnish instruction in Preparatory work. The experiment of the separate schools will be watched with interest. It is quite probable the High School will not have any pupils outside the corporate limits of the city.

From the following, taken from the T. H. Express, it will be seen that Hummer, the horse thief, has at last been captured: Monday evening a man was arrested in the west end who was endeavoring to sell a horse. He offered to take $80, and then $40. Such a reduction excited suspicion, and an officer was called. This morning he confessed that he stole the horse at Mattoon. He also acknowledges that he stole a horse at Olney, Ill., and says that he stole many others. He offers to turn up a number of horses, if he is promised leniency.

Ed. Hummer, the horse thief confined in jail, is turning out to be a very bad horse thief. He stole a horse from Mr. Herkimer, formerly an I. & St. L. official. A deputy sheriff of Coles county, arrived in the city yesterday and identified the horse. There are supposed to be numerous horses in this vicinity which Hummer stole and sold here. Hummer refused not only to give any information as to his antecedents but defied the officers to ascertain his name, but he finally made a confession by which nine horses stolen by the gentleman will be recovered. Last night at 12 o'clock Messrs. S. B. Brown and Marion Plummer, of Loogootee, Martin county, both victims of Hummer's horse thieving propensities, arrived in town, and to-day will be placed in possession of information which will lead to the discovery of three horses stolen from them about six weeks since.

Oscar Reed has secured a position at Indianapolis, with Brown & Sloan.

Mrs. Avis Milam, of Worthington, Ind., is visiting her parents in this place, Leroy Sanders and wife.

John Burks of this county, aged 80 years, died one day last week from injuries received by the breaking down of a buggy in which he was riding.

Thermometers indicated 80° in the shade on Thursday night last at 9 o'clock.

—Orleans Examiner: Mrs. Hattie Alexander, nee Munson, of Bloomington, Ind., is visiting her sister Mrs. Emmett Harris at this place.

—Sixty poles, 32 feet each in length, are broken off in the artesian well, and on top of these is a piece of stone that fell in. Truly the artesian well men are out of luck.

—The prisoners in the county jail sawed off a bar, one night last week, but before they could put their attempt to escape in execution the scheme was detected, and the sheriff had them placed in the cells. A file and a knife were found, no doubt handed in by friends of the prisoners.

—The U. P. church ladies are going to furnish a dinner for the public on the big showday. They will have ham and chicken, good bread, coffee, iced tea, fresh sauces, and every thing good. People who buy their dinner that day will be foolish if they don't buy at the Rink. It will be about as cheap, and far easier for the town people to take dinner with the ladies as to get up a regular dinner at home. The ladies will appreciate and be thankful for the patronage of the citizens.

—Of the celebration on the 4th of August, Mr. Ford says: "The celebration on the hill the other day, (emancipation in the West Indies) the speaking was opened by Wm. Elliott; second speaker John Miles, short address; a grand address by Mr. Bateman; an address by Eld. Price—a grand address. A quiet attention was given to the base ball. Cannonading arranged according to the speakers' year before. On this day, 4th of August, address by the President, and decision given by the colored ministers as to, to adorn the day of the 4th of August for the celebration, union, emancipation of the colored population to interfere with no other nation or king's day. The 4th of August is a day. A grand address that night by Rev. Price. Vote for temperance law by ballot to purify the whisky traffic by fines of the dealer and drinker. Might be necessary to put down the temperance question. That is the argument of the day, with the general colored population who are in sympathy with the law. This is the only right of light, we need to understand the law of the Republican party. These we can see the future of education."

A private dispatch received from one of the trustees of the Soldiers' Orphan Home and Asylum for feeble-minded Children, stated that the Rev. R. N. Morris, of Noblesville, had been elected superintendent of the Knights town institution. Mr. Morris is a minister of the Christian church, was four years a Union Soldier, and served for two terms as county superintendent of Hamilton county. Eminent gentlemen here express satisfaction at the choice, and say that he is in every way worthy of the position. He was elected by the votes of Messrs. Smith and Harris, Mrs. Pittman favoring Mr. McGee, of Bloomington.—Indianapolis Minute.

—Our people were excited by the report, about 1 1/2 o'clock Monday that James Small had been found dead in the new college campus. Crowds hurried to the spot and the body was found a short distance east of the college buildings in the woods. He was reclining with his back and head against a beech tree and had evidently died without a struggle. The physicians think his death due to heart disease, as he had been in failing health for some time, and had been complaining of trouble with his heart. The body was quite cold when found, and he had evidently been dead an hour or two. Jas. Small was one of our oldest citizens, and had been identified in years gone by with every enterprise that contemplated the up-building of the town and county. He had held the offices of county commissioner and town councilman, and always did his duty conscientiously and fearlessly. The body of Mr. Small was discovered by Thos. Massey and Robert Strong, who from an upper window of the college building noticed his motionless position. The funeral occurred this (Wednesday) morning.

Mr. P. is a son of A. H. Poring of this county, and his offense was "offensive partisanship" in that he stood in the postoffice door and looked at a passing Republican procession last Fall.

—Wm. Alexander, son of "Buck" Alexander, has been working in a saw mill on John Huntington's place, east of town, and a week or two ago he was so unfortunate as to get his right hand against the saw, mangle all the fingers and the first joint of the thumb. The surgeons amputated, or "cut out" the third and fourth fingers and dressed the remainder with the hope that they might be saved, but last week it was found that it would be necessary to operate again, and the hand was amputated so as to include the greater part of the palm and thumb. At last advice the unfortunate man was doing as well as the circumstances and the condition of the weather would permit.

The Progress is always pleased to hear of the success of a Monroe county venture.

—The Milwaukee Daily Sentinel says: "If there is one virtue above all others which, when found in a circus manager should be extolled to the skies, that virtue is candor. That virtue is found in the Sells Bros., who, strange as the statement may appear to those in the habit of reading circus literature, advertise merely what they have, and exhibit exactly what they advertise. Their show now on the big lot, at the usual spot, 10th and Calhoun streets, is a good one—and an unusually good one—and the thousands of people who packed the tents yesterday appear to think so."

Are You Tired of Being Sick.

We want to say a word to the men, women and girls who live in stores, offices and factories. There are hundreds of thousands of you in the country. Very few of you are well. You are shut up too much and exercise too little. In this way you get sick. Your blood is bad, your digestion poor, your head often aches, you don't feel like work. Your liver, stomach and kidneys are out of order. Parker's Tonic has cured hundreds of such cases. It is pure, sure and pleasant.

Oil from Nature's Wells.

The skin on the head is kept soft and flexible by a secretion from the oil glands. When these are clogged the hair dies and falls off. Parker's Hair Balm renews their action, restores the original color of the hair and makes it soft and glossy. It also eradicates dandruff. Not greasy, not a dye, delicious perfume. The lightest for a ladies toilet table. The best of dressings. Preferable to all similar articles because of its superior cleanliness and purity.
