—W. T. Blair, the Republican candidate for County Auditor, is as certain to be elected as the day is sure to roll around. Blair combines all the elements of success—he is young, active, shrewd and untiring—one of the best canvassers that has been developed. He is without bias and accommodating to all, without regard to politics or social standing. Himself a good business man, the business of his office will be conducted in a satisfactory manner. He is gaining ground every day, and will surprise his most ardent friends by his "running" ability.

—Some one defines a magwump as an animal that has crawled out of its hole and cannot get back again.

—Blair, "Blair," "W. T. Blair," would make a good march step. He is going into the Auditor's office with just such a steady step. Better fall in while you may, and thus be on the winning side. "Hurrah for Blair!"

—Work has been begun on the Evansville and Richmond road at Bedford, and it is probable that a road will be built from Seymour to Bedford. The development of the stone is the immediate cause.

—If there is a better, cleverer man in Monroe county to-day than Tom Farr we just now fail to recall his name. Tom Farr is the embodiment of all that goes to make up the sum total of that which is desirable in a friend, neighbor or county officer. Farr will get the keys of the Sheriff's office on Monday or about the 15th of November. You have only to know Tom to respect him, for he is such a cordial, kindhearted man that it is utterly impossible to vote against him if you are acquainted with him. Every day word is received of his strength in different portions of the county—word too that is reliable and positive. Tom is running for the office of Sheriff and wants to be elected—can't you help him?

—One of the most significant features of the campaign is the general enthusiasm among the ladies for the Republican ticket. Women have always been on the right side of all questions, and their moral aid in this campaign is most encouraging to Republicans. The Democratic trade policy is a threat to supercede the American home by the European peasant's bowl. The home is woman's empire, and no wonder that she is doing all in her power to repel invasion.

—A Salt Creek tp. man was telling in this office last Saturday that it seemed to him "that the Gilmore Brothers had been pretty well provided for." "How's that?" asked the Progress. "Why," said the Salt Creek, "there was Bob had the Recorder's office four years, John is County Commissioner, Jim is Superintendent of county bridges, and Sam has the nomination for Sheriff. There isn't any more of 'em to tack an office onto or there's no telling where this matter would end." Sam is a clever fellow, belongs to our church, and if he were a Republican we'd take pleasure in voting for him; but he is not. The Democrats need not value the nomination they gave him so high—there's nothing in it—Tom Farr has Sam shut out already in the race.

—Tom Farr, of Washington tp., an old soldier, is the Republican candidate for Sheriff. He was a gallant soldier, he has been a most desirable citizen since the war, and he will prove a satisfactory officer. Tom has many soldier friends who will remember him in a quiet way on election day. The candidate against him was not a soldier—don't remember his name, just now.

—Mrs. O. B. Clark was awarded the prize of a fine gold headed umbrella for the best chocolate cake at the Horticultural Fair. The prize was offered by "The Corner." This establishment has a loud card in to-day's Progress.

—Maj. Ward of Dakota will address Republicans and others at the court house Wednesday night. He is said to be a speaker who surprises his audiences by his oratory.

—The Progress has no patience with or sympathy for a "tough," and believes that the fellows who throw stones at the procession last Saturday night should be promptly arrested and punished.

SPECIAL.—On Friday of each week the Banner will have a Special Price on some article. Come and see what it is. Each week will be a different article.

BREEDEN & CO.
—Our business men now have an opportunity to join an organization that will assist them in collecting their slow debts. Mr. Bollock, of the American Collecting and Reporting Agency, has come to town to organize the business men, after six weeks stay in Bedford and surrounding villages. He made a success of it there, and will everywhere it is understood. The plan recommends itself at a glance, and the Progress proposes to worry some of the dead beats who have been standing off this institution some years.

—Colombus Browning arrived in Bloomington on Saturday last from Dalton, Ga., with his bride. "Lam" has scores of friends who are delighted to see him. He looks younger and in better health than when he left here.

—Dr. Gaston, the present incumbent of the Treasurer's office, is one of the gallant men who went to the front at the call of his country, and was literally shot to pieces on the field of battle. He has no superior as an officer and gives the fullest satisfaction to all. He will be re-elected Treasurer by a satisfactory majority on the 6th of November, and his numerous friends without regard to party, will take pleasure in assisting him. Remember to see that your ticket has "Gaston for Treasurer" on it.

—Prof. B. A. Bullock and wife of Indianapolis have taken rooms at Mrs. E. P. Adams'. Mr. Bullock is special agent of the American Collecting and Reporting Association, a business similar in some respects to Bradstreet or R. G. Dunn. They publish reports quarterly and make a specialty of collecting old and outlaid claims. Mr. B. will remain in this county several weeks to organize all the towns. Our business men should make a note of this.

How to FIND HARRISON'S HOUSE.—"Can you direct me to General Harrison's residence?" asked the writer, of a young colored man that he met on North Delaware street, Indianapolis, last Thursday morning. "Yes, sah," was the reply. "You just go north on this byar street till you find a house that aint got no picture of the General in the window; dat's de place." It was very nearly the truth. Almost every house on that beautiful thoroughfare is adorned with pictures of the now famous resident of Indianapolis, while flags and streamers floating in the air everywhere marked the Republican sentiment in that part of the city.—Ohio State Journal.

A LIE TAILED A DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN FABRICATION DESTROYED.

It has been reported that in 1876 General Harrison, in a speech in Durley Hall, at Bloomington, Ill., stated that "the Irish were only fit to shovel dirt, grade railroads, and fill out penitentiaries." Of course the statement was a lie. No person who has the slightest acquaintance with General Harrison, or who has ever been in his company five minutes, could be made to believe that he ever expressed or harbored such a sentiment as the foregoing. But so industriously was it circulated, it was thought best to come to it and have it properly labeled "A LIE." It was a difficult work. Lies will run, like dogs, double, turn, twist and change names and complexion so often that it is hard to run them down.

But this one was finally cornered, and one William Coudon found to be its father. Now comes the denial in the shape of thirty-five affidavits, made by thirty-five well known citizens of Bloomington, who state under oath that they were present and heard the whole of General Harrison's speech in Durley Hall, and that he used no such language as that attributed to him by Coudon, nor anything resembling it, nor said anything unkind or disrespectful concerning the Irish. The signers embrace an ex-governor, a bank president, several well known professional men, an ex-sheriff, an ex-prosecutor, an ex-justice, an ex-courier, an ex-mayor, several Irishmen, prominent business men, lawyers, etc.

The following is the affidavit of ex-Governor Hamilton:
STATE OF ILLINOIS, COOK COUNTY, ss.
John M. Hamilton, being duly sworn, deposes and says that he is now a resident of Cook County, Illinois, and was until February 1884, for many years a resident of Bloomington, Illinois; that in the year 1876 he was a practicing lawyer in Bloomington, and was a candidate on the Republican ticket for state senator from that district. Affiant further says that he has read the published affidavits of one William Coudon, and others of Bloomington, in which it is charged that a few days before the November election, in the year 1876, at a Republican meeting in Durley Hall, in said city of Bloomington, in a speech then and there delivered by Hon. Benjamin Harrison, now Republican candidate for president of the United States, he (Harrison) being interrupted by a question from an old gentleman with an Irish accent, replied, "It is easy to know that man's race; you all know what they are, and if it were not for them we need not feed our penitentiaries, who are a waste of food; they are only fit to shovel dirt and grade railroads, for which they receive more than they are worth, as they are no acquisition to the American people."

Affiant further says that he was present at the said Republican meeting and heard the speech of Hon. Benjamin Harrison all through. That, having been a candidate for senator, he was especially interested in the meeting and the speech, and occupied such a seat as to see and hear everything that was done or said during the meeting and the speech of Mr. Harrison, and now has a clear recollection of all the words said, and of what occurred at said meeting. And affiant says that no such language, or sentiments, nor any unkind words or sentences, were uttered by said Harrison, or by any other person, at any time during that meeting, nor in his speech, by Hon. Benjamin Harrison. Affiant further says that to such scene or company as that described by said William Coudon took place at said meeting between Hon. Benjamin Harrison, and "an old gentleman with an Irish accent," nor any other person.

Affiant does well remember that it was a rainy, stormy day, and on that account the meeting was held in the afternoon at Durley Hall. That the hall was quite crowded, and that he (affiant) was seated near him. As this was done some one shouted that it was evident he was a Democrat, from his drunken condition. Then order was restored at the meeting, and further says of his own personal knowledge and recollection that at said meeting, in his speech, said Benjamin Harrison said that the Irish were a waste of food, and that no such words could have been uttered by him in his speech without affiant hearing them, and that if any such words or sentiments were uttered, he would have attracted the attention of the affiant, who was then and there personally engaged in the campaign of the Republican office.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 10th day of September, 1888.
G. Notary Public.

AN IMPORTANT CHANGE.

A Well-Known Indiana Democratic Editor Declares for Harrison.

Howard Briggs, Democratic Member of the State House, has become a Republican.
Mr. Howard Briggs, of Greencastle, Putnam county, is well-known throughout this county and state. For years he has been one of the brightest editors among the Democrats of this state, and for several years has been a Democratic trustee of the state blind asylum. But the position of the Democratic party upon the tariff, its treatment of our benevolent institutions, and its indifference to make needed reforms in the management of those institutions, have compelled him to renounce his party favor, and to become a Republican.

That he finds it impossible to follow his party this year is due to the fact that he has had his acquaintance and confidence. As a trustee of the blind asylum Mr. Briggs has been a faithful and strenuous servant of the public, and, together with Superintendent C. H. Smith, has stood as a breakwater against the tide of corruption that has overflowed others of our public institutions under the rule of the Harrison-Bloomington gang. Mr. Briggs' accession to the Republican ranks this year is simply a necessity of his uncompromising integrity as a man and a partisan.

Speaking of his connection as a Democratic member of the board of trustees of the Indiana blind asylum, Mr. Briggs said: "But it is of the same date and outrages that are the cause of my change. I will use the pen, the reformatory and charitable institutions of Indiana, in which the care of the unfortunate is proscribed to a purely partisan ends, that I desire to speak. I will not be silent, nor is it necessary, to prove the truth or falsity of this or that charge—it is enough for me to know that the abuses are inseparable from the system, and that like causes produce like effects. I have been a member of several years as trustee of the Indiana institution for the blind has served to confirm my conviction that my Republican friends should be the ones to serve the unfortunate and benevolent institutions of the state. The Republican party pledged to the enactment of a law for the service of the unfortunate and benevolent institutions of the state. All who are true to the pledge will give us a better government than we have now.

"Their candidate for governor from Putnam county is a man of earnest friendship for the unfortunate and benevolent institutions of the state. I am not a partisan, but I am a Republican, and I am a Republican because I believe in the principles of the Republican party. I am a Republican because I believe in the principles of the Republican party. I am a Republican because I believe in the principles of the Republican party.

FAILURE OF THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY.
Mr. Briggs was particularly earnest in his treatment of the unfortunate and benevolent institutions of the state. He was particularly earnest in his treatment of the unfortunate and benevolent institutions of the state. He was particularly earnest in his treatment of the unfortunate and benevolent institutions of the state.

There is a more serious matter than that in this case. I am not a partisan, but I am a Republican, and I am a Republican because I believe in the principles of the Republican party. I am a Republican because I believe in the principles of the Republican party. I am a Republican because I believe in the principles of the Republican party.
