Republican Progress

Printed each Wednesday Morning, by WILLIAM A. GAGE, Editor and Publisher.
 IN ADVANCE, $1.50 a Year

—When Treasurer Loftis of Marion county took the office two years ago he accepted about $100,000 in paper from his predecessor, and has lost heavily, owing to his inability to collect the notes. One of the notes was on John E. Sullivan, the defaulting County Clerk, for $15,000, and this has proven an entire loss. After being in the office two years, and paying out everything he has made, make up the loss.

—A minister up in Michigan has just won $5,000 in a lottery, and is liberal minded enough to want that he see no more sin in it than in getting married or taking "some other hazardous step."

—The congregation think there is flaw in the reverend gentleman's logic, and are disposed to invite him to seek a new vineyard in which to work.

—It is not surprising that Corporal Tanner should be somewhat prejudiced in favor of the old soldiers, and especially those suffering from disabilities contracted during the war. At the second battle of Bull Run he was struck by a piece of shell which amputated the amputation of both legs below the knees. Since the war he has submitted twice to further amputations of the legs, and has been a great sufferer since 1863. He has a "realizing sense" that the soldiers who suffered deserve all the help which the country, in its day of peril, promised them.

—The iron industry, which is said to be the barometer of trade, is opening with something like a boom all along the line of the Pennsylvania valleys. Over 2,000 men went to work at increased wages at Reading this week.

—A Lafayette paper observes that when a church is found closed on Sunday no one is ever seen trying to get in at the back door. Funny, isn't it?

—Michigan City Dispatch: The credit system is in many ways. It encourages improvidence and extravagance on the one hand, extortion and avarice on the other. It makes theft respectable, wrecks friendships, and ruins homes. It should be abolished. If every man in business got his dues from those who were able to pay, he could afford to give to those who were not and still realize a handsome profit.

—Indianapolis Sun: The porter has had it all his own way ever since sleeping coaches have been run. He has made you boots from the place where you have carefully hidden them to escape his greedy gaze, blacked them and compelled you by his voiceless but arrogant conduct to pay him a tip of 25 cents for a service that he ought to perform free. He has insisted on hamstringing your shoulders with a broom under pretext of brushing you off, and there has been no escape from his autocracy. The long suffering traveling public has arisen at last to this emergency, and a few days ago the passengers on a sleeper on the Mobile & Ohio road combined and compelled a porter named Stewart to jump from his coach and take to the woods.

—The Postmaster General has issued an order providing that hereafter $1,000 will be paid by the Government for any thief who stops a vehicle bearing U. S. Mail, to perpetrate a robbery.

—One of the new features in building in New York City is the use of hollow bricks for partitions, and even outside walls. These bricks are so molded that when a wall is perfectly plumb you can slip a pebble right down in the wall, there being hundreds of hollow spaces. Walls thus built are said to resist heat and cold far better than the solid kind, and they are about twenty-five per cent. cheaper. I have seen several substituted for sand in making mortar, and the practice is getting quite common. The great saving of weight makes sand mortar very appropriate for plastering, but time will have to decide whether anything can be as durable as the regulation article.—Ex.

—The Perimeter Brigade, the 115th, 116th, 117th and 118th Ind., will hold their reunion at Greencastle, Oct. 2d. The companies will meet at 10 o'clock, and in the afternoon and at night will camp fire. All comrades will be requested to come, as being the r.m. miles. The citizens will entertain all comrades. Let all attend that possibly can, as we are to have a big time. All comrades who contemplate going are requested to send their names to T. G. Grooms, Greencastle, Ind.

—Henry Monahan has retired from active business life, after having been engaged in business at Lancaster for 39 years. His son James now has full control.

—For the information of writers generally, says the New York Star, "it may be stated that the Harpers, with four periodicals, receive about fifteen thousand manuscripts a year, and can use, at the outside, not more than five or six hundred. The Century Company, with two publications, receives about ten thousand, and can use not more than three hundred and fifty. The Scribners receive five thousand and can use less than a hundred. The Atlantic, Delford, Lippincott's and the others absorb a like proportion. It must be borne in mind, too, that of the thousand or eleven hundred articles that can be made use of by the three first named houses, not more than half are taken from the general contributions; in some cases much less than half. Some issues of magazines are made up entirely of ordered matter—i. e., articles written by well known authors or public men upon special agreement with the publisher.

—According to Mr. V. Knaggs (Archives of Pediatrics), a few threads of Berlin wool placed round the neck and worn continuously are an efficient preventative against these uncommodious complaints, which many persons are so prone to catch on exposure to cold. From ten to twenty threads are enough for the purpose. They should only be removed for making ablutions, and should be left off gradually by discarding daily one thread at a time. The remedy probably acts by keeping up a belt of skin action, thus acting mildly and continuously as a slight counter-irritant.

[For the Progress.] Our Old Citizens.

In looking over the paper read by Prof. T. Wylie, at the funeral of the late Mrs. Martha J. Woodburn, and published in the Progress of the 4th of Sept. 1 and but one of the South Carolina colony mentioned that have remained as many consecutive years in Monroe county as I have. That one is Miss Sallie Woodburn, aunt of our efficient cashier in the First National Bank of Bloomington, Indiana. Her father, the late David Woodburn, arrived in November, 1830, on the farm now owned by L. M. Rogers, and old uncle Wm. Fox and my father arrived at the same place December 31st, 1830. I and some now alive that state their lack among the South Carolinians, than Miss Woodburn. She and I have never changed our residence since we came, in 1830. Consequently she has a little the longest residence in the county, and I come next. November and December next will be the anniversary of the 40th year since we came to the county. The writer has seen Bloomington pass through many changes growing from a village to the proportions of a thriving, bustling, little city. The surrounding country at that time was densely and heavily timbered, where the Indian had lately roamed, and the scream of the panther and wolf could almost be nightly heard at our frontier settlements at that time. The Indian is gone, the wild beasts of prey are banished, and the forest disappeared before the sturdy axman, and the country has been made to bud and blossom as the rose. But before another decade will have passed, the old pioneers will have passed away, and a younger generation will be left to enjoy the fruits of their labor.

—Grant street M. E. church will hold camp meetings on the Fair Grounds, Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 21st to 30th, 1889. Eminent ministers from abroad will be present, among them E. D. Miller of Jeffersonville, S. Frazer of Indianapolis, W. S. Ballou of Louisville. Others have been invited and are expected to be present and talk to the people. Accommodations for all who may desire to camp on the grounds will be made. A good boarding house will be opened on the grounds, where meals may be secured at reasonable rates. The grounds consist of a beautiful grove, with plenty of fruit, abundance of spring water, located near town. Let everybody come. An admission fee of 10 cents will be charged at the gates on Sunday, to help to defray the expenses of the meeting. For information address the Committee: Wm. Withers, John Brown, John Miles, or Rev. C. H. Taylor, Pastor, S. Tucker, Secretary.

—George Ross, Treasurer of Madison county, retired from office in 1885, with a shortage of $70,000, the money having been swallowed up in grain speculations. He had a great deal of real estate and personal property which was surrendered to his bondsmen, the same including a life policy of $10,000, and a trustee was appointed for the conversion of his belongings into cash. In January following $25,000 was realized from the estate, leaving $45,000 unpaid, for which the county obtained judgment against the ex-treasurer and his sureties, and it was conditioned that this judgment should be lifted in three annual payments. This week there was a final accounting by the trustee, and all the defalcation was lifted by receipts from the estate, with the exception of $7,911. This will be collected from the sureties, of whom twenty-four are said to be solvent. This is said to be the first complete settlement of a defalcation ever effected in that county. Mr. Ross died of consumption within a year of his failure.

—Ellettsville Citizen: Miss Gertrude Whitted has been sick for several days, but is now able to be about again. —Misses Daley and Mirtle Carlton began visiting the family of Mr. M. W. Winslow over Sunday. —Miss Wm. Elrod returned home from Orleans Monday, where she has been visiting friends and relatives for a couple of weeks. —Mrs. W. D. McNeely returned to Indianapolis last Monday, after spending several days with her friends and relatives at this place. —Mrs. Rev. A. N. Elrod went to Salem yesterday where she will visit for a few days. —James Jackson and family drove from Bloomington to this place last Sunday to spend the day with their relatives. —Miss Ursula Smith is again visiting in town after spending a few days with friends at Bloomington and other places. —Mrs. Stephenson spent a few days last week with her sister at Martinsville, who has been dangerously ill but is now improving. —Ed. Braxton, of Logansport, a nephew of Mrs. W. C. Harris, was in town Wednesday. —Miss Belle Coffey returned home from Illinois, where she has been visiting for several weeks. She was accompanied home by Mrs. Hostetler. —Mr. Withers, of Cincinnati, father of our clever young daughter, is visiting his family at this place. —Mr. Withers is in the timber business and is investigating the business here with a view to locating among us.

—Pauli Republican: David B. Ostich who last week lived in North West township, this county, has been married for twenty years and has moved fifty-seven times. They moved again this week. Not much property but lots of children and numerous dogs. Deputy Sheriff Hoggerly makes oath to this.

—N. Y. Press: The latest invention in shoe manufacturing is the patent self-laster. This new device has lately been patented and can be used without the aid of nails. The machine is self-operating; all that is required is to turn a small wheel, like those used on sewing machines. Either the finest or coarsest grade of material can be used. The new machine is now on exhibition at the factory of Marcus Marsop, 83 Reade street. Over 1,000 dealers and manufacturers have called to examine the machine.

—Scientific American: The ordinary process of scraping old paint, or burning it off, is hardly expeditious enough for general purposes, and is also laborious. Soda and quicklime are far more thorough, and the paint is more quickly removed. The solution of half soda and half quicklime is thus made. The soda is dissolved in water, the lime is then added, and the solution can be applied with a brush to the old paint. A few minutes is sufficient to remove the coats of paint, which may be washed off with hot water. Many preparations are sold for the removal of paint, all of them having some basis of alkali. A paste of potash and strong lime is far more effective in operation, and the oldest paint can be removed by it. Afterward a coat of vinegar or acid should be used to cleanse the surface before repainting.

The County Fair will begin on the 16th of Sept. Are you ready?
 —Old Mr. Widower had been sitting silently alone with Miss Autumn for fifteen minutes. Finally he said: "Miss Autumn, you are pretty—" "Oh, Mr. Widower!" "You are pret—" "How can you, Mr. Widower?" "I started to say that you were pretty—" "Oh, you horrid man, stop!" "Condemn it all, woman!" shouted Mr. Widower, rising and breaking for the door, "I wanted to say that you were pretty near as old as I am."

—The St. Louis Post-Dispatch prints a page article giving the experience of a reporter who enlisted as a soldier, and investigated the causes of so many desertions. The story alleges that enlisted men in the United States army are treated worse than slaves, many of them worse even than dogs. The reporter claims that the officers, and especially the non-commissioned officers, are needlessly cruel and oppressively tyrannical; that the food furnished is unfit to eat; that the vermin makes the soldiers' couch unfit to sleep upon; that the recruits' money is absorbed by the sutler, and charges that private soldiers have been murdered by non-commissioned officers without so much as an investigation.
