Family groceries are a leading specialty with Charley McPheters, at his extensive grocery business, southeast corner of the square, and if you desire to purchase anything in this branch of goods we would advise you to come to buy till Charley's house has been visited.

Convenient Tires and Cables in Monroe county can be found at the grocery store of Chas. McPheters, southeast corner of the public square. Tobacco of the rarest and most popular brands. Only tip-top cigars sold at this house.

Spiral Spring Buggies and Cabs, made at Grand Rapids are on sale at Winslow's, opposite county jail.

Buggies, Sareys, Carriages, and all manner of vehicles at Winslow's warehouse and repair shop, opposite jail. Prices low.

Grocery Dealers say they sell "sticks" of choice goods to Charley McPheters every trip. Now it stands to reason that he sells a great many goods to be sold at the traveling salesman's.

It is a fact that Charley McPheters and first-class Dress Trimmings received at Charley Mobley's "Golden Rule" store, south side of square. Every novelty in the city market finds its way to Charley Mobley's store and will be sold at prices that are within the reach of all. The stock of Fall Dress Goods, Hosiery, Coats, Fine Fans and Ribbons is not exceeded anywhere. Special attention is given to the glove trade. In gloves the "Golden Rule" has always been in the lead. A very satisfactory stock of Boots, Shoes and Rubbers carried by this house, to which attention is directed. Only dry goods store on the south side.

It is an every day occurrence at Joe Smith's emporium, on the south side, to sell a wagon load of the most articles that are found on the shelves of that house. Housekeepers find so many odd and good things at such low prices that when anything is needed around the house they usually go to Smith's to learn if he has it in stock, and they are not disappointed. Watches get out of repair at all seasons of the year, and Smith's house makes this branch of business a specialty. Take your watch there to have it repaired and placed in order.

The "Star" Bone Fertilizer, most satisfactory ever offered to the farming community, can be found at Jimmy Robinson's grocery house, west side square. There are six varieties: "Raw Bone Meal," "Pig Foot Bone," "Halt and Half," "Our Best," "Corn Grower," and "Gold Coin Phosphate," all of the "Star" brand. Be sure you get "Star" brand when you purchase fertilizer this fall. You ought to get the best for your money, and the "Star" fertilizer is the best.

Robertson Bros., the grocers on the northeast corner of the square, desire to say to their many friends and old customers, that they are doing a strictly cash business, but that they are selling first-class goods so low that any one can afford to pay cash to get them.

Five men are kept hard at work each Saturday, by Charley McPheters, the grocer, in their efforts to supply the public with choice goods from his house. You had better go there and see how nicely he can fit you out.

HEADQUARTERS for choice groceries at Charley McPheters' grocery store (Greaves' old stand). It is now but a comparatively short time since Charley McPheters began the grocery business, but he achieved success from the first. He seemed to take hold of the business instinctively, and his flag is still there.

Mrs. Waldron and Mrs. Batman went to Louisville on Wednesday morning last, to be present at the grand street display.

Jolly Tom Farr, the Republican Sheriff, is as popular as ever. His friends are legion, and he deserves every one of them. He will pull a handsome vote this fall, and will succeed himself. Just how anybody, Democrat or Republican, could vote against Tom Farr, it is difficult to understand. As a solid old farmer from the west part of the county said last Saturday: "I'd as soon think of voting against my father."

Jas. W. Jackson, the Republican candidate for Recorder, had the courage to sustain the order of an amputation and the will-power to recover from it and be on the streets before the election, in order that he may shake hands with his many friends. There are those who hope to meet and shake hands with him before the day of the November election.

Wm. Peterson, the County Commissioner, who is a candidate for re-election on the Republican ticket, is a careful conscientious officer, who looks closely after the county business and guards the interests of tax-payers jealously. Such a man deserves re-election without a dissenting vote. His record will bear the closest scrutiny. He is a farmer and was a soldier.

Charles Stone and wife are now residents of Indianapolis, Mr. Stone having secured the right to sell the publications of a St. Louis publishing house in Indiana, Ohio and Kentucky. His business location is room 56, Vance Block.

W. J. Allen is President of an organization formed by members of the 20th Ind. Battery, which recently held a meeting at the Bates House, Indianapolis.

Chairman Massey has appointed J. G. McPheters election commissioner. No better selection could have been made.

Court begun at Bedford on Monday with a heavy docket. Quite a number of cases were continued from last term for want of time to complete them, and many new ones were on the docket. Judge Duncan went down last week and started the court off promptly at 8:30 o'clock on Monday morning and is hopeful of closing the docket within the time limited by law, though it is an unusually large one, with many cases of very considerable magnitude. His whole attention will be given now to the discharge of the duties of the office, and in looking after the interests of the public and the court, is finally disposed of or lapses by limitation. The people of Lawrence county can rest assured that their interests will be vigilantly guarded during the present term of court.

Some very heavy new steel rails are being laid south of Smithville, on the grades and at places where the greatest wear is seen, on the "Monon." The heavy engines and the enormous train loads of stone that are pulled over this road demand such improvements, and the present management is busily engaged in the work of supplying new ties and track as fast as possible.

Both of the Orleans artesian wells are now flowing in a very attractive manner, it is stated. Orleans, it seems to the Progress, has the foundation laid for one of the most desirable watering places in Southern Indiana, as the water has no superior, and there is none of that sickening odor about it that so often repels persons of weak stomachs who first get a whiff of "Pluto" at French Lick. Reserve us a seat on that board pile, Bro. Black. Will come and occupy it some day.

Elmer Basiskirk for Surveyor, and Jonas R. May, for Commissioner, on the Farmers' and Laborers' ticket, have declined the nominations tendered them.

Jas. W. Jackson is improving all the time, and will be among his home friends before long. He is the man who will be elected Recorder of Monroe county.

It must not be forgotten that the Republican nominee for Coroner is Dr. Jas. D. Maxwell Jr., the most thoroughly educated and skilled surgeon and physician in Monroe county. It is an honor to any party to have such a man on its ticket, and the people should feel pride in electing him.

After October 15th you may shoot quail. It is stated by some persons that there are a great many birds in this county.

Mr. John Craven, the gentleman who comes from Hendricks county to hold office in Monroe, is making a good thing out of the office of County Superintendent while he is electing for the office of County Clerk. As John has no interests here he will return to his home in Hendricks after his defeat for Clerk, and when his time as County Superintendent expires in June. Good bye, John. It is not too early to begin to pack your "grip."

Some nineteen acres will be added to the public cemetery, by purchase of a tract directly west. The price agreed upon is $2,000.

Plans are being prepared by the "Monon" company to erect a round house with ten stalls for locomotives, a turntable, a coal chute, and a machine shop, on the ground donated to them south of town. Some two miles of side tracks will also be put in, and such other improvements will be made as may be suggested by the growing business of the road.

A good Sheriff is of inestimable value to a county. Such an one Monroe county has in the person of Tom Farr, and he should be re-elected by a satisfactory majority. His soldier friends should see to it that his interests do not suffer at the polls. Tom is grateful for all favors of this kind, and will repay them with interest by doing his best to deserve the confidence reposed in him.

A number of new houses are being erected in Stinesville, and the stone boom in that locality seems to have only begun.

The election will occur on Tuesday, Nov. 4th. The date will soon be here.

At the reunion of the 21st Ind. Vols. held in Terre Haute, Rev. J. B. Hamilton was chosen Chaplain.

Abel Donaldson has finally been assigned to duty at Jeffersonville as government wagon inspector.

A suit for $5,000 damages has been brought against the Monon by C. B. Crowe. In his complaint he recites that he bought a ticket at Indianapolis for Ellettsville, but that the conductor would not stop the train at the destination designated by his ticket; but that he was put off at Gosport.

The three colored churches expect to have union services, once a month.

Mrs. Ellen W. King returned last Thursday from her western trip.

"Diamond Joe" is the only 10c. cigar that is sold for 5c. Warranted Long Havana Filler, and hand made. Sole agents Wetzel & Flood.

When the soldiers of the county go to vote they can find but one soldier ticket—that is the straight Republican ticket. There are Fuller, Farr, Duncan, Dinamore and Peterson—all soldiers, against Sudbury. Which will the soldier boys remember on election day.

Robert Anderson, a well known colored man who resides on a portion of the Faris farm southeast of town, lost his twin boys with measles last week—one of them dying on Sunday, the other on Tuesday. They were about a year old. The third child is dangerously sick with fever.

The former candidate for Congress, Maj. Dunbar, was making speeches in Monroe county last week.

Forster Hopewell takes the place of Commissioner on the Farmers' ticket, vacated by Jonas R. May.

L. L. Pitzer goes to St. Augustine, Florida, to take charge of a fine church recently erected there.

Rev. J. M. Foster, a brother-in-law, Dr. Weir, assisted in communion services at the Covenant church last Sunday. Rev. Foster is located at Cincinnati, O.

It is singular that the Democratic managers of Monroe county invariably make the same old canvass one year with another. They start it by telling all manner of stories on the Republican candidates, and keep up these tactics till the last day in the morning. It usually rebounds upon the men who inaugurate it, and there is reason to believe that the present campaign will be no exception to the rule.

Showers Bros. are interested in the Wicks Block, to be erected on the north side of the square. With such men as Mr. Wicks and the Showers Bros. behind this enterprise its success is doubly insured.

Mrs. Isabella Collins, aged 83 years, died at her home on North College Avenue, on Wednesday morning last, after a protracted illness of some four years. She was the mother of Walter Collins of this city. The remains were taken to Xenia, O., where they were interred beside those of her husband, in the family burying ground.

There is a college enrollment of 325.

Samuel Bailey, now a prominent business man of Indianapolis, Ind., was in town last week visiting his parents.

Mrs. Carrie Sager of Chicago is visiting her sister Mrs. Geo. W. Norman.

Read instructions "How to Vote," printed on the first page. They are official.

His Grace has sold his residence 26th street, to J. H. Dowdell. Consideration $1,400.

J. Polk Spencer died last Saturday at Unionville, aged 45, with consumption.

Mrs. Nail, of the north part of the city, died last Friday with typhoid fever, aged 23.

A little daughter of Marion Hinkle died last week with typhoid fever.

Charley Treat has enlisted in the regular army, and wears the blue with becoming dignity.

The Republican meeting at the county house last Wednesday night, was well attended, and speeches were made by John W. Lovett and Milton Truesler. Mr. Truesler produced a good impression and created a great deal of enthusiasm. He is an honest, straightforward farmer, and a logical, convincing speaker. Mr. Lovett made an excellent speech. Col. Robertson was present and made one of his polished addresses, that had an electrical effect upon the audience. Judge Duncan presided over the meeting.

James Kelley has gone to Hot Springs, Arkansas.

A sheep buyer was driving a number of sheep through town last Thursday on his way to Hendricks county. He said he had bought 1,400 head of sheep in Monroe county this season. He is now paying $4 per cwt.

James Mayfield has concluded to stay in city, having purchased One Hollman's meat shop, N. M. Bault is his chief clerk.

Some one is said to have objected to the complimentary notices of the Republican candidates, as published in the Progress because it is in the nature of "tally." If any of the candidates will say they object to it the Progress will quit—put before.

The old customers of Mrs. Margaret Gregory will find her located in the house of Mrs. Nancy Alexander, opposite M. E. church.

The three colored churches expect to have union services, once a month.

Mrs. Ellen W. King returned last Thursday from her western trip.

If the people do not get to see Judge Duncan before the election they can know it is because he is attending to the public business. The duties of his office are such as require his personal attention and he does not propose to let the public interests suffer in order to advance his own. A very correct conception of his obligations, and which the public appreciate.

When Enoch Fuller took charge of the Clerk's office, he of course had no experience in the business, so he employed an expert (Maj. Simpson of Paoli) to start the books properly in his term, and also to instruct him as to the proper fees to be charged and in what manner they should be assessed. Maj. Simpson is a Democrat, and was a Democratic candidate for Congressional nomination in his district, and he is acknowledged to be thoroughly posted in all the details of county office work. Mr. Fuller has charged only such fees as he was instructed were correct, though in the majority of cases he has given away his fees to those who came to him and begged off as many do.

Some of the citizens on the west side are planting apple trees for shade trees in front of their lots.

Mr. Allan C. Burborow, the Democratic candidate for Congress in the Second District, is out with a letter of acceptance. The letter discusses at some length the McKinley tariff bill and the Lodge Federal election bill. He also declares himself for the Australian ballot system. Mr. Burborow is very well connected and a man of good abilities, and many of his friends are wondering how he comes to be in such company.

It is a matter of pride to Monroe county people that our Horticultural Society prepared an exhibit that has again taken first premium at the State Fair. Some of the apples were enormous, weighing 1 1/2 lbs.

James Gray, the stone cutter who had a shop east of Waldron's tannery, left for Las Vegas, N. M., last week.

Republican Meetings.

Senator THOMAS E. BRYCE, of Hamilton county, will speak at ELLETTSVILLE, Tuesday, Oct. 7th, at 8 o'clock.

STANFORD, Wednesday, Oct. 8th, at 8 o'clock p.m.

SMITHVILLE, Thursday, Oct. 9th, at 8 o'clock.

Hon. A. J. BEVERIDGE, of Indianapolis, will speak in BLOOMINGTON, Wednesday, Oct. 22d, at night.

The quarry of the Bloomington Oolitic Stone Co. in the southwestern portion of town, is worth visiting. The proprietors are getting out immense blocks of blue stone and are shipping them rapidly now. The railroad company has begun to furnish cars as needed, the blockade having been to a certain extent raised.

CLUB MANAGERS should call at A. C. Rott & Co.'s grocery, west side square, and get prices before making permanent arrangements. Figures will be made to suit, and promptness will be one of the leading recommendations. Goods are surpassed by no other house.

Mrs. John Harris has gone to Salem on a visit to relatives.

Mrs. Jas. Morgan was in Louisville last week.

Mrs. Judith Taylor died on Wednesday last in Polk township, with dropsy, aged 50 years.

I desire to dispose of my stock of Ladies' Winter Underwear, and so will sell at cost. This is a rare opportunity to buy the best quality of goods in this line at very low prices, as I intend to give my entire attention hereafter to the Millinery business.

Mrs. ELLA BOWMAN.

The south bound mail train ran into an open switch near Battle Ground, last Thursday morning, the engine was tipped over on its side and the baggage car was derailed. Jas. Covington, engineer, jumped, and received internal injuries that may prove fatal. The fireman and baggage men were each somewhat bruised, but not seriously.

Mrs. Dr. Axtell returned from Nebraska Monday evening. Her daughter returned with her.

Mrs. Theodore Gibbs of Cherrysville, Kansas, is quite sick at her mother's, Mrs. A. W. Rogers.

Craven & Brill is the style of the firm that it is understood will take charge of the Clerk's office. Craven & Brill should be elected. John Craven of Hendricks will appoint John Brill of Hendricks, and so it would be. Craven from Hendricks county, a Deputy from Hendricks county. Seems like there ought to be enough Monroe county men to fill these positions.

Friday was mule delivery day, and the melodious music of those pretty animals reverberated on every street.

Mr. Richard James and wife of Louisville are the guests of Mrs. Vanandt.

If any man ever went to Enoch Fuller and made an appeal to him to throw off his fees, without being accommodated, let him stand up and be counted. The fees charged by Enoch Fuller as County Clerk are no more than have heretofore been charged by county clerks, but when (as is the experience of every officer) people come to beg off—to get the office to "throw off" some of his fees, Enoch has good naturedly done so. The general public has no idea how much of this "begging off" is done. People make a great bill of costs by recklessly subpoenaing witnesses, and in other ways that are unnecessary, and then expect that the clerk or sheriff will do the work that results from this for one-third what it is really worth, or that is allowed by law.

The Farmers' movement seems to be very strong in Indian Creek tp. A meeting was held there last week at which there was an attendance of about three hundred. A Democratic meeting a few days before brought about twenty-five persons. Must be "a hen on."

The postponed Bedford Fair is to be held this week. There will be no dust.

Mr. Frank Jones is college reporter for the Progress.

A third telegraph wire is being put up along the line of the Monon to accommodate the rapidly increasing business.

On Saturday last Moses F. Dunn returned from a four months tour in Europe. Mr. Dunn says that the Rhine scenery of which as much is said, does not compare with that of the Hudson.

John R. East went to Salem on Monday to try a land case which has twice gone to the supreme court.

I have a very handsome burner, which I desire to sell at a bargain. This is a rare opportunity for any one who may wish to purchase. Stove may be seen at my residence, corner 7th st. and College Avenue.
