Senator Turpie's Brother Retu as to Delphi, Ind., as from the Tomb.

Delphi, Ind., special: After being mourned as dead for over thirty-five years, John Turpie, brother of Senator David Turpie, has been found in this city, to find the whole family dead except three brothers, one in Washington, one in Kansas City, and the other, Robert, occupying the old homestead. The story of John Turpie's life reads like a romance. In 1852 he left home in company with Robert Dickey, Dickey was taken ill at Hannibal, Mo., and never returned, but Turpie joined an outfit on train across the plains, bound for Salem, Oregon, and drove an ox team all that distance. For forty years he never saw a face from his home, nor heard from any one there. He spent three years hunting and trapping with the Indians and was for awhile a sailor on the Pacific coast. He is now residing at Astoria, Ore. He said that Senator Turpie, visited that place four or five years ago, with a number of other Senators, but as he was busy at the time he did not meet him. He said he looked Dave up. Unlike his brother, he is a stalwart Republican. The rise of values in Pacific slope lands has made him a rich man.

Wild Panic in a Synagogue.

A false alarm of fire was given recently in the synagogue at Culwraya, near Sunwalk. The building was crowded with worshippers, and a panic started at once for the two exits and despite the shouts of the rabbi that there was no fire, fought to get out. After a struggle of fifteen minutes, two-thirds of the congregation were still in the synagogue. As no fire had appeared they became calmer, and with the aid of the care takers the rabbi eventually restored quiet. Nine dead bodies were found near the exits and twenty persons lay unconscious and bleeding where they had been trampled. Fully 100 persons were injured in the rush, and many were being taken from wounds likely to cause death.

MANY LIVES CRUSHED OUT.

Awful Horror on the Walush Road, Near Kingsbury, Ind.

The second section of train No. 55 on the Walush Road met with a fearful accident near Kingsbury, Ind., at an early hour Friday morning. Twelve passengers were killed and over a score injured. The train left Detroit at 6:30 o'clock at night, and was due in Chicago at 7:15 o'clock in the morning. The first section of the train went through Kingsbury at a terrific rate of speed. A freight train was standing on a side track, and as the first section flew by the brakeman of the freight opened the switch and signaled his engine to come ahead. The freight started up and had just straightened out on the main track when the second section came crashing along at the rate of fifty miles an hour. There was a terrible crash and many lay dead, while others were mangled and maimed and shrieked in agony. The people living in the vicinity of the wreck threw open their homes to the passengers of the ill-fated train and nearly every house was soon transformed into a hospital. The train was wrecked near Kingsbury and other points bearing survivors and other aid. Some of the bodies were crushed beyond all recognition and only by the aid of identification was by the clothing and contents of the pockets. Most of the injured were lying beneath the bolsters of the dead, and the latter had to be carried out first. A rigid investigation has been ordered in order to fix responsibility for the terrible accident.

BIG BLOCKS IN RUINS.

Finest Business Structures in St. Joseph, Mo., Are Destroyed.

Three blocks of the finest business houses of St. Joseph, Mo., are in ruins and nearly 500 persons are homeless as a result of Monday. A cigarette store cast into the street from the fifth floor of the Towns and Wyatt building by a careless clerk. The store was a large one, and the fire spread rapidly. The water pressure was bad and the firemen fought at a disadvantage. A strong wind from the north carried the flames across the street to the magnificent Commercial Bank structure. It was soon in flames. The Central Savings Bank went next and then followed the Center Block. Assistance was asked from Toppick and Kansas City. The fire department brought detachments from those cities. The Bealzer & Shoup Grocery Company's new house was next to succumb, and $75,000 worth of goods dropped to the cellar. The Carby Block was next attacked and then Blawie & Co., the Hong Kong Tea Company, the Spencer Car Company and a dozen smaller ones went up. At this time dynamite was resorted to and a number of buildings blown up. Allen Laird and Oliver Knapp, two firemen, were killed in a ladder, and a number of others were badly hurt. Knapp probably fatally. Chief Kane, of the fire department, was badly burned, and a young man, George Hunter, lost three stores into a cellar. He was killed. Two ribs alone being broken.

BATTLE'S NEW WAR SHIP LOST.

So Sudden and Complete Is the Disaster That Only One Sailor Escapes.

A report of the sinking of the Haytian war ship Alexander Pottou was received in New York Friday. All on board, with one exception, were lost. The cause of the disaster is unknown. The disaster to the Pelton occurred on Sept. 6, about fifty miles south from Cape Tiburon. The cruiser had been sent into commission. She left Port-au-Prince on August 28, for Domingue. She had on board many distinguished passengers, among them being General Molins, San Domingo's envoy to the United States, and a number of other well-known diplomats. The suddenness and completeness of the disaster, only one sailor escaped, makes the affair most mysterious, and it is probable that the real cause will be known by the noble ship will never be known. According to the testimony of the sole survivor there was absolutely no warning. Nothing could be seen or heard, and a merged coral reef nor storm can account for the occurrence.

ROBBERS COME TO GRIEF.

One Would-be Daylight Burglar Killed and the Other Captured.

One of the most daring attempts at robbery in the history of Northern Indiana was made the other afternoon in the bank of the Chicago people at the Normal College at Valparaiso. As a result one of the would-be burglars, C. E. Robinson, lies cold in death, while his companion, J. H. Moody, is behind the bars of the county jail. The two men after leaving the office, after their plans to rob the safe had been frustrated, started on a run for the southeast of town, followed by about 1,000 students, officers, and citizens. Not a mile from the scene of the robbery one was shot and killed by Nathan Ross of Michigan City and the other slightly wounded by a bullet in the arm. The wounded man was himself attempting to shoot his pursuers.

Wild Flight Through the Air.

More dead than alive, Prof. S. A. King and Miss Joe Morris were taken from the balloon, Eagle Eye, near the Green Point lighthouse Friday night. The ascension was made from the World's Fair late in the afternoon. It was eminently successful, as far as the start was concerned, but the flight to sea was a terrible surprise to the thousands who watched the great globe and its occupants as it rose into the air. The people packed across a dozen acres enjoyed the sight while the danger didn't even seem remote. It was until the airship mounted until it seemed the balloon must be stopped and the fate of the two dots in the sky already sealed. The cheering multitude then grew silent. The air ship was blown from the fair grounds and was seen to be falling. It was above the surface of the lake at two feet a rope for a rescue party on board the cutter Andy Johnson to catch them. When the rescue vessel finally reached the balloon it was bounding along, alternately dragging its car through the breakers and rising a hundred feet at a time. The passengers were seen to be struggling at midnight. The Professor cool and collected, but thankful to get back, and the ally girl with enthusiasm over her trip. Miss Morris is a Iowa girl, and this was her first aerial experience.

Murdered by Anarchists.

Mrs. August Reese was murdered and her husband brutally and seriously beaten by anarchists at Albany, N.Y., Sunday morning two miles south of Pittsburg. Some time ago Mrs. Reese learned the secrets of the anarchists and their deadly work. She was killed by a bullet in the head. Her husband and wife were met by Mrs. Laiten and August Reese, anarchists, who at once opened fire. Mrs. Reese was killed at the second shot. The murderers then turned upon the husband and left him for dead.

Secretary Carlisle Says the Treasury Will Pay as far as Possible for Destroying the Chinese under the Opium Law.

A Death-Defying Recklessness. The railroads played the hot completely in the early stages of the World's Fair, thinking people could go anywhere. Later, they made slight reductions, and travel increased. Still further reductions resulted in still heavier traffic, and now they are deciding to close the roads to an attempt to have a longer time in which to reap their harvest. They are about to take steps to offer still further reductions in the rate of travel to the World's Fair. It is to be done on the hypothesis that the Fair will remain open for that period. A World's Fair director, who did not wish to be named, said: "The railroads are acting in the line of the policy of the dog in the manger to a discouraging perfection. Some weeks ago they concluded to try the ploy of decreasing the rate of travel to the Fair, and they have been hand over fist every since. They now see the seriousness of the mistake they made in the beginning. They fancy that by making a special plea to the stockholders they can secure an extension of the Fair. Well, they can do so much thing. The Fair will be closed Oct. 1. When cold weather comes on there is a building on the ground and the Fair is a habitable, and what few people might be attracted by low railroad rates would be disappointed, even if the impossibility of performing a successful season. The exhibitors after the period irrevocably set for their departure."

BAGGED THE BANDITS.

Missouri Train Robbers Are Foiled.

Attempt to Rob a Kansas City, St. Joe and Council Bluffs Train at Francis, Mo.—Find the Express Car Filled with Police Officers.

Two Killed and Three Captured.

Joyous unfettered in railroad circles at St. Joseph, Mo., over the clever ruse of the Kansas City, St. Joe and Council Bluffs train robbers, who were foiled in the death of two and capture of three express train robbers a mile and a half from that city. Information came to the officials late at night that train No. 3 would be held up near Francis, a village in the midst of a desolate waste. Action was immediately taken and a number of train robbers were captured. The chief of police and sixteen officers were on board and the train pulled out. When two miles out the engineer saw a lantern signaling a train to stop. He immediately slowed up and when the train was brought to a standstill a masked man jumped aboard the engine and held the train. Five others ran to the express car and demanded admittance. The door was opened and, two guarding without, three of the bandits jumped into the car with revolvers drawn. When fairly within the police stepped out of concealment and called upon the robbers to surrender. The robbers, who were surprised by the police, opened fire. A fusillade of shots was exchanged and when the smoke cleared away Ed Kohler and Hijo Inall were lying dead, while the other three were captured. The robbers were taken to the jail at St. Joseph. The train returned to St. Joseph, where the three prisoners were locked up and the train was taken to the undertaker. It was the most successful route the robbers have taken since they were captured. There is great rejoicing over the result. All of the train robbers lived in St. Joseph.

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN.

NERVINE TONIC

AND

Stomach and Liver Cure

The Most Astonishing Medical Discovery of the Last One Hundred Years.

It is Pleasant to the Taste as the Sweetest Nectar. It is Safe and Harmless as the Purest Milk.

This wonderful Nervine Tonic has only recently been introduced into this country by the proprietors and manufacturers of the Great South American Nervine Tonic, and yet its great value as a curative agent has long been known by a few of the most learned physicians, who have not brought its merits and value to the knowledge of the general public.

This medicine has completely solved the problem of the cure of indigestion, dyspepsia, and diseases of the general nervous system. It is also of the greatest value in the cure of all forms of falling health from whatever cause. It performs this by the great curative tonic qualities which it possesses, and by its great curative powers upon the digestive organs, the stomach, the liver and the bowels. No remedy compares with this wonderfully valuable Nervine Tonic as a builder and strengthener of the life forces of the human body, and as a great renewer of a broken-down constitution. It is also of more real permanent value in the treatment and cure of diseases of the lungs than any consumption remedy ever used on this continent. It is a marvelous cure for nervousness of females of all ages. Ladies who are approaching the critical period known as change in life, should not fail to use this great Nervine Tonic, almost constantly, for the space of two or three years. It will carry them safely over the danger. This great strengthener and curative is of inestimable value to the aged and infirm, because its great energizing properties will give them a new hold on life. It will add ten or fifteen years to the lives of many of those who will use a half dozen bottles of the remedy each year.

Broken Constitution, Debility of Old Age, Indigestion and Dyspepsia, Heartburn and Sour Stomach, Weight and Tenderness in Stomach, Loss of Appetite, Frightful Dreams, Dizziness and Ringing in the Ears, Weakness of Extremities and Impaired Circulation, Impure and Impoverished Blood, Boils and Carbuncles, Scrofula, Scrofulous Swellings and Ulcers, Consumption of the Lungs, Catarrh of the Lungs, Bronchitis and Chronic Cough, Liver Complaint, Chronic Diarrhea, Delicate and Scrofulous Children, Summer Complaint of Infants.

All these and many other complaints cured by this wonderful Nervine Tonic.

IT IS A GREAT REMEDY FOR THE CURE OF NERVOUS DISEASES.

As a cure for every class of Nervous Diseases, no remedy has been able to compare with the Nervine Tonic, which is very pleasant and harmless in all its effects upon the youngest child or the oldest and most delicate individual. Nine-tenths of all the ailments to which the human family is heir are dependent upon nervous exhaustion and impaired digestion. When there is a general state of debility of the brain, spinal marrow, and nerves is the result. Starved nerves, like starved muscles, become strong when the right kind of food is supplied; and a thousand weaknesses and ailments disappear as the nerves recover. As the nervous system must supply all the power by which the vital forces of the body are carried on, it is the first to suffer for want of perfect nutrition. Ordinary food does not contain a sufficient quantity of the kind of nutriment necessary to repair the wear our present mode of living and labor imposes upon the nerves. For this reason it becomes necessary that a nerve food be supplied. This South American Nervine has been found by analysis to contain the essential elements out of which nerve tissue is formed. This accounts for its universal adaptability to the cure of all forms of nervous derangement.

REMARKS, WASHINGTON, D. C., August 28, 1887. "I have been in a distressed condition for three years from Nervousness, Weakness of the Stomach, Dyspepsia, and indigestion, until my health was gone, and I had been doctoring constantly, with no relief. I bought one bottle of this South American Nervine, which done me more good than any $50 worth of doctoring I ever did in my life. I would advise every person to use this valuable and lovely remedy; a few bottles of it has cured me completely. I consider it the greatest medicine in the world."
