—There are about 1,500,000 people in the world, with very nearly an equal division of sex. One-fourth of the people born die before the 15th year, and the average duration of life is about 33 years; 33,033,000 people die each year, making a total of 91,501 each day, 3770 each hour, 62 each minute, and about one each second.

—In regard to his own candidacy for President John Sherman said: "I am all over the hallucinations. I do not expect the nomination or give myself concern about it. My judgment is that Harrison will be nominated on first ballot. If he is not I can then see he is in danger. If he is not nominated on first ballot, the convention may go to Blaine. I am not expecting the nomination, and am doing nothing to promote it. My name will not be mentioned in the convention unless Mr. Harrison is defeated and the delegates are seeking another man. I am in no sense a candidate."

—The State convention of the People's Party nominated for Governor, Leroy T. Templeton; Lt. Governor, Dr. Housner; Secretary of State, Jesse L. Hobson; Auditor of State, Lewis Caston; Treasurer, Townsend Coker; Attorney-General, E. Verandez; Sup't. of Public Instruction, J. H. Allen; Statistician, C. H. Bliss; Reporter, W. H. Dewey; Supreme court judges, Adam Stockman, Silas M. Shepard, N. J. Bort; Appellate judges, J. N. Pierce, Joseph Daily, H. C. Barnett, David W. Chambers, Jno. S. Baker.

The platform demands that the government should own the telegraph system and transportation lines of the country. It declares that the right to vote was inherent in citizenship without regard to sex; that all property be held at a fair cash value and credit be given for all bona-fide indebtedness; that land owned by aliens be reclaimed by the government; that the government pay the soldiers the difference between gold and the depreciated money in which they were paid; that the public officers be paid what their services are worth in open market, and that the State be re-districted with absolute fairness. The convention voted down a minority report condemning the liquor traffic.

—The Prohibition party in State convention assembled last week, nominated for the following ticket: For Governor, Rev. Aaron Wirh; Lt. Governor, C. W. Culbertson; Secretary of State, Jas. McCormick; Auditor of State, Frank Taggart; Treasurer of State, H. H. Moore; Attorney-General, C. S. Dobbins; Reporter of the Supreme Court, John W. Bair; Sup't. of Public Instruction, E. A. Devore; State Statistician, M. E. Shiel; Supreme Judge (3d Dist.) Robert Denny; Appellate Judges, John Baker, John D. Gouger and Jno. B. Joyce.

—In the latter part of 1893 when the war vessels now in course of construction are completed, the United States will stand seventh in the list of naval powers, according to the estimate of the House Naval Committee. Great Britain, France, Italy, Russia, Germany and Spain, in this order, will be ahead of us at that time, and only three. Half a dozen other nations as well as these are ahead of us now, as seen by the committee's figures. We must not remain behind Germany and Spain, however. Nor should we allow Italy to lead us. We have greater resources and a far longer coast line than any of these three nations, and we need a stronger navy.

—Arthur Bisot, an escaped convict, after an absence of twelve years, returned to the prison south last Wednesday, of his own accord. Bisot was sent from Bedford, Lawrence county, for the killing of a town marshal, and was given a life sentence. He was then eighteen years of age and the murder was committed Christmas night, 1876. The sentences passed upon Bisot almost broke his mother's heart, and she was taken ill of brain fever. A long sickness followed, and her physician became convinced that the presence of her son would save her life. He was given a sixty days' furlough by Governor Williams upon the assurance that he would return within that time. His mother recovered, and Bisot never returned to the penitentiary. Bisot was pardoned by Governor Chase on Thursday.

In putting the sixteen pound weight, Shafer came first at 30 ft. 2 in. with Murdock second at 29 ft. 5 in. In the standing broad jump, Hottell came first at 9 ft. 8 in., with Simpson second at 9 ft. 7 in. In throwing the base ball Utter came first at 337 ft., breaking the State record; Daily came second at 319 ft. 2 in.; Olin also made a good throw at 315 feet. In the hop, step and jump Sample came first at 35 ft. 10 in. In throwing the 16-pound hammer Shafer came first at 59 ft. 3 in.; Mitchell second at 48 ft. 4 in. In the standing high jump Hottell came first at 4 ft. 7 in.; Milroy second at 4 ft. 5 in. In the running high jump Milroy came first at 5 ft. In the 200-yard dash, Nesbitt came first at 31 1/2 seconds, with Hottell second at 31 seconds, and Hottell came first at 35 ft. 10 in. In the one-mile run, Milroy came first at 6 minutes 38 1/2 seconds, with Summers second.

Lightning Change-Makers.

(From Pittsburg Dispatch)

There are men and women in New York who handle money in small quantities from 5c. to 95c. who acquire a skill and dexterity absolutely marvelous. They are cashiers of restaurants, popular dining and lunch rooms, where the rush is very great at certain hours during the day, and where everything in the shape of payment comes along in what is called "change," that is in amounts less than $1, and never uniform. It may be a young girl, or a young man, who never had any former experience in handling coin or notes, but he, or she, becomes so expert, that is makes an ordinary business man's head swim to watch them. One of those lightning change artists, a red-headed young man named Hayward, who is in a big lunch room near the postoffice, has a long standing wage of $10,000 that he can beat anybody making change, bar none. And that young man is certainly wonderful. Like those of many women in the Redemption Bureau of the Treasury at Washington his motions are too swift for the ordinary eye to count, saying nothing of the money feature. But the work of the Treasury woman expert counter is with round numbers and bills alone; this involves constantly varying amounts of minor coin and bills together. Certain hours of every day will find an unbroken line of customers with lunch checks and money passing the cashier's desk. To see young Hayward manipulating those checks and coins and bills is a curiosity.

—A good story is told of the late Dr. Thayer, of Burlington, concerning his experience at a hotel in Cincinnati, where he stopped, while attending a National Medical Congress years ago. Arriving late in the evening, he went immediately to bed. Upon inspecting his bill, previous to leaving, Dr. Thayer saw that he was charged for a supper on the night of his arrival, and inquired as to same, saying he had had no supper that night. "But," the clerk said, "you were here; you might have had it." "Oh, well," said the Doctor, "I can fix that," whereupon he immediately made out a bill against the hotel for medical services, the amount covering the charge for the supper. Upon presenting the same to the clerk, the latter said: "Doctor, I was not aware we had called on you for medical service." "Oh, no," said Dr. Thayer, "but I was here, and you might have done so." The procedure, being so original, so pleased the proprietor that he presented Dr. Thayer with the whole bill, and asked him cordially to make him a visit in the future.

—Ex-Governor Robert Taylor, of Tennessee, who is lecturing in the south on "The Fiddle and the Bow," tells this story during the lecture. He was once talking to an old celled gentleman when he asked: "Well, John, what are you doing these days, any how?" "I'm a zorter now, I is, Mars Bob."

"An exhorter you mean."

"Yass, sir—er zorter—dat's hit."

"I thought you was a preacher. What's the difference between a preacher and an exhorter, John?"

"Difference 'twixt er zorter an er preacher is zactly dis: Preacher, he stick to de text; but the zorter, he hits all around."

—The following cases have been continued till the October term of circuit court:

Monon railway vs. Chicago & Bedford Stone Co.; Jacob W. Hargrave vs. J. L. W. Yost, damages for malpractice; John M. Deckerd vs. Germania Fire Insurance Co. This case was reversed in supreme court and sent back for another trial.

Thos. I. Owens vs. Walter S. Robertson and Chas. Colpitts, suit on note, jury disagreed last term, continued; Andrew Brown vs. Monon railway, damages; Patsy Collins vs. Henry Rhorer, suit to recover old coin found on latter's farm; John R. East vs. City of Bloomington, damages; Robert Wilson vs. Western Union Telegraph Co., damages for failure to deliver message; Ben F. Mugg vs. Monon railway, suit for damages for killing Ann Duncan; E. K. Miller vs. Charles Ross, damages for hogs rooting up lots; Frank Streat vs. Monon railway, damages; W. P. Dill vs. Joel H. Morgan, to quiet title; Patrick Finley vs. Monon, damages for failure to deliver billiard tables; Amanda Colpitts vs. Bloomington civil township, damages for injuries received by driving over bad roads; S. W. Wooden vs. Frank Kinner, to quiet title; Geo. Lamplins vs. Jacob W. Richardson, damages for injuries sustained in a fight; Howard G. Osgood vs. James C. Brown, appeal from survey; Wm. Nunn vs. Samuel Butcher, slander.

—It will soon be the time when neighbors and friends will fall out and abuse each other shamefully, all because they cannot see alike politically. It is all well enough for everybody to have party preferences, but it is altogether out of reason to want to massacre each other because we all can't see and vote alike. Let us all dwell together in peace if not in unity of thought and mind.—Salem News.

The above is a text from which an elaborate sermon might be profitably preached. The common people neglect their homes and their work to crowd around the speakers' stands, and get furiously mad as they are goaded by the taunts of rival orators, fully expecting that these long-winded fellows will fight each other on sight; when the cold fact is that they very often follow together, eat together, and not infrequently get drunk together. More work and less excitement would be better for the people of these United States during a presidential canvass.
