

of Pythias.
Coming from the Jackson Times-Union explains

the Boston have lucky fortune in the buildings. The Masonry at the corner of Temple and Tremont street. From the Masons were obliged to remove, because it is said, the building had become unsafe. They would have been obliged to seek more commodious quarters before very long any way, because their order had quite outgrown the old building. They soon secured a larger temple, but it soon burned down and the order lost heavily.
The sturdy Boston brethren were by no means disheartened, however, but seemed only to gain new enthusiasm because of adversity.
They constructed a new temple, and one which is hardly excelled by any Masonic temple in the world. It stands on the corner of Tremont and Boylston streets, the very corner referred to by the late Tom Appleton when he said he wished somebody would tie up a sheep lamb there through the winter, so that the good Lord might temper the wind. It is in truth one of the coldest corners on the continent, but when a brother has once entered the building, perhaps the warmth and cheer are all the more grateful by contrast.

The entrance to the temple is massive and impressive. It is a seven story building, the ground floor being occupied by business offices and a bank. The main stairway is a magnificent piece of work, and there stands at the head of it a statue of Gen. Joseph Warren, who, it is claimed, was the first grand master of the first grand lodge in the United States.

There are in the building three large halls, one above the other, and located at the left of the grand staircase. The first of these halls is in the Corinthian style, and was formerly known as Corinthian hall.
It is now called Sutton hall, in honor of Gen. Wm. Sutton, past grand master of the grand lodge, whose interest in the execution of the temple was liberally manifested in many ways. This hall has been spoken of as the most magnificent Masonic meeting place in the world.

It is possible that there will be "fun" at the opening of the Legislature. The Democrats of the Senate declare that they will not recognize Col. Robertson as President of the Senate, while that gentlemen says: "I do not know what will be done, but I shall do my duty. That is, to go, as the legally elected Lieutenant Governor of Indiana, and open the session of the Legislature on January 10. I shall, as before, take whatever action the Republican party thinks necessary. The Senate at its last adjournment did not elect a President pro tem, to succeed Green Smith and consequently their own false claim falls to the ground."

A very peculiar legal case has just been decided in the Knox-Circuit Court by Judge Franklin, judge pro tem. He divided the money at issue between the claimants. This singular case was to the heirship of $3,000 insurance policy, held by Joe B. King at the time of his death in the order of the Royal Arcanum. The widow, a divorced wife, laid claim to the money, and the guardian of the only son also insisted on receiving the money for his ward. King had the policy made payable to his wife on his death. He afterwards was divorced from the woman but the policy was never changed, it being still payable to his wife at the time of his death last January.
Now, the court had previously decided by the divorce suit that he had no wife and yet at his death the divorced wife claimed the insurance money, as the policy made it payable to her, Lear King.
Of course the case was an ignorable heir, and the claim of the guardian could not be ignored. The order of the Royal Arcanum was ready to pay the money as soon as it was legally decided who should receive the same. As already stated, the court gave an equal part to each of the claimants.

Don't give way to despondency. Did you ever know a cloud so dense and black that it did not pass away? Was a night ever so long that morning did not follow?
What's the good of fretting, anyway?
It doesn't make your troubles any lighter, but it presents them through a magnifying glass.
Keep a stiff upper lip and a seal above buttons. If you have obligations to meet and lack the cash to take them up promptly, it will do no good to wear out the soles of your boots walking the floor and wringing your hands. Better let the other fellow do the walking and wringing, while you work along pleasantly, sitting on a bold front and doing the best you can to come out at the large end of the horns.

There is a doctor in Lake county, Michigan, whose library consists solely of Green's medical books, and the books that he is reported to make entitle him to respect for his nerve, if not for his learning and skill. Among other pieces of startling information which he has given to the world is his diagnosis of a lady patient's condition, whom he accused of allowing the inside coating of the outside lining of her heart to shrink with alum. Another woman was supposed to have that the optic nerve of her eye was out of focus, while in a third case the learned doctor asserted that a man was taking a bath, as he had thus caused palsy that had long been stopped up, causing him to take a severe cold.

The middle chapter and shortest in the bible is Psalm cxvii.

College Callings.

A sister of Prof. Swain is visiting him.
Miss Painter, a former student of I. U., is again with us.

The lecture Sunday afternoon by Prof.
Miller was very well attended.

Work in Prof. Bryan's department will consist of lectures for the next few days.

Miss Gross Miers has been visiting Miss

Rogers, east of town.

Rev. Hall of Winchester led in devotional exercises Monday morning. He is a Delta Tau.

Miss Alice Jones of Remington is one of the new students this term.

Miss Hubbard of '90, and Tom Braxton of '92, have re-entered this term.

Mr. Prof. Swain is taking some studies at college.

Prof. Phillip Neal is taking a course in German and French.

Miss Ella Orr, through Junior with

'90, visited college last week.

Miss Rhett has returned and will graduate with '90.

Misses Lester, Keith and Lizzie Bliss visited the University Thursday last.

H. W. Kiplinger is in a railroad office in Philadelphia.

Prof. Woodford and wife returned on Wednesday last.

Ed. Robinson will not return to college this term.

Miss Belle Maxwell visited the University on Friday last.

Mr. Wright of Greensville is now a

Sigma Chi.

Mr. Morris of Milton put on the shield of the Phi Psi fraternity on Saturday last.

Professor Philpot has gone to Philadelphia to take charge of his church.

Wm. Blos, who has had spinal trouble caused by a fall, is improving slowly.

Professor Bryan, on account of the in-situ work at South Bend, did not begin work in the University until this week.

Wm. Bailey, of Centre Valley, and Miss

Jones of Pennington, are among the new names which appear on the roll.

The Beta boys gave a social to their lady friends in their handsome hall on the north side, on Friday evening last.

Mr. E. H. Griggs of '90 now has charge of two classes in the Preparatory Department.

Mr. Noblett who took a special course in the University last year, was married during the holidays.

Miss McMahan of '92, will remain at the University this term, but will return next term and graduate with her class.

Miss Board of Jeffersonville is the great of Miss Moenerville. She contemplates attending the University next year.

Miss Maggie Porch, who is teaching in the Russellville schools was one of our visitors this week.

Prof. Palmer of Columbia City, came out to see his Alma Mater at the beginning of the new term.

Prof. Gunn, who will fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Prof. Phil-pot, has arrived and has taken charge of his classes.

Miss Emma Bain has returned to college, her eyes being much improved.

This gives the Senior class another member and above all another lady.

Miss Ella Hawley, Minnie Venard, Lydia Biddle, Clara Shad, Lester Higgin, Grace Woodburn and Grace

Bain are among the visitors on Taurday last.

The price offered for the best students in Education was awarded to Messrs.

E. H. Griggs, Bert Faison, J. L. Mitchell and W. A. Mills.

Pr. Kingley will go to the State University of Michigan next year, having been elected to the chair of Zoology in that institution.

Lectures on Tariff, under Prof. Woodford, were given on Monday afternoon last. These lectures will be delivered at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

Tickets for the three remaining entertainments given under the auspices of the Lecture Association, can be bought for $1.50.

Three more entertainments on the Lecture

Course. The Mendelssohn Concert

Company, Hon. Sunset Cox and Edward

Turner.

Notice is hereby given, that the undersigned, as Administrator of the estate of Mary A. Johnston, deceased, has presented and filed her account and vouchers in final settlement of said estate, and that the same will come up for examination and action of said Circuit Court, on the 8th day of February, 1888, at which time all persons interested in the estate will be directed to appear in said court and show cause, if there be, why said account and vouchers should not be approved.

And the heirs of said estate, and all others interested therein, are also hereby required, at the time and place aforesaid, to appear and make proof of their heirship or claim to any part of said estate, or to file a written notice of their objection to the same.

Mr. L. Van Buskirk referred to Ann Arbor on Saturday last. Mr. Van Buskirk is paying strict attention to the study of law and having chosen this profession for his life work, we feel confident that he is destitute to become an honor to it.

Mr. E. H. Starbuck is organizing a class in White's system of memory training to meet weekly at the residences of members of the class. Quite a number are enrolled and as the system is a good one, and the fees are light, many more names no doubt will be added to the list.

The first historical exercises of the term will be given, next Friday afternoon

High School had two week vacation.

A contest between Juniors and Seniors is to be held at the room belonging to St. Andrew's Lodge.

This is the oldest in the city.

Misses Weller, Hause, and Wilkerson are the judges.

Misses Weller and Hause are from the University.

Misses Weller and Hause are

from the University.