TUNE THEM OUT!

Congressman Taylor of Ohio, discussing the result of the election in that State said: "It was failure to turn the scales out that hurt Republicans this year more than anything else; there have been indications of just such a turn-over ever since the campaign opened." Less thinking Republicans will admit that there is much in Mr. Taylor's position, and if Indiana is carried in 1890 the Progressives that those men who can make the executive should see to it that persons are not kept in Government positions who have established a reputation for bitter partisanship, and whose last acts in the closing days of the recent Presidential campaign were the contributing of money for election purposes, and the wagering of sums of money upon the hoped-for election of their favorite candidate, Grover Cleveland. The Progressives are not doing any thing for others but the men from Monroe county men—don't care where the men come from—but there are thousands of good Republicans who are more competent than the present incumbents.

The President is hard at work on his message to Congress. If he dares to please the country he should make it short and say as little as possible about the civil service reform laws.

—Perhaps the best thing that could have happened is the defeat that the Republicans of Ohio and Iowa have suffered. The Progressives believe that this is an object lesson that they will not soon forget, but that they will go to work with an energy that will insure success in 1890 and in 1892. Republicans need just such an experience as they have gone through recently to show them that vigilance is the price of success, and that their political enemies cannot be trusted to keep down. Thousands of bitter Democratic partisans, who cause home to Indiana from Washington and other points to work and scheme on election day are still holding office under the Republican administration. This does not inspire confidence among Republicans, and these holdovers are very naturally regarded as spies in the camp. We cannot afford to lose Indiana in 1890. Turn every rascal out.

—While rushing down Battle Ground Hill, near Lafayette, one night last week, a Monon freight engine broke one of its parallel rods, and one of the whirling fragments tore the cab to pieces and fractured both legs of Patrick Murphy, the engineer.

—It is noticeable that most of the important eclipses are visible only in Africa. When Okinawa is settled up with colored people, may be it will be different.

—By and by some descendant of Ohio Columbus will present a claim against the United States of a sum to make all our heads swim. According to his agreement with Ferdinand and Isabella, Columbus was to have a percentage of the yield of gold and silver mined on this continent. At the present time his share would amount to about $16,000,000 a year, and his back door would be simply enormous. He ought to get his claim ready to file by 1892.

—Did it ever occur to you, remarked a philosopher, "that the time is coming when the slot machine idea is going to revolutionize commerce, and make life a perpetual holiday to those now engaged in its toilsome pursuits? Not well, consider it for a minute. What is to prevent that which is now in the nature of a toy from being made the agent of finance in all commercial transactions? If you can buy chewing gum, confectionery and accident-insurance tickets by putting money in a slot-machine, why may we not hope eventually to purchase food, clothing, groceries, stocks, bonds and all other necessities and expenditures in the same way? It may take bigger machines and more of them, but look at the saving of time, patience and muscle they would bring about. Instead of being tied down to his desk or counter waiting for the small boy who wants an almanac, or the directory borrower, or a possible customer, the merchant could fill up his slot-machine over night, and opening his doors in the morning, have slot-machines to run his business while he went forth to enjoy the recreations of the day in the shape of pie, pool, base ball, fishing and the matinées. No untoward apprehensions would cling to mind of clerks neglecting their duties while the eye of the employer was removed from them, no violence of till-tapping, wrong change or bad bills would follow him into the hearts of delight to which he happened to have access. Everything would be peace, plenty and prosperity, and when he came home at night perhaps a little fatigued, but never disengaged by his day's plowing, all he would have to do would be to stock up the slot-machine, put the receipts in his inside pocket and get ready for another night."

—O. F. Cochran, of Davis & Rankin, Chicago, is in town interesting the business men and farmers for the purpose of organizing a cranberry and cheese factory at this place. We are satisfied that dairy farming adds wealth to the farm in the following and many other ways: 1: raises the price of cows and enhances the price of land; and the land increases in value; 2: the product of the farm is more valuable;
