In prices Charley is always at the inside limit, for two reasons: 1st, he buys closely and carefully; 2nd, he employs a high priced clerk. The question is often asked, how did the strip known as "No-Man's-Land" come to exist? The explanation given is, that after the Mexican war congress fixed the northern boundary of Texas on a line on the 36th degree and 30 seconds of latitude, and when the Kansas-Nebraska act passed, the southern boundary of Kansas was fixed on the 37th degree of latitude. This leaves between the two lines a strip of half a degree or about thirty-five miles wide and 210 miles long, and this is No-Man's-Land.

The Supreme Court has decided a very important case under what is known as the "Retaliatory Insurance Law" of 1877. Under the law no company could operate in this State except upon the conditions prescribed by the State in which it was chartered. Six years ago the insurance company of North America, incorporated in Pennsylvania, began business here, and it was sought to collect a tax of $500 per annum, that being the license fee in Pennsylvania. The company resisted the tax, and the lower court held that the Legislature could not constitutionally pass a retaliatory law. The Supreme court to-day reverses the decision, declaring the law constitutional.
