Republican Progress

For President,
The Man Nominated at Indianapolis in June, 1902

—Dun's weekly review of trade shows the volume of business to still be close to the greatest ever attained. The alarm about the money market has passed away and no disturbance is anticipated this year. In branches of trade which have been the most encouraged a better tone is noted.
Throughout the United States during the week ending yesterday there were 235 failures, as against 220 the seven days previous.

—The official figures of the vote in New York show that over 100, 000 Republicans neglected to vote.
They will all turn out next year, however, and give the State to their party's candidate for President.

—A reduction of $2,300,000 in the mortgage indebtedness of Kansas during the last five and one-half months is the best of evidence that the Alliance fully is waning and that the farmers are paying more attention to business than to politics.

—Corn is securing a foothold in Germany and some of the other countries of Continental Europe which ordinarily consume large quantities of rye. This is pleasing to the American farmer, for where corn is fairly tested it always becomes popular. This is the great corn-growing country of the world, and our surplus of this product is more to be larger next year than it has been hitherto.

—At a meeting of the Republican State Central Committee last week, at Indianapolis, the following program for organization was adopted: Mass county conventions will be held on Saturday, Jan. 9, to organize county central committees and appoint delegates to district conventions. In counties which prefer to do this work by townships, township meetings will be held on the preceding Saturday, Jan. 2. Delegates to district conventions will meet Jan. 13 to choose a member of the State Central Committee for each. The next Committee then chosen will meet for organization Jan. 20.

Room Beginning Early.
With Col. C. C. Matson for governor and Hon. Geo. W. Cooper as a candidate to succeed himself in congress, the Fifth District will go into the next campaign with a determined majority for the state and national ticket. —Hendricks County —There will be a good deal of maneuvering for position in the Presidential battle by both parties in the coming session of Congress.

This is the case with Congress in every Presidential year. Nobody looks for any useful legislation until after the election.

—Ind. Journal: There is now on exhibition at Lieber's a painting of considerable merit by Mrs. C.
H. Noel of Cherry Valley, Ills.
It represents Charlotte Corday in prison, looking through the bars of the window of her cell, and the artist has very clearly depicted an expression of sorrowful resignation on her face. The picture is the property of S. D. Noel of this city.

NOTICE.—There will be a reunion of Company E, Indiana, Captain Wm. B. Hughes' Company, on the 31st day of December, 1891, at 10 o'clock a. m., at the G. A. R. hall in this city. All comrades of this company are earnestly requested to be present, and all members of mid regiment are invited. Lieutenant Colwell will be present.
By order of Captain.

W. B. HUGHES, Chairman.
WM. L. ADAMS, Secretary.

—Pete Dill says he is determined to have the reliable old "Model Mill" put in first-class condition.
He has been in Indianapolis during the past week making contracts with that end in view.

—Col. John Dolan was in town last week. Mr. Dolan is comfortably settled in Kankakee, and is hopeful of the future—politically, religiously, morally and real es-tately.

—Harry Rogers and Miss Alice Hopewell were married on Tuesday evening last by Prof. Atwater.
They had prepared their home on East 7th street and drove from Prof.
Atwater's to their newly furnished residence.

MECHANICS' BAND.—This popular home organization will give a concert at the Opera House, on Thursday night, Dec. 17th, the proceeds to be applied on payment for new instruments. The Mechanics' Band is one of the institutions of Bloomington in which its citizens should feel a just degree of pride, and when an opportunity offers to aid them in a legitimate way like this, and in a way that will be a pleasure to the people, they should not hesitate to patronize them, but do so eagerly. The band will prepare a program that must suit all tastes.

—Rev. G. W. Luccock's youngest child is quite sick with symptoms of pneumonia.

Marion Wood arrested.

Marion Wood was arrested in Orange county, on Dec. 1st, charged with the murder of John T. Webb, which was committed Nov.
15. The affidavit was sworn out by the widow of the murdered man seven days previously. Wood was brought before Esquire Haddleson, but the State not being ready he was committed to jail to await a hearing Friday. There was an effort made at the coroner's inquest to fasten the crime on Wood, but not enough evidence could be found to warrant an arrest. Wood and Webb had had trouble, and each had made threats against the other, and as a consequence public opinion at once accused Wood of the crime, and there appears, however, to be only enough evidence against Wood to cast a dark suspicion around him. Wood went to Orange county three years ago from this county, and married a wealthy young widow, to whom has just been born a son. Wood owned a farm a short distance north of Bloomington, and was industrious, thrifty, and was regarded as a good citizen. Webb, the murdered man, was a quarrelsome, fighting man—a very disagreeable neighbor—and it is said that he threatened to kill Wood. The Monroe county friends of Wood earnestly hope that the evidence will prove him guiltless of the crime charged.

Serious Freight Wreck on the Monon.

The Monon has been quite free from wrecks during the past year, but on Tuesday morning of last week two freight trains crashed into each other at full speed just north of Crawfordville. The train coming south had received orders at Lafayette "to meet around 74 at Crawfordville," but the conductor and engineer read the "2nd" as "No.," which would indicate that there was only one section of "74" instead of two. Engine 34 was with the way freight, southbound, and engine 74 was going north with the through freight. Dad Henderson, engineer on 34, saw the northbound train as he rounded the curve north of the bridge, and saw that the trains would meet on the bridge, so he put on all steam in order to clear the bridge before the crash. This he accomplished by 800 feet, but made the collision more serious, as 34 was coming down grade at a furious speed and met 74, which was still under way.
The engines reared up and fell over on the east side of the track and down an embankment ten feet high.
Henderson, of No. 34, stayed with his engine, went down with the wreck, and was found under engine, coal car, car of cement and a car of hauled mill-feed. He was rescued, taken to the residence of Agat Watson, where the injuries were dressed. His leg, hip and head were badly injured, and he seems to be hurt internally also.
Engineer Spoor, who jumped from the northbound engine, is in bed, and is suffering from injuries on his head and knee. Two hands clearing the wreck were injured, one having his foot mangled and the other an arm injured. This is the second time that Henderson has stuck with his engine in a smash-up.

The two engines fell over upon a car-load of hogs which had been thrown from the track, mangled the churn to splinters, killing many of the hogs and maiming many others which had to be killed. Several hogs that were fastened under the engines were shot to put them out of their misery. On top of the engines were the demolished tenders, a car loaded with barrels of cement, a car of mill feed and two cars of stone. The pile was over twenty feet high, parts of the cars that were demolished, cement, large blocks of stone and car wheels being scattered over a half acre of ground.

Persons to whom the "Progress" has written with reference to delivering stove wood will oblige us by a reply of some kind. If you've got it and will deliver it we wish to know it.

At the meeting of the Monroe County Medical Society some very interesting reports and papers were read. The meetings of this Association grow in interest, and are both instructive and profitable to all participants.

University Notes.

Miss Mary Ardery has gone to her home in Greenburg on account of ill health.
She will be in college next term.
W. E. Jenkins, '91, of the Anderson High School, was the guest of friends a few days last week.

Theda held open meeting at the home of the Misses Perry Saturday evening.

Miss Esther Waters has left college for the rest of the term.

A petition is in circulation asking that college be dismissed on Friday of next week.

As a result of Dr. Coulter's visit to Madison, Wis., the curriculum of the University of Wisconsin will be arranged on the same plan as that of Indiana University.

Phi Kappa Psi will give another social Friday evening.

The High gave a social in their hall Friday evening.

A petition is in circulation asking for a Monday holiday instead of Saturday.
This system is in vogue at DePauw, and has proved very satisfactory.

—A very serious accident occured on Samuel Strong's farm, west of Bloomington, recently. For several years Dwight Landers, a son of Hon. Franklin Landers of Indianapolis, has been making his home with friends west of town, and while putting away a team of horses he was kicked on the head and sustained injuries that may yet result in death. As he was alone the manner in which he was injured is left to conjecture, but the marks of the horse's hoofs are plainly shown. The upper jawbone was crushed and broken, and an extensive fracture was found on one side of his head. Trephining was found to be necessary, and this was performed by Drs. Harris and Lowder.

—Oil stoves for heating purposes are coming into use in Indianapolis.
It is claimed that the oil can be furnished at five cents per gallon, and that by the use of a new patent burner these stoves fill all require-
