A Letter From Mrs. Graham. Friendswood, Ind., June 1, 1893.—To the Faris Bros. Druggists.—It has been some seven months since I visited your city and was so fortunate as to have my attention called to the South American Nerveine. Had suffered intensely for a number of years with nervous and sick headache, had hot flashes, was sleepless and became despondent. Some of my Bloomington friends spoke so highly of South American Nerveine that I was induced to buy a bottle—that purchased led to a number of others, and now I sleep soundly, feel buoyant, strong and vigorous, and seldom have headache. Those disagreeable "hot flashes" have disappeared, and I would not be back to the same condition I was in when I began to take the medicine for any sum you could name. I am respectfully, ISABELLA S. GRAHAM.

WEBSTER-WILSON.

Rev. John Hunter Webster and Miss Lora Wilson were married at 9 o'clock a. m., Thursday last, in the U. P. church. The audience room of the church was crowded with the friends of the contracting parties. We quote from the Telephone:

The ushers were George Gordon and James Gordon, of this city; Carson Webster, a cousin of the groom, of Xenia, O.; H. H. Crawford, Springfield, Ind.; and Orville Wilson, a cousin of the bride. As the guests entered the church the usher extended his arm to the lady and led the way to a seat. When the Kappa Alpha Thetas entered they were given seats to the front, on the right, and the family was seated opposite to the left. The ceremony was performed by Dr. J. G. Carson of Xenia, O., who is an uncle of the groom. Miss Wilson carried in her hands a beautiful bouquet of lilies. The bride wore a traveling suit, ashes of rose color, trimmed with Persian embroidery. The ceremony was most fitting and impressive and was closed by prayer by Rev. S. B. Lyons. The friends present from a distance were Dr. J. G. Carson, Xenia, O.; Miss Morse and Miss Brooks, Chicago; Miss Ada Wilson, Lebanon; James Carson Webster, Xenia, O.; Orville Wilson, Tarkio, Mo.; H. H. Crawford, Springfield, Ind.

The bride is a favorite in Bloomington society. She is a graduate of Indiana University and was an instructor in Tarkio, College, Mo., for a time. She also took a special course of study in the east. Mr. Webster is a United Presbyterian preacher, and is one of the brightest young men of the church. He is a graduate of Westminster College and also the Theological Seminary at Xenia, O., where he has recently completed his course. He has recently accepted a call at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, their future home. Both Mr. and Mrs. Webster have many friends who extend congratulations with wishes that their life together may be long and happy.

Immediately after the ceremony an informal reception was held at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Wilson, west 6th street, attended by a large number of friends. Mr. and Mrs. Webster were the recipients of a number of very beautiful and valuable presents, tokens from friends. Mr. and Mrs. Webster took the 10:15 train for Chicago, where they will remain a short time; then go to Tarkio, Mo., and from there to their future home in Cedar Rapids.

—If the Governor of Illinois were counsel for the anarchists he could not have acted more positively in their defense than he did in his attack upon Judge and jury in his long speech when he relieved them. His conduct will give fresh courage to anarchy, and is an invitation to burn and destroy.

—"Cap." the manly little son of W. J. Allen, met with what promised to be a serious accident, last Saturday afternoon. He and one of the farm hands were in a cart to which was attached a colt that were breaking to work in harness. The animal ran up on a bank, near the Thos. Faris farm, and spilled out the occupants of the cart, Cap. falling on his head. He was unconscious after the accident, and in that condition was brought to town, Mr. Allen having taken Dr. Weir with him to render medical aid. He was evidently suffering from concussion, but recovered consciousness at about 8 o'clock and now seems to be all right.

—Dee Everman, well known to many of our citizens, met with death while on a freight train near Stinesville, last Thursday evening. He had been fishing in White river, near Gosport, with a party of friends, and got on a freight train to go home to Ellettsville. While passing through a covered bridge near Stinesville he was struck on the right side of the head by one of the beams and knocked off, falling between two cars and across the bumpers. One of the brakemen climbed down the ladder and attempted to pull him up but the body was dragged beneath the wheels and both legs were crushed to a pulp. —World: George Langley, his mother 78 years old, and his sister, Mrs. Elias Smith, all of Tabor, were in a wreck on Tabor hill, and the mother and sister were hurt. They were in a one-horse spring wagon and as they were descending the steepest part of the hill and when near the top, some part of the harness broke, and horse, wagon and women all went over into a hollow fifteen feet deep. George seeing the danger to which they were exposed jumped out to make an effort to save his mother and sister, but was too late to prevent them from going over. There was a fence between the road and the hollow, the fence rails falling over grandma Langley, who was lying in a depression in the earth, prevented her from being crushed to death by the horse. Mrs. Smith's internal injuries are quite serious and inflammation is feared. This makes the second serious wreck there within a year.
