The War on Pensioners.

There is no longer any doubt that the new congress will make war on the pension laws. It is not only the south that will demand a radical modification of the laws, but the Northern Democratic press is beginning to be outspoken. The South is on record as voting solidly against every one of the laws. The excuse which some advance for their votes will be the necessity of reducing government expenditures, to bring them within the limit of the revenue collections.

The Philadelphia Record says:

The pension laws should be codified, and the pension list purged and cut down to reasonable proportions, and a reform administration, Democratic in all its branches, will not be excused by the people if it shall neglect or decline to undertake the task.

The New York World says:

It will be the duty of the Democratic president and congress to revise the pension list in the interest alike of the deserving veterans and of an imperiled treasury.

Of course nothing of this sort was said before the election. Mr. Cleveland has said something about "rolls of honor" and "meritorious service" but we all know how the 150 voters in congress from the south are to dictate the terms of legislation.

It is announced that the Illinois Steel Company will soon close its mills, throwing 3,500 hands out of employment, without waiting for the Democratic tariff smashers to compel such a proceeding.

The college professors' side in campus war, but the future belongs to the side of the college students, just the same.

Thirty-five years ago an Indian farmer would give his grocer five dozen eggs for a pound of sugar and it was not very good sugar at that. Now he can get twenty pounds of sugar for his five dozen eggs, and it is the best granulated sugar. In the old times it took three pounds of butter to buy a yard of calico; now the same amount of butter will buy ten yards of calico. Protection has done it.

There is talk of taking down the ceiling decorations of one of the Cambridge City churches, because the congregation looks at them so hard when the plate is being passed.

It so happens that the Republican lose an election in Ohio in one of the strongest Republican districts, one in which General Grosvenor had a large plurality for Congress, but the elections in Ohio are candidates-at-large and the election of one Democratic legislator was due to unintentional blunders in voting the Australian ballot.

One of the causes of Harrison's defeat is to be found in the fact that the Republicans did not have the same facilities for keeping Democratic voters away from the polls in the North that the Democrats had for keeping Republicans away from the polls in the South.

Farmers who have sheep to shear should prepare to sell them now, as they will not be worth much when the Democrats begin tinkering with the wool tariff.

OVERWORKED WOMEN.—Now that labor organizations have done so much for themselves, why should they not turn their energies toward the alleviation of the condition of the wives and mothers of their members? Many of these, we do not question, work not eight or ten hours a day, but fourteen or sixteen in the engrossing cares of the household. Legislation cannot reduce the hours of their labor or remove the necessities which prescribe them. The State has been giving to the man shorter hours of work every year, but there has been no corresponding reduction in the hours of women's work at home. Surely here is a problem better worth the intelligent study of organized labor than many which now engross its attention.—Albany Argus.

A lady, driving a blind horse, overturned her buggy on a bridge without business and was thrown to the ground below, sustaining injuries for which she sued the county commissioners of Jackson county for $25,000. The case was hotly contested by a strong array of legal talent. The jury returned a verdict of $5,000 for the injured woman. Of the merits of this particular case we know nothing, but it serves as a forcible reminder to Road Supervisors, County Commissioners and all officers who are in any way connected with the building, care and repairs of bridges that a constant liability attaches to the county on account of unsafe bridges. Officers should look well to this matter, see that every bridge is properly protected on the sides, that the floor is sound, the approaches safe and the sleepers and foundations solid.

The fact that three train robbers got only a mighty small swag out of a Pullman car full of passengers near Hot Springs, the other day, says the Indianapolis Sun, can be explained when it is understood that the passengers had been aboard of the car long enough for the porter to get a whiff at them, and the robbers couldn't find him.

PROOF.—"You have a charming home, sir, and if you will permit me to say so, you have a most amiable wife." "You're right, my friend; I refuse my wife nothing, and she will tell you so herself. Come, open your mouth, Mary, and show the new set of teeth I bought you yesterday." If she had used South American Nerveine no new teeth would have been needed.

HOGS HIGH AND SCARCE.—The pork-packing establishments about the city are exceedingly busy; more so, in fact, than for many years at this season. Hogs are scarce and higher in price, the conditions being such that the packers are exercising much caution. They are only buying for trade needs. The concerners are so accustomed at this season of the year to having supplies much in excess of the demand that a decline in prices has been attributed to the panic among the farmers last June. At that time when the raisers thought that the corn crop would be short, hogs were sold so freely that they now have few on hand. Since the price of hogs have advanced, the farmers are rapidly selling their corn. It is thought that eventually this will result in a better supply of hogs. Kingan & Co. are killing between one-third and one-fourth more hogs at present than they usually do at this period. They are shipping mostly to England, where the demand is fair for the supply.—Indianapolis News.

George W. Cooper, it is said, is looking a little pale just now. When sixty or a hundred Democrats from the best element of the party call on him to change his position on the postoffice question, and are met with a refusal, it is enough to make him pale. If he can escape an attack of heart trouble with what is yet to come, no life insurance company need fear to write him a policy.—Columbus Republican.

Cholera Next Spring. New York, Nov. 30.—Six of the twelve members of the Senate

Immigration Committee met this morning, and adjourned about half-past 1 o'clock. Dr. Cyrus Edison, of the Health Board, was present during most of the session, and gave his views on the cholera question. He believed, he said, that under the existing conditions of immigration laws, cholera would invade this city next spring. When told that the committee had under consideration the advisability of stopping immigration for a year, he said this course would be the surest way to prevent the entrance of cholera to this country. The Senators have not yet reached any decision upon any of the questions under discussion.

Cincinnati's New Paper.

It will be called The Tribune and will sell for Two Cents.

The new morning paper for Cincinnati is a certainty. One of the strongest companies ever organized in Cincinnati for any purpose is back of it. The list of stockholders comprises nearly one hundred of the leading business men of that city. The capital stock is $200,000. Its directors are: Archer Brown, President; Frank H. Baldwin, Vice President; Stephen H. Wither, Treasurer; Albert Lawson, Secretary; James H. Gamble, Asst. Secy.; Ferris, James J. Hooker, Alexander Offner, Albert Erkenbrecher.

The Tribune (which is to be the name of the new paper) will not only be the best located newspaper office in Cincinnati, but it will also be in one of the handsomest buildings in the city, the nine-story Ritz building, on Main street, directly opposite the postoffice. Hoe & Co. of New York, are working on the finest equipment for it ever ordered from Cincinnati. The Tribune will be entirely free from sensationalism of every kind, and it is the intention to make it the best and most popular paper in the Ohio valley. It will be Republican in politics, and will sell for two cents. Albert Lawson, formerly with the St. Louis Republic, will be the Tribune's managing editor, and Charles E. Scoville, formerly with the old Cincinnati Gazette, and later with the Chicago Herald, will be its business manager. The Tribune will make its appearance about the holidays.

Globe-Democrat: There is no better specific for rheumatism than earth worm oil. It is commonly made by taking two or three dozen of the largest earth worms that can be found, and placing them in a tin or iron cup over the fire. In a few moments the worms will dissolve into a fine oil, which is then strained and may be bottled, tightly corked and set away for use. It should be employed as a liniment, and the stiff rheumatic joints well rubbed with this natural lubricant, will recover their former flexibility.

Farmers' Institute Program. The Monroe County Farmers' Institute will hold its annual session at the court house Dec. 18th and 17th. Frank M. Rogers will act as chairman and the program will be as follows:

FIRST DAY.
9:30. Welcome address, Senator Falk. Response by Senator J. A. Mendenhall. Address by Dr. W. R. Baldwin: "How to Bring Farm Labor on an Equality with Professional Labor."
1:00. "Landing in Farm Products." Ben. Walden.
1:00. "The Horse." T. A. Logan.
"Good Roads a necessity in securing the best results financially, and the highest development mentally and socially." J. A. Mount.
"The Home and Woman's Place Therein." Mrs. J. K. Beck.
1:00. "The Future of Agriculture in the West." Dr. R. M. Weir.
"How to better the intellectual and social condition of Farmers." Mrs. J. A. Mount.

SECOND DAY.
9:30. Address, "Sheep Husbandry," Riley Sanders.
"Mistakes and Possibilities of Rural Life." Mrs. J. A. Mount.
"The Successful Farmer of To-day." W. H. B. Parks.
1:00. "Subject of his own selection." H. B. Hazel.
"The Farmer as a factor in Government." J. A. Mount.
"Less druggery and better success." J. F. Foster.
Good music will be the feature of all the meetings.

The present week will be full of attractions for those who enjoy theater going. On Wednesday night at the opera house, McCabe & Young's Colored Minstrels, 25 strong, are advertised to appear with full band and orchestra. "Our Married Men" will be the attraction Thursday night, presented by the great comedians, Clark & Williams. Friday night will be devoted to the spectacular Rip Van Winkle company with band and orchestra. You can take your choice, or take 'em all in.

IS THIS TRUE?
Ed. Progress: There is a 2-story, tumble-down house a half square west of Rogers street on 7th, in the two rooms of which live sixteen persons. Harrison Taylor, wife and six children occupy the first story room, while Lindsey Nash, wife and six children are domiciled in the room above. Nash is confined to his bed with consumption. There is much said about the crowded tenement districts of New York, but we doubt if the condition there could be much worse than this.

Want to Choose a Postmaster. Special to the Indianapolis Journal. COLUMBUS, Ind., Dec. 2.—A petition was formulated here to-day, and signed by more than two hundred leading Democrats, which demanded of Congressman Cooper that he change his position regarding who should be recommended for postmaster at this place during the incoming administration. The petition recited the fact that he had taught his constituents, in all his speeches, that the people should rule, and closed with the statement that the men who chose him as their representative in Congress did so with the belief that he meant what he said, and unless he conceded their demands by Dec. 15 they would construe his silence to mean a refusal to do so, and that they would act accordingly. The petition called for a settlement of the question by an election.

—Mr. Dolan, an experienced and successful woolen manufacturer of Philadelphia, recently remarked at a dinner that free wool would reduce the cost of a $75 suit by only 95 cents, but the New York Evening Post, which has had no experience in the woolen business, except to cry down American manufacturers, asserts that the reduction would be three times that figure, or $2.97. But the saving of $2.97 on a $75 suit would not justify the ruin of the wool-growing industry of this country.

A number of citizens of Lafayette and Morgan townships met to Owen on, to devise means to prevent the killing of sheep by dogs. Remarks by several indicated as the sense of the meeting that there was a mania among dogs, at this time, for killing sheep. Owners of dogs were asked to confine their dogs at night, by chaining up or attaching chain to a block of wood.

2. Tax on male and female dogs be increased. 3. When tenants are not responsible parties, the landlord shall be held liable for sheep killed by tenants' dogs. 4. The Register Dog law be repealed and the owners of sheep-killing dogs be run to insolvency before application for payment to trustees be made. 5. That actions be placed under additional responsibility to insure assessment of all dogs in their township. 6. That owners of sheep killed by dogs be allowed only the price given the assessor.

SHERIFF'S SALE.
By virtue of a certified copy of a decree and execution to me directed from the Clerk's office of Monroe circuit court, in a cause wherein Hannah Swift is plaintiff, and Jonathan Worrall, Sarah Worrall, Samuel Whinnand and Bertha Whinnand are defendants, requiring me to make the sale of the premises situated in the Township of Monroe, Indiana, and to the profit for a term not exceeding seven years, the following described real estate, situate in Monroe county, State of Indiana, to-wit:

SATURDAY, DEC. 21st, 1893, between the hours of 10 o'clock a. m. and 4 o'clock p. m. of said day, at the south door of the court house in Bloomington, Monroe county, Indiana, the rents and profits for a term not exceeding seven years, the following described real estate, situate in Monroe county, State of Indiana, to-wit:

The west half of the southwest quarter of section thirty-five (35) in township nine range two west.

Also fifty acres off of the east end of the north half of the southeast quarter of section thirty-four (34) in township nine range two west.

If such rents and profits will not sell for sufficient sum to satisfy said decree, interest and costs, I will at the same time and place, expose at Public Sale, the fee-simple of said real estate or so much thereof as may be sufficient to discharge said decree, interest and costs.

Said sale will be made without any relief whatever from valuation or appraisement laws.
