Republican County Ticket.

For Clerk, ENOCH FULLER.
For Auditor, SILAS GIBBS.
For Sheriff, NEWTON E. MATHERS.
For Treasurer, JAMES H. GASTON.
For Recorder, JOHN BRADFORD.
For Surveyor, ANDREW G. DILLMAN.
For Coroner, JOSEPH ROGERS.
For County Judge, W. M. A. KIRBY.
Second District—JOHN P. HARRILL.
Third District—JOHN P. HARRILL.
For Congress—Fifth District, IRA G. CHASE, of Hendricks County.
For District Prosecutor, B. S. LOWE.

—Jas. B. Clark, the Democratic nominee for County Clerk, is doomed to defeat as certain as the 24 day of November rolls around. Unless some unforeseen change takes place in the political situation Enoch Fuller will lead him 176 votes. Scratch it down.

—It does no good to show that the Courier's charges against a Republican candidate are without foundation. That sheet goes right on reiterating the charges all the same. It always has done this. It shuts its eyes and ears to the truth as promulgated each week in the Progress, and sticks to its old rusty lies as if its life depended upon this course; and perhaps it does.

—The Courier holds up its clean hands and rolls its sanctimonious eyes in horror over the alleged discovery in 1889 Mr. Fuller ran behind the Republican candidate for Secretary of State, in Greene county. Everybody that knows anything about election returns knows that Secretary of State usually leads the ticket, and the vote for Secretary of State is always used as a basis for computing representation in conventions, in order that as large a number of delegates as possible may be had. The Democrats are set up for arguments to bring against Fuller.

The Temperance Plank.

Editor Indianapolis News.

I hope you will not misapprehend the spirit of the Republican platform, or the motives of the committee on resolutions. Fully fifty letters were addressed to your correspondent, many from men who are temperance advocates from principle and practice. Hardly any two agreed on the precise form of law they thought would be the most effective in suppressing the evils of dissipation. It was evident that if the platform declared in favor of any one of these, the other forty-nine would have been dissatisfied. We did all we could, through the public journals, to have just the kind of platform we have, with one exception, which is that the Republican party is in favor of electing no man to any branch of the state legislature who is not in favor of such legislation as will suppress the evil of dissipation. The platform declares for a principle wide enough to authorize any legislation that the wisdom of the law-making body deems best when they meet. It would be silly for the party to bicker all the campaign away quarreling about the details of some temperance law, before they know whether or not they can pass any kind of one. Let us not cross the stream till we get to it. Any man who is for temperance reform can vote on this platform. Those who will not do so, are so hard to please that they are in the way of this great demand. J. W. H.

—Prohibitionists vehemently deny that the third party is practically an ally of the Democracy, but they will find it troublesome to explain how circumstances similar to one pointed out in a communication to the New York Post can be beneficial to the cause which they profess to be laboring for. Says the Post's correspondent:

"The resolution in Congress for an inquiry into the sale of alcoholic liquor was passed by the Republican Senate, but was defeated by some twenty votes in the Democratic House. Only one Republican voted with the Democrats against the resolution, and but three or four Democrats voted with the Republicans in its favor. A study of the list afterwards showed that at least fifteen of the votes against the resolution were given by what the doctor calls 'true Democrats,' who held seats occupied by temperance Republicans in the preceding Congress. Every one of these fifteen Republicans had been defeated for reelection because the Prohibitionists in their districts had put up candidates of their own and drawn off votes otherwise Republican."

"This case is a very pointed illustration of the manner in which the third party works into the hands of the Democrats, but it is only one instance among many which are constantly occurring."—Indianapolis Journal.

—Bedford Democrat: Miss Paul Tarkington, of Monroe county, will teach second primary in Springfield school.

—Mrs. Richie and Miss Parks, of Elizabettsville, were visiting Mr. and Mrs. John M. Johnson this week.

CHIPS AND SPLINTERS.

—The Smithville Sunday School has been newly officered. Wm. Leonard is Superintendent; L. M. Duncan is Secretary, and John P. Harrell is Treasurer. The friends of O. S. Foster and wife of Mill Shoals, Ills., are enjoying a visit from them—A quarter of a mile of stone walk is being laid from the school building to the town of Smithville—A nice present in the shape of a pension voucher for $473 was received last week by Mrs. Sarah Vaught of Smithville. N. P. Drake has sold her residence in town—John Humphrey, a former citizen of Clear Creek tp. who removed to Greene county some six months ago died on the 1st inst., and the remains were brought back to Monroe co. for burial—John Warner and family of Indian Creek tp. have removed to Wichita, Kansas.

—Parie Koons mourns the loss of several sheep, killed in his pasture by dogs one night recently—Thos. and Francis Holder of Standford have gone to Illinois—Wm. King of Van Buren tp. is very ill with consumption. His sister, Mrs. J. A. Sparks of Missouri, is at his bedside—The Allen Creek, Polk tp. store has again changed hands. This time Mr. Conners will handle the yard stick—The comfortable sum of $2,400 back pension has been paid to the widow Case of Polk tp.—Mrs. Elizabeth Bowles of Logan county, Ills., has been visiting her mother in Perry tp., Mrs. Elizabeth Rogers.

—Mrs. Susan Russell's sister, Mrs. Alma Johnson, has returned to Iowa, after a pleasant visit among relations in this county—There was an enrollment of 42 at the opening of High School—Dr. Richard Owens' grandson, Melcom, of New Harmony, is among the new students—It would be interesting to see a list of the Faculty as it now stands—it has not been published regularly—Prof. Brown Wylie will go to Philadelphia to remain during the next year—Ten students report from Posey county. Posey county people know a good thing when they see it—College opened with the fullest attendance of students and faculty ever seen here on the first day—Mr. Sidney Hatfield of Booneville, brings his son to I. S. U. Mr. H. is a brother-in-law of Hon. W. B. Seward—Ten absences will be allowed each student without comment this year. Better not take the limit, however—Degan Jones, who at one time owned the west side shoe store, is visiting Monroe county friends. He is now residing in Newton, Kansas.

—Miss Pauline Henderson of Salem, Ind., after a pleasant summer vacation spent with her sister, Mrs. Perring, west of town, returned to her home last week—Treasurer Claman and family have been entertaining Miss Mollie Mayfield of Indianapolis—Mr. Falk of the Bloomington bar, has been in court during the past week, with both arms tied in front in a helpless way—Wm. Harrold and wife have gone to Newton, Kansas, on a visit to Mrs. Harrold's father's family—Miss Belle Axtell and Miss Fannie Bollenbacher will go to Louisville this week on a visit to Mrs. Ella Warden—Dr. Jos. Rogers is visiting his sister, in Kingman, Kansas—Wm. Turner, ar. has been in Bloomington recently, but has returned to Illinois to make arrangements for removing to this place—Dr. W. W. Blair at Princeton, Ind., has been entertaining Mrs. Nancy McQuiston of this place—During Fair week there will be two premiums for bicycle racing; first premium $6, 2d premium $4—Thursday of the county Fair will be especially devoted to children. It is understood that the schools will be dismissed generally. The admission price on that day to children will be but ten cents.

—Miss Emma Kreuger, one of Bloomington's attractive young ladies, has been visiting friends in Stinesville during the past week—The two boys who were arrested on a charge of robbing an Elizabettsville store were arraigned last week in circuit court. One of the lads pleaded guilty, and the other one stood trial. The jury made a verdict of imprisonment in the county jail twelve months—The nuisance case against Patrick Fitzpatrick resulted in a fine of $10 and costs. Fitzpatrick was convicted in Mayor's court and then appealed to circuit court—Sunday seemed like the first day of —Spencer, Republican: Mr. and Mrs. Mart. Alexander and Mrs. Gregory, of Bloomington, were visiting Harrison Heights over Sunday.

—At the old settlers' meeting at Georgetown, Brown county, Peter Rowe proved the lightest old settler in Brown and received the pants, he weighing seventy-four pounds. The prize to the oldest settler having the youngest child was given to Lewis Dupree. He was made a happy father when seventy-five years old, and was "canned." A pair of spectacles was given to Mary Walker for being the oldest woman having the greatest number of grandchildren. The old lady is eighty-one and has ninety-seven grandchildren.

THE PREP. DEPARTMENT.
Preparatory begins the year with an enrollment of seventy-eight. This number is within one of last year's entire enrollment, and is an increase of at least thirty per cent. over the attendance at the corresponding date of 1885.

The following from No. 8 have entered the Preparatory School: Bertie Roseberry, Corrie Doda, Bertha Miers, Fannie Woodward, Addie Perry, Frank Shoemaker, John Kelly, Leta Mathews, Anna Woolley, Emma Robison, Nora Kirby, Helen Shields, Charles Garrison, Elsie Stevenson, Eugene Claman, Bert Young, Ollie Hughes, Anna Demaree, George Walker, Thomas Braxton.

The following have entered Preparatory on their certificates of proficiency from the Common Schools of Monroe county: Corrie Randall, Julia Dinmore, Levi W. Dinmore, Kara W. Borland, Lottie Parling, Lena M. Rogers, L. C. Stevenson and E. T. Stevenson. Five students from other counties also enter on their certificates. Here is an example of the practical working of the excellent system of instruction provided by the State, by which the young people of Indiana may pass from the common school into and through the University by regular promotion.

Uncle Tommy is O. K. Vacation has done him good.

Preparatory students and teachers begin their work enthusiastically, expecting a pleasant and a prosperous year.

Charles A. Helvia, an old Prep. student, is back again. He proposes to graduate this time.

Walter D. Howe and Frank Davis, also old Prep. students, came in for their certificates last week. They are now Freshmen.

Prof. Rawles "takes in the situation" naturally.

Matson's Record Dissected.

Editor Indianapolis Times:

Sir—Mr. Matson depends largely upon the soldier vote, but many of them are thoroughly disgusted with his empty promises. I am an "Administration Democrat," but have ceased to be a Matson adherent, believing a change is essential, for general purposes. To follow, right or wrong, is not true Jeffersonian Democracy. Six years of "indecisive deuteride" is as much as the Fifth District should be asked to contribute. Has Mr. Matson any record? If so, what is it? In conversation a few days since with a gentleman from his home we summed up his work and found three things finished by his statesmanship.

1. Advances of widows' pensions.
2. Obtained for his father-in-law a pension of $50 per month and arrearages amounting to about seven thousand dollars.
3. By private effort, obtained for a partisan friend, for supposed influence from both parties, a pension and arrearages amounting to about ten thousand dollars, whose infirmities are known to be inherited.

My informant assures me that this last act has engendered a great deal of bad blood, and, like that ghost, it will not down. The pensioners of this district feel that the Nation is doing a very great injustice in granting arrearages to a part and withholding from others, who in most cases are more worthy. Mr. Matson gave his pledge to these people that this wrong should be righted. Being in the most favorable position for so doing, why has he not, and relieved much suffering? By a few words and slight exertion he has been of service in expediting claims in isolated claims where political capital was decidedly probable.

Can we do justice to truth and call him the soldiers' friend? Yonder is a lowly hamlet, bearing every indication of poverty and suffering. If we ask why, the answer is given by witnessing the physical infirmities of the father, contracted in the defense of our country. His children are needing food and raiment; but the rent is due and must be paid. His solitary runs about in this way: "Where is Matson and his promise to me; if that arrearage would only come, as it has to many who have not suffered as I do—and shall the balance of life—it would provide a cozy home for my family and relieve us from want." In this connection we may appropriately place together two mottoes: "Honor to whom honor is due," "Justice to whom justice is due."

Reunion of the 50th Indiana

White Hall, Ind., Aug. 28, 1886.

In accordance with a previous call, Co. D, 50th Regt. Ind. Vols., met at the above named place and organized by electing Rev. J. T. Breeden, Chairman, and James Harrell, Sec'y. Rev. W. H. Jackson led in devotional exercises. Roll call by Capt. S. A. Harrah, which reviewed many absent ones from our ranks. We had music by the band, then address by Capt. John D. Alexander, which was very interesting. Music, then dinner, and afternoon exercises. Reading an account of the Battle of Saline River or Jenkins Ferry, April 30th, 1864, by James Harrell, where the Company lost 33 men out of 38 that went into the fight. Speech by Rev. W. H. Jackson, former Chaplain of the Regiment, which was of interest to all soldiers, after which Rev. William Farmer, an old soldier of the 82d made a speech full of patriotism and loyalty. Company made a list of all surviving members and their postoffice addresses where known. The company decided to meet at the same place, Aug. 28th, 1887.

The 50th Ind. Vols.

Bedford, Ind., Sept. 2d, 1886.

At a meeting of a few of the 50th Regt. Ind. Vols. it was resolved to have a reunion of said Regt., either at Bloomington, Bedford, Mitchell or Salem sometime between the 1st and 10th of Sept. 1887. Committee on arrangements: J. B. Simpson and B. H. Folsom of Owen county; A. Woods and A. W. Jones of Lawrence co.; Col. S. T. Wells and Thos. Boyett of Jackson co.; Grant Berry Gilmer of Switzerland co.; Fred. Pro. of Washington co.; James Harrell of Greene co., and Capt. S. A. Harrah of Monroe co. Committee on place of holding the reunion—Capt. S. A. Harrah, Fred. Pro., H. Malott and Col. S. T. Wells. By acclamation Capt. S. A. Harrah was chosen Corresponding Secretary, with power to call a meeting of committees at any time or place. All communications in regard to the reunion will be directed to Capt. S. A. Harrah, White Hall, Ind.

Ammonia in Baking Powders.

(Scientific American.)

Among the recent discoveries in science and chemistry, none is more important than the uses to which common ammonia can be properly put as a leavening agent, and which indicate that this familiar salt is hereafter to perform an active part in the preparation of our daily food.

The carbonate of ammonia is an exceedingly volatile substance. Place a small portion of it upon a knife and hold over a flame, and it will almost immediately be entirely dissolved into gas and pass off into the air. The gas thus formed is a simple composition of nitrogen and hydrogen. No residue is left from the ammonia. This gives it its superiority as a leavening power over soda and cream of tartar used alone, and has induced its use as a supplement to these articles. A small quantity of ammonia in the dough is effective in producing bread that will be lighter, sweeter, and more wholesome than that risen by any other leavening agent. When it is acted upon by the heat of baking the leavening gas that raises the dough is itself up, as it were; the ammonia is entirely diffused, leaving no trace or residue whatever. The light, fluffy, bakery appearance, so desirable in biscuits, etc., and so sought after by professional cooks, is said to be imparted to them only by the use of this agent.

The bakers and baking powder manufacturers producing the finest goods have been quick to avail themselves of this useful discovery, and the handsomest and best bread and cake are now largely risen by the aid of ammonia, combined of course by other leavening material. Ammonia is one of the best known
