IN ADVANCE, $1.50 a Year

The society of the Army of the Cumberland will hold its eighteenth reunion on the 11th and 12th of May, 1887, on which occasion the statue in memory of General James A. Garfield will be unveiled.

It is stated, by the provisions of the new Presidential succession bill, in the event of President Cleveland's death Secretary Bayard would become President.

People who are nominating men for President ought to wait till the weather conducive to pneumonia and rheumatism has passed, for it seems that the fatality among prominent men is alarmingly on the increase.

Germany has an eye on France and wishes to give her another thrashing. France has been increasing her military power until it now surpasses that of Germany, which the latter interprets as a menace sufficient to justify war preparations.

The influx of immigrants at New York during the past two months has been unusually large for the time of the year. Superintendent Jackson of Castle Garden, says this is an indication of better times in this country. The decrease or increase is an unfailing barometer of depression or prosperity.

The prospect for a general European war, and the possibility that the United States may become involved in it, or if not in it then in some other war sooner or later, has turned general attention to our defenseless condition against the powerful navies of the world. To our shame be it said, our sea coast cities are practically at the mercy of even the most insignificant foreign power, as both our navy and our coast defenses are alike useless. It has been eleven years since Congress made an appropriation for harbor defenses. These have been years of peace, but for which a single ship of war might have done more damage in a half dozen well directed shots into the cities of New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Boston or New Orleans, or all of them, than it would have cost us to have constructed the finest navy or coast defense in the world. We cannot depend upon another five years of such exemption.

Senator Cheney of New Hampshire said recently in speaking of 1888: "I am of the opinion that New York and Indiana will be able to name the republican candidates. These two states if they are solid for any candidate will have a great effect in carrying the others with them. The fact that two doubtful states are united upon a candidate will be an assurance to the Republican party that it will not be handicapped by divisions and dissensions within the ranks. I am for the candidate nominated, even if he may not be my especial preference. The Republican party will, in my judgment, win in 1888. The rule of the Democrats has not inspired confidence."

Evil of Indorsing. I affirm, says Judge Waldo Brown, in the Boston Traveler, that the system of indorsing is all wrong, and should be utterly abolished. I believe that it has been the financial ruin of more men than, perhaps, all other causes. I think that our young men especially should study the matter carefully in all its bearings, and adopt some settled policy to govern their conduct, so as to be ready to answer the man who asks them to sign his note. What responsibility does one assume when he indorses a note? Simply this: He is held for the payment of the amount in full, principal and interest, if the maker of the note, through misfortune, mismanagement, or realty, fails to pay it. Notice, the indorser assumes all this responsibility, with no voice in the management of the business and no share in the profits of the transaction, if it prove profitable; but with a certainty of loss, if for any of the reasons stated the principal fails to pay the note.

A good many individuals are likely to discover that the old fashioned bait box, which has been in use so long and answered every purpose, is really in no need of "fixing." There is a conservative prejudice against attempts that have been made in this direction, and so strong is the feeling in New Jersey that a reward of $1,000 has been offered by the Republican State Committee for the arrest of men who have been engaged in the business. ## CLEAR CREEK.

Your correspondent has been depressed in spirits thinking that we were drifting into heathenism or devilism or some other "ism," but since reading an article over the signature of "Big Injin," inquiring about the affairs of civilized people, I feel like thanking God and taking courage. I do not know to what tribe he belongs, whether he is a Cherokee, Osage, or one of those other fellows that Gen. Miles captured. In answer to his inquiry in regard to the C. C. correspondent I will say that he is neither staid nor stollen, but perhaps was carried away in the political whirlpool of which he spoke. From the best information that can be had he came to the surface at saint's rest, and is now engaged in feeding the hungry and ministering to the wants of the weary, with the full assurance of promised reward.

Edgar has arrived from his short trip up salt river, and returned to his farm after gathering his fine crop of corn; he has begun cutting timber for the chair factory, and says from henceforth he will stay out of the treacherous political puddle and "try to live a christian, by Ned."

As to the turkey match of which he spoke I know of but one—that which Mayfield & Perring have every day. They murder them by the thousands, not with rifles, but with a sharp knife, having already slaughtered and dished enough to Chicago to set all the inhabitants of that great city gobbling.

I am sorry to say that all the thieves are not dead nor in the penitentiary, as one or more broke into Miles Mitchell's apple-house not long since and sampled a lot of his apples.

Step Dillman and Charley Bodkin left old Monroe last week for Nebraska, to look for that new brass key that will unlock the door to the treasures that are hid in that virgin soil.

Cattle are very low. One of our stock men said a few days since that he would be ashamed to offer a farmer the present prices. When a stockman is ashamed that other fellow will blush a little.

Hogs are fair and active, but the supply limited; there will be as great an outcry for bacon next season in this country as there was in a certain land the year after the devil entered into the swine and they all ran into the sea and were drowned.

The switch to the marble quarry, on the Crawford farm, is about completed, and as soon as the weather will permit the work of getting out the finest stone that ever saw the light of day will be begun and carried forward with all the energy that labor and capital can perform, as to meet the demand of the market, for we have the material in these parts to supply the demands of the world.

It is said that Lorenzo Dow once raised the devil by applying a lighted match to a cask of cotton, and Lorenzo No. 2, proposes to do the same by returning those fellows to the grand jury who are so handy with their rifles and shot-guns on the Sabbath day, unless they repent of and forsake their sins; in that event there will be nothing said about it.

LORENZO DOW, No. 2.
—George Straw, a farmer living near the Wood Patch, over in Brown county, not long since thoughtlessly signed a lightning rod contract for $6.00, and a few days later on an innocent purchaser called and presented a note for $26.00, signed by Mr. Straw, in his own hand, which he paid by compromising at $16.00.

Chicago is going to eclipse all her rivals in opera houses. Recently about twenty-five leading citizens, Marshall Field presiding, subscribed about one million and a half dollars to build an opera house greatly exceeding the usual size. The idea is to provide an auditorium more suitable for National gathering than the often used Exposition building.

St. Nicholas is one of those publications that is always a source of pleasant speculation to the young folks, as its excellent features each number suggest some thing still better. It is so that anticipation is active and the pleasure in its pages correspondingly heightened. It is a handsome magazine, and while the articles are full of interest, its general appearance pleases the eye. Many happy households have been made by the monthly visits of St. Nicholas. Send to the Century Publishing Co., New York, for prices.

"THE CENTURY" has rapidly crowded to the front as a first class literary Magazine, until under its present management its success has become phenomenal and is the one thing commented upon by magazine readers. The war articles that have had so great a run in the Century have added interest to its former excellence, and in fact under the leadership and impetus given to it by Gen. Grant's articles its circulation was doubled in a few months. The publishers have in no wise relaxed their efforts in this regard and it is quite probable that war articles by prominent generals will be one of the leading features of the Century throughout the year 1887. It is sold by all news-dealers.
—Arthur's Home Magazine is one of the handsomest as well as the best edited magazine of its character in the country. Its columns are crowded with reading matter of a pure, clean character, and it is a welcome visitor to every household in the land. It has earned its reputation by its excellence, not by advertising, and its reputation will be maintained and extended. Send $3 to P. S. Arthur, Philadelphia, Penn.

WIDE AWAKE is one of those publications that is a constant source of delight to the juvenile portion of the community and a real mine of interest to the elders of the family. It is one of the standard publications of its kind in the country and is endorsed by all who have had the good fortune to see it. Not only are the sketches carefully prepared but the illustrations are among the best that appear in any magazine that is published. It would be well to write to the publisher, D. Lothrop, Boston, Mass.

GOLDEN DAYS is one of those publications that needs but an examination to recommend it to the public at large. It is handsomely printed on heavy paper, its illustrations are the best that money will procure, while the stories are written by authors of established reputation. Golden Days is one of those magazines that causes the reader to be impatient for the next issue, because each number is a promise of something still better to come. Every boy and girl who is a patron of "Golden Days" has the family information at hand that is not easily procured, as to travels and travelers in foreign lands. Jas. Elverson, Philadelphia, Penn. is the publisher.

Castle Hall Franklin Lodge No. 22 K. of P.

To the Chancellor, Commander, Officers and Brothers of Franklin Lodge No. 22 Knights of Pythias.

Your Committee appointed to pass resolutions in respect to the death of Bro. Knight Austin S. Slocum who died very suddenly on December 12th 1886, would beg leave to submit the following preamble and resolutions.

Whereas, It has pleased in All Wise Providence in his wisdom to enter again our ranks and take from our fold our beloved Bro. Knight Austin S. Slocum, thereby again reminding us of the uncertainty of human life, the certainty of death, the mutability of all earthly things and the vanity of human pretension.

Resolved, That we deeply deplore the will of our Heavenly Father but are willing to submit to his pleasure, and fervently promise that though our Brother has gone from our sight we will ever cherish his memory green in our hearts till the Archangel shall proclaim that time shall be no more.

Resolved, That our heartfelt sympathies are hereby extended to the bereaved widow and friends of our deceased Brother, and that we wear the usual badge of mourning the time allotted, and that the hall be appropriately draped, that the city papers be requested to publish the same.

In addition to the above there is charged to each person owning, keeping, or harboring within the County—One Male Dog $1 00; One Female Dog, $2 00. Each additional Dog, $2 00.

The Taxes as above stated can be paid at the office of the County Treasurer, in the City of Bloomington, until the Third Monday in April, 1886, without penalty.

Taxes become due on the first of January, and the tax payer may pay the full amount of such taxes on or before the Third Monday in April, or may, at his option, pay one-half thereof on or before the said Third Monday of April, and the remaining half on or before the first Monday in November, in the manner prescribed by law. All Road Taxes to be added to the first installment.

When first installment is not paid prior to third Monday in April, the Taxes for the whole year become delinquent.

The Treasurer will not be responsible for the penalty and charges on Delinquent taxes resulting from any omission of the person paying to state definitely on what property, in whose name, and in what Township or Corporation it was assessed. Please examine your receipts before leaving the office and see that they include all your property, if you have lands in different townships, or if your personal is in another township from your real estate, please mention the fact. From the great number of taxpayers in the county, the Treasurer cannot know what each man wishes to pay, and he is obliged to pay your taxes promptly; by so doing you will save penalty, interests and costs, and me a very unpleasant duty. Also see that change is correctly made.

Persons owing delinquent taxes should pay them at once. The late law is of such a character that there is no option left the Treasurer but to enforce the collection of delinquent taxes, however much he may regret to collect the same, by sale of property.

The owner of property on the first day of April in any year, shall be liable for the taxes of that year. The purchaser of property on the first day of April shall be considered as the owner on that day.—Sec. 103.

The Treasurer has no option in rebating the Penalty on Taxes allowed to be delinquent. Tax-payers are particularly notified that all the Road Tax is due and payable with the First Installment. No credit will be allowed on Road Tax unless the Receipt is presented. Road Receipts will be received in payment of Second Installment of Taxes. No County Orders will be endorsed for persons owing Delinquent Taxes.

The ANNUAL SALE of Delinquent Lands and Lots will take place on the Second Monday in February, 1887.

PARTICULAR ATTENTION.

Tax Payers should examine their receipts before leaving the Treasurer's Office, and see that they are correct. Those who have lands or other property in more than one Township, must see that they have a receipt for all.

ISAAC CLAMAN, Treasurer Monroe Co.

BLOOMINGTON, IND., JAN. 5, 1887.

I would inform the property holders of Bloomington and vicinity, that I am prepared to give you good, solid indemnity in the way of fire insurance on your property, at greatly reduced rates.

I have secured that sterling home fire insurance company, the "Indiana," with its splendid record of losses paid, and seven thousand-dollar capital, that has complied with the laws of the State, by filing statements of their standing with the Auditor of State.

Each Company is required to have not less than $200,000 of available assets before they are admitted into the State, according to law.

Below is a partial list of my patrons which are numbered among our most enterprising citizens:

Trustees of our High School.
Collins & Karsell, Miller Mills.
Showers Bros., Bedstead Factory.
Samuel C. Dadds & Co., Chair Factory.
Wm. Gourley & Co., Flouring Mills.
Bollenbacher (Sons), Spice Factory.
John C. Dolan, Stone Factory.

Dr. James D. Maxwell, Drilling, &c.
Hiram Lindley, Drilling.
James H. Clark, Merchandise.

And last but not least—Ex-Gov. A. G. Porter of Ind.

If you need insurance I can save you from 15 to 25 per cent. by insuring in my Company.

These hard times such a saving is worth reckoning in our expense account. "A penny saved is as good as a penny made." Try it. Call and see me. Offices up stairs in the W. O. Fee building, Bloomington, Ind.
