ANY MAN who has been appointed Executor, Administrator or Guardian should never give an order for the inclusion of his advertising in a newspaper till he investigates the claims of the Progress. Demand that the legal advertising be sent to the Progress office, where it will be done carefully and correctly, the proprietor having had over twenty years' experience in that class of business.

THE FARMER'S FRIEND

Of Fort Wayne, Ind.,

Is one of the best papers of its class in the State, and should be taken by every family that resides on a farm. To any of our agricultural friends who pay $1.50 cash in advance subscription to the "Progress," the Farmers' Friend will be sent free for one year. This is in advance, and full $1.50 subscription, remember.

Although 1,440 pension claims were submitted to the Senate and House during the session just closed, but 156 cases were reported back from the committees, and of these only thirteen were finally passed upon by Congress. Of these, eight related to soldiers of the late war and five to those of other wars. One of those granted was to the widow of a Democrat who was a brigadier general, and, although in comfortable circumstances, she was voted $100 a month.

Grabbing the School Fund.

Deputy Attorney General Wallace, of Green Smith's force, was in the city Friday and Saturday seeking the unexpended state tuition balances in the hands of the Putnam township trustees. In a talk with Mr. Wallace Saturday he furnished the Banner Times the township amounts due which are as follows: Madison, $69.82; Jackson, $82.05; Warren, $408.76; Marion, $58.98; Franklin, $178.58; city of Greencastle, $1408.80. These amounts are what remain of the state tuition fund in the hands of the township trustees in excess of $100 as provided by the law the attorney general is working under. Green Smith gets twenty per cent. of the amount so collected and his rake off on Putnam's funds will be, if he gets the city amount, $417.60. This will go to enrich the Democratic attorney general and it seems that is all the law was passed for. The funds collected will be reapportioned and redistributed in January, but it is doubtful whether any of it will escape the ravages of the Indianapolis crowd that will handle it.—Greencastle Banner.

James C. Robinson has sold a half interest in his west side grocery store to Lawson Farris, who for a number of years has been his most trusted salesman. Mr. Robinson has always felt free to leave his business with Mr. Farris at any time, knowing that it would be as jealously guarded and as faithfully looked after as if he were himself behind the counters. There is no uncertainty about Farris' success.

Jesse Overstreet, Republican candidate for Congress in this district, is making an active canvass. He is an energetic and untiring worker and will be heard from frequently, and to some purpose.

FAIR NOTES.

Bring 25 ears of yellow corn to the fair and get $1.

If you have a big pumpkin, bring it to the fair and get $1.00 for it.

Go to the Fair and take the family, if you wish to see something that you will always remember.

Bring a bushel of oats to the fair and get $2 for it. It is better than selling your oats at 25 cents per bushel.

Bring 25 ears of white corn to the fair and get $1. Pick them out and lay them away, you have just as good corn as anybody else. Get a catalogue.

Boys, boys, boys! Don't forget that the Big Bloomington Fair offers $25 for the bicycle race, one-half mile, best two in three heats.

The rule in all departments of the Big Bloomington Fair is where there is no competition you will get either the first or second premium, as the merit of your entry deserves.

It will pay every man who has a good bushel of wheat to bring it to the fair. They will give you $5 if you have the best, and $2.50 for the second best. This is better than selling your wheat at 45 cents a bushel.

There will be an old-fashioned slow mule race this year with the riders changed. Bring on your mules and let us make this one the funniest and best things at the fair grounds. The fair offers $5.00 premium.

Rules as to entry fee have been changed as follows: In all entries in all departments, where the first premium is less than one dollar, no entry fee is charged. But in all entries where the first premium is one dollar or more, the entry fee is 10 per cent. on first premium.

The Sheep Department with Mr. A. Rogers as superintendent. The premiums are increased over last year and remember the rule is, this year, you get a premium whether there is any competition or not.

The Cattle Department, with H. D. Headley as Superintendent, is the most complete of any County Fair in Indiana. Get a premium list. Awards given by an expert. Remember you get a premium whether there is competition or not.

The Hog Department, under Wm. A. Rogers, is larger and better than ever. Premiums are given on all breeds and grades of hogs, and you can get a premium whether there is any competition or not.

For the first time in ten years the fair offers premiums for the following exhibits: old-fashioned ginger bread, doughnuts, graham bread, cider, sorghum molasses, sorghum sugar, all kinds of wine and old-fashioned pumpkin butter and many other different items. Get a catalogue of the Secretary, C. B. Worrall, or drop him a card and he will send you one.

Premiums on grapes have been changed as follows:

Best plate Catawbas,	50c
" " Concord,	50c
" " Moore's Early,	50c
" " Niagara,	50c
" " I. U. Seedling,	50c
" " Any other kinds,	50c

Each plate to consist of not less than six bunches. The premium for the best twelve varieties has been stricken out.

Remember the Horse Department at the Big Bloomington Fair, this year. The premiums are doubled all through. Charles Ousler is Superintendent, and that is a guarantee that the horsemen will be well looked after. He is a good judge of horses himself, and the premiums in this department will all be awarded by an expert from the city, who will pass judgment strictly on the merit, according to the points the horse scores, and he will give to the owner, if he asks for it, of each horse entered for premium, a written statement of the points he is lacking in. No owner will be allowed to take his horse in the ring but must send the horse in by the groom. This is done to avoid all favoritism or appearance of it. The outlook now is that this department will be the largest of any fair in Southern Indiana, and the show of horses will be the finest. Already a number of stalls are engaged.

The Board of Trustees of the M. E. church has adopted the following resolution in reference to the return of Rev. Steele to the pastorate here:

INDIANA STATE FAIR.

The meeting of the Indiana State Fair for 1894 promises to be of more than usual interest. All indications point to a most comprehensive and elaborate display in all of the departments. The dates selected, Sept. 17, 18, 19, 20, 21 and 22, are especially satisfactory to the people of all parts of the State, as at that time all can well afford to leave the farm and work shop for a season.

The races during the Fair will be one of the most interesting attractions. Some of the best horses in the country are already entered, and the success of this feature is already assured. With the finest and fastest track in the country, those who enjoy good races can not afford to miss the State Fair.

The railroads will give a half-fare rate, and the fare may be even lower. Watch the dates and arrange to attend.

A firm in Ohio—The Christy Knife Co., of Fremont, are offering a Nine Hundred Dollar Steinway Grand Piano to the person sending the largest amount of cash for their goods before December 31, 1901.

A chance to get a Steinway Grand Piano is something unusual. Our young people ought to take advantage of it. Any number of families would be glad to help them with the price. The Christy Knife Co. of Fremont, Ohio, will bring an answer immediately, giving full particulars.

Well Treated Horses. Farm, Stock and Horses. Horses many times are abused unconsciously by their owners. There are more ways of being cruel to a horse than overloading or beating him. Are the horses always watered in town before starting back over the hot, dusty roads? Doubtless the driver never fails to quench his thirst. Are the feet cleaned out every day? It is too much trouble to go to the blacksmiths about every three weeks to have the shoes reset. When your horses are very warm do you stand them in a draft and not cover them with a light blanket to prevent chilling by absorbing the perspiration? Do you use the overhead check? If you do, throw it away. If things do not go to suit you when you are on the road, do you jerk your horse? Do the collars always fit? Is the stable cleaned regularly and often? Not once a month whether it needs it or not, but every day. If the harness chafes, is it attended to at once, or is it put off till some day? Are the horses always blanketed when left standing on a cold day? If you have to leave your horse hitched in a storm, do you always see that it is not obliged to face it? By answering these questions to yourself you can see whether or not your horses are well treated.

Excusable Ignorance.—It is often said that one of the best ways of learning a thing is to teach it to others; but the rule does not always hold good. One day my brother went to buy a bushel of buckwheat for sowing. The man of whom he was to get it was away, but his wife was at home and undertook to make the sale. She got a peck measure and they went to the granary.

There the woman filled the measure twice, poured the contents into the bag, and was proceeding to tie it.

"But, Mrs. F.—" said my brother, "it takes four pecks to make a bushel."

"Oh, does it?" said she. "Well you see, I never had any experience in measuring grain before I was married. I always taught school."—Picaune.
