A dispatch from Shanghai says that Japan is pouring fresh troops into Korea and that up to 30,000 Japanese soldiers are now in Korean territory. The Chinese fleet, according to the same dispatch, is remaining inactive. In Japan the war fever is intense and universal, the press and popular orators preaching to the excited people of vastly ambitious schemes, including the conquest of China, or at least the coast, nest of the Chinese province of Manchuria. The Japanese populace and press are under complete official control. Perfect order reigns among the towns and cities. BIDES IT IN THE TOMB.

C. H. Budd Dies from Injuries Caused by a Misplaced Switch.

G. H. Budd, the inventor who received fatal injuries in the explosion at Dolles & Chicago's quarry, tried to tell the secret of his explosive before he died at the Presbyterian Hospital. He was unable to disclose it and the knowledge gathered in his years of research and experiment passed with him to the grave. The chief secret of the compound was that it would explode when it was heated. Budd, a romantic, had labored and studied to find a secret impossible—there was a premature explosion, and Budd's three assistants were killed.

WHEAT A FULL YIELD.

Minnesota and the Dakotas Report Second Largest Crop.

Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota are likely to produce this year the second largest wheat crop in their history. The Agricultural Department at Washington announced in its July report that eighteen States would produce this year 100,000,000 bushels of wheat, and that from early prospects, not unsatisfactory, drought, and this estimate, the impression has been gained by business men and others that this is a year of reduced wheat yield. Instead of the Government's estimate being true, they are ridiculous, for the probability is that the two States of Minnesota and North Dakota have this year produced practically the amount of wheat that the two States together have produced. In other words, the yield in these two States is more likely to exceed 100,000,000 bushels, leaving South Dakota to bring the yield of the three States up to 125,000,000 bushels, as against about 120,000,000 for the three States last year. And these estimates are probably about minimum. It need be no surprise if 110,000,000 bushels, but as the trade demands conservative figures, the two States are estimated at 105,000,000, and 20,000,000 for South Dakota, making a total of 125,000,000 as the spring wheat crop for 1894.

HEAVY LOSS IN CORN.

Consumers Will Have to Pay the Larger Price.

R. G. Dur & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says:

The increase in corn discloses a general belief that the injury to this most important crop has been so great as to affect materially the traffic of railroads, the demand for manufactured products, the value of meat and other articles. The marquis de Saxe and are entirely disabled our country will have to face a real calamity in the loss of something like 100,000,000 bushels. The market has to show the advance of 14 cents in two weeks and 9 cents later. Neither official nor unofficial statements as yet preclude the hope that the injury will not be so great as to affect the market price. 150,000,000 bushels would cost as much as 200,000,000 bushels, which would have cost a fortnight ago. Wheat rose 3½ cents in the forward and 2½ cents in the market. The Western wheat crop is 223,126,000 last year. Atlantic exports are still about half as large as last year, 13,000,485 bushels 2,217,000 last year. Corn products have twice risen and again declined 1-18, with increasing prospect of a very large yield, closing without change for the week.
