

POETICAL.

"MUCH YET REMAINS UNSUNG."—Cooper.

THE TRAVELLER'S EVENING SONG.

BY MRS. JEMANS.
Father, guide me! Day declines,
Hollow winds are in the pines;
Darkly waves each giant bough
O'er the sky's last crimson glow;
Hush'd is now the convent's bell,
Which, erewhile with breezy swell,
From the purple mountain's bore
Greeting to the sun-set shore,
Now the sailor's vesper hymn
Dies away.
Father! in the forest time
By me stay!
In the low, the shivering thrill
Of the leaves, that late hung still;
In the dull and muffled tone,
Of the sea-wave's distant moan;
In the deep tints of the sky,
There are signs of tempest nigh,
Ominous, with sullen sound,
Falls the closing dusk around,
Father! through the storm and shade,
O'er the wild,
Oh! be Thou the lone one's aid—
Save thy child!
Many a sounding plume
Homeward, through the hoding gloom,
O'er my way both flittered fast,
Since the farewell sunbeam pass'd
From the chestnut's ruddy bark,
And the pools, now long and dark,
Where the wakening night-winds sigh,
Through the long reeds mournfully,
Homeward, homeward, all things haste—
God of night!
Shield the homeless midst the waste,
Be his light!
In his distant cradle nest,
Now my babe is laid to rest,
Beautiful his summer seems,
With a glow of heavenly dreams;
Beautiful o'er that bright sleep,
Hang soft eyes of fondness deep,
Where his mother bends to pray,
For the loved and far away.—
Father! guard that lone old bower,
Hear that prayer!
Back, through thine all-guiding power,
Lead me there!
Darker, wilder, grows the—
Not a star sends quivering light,
Through the massy are of shade
By the stern old forest made,
Thou! to whose unslumbering eyes,
All my pathway open lies,
By thy Son, who knew distress
In the lonely wilderness,
There no roof to that blest head
Shelter gave—
Father! through the time of dread,
Save, oh! save!

HAPPINESS.—Happiness consists not in the possession of gold and silver, diamonds, pearls and precious stones, houses and lands, extensive domains, nor in splendid abilities, transcendent talents, a capacious intellect, a bright understanding, a quick apprehension—they are sometimes its very antipodes: producing voluptuousness, covetousness, corroding anxiety, vain glory, pride, scorn, contempt, and vexation. Nor is it found ever in the solitary virtues of faith, hope, or charity. Let the appeal be made to the heart of any individual possessed of a portion, or of all these gifts of fortune, nature and graces, and he will with grief, and deep regret, confirm the truth of this most humiliating fact. Where then is this treasure, above all price, to be met with? Where? if not in all, or any of the splendid possessions, gifts or attainments. The Son of Man, who had not where to lay his head—the Holy One has given a clue to unravel the enigma; and this is his solution. "Blessed are the poor in spirit, and they that mourn; the weak, and they that hunger and thirst after righteousness; the merciful, the pure in heart, the peace makers, and those also, who are persecuted for righteousness' sake. Those are the happy; it is they who are possessed of the treasure above all price; the individual enjoying a chastened spirit, and a complete mastery over his passions.

It is not because of the passions, and these brilliant gifts and acquirements, that happiness is not secured but because of the irregular source in which they are suffered to operate. We must not spurn the gracious and precious bounties of Providence. Our province is not to destroy, suppress, or prostrate the passions; but to restrain, temper, subjugate, conquer, and to direct them, to keep them under strict command, in ready and absolute control; to exercise over them a wholesome degree of discipline, & to subject them to the stern, inflexible rule of supremacy, unceasingly constraining them to keep within the precincts of order, propriety and decency. Nor should we annihilate, make void, or consign to oblivion, those endowments, possessions and acquisitions, which the Almighty Dispenser of all good graciously imparts, for the comfort, the ornament, and the elevation of the image of himself, but we must appropriate them to their legitimate objects and ends, not to be confined and hemmed in, like a stagnant pool exhaling its unwholesome vapours, engendering epidemics, and pestilence, over its neighborhood, but as a flowing stream, wending its way through verdant pastures, producing a two-fold effect—adorning the landscape by its majestic appearance, & diffusing its fertilizing influences, promotive of health, joy, and prosperity, along its borders. In short it is our duty to contract the habit of self-denial; to be diligent in the pursuit of a laudable object; to harmonize with a generous prudence these momentous concerns in human affairs—revenue and expenditure, even taking care to shun the two extremes of parsimony and profusion. Let us bear in mind that man was not made for himself alone, but as a co-partner in the chain of society, not to shrink from the share of responsibility which this connection involves. And as the elegance of the chain is derived from the firmness, regularity and beauty of each individual link, it behoves him not only to use his own in proper order, but to extend his influence and means for the good of the whole.

AN ADVENTURE.—A young man residing near Bangor, in Maine was returning lately from a visit to his lady love. His path lay through woodland, from which, except a few straggling pines, the trees had been cut down and were lying on the ground. He skipp'd over the logs and stumps with light foot and lighter heart. His fair mistress had received him kindly. Suddenly on leaping over a fallen tree, he fell himself within a few feet of a ravenous bear. He sprang to the nearest pine and climbed up, the bear clambering after him. Making good use of his feet, he dashed his antagonist to the ground. The bear returned and was again repulsed, carrying with him one of our hero's boots. Bruin ascended a third time and with more caution. The young man, hoping to escape, ascended the tree about fifty feet, and as the bear approached him attempted to shake him off, but in vain, as his foot was held by the paws of the infuriate animal, who had lost his hold of the tree and hung suspended by the poor lover's leg. The young man's strength becoming exhausted, he leapt his hold on the tree and down they went with a tremendous concussion to the ground. Our hero struck on the bear and rebounded eight or ten feet distant. Scarcely knowing whether he was dead or alive, he raised himself on his arm and discovered Bruin gazing wildly at him, and evidently dumfounded by such a tumble.

The affrighted pair sat eyeing each other for some time, when the bear, who was the more severely bruised of the two, showing no signs of fight, the young man rose and fled, leaving his hat and the boot behind him, his friend of the shaggy coat casting at him an expressive look, accompanied by a growl and a shake of the head, which convinced our hero, that had it been possible it would have been a shake of the paw. The young lover soon recovered from his bruises, and the fair damsel who had been the indirect cause of the adventure which placed his life in such immediate peril poured balsam on his wounds and made his heart whole, by naming an early day.

[TRANSCRIPT.]

The best of riches is contentment; the worst of poverty is low spirits.

New Establishment.

PRESTON & LOGAN

RESPECTFULLY inform the citizens of Logansport and its vicinity that they are now and still intend carrying on the

TAILORING BUSINESS

In all its various and complicated branches, on BRIDGE STREET, four doors north of Mr. Ewing's store, where they will at all times be found ready to accommodate their friends and customers on the shortest notice. Having a regular correspondence with SAGUES & WILSON NEW YORK, they are constantly furnished with the Latest changes in the Fashions.

From their experience and different opportunities they have had for their own improvement, they flatter themselves, that those who may favor them with their custom, shall have their work done in the most neat and fashionable style, or at least equal to any done in western country.

It is their intention to locate themselves in the town of Logansport and respectfully solicit a share of public patronage.

Those wishing to have FASHIONABLE, DURABLE AND SUBSTANTIAL WORK done, are respectfully invited to give us a call.

Logansport, February 21, 1833.

48.

NOTICE.

George H. Eldridge, of Logansport, Ohio, is indebted to George H. Eldridge, of Logansport, Ohio, for a note or account, and is hereby notified to pay the same to the undersigned, or to the order of the undersigned, on or before the 1st day of March, 1833, or until the said note or account is paid, the undersigned will be bound to pay the same to the order of the undersigned, on or before the 1st day of March, 1833, or until the said note or account is paid.

Nov. 17, 1832.

NOTICE.

I am indebted to me for Tailoring, and I hereby notified to pay the same to the undersigned, or to the order of the undersigned, on or before the 1st day of March, 1833, or until the said note or account is paid, the undersigned will be bound to pay the same to the order of the undersigned, on or before the 1st day of March, 1833, or until the said note or account is paid.

Nov. 17, 1832.

NOTICE.

Will be received, at the highest market prices, in payment for the Cass County Times, delivered at General Wagon's, near Delphi—at J. R. Morris's, Tippecanoe—or at Judge M. Combs's. Persons living in Carroll county, who wish to take this paper, will please to leave their names with either of the above gentlemen, or with Dr. Stewart, in Delphi, and the papers will be forwarded them at once.

WABASH & ERIE CANAL. 700 LABORERS

WANTED immediately on the Wabash & Erie Canal, in the neighborhood of Fort Wayne, to whom very liberal wages, in Cash, and good accommodations will be given.

The work is situated in a dry and pleasant country, supplied with good water, and well calculated to secure the health and comfort of those engaged on it. The neighborhood of Fort Wayne is, at all times, as healthy as any portion of the State.

Applications may be made to either of the undersigned contractors, on their respective sections, as annexed to their bills.

JOSEPH FEEDER.
Gibbs & Daniels, Sec. No. 3 & 12.
Wills, Wilson, Sec. 4, 5, & 6.
Sumner & McGillicuddy, Sec. 7.
Devlin, Sec. 8.
H. J. and J. H. Nicholas Clinger, 11.
Edwards, Rockhill & Jos. Holman, 13.

ON THE MAIN LINE.
Van Rockhill, Sec. No. 1 & 2.
William Bark, Sec. 3, 4, & 5.
Hunt, Bayless & Sumner, Sec. 6, & 7.
Wells & N. Hood, Sec. 8.
Barnes, Aljous & Hodget, 9, 10, 11, 12.
Barnes and Bark, 13, 14, 15, & 16.
McGregor & Vermilya, 17, 18, 19 & 20.
August 21st, 1832.

LAW NOTICE.

John B. Chapman,

(ATTORNEY AND COUNSELLOR AT LAW.)

HAVING permanently located himself in the town of Logansport, will resume his professional duties and tenders his services to the citizens of the eighth Circuit; and from a long and successful practice for several years, he flatters himself he will still be able to discharge the duties of any business entrusted to his care, with propriety and satisfaction.

Aug. 17, 1832.

TAKEN UP

BY Thompson Barnett, living in Eel township, Cass county, Ind.

ONE ROAN COLT, three years old this spring, long tail, no other marks or brands perceivable. Appraised to $25, by Isaac Clary and Daniel Fuller. Given under my hand, this 5th day of March, 1833.

JACOB BOWMAN, J. P.

50—3w.

PUBLIC ENTERTAINMENT

THE subscriber respectfully informs the public, and his friends in particular, that he has opened, a house of

ENTERTAINMENT,

Fort Wayne, Indiana.

His house is large, comfortable, and well furnished with the substantial of life—his Stable is also convenient and well supplied, to which, as well as every other department of the Establishment, he will give his unremitting and personal attention. Those who patronize him will not be disappointed. Call and see.

JOSEPH HOLMAN.

May 25th, 1832.

Journeyman Wanted.

THE subscriber wishes to employ immediately, a Journeyman, who is acquainted with the CHAIN MAKING business, to whom liberal wages will be given.

RICHARD HENSLEY.

Logansport, Oct. 22d, 1832.

TO PRINTERS.

THE subscribers having commenced an establishment for manufacture of Printing Presses from Super-Imperial to Medium size, of approved construction, the workmanship and materials of which they warrant equal to any made in the western country, and which they will sell on liberal terms. Persons wishing to purchase, are invited to call and examine, at the manufactory on 5th street between Elm and Plum streets, Cincinnati.

DICKSON & WILLIAMSON.

Cincinnati, June 8, 1832.

Printers who will copy the above advertisement in their papers for 3 months, shall be allowed $5 when purchasing Presses.

D. & W.

TAKEN UP

BY Richard Chabert living in Tippecanoe township, Carroll county Indiana, a bay horse, with a dim star in his forehead, both hind feet and left fore foot white, about twelve hands high, supposed to be three years old this spring, and appraised to $20, by Christopher Vandeventer and Joseph Dunham.

March 15, 1833.

I certify the above to be a true transcript from my Estray book.

JOSHUA LINDSEY, J. P.

Notice to Travellers.

THE subscriber having recently added improvements to his stand, so long known as the

LOGANSPORT HOTEL,

and intending that no exertions on his part shall be wanting to promote the comfort and pleasure of all who may favor him with their patronage, begs leave to solicit a continuance of the favors of his friends and the public in general.

As travellers in search of land have hitherto been much perplexed in obtaining satisfactory information on that subject, the subscriber gives notice that he will have attached to his establishment, MAPS of the State of Indiana, Cass County and parts of other counties on the Canal Line from Logansport to Fort Wayne.

His stable will always be supplied with Oats, Corn and Timothy Hay, and every attention paid to the care of horses.

A Two Horse Carriage

with a first rate team will always be in readiness to convey persons to any part of the country, on reasonable terms. Attached to the Logansport Hotel, a large Wagon Yard for the accommodation of teamsters or drovers.

ISRAEL JOHNSON.

February, 1833.

The Indiana Democrat, La Fayette Free Press, and St. Joseph Beacon, will please give the above three insertions and forward their accounts.

Dissolution of Partnership.

Notice is hereby given that the Partnership heretofore existing under the firm of J. H. KINTNER & Co. is this day dissolved by mutual consent. All those indebted to the firm are requested to call on J. H. Kintner, and close their accounts, either by Cash or Note, the firm is indebted for Stock and must have money. It is hoped that prompt attention will be given to this call.

J. H. KINTNER, & Co.

THE Business will be continued as usual by J. H. Kintner, who is getting on a large and elegant supply of Stock.

J. H. K.

$100 Reward.

STOP THE THIEF.

ESCAPED from the custody of the officer, in the town of Logansport, on the 1st inst. a man by the name of JESSE BARNETT, who was then in custody on a charge of Larceny; said Barnett is a man about 35 years old, 5 feet 10 inches high, red complexion, round full face, and much redened by the immoderate use of spiritous Liquors; a little stoop shouldered, a skulking look and easy spoken, had on when he escaped, a blue cloth coat and pantaloons; and fur hat, but from information his apparel has been since changed, and probably equipped for a journey, the above Reward will be given to any person who will deliver the above thief Jesse Barnett, to the Jailor in Logansport Indiana.

March, 1833.

P. S. The above reward was raised by a voluntary subscription of the citizens of Cass county, and no doubt every man will be ready to advance the cash on the receipt of the article subscribed for.

WABASH & ERIE CANAL. Notice to Contractors.

SEALED Proposals will be received, by the subscribers on the 15th of May next, either at their office in FORT WAYNE or at the town of HUNTINGTON on the line of Canal, for the construction of

25 to 30 Sections

OF THE MIDDLE DIVISION OF THE WABASH AND ERIE CANAL, amounting to about 14 or 15 miles. The work to be let is situated within the counties of Allen and Huntington in the State of Indiana, extending as far westwardly as the junction of Little river with the Wabash, and embracing 4 Locks, to be built of timber—3 or 4 Aqueducts, with timber trunks resting on stone abutments, and a number of CULVERTS, together with several high embankments and other heavy works.

The Commissioners, or Engineers, will attend on the line four or five days immediately preceding the letting, in order to give the necessary information in regard to the particular work to be let—the plans of the various structures—the manner of performing the work—the conditions of the contracts, &c.

Nineteen miles of this Canal are now under contract, which, together with that to be let in May next, will give employment to 1000 or 1500 men for about two years, at liberal cash wages.

As the country is healthy, and as a variety of new Lands of a good quality, immediately on the Canal route, are offered for sale with a long credit for a part of the purchase money, an excellent opportunity is offered for enterprise and industry, which must be the object to SETTLERS, LABORERS and CANAL CO. TRACTORS.

D. BURR, } Com's. of the
SAM'L. LEWIS, } W. & E. C.
JOHN SCOTT, }

$25 REWARD.

Stop the Murderer.

BROKE Jail and escaped, on the night of the 18th Instant a man by the name of Joseph Ruckman, who was in Jail on the charge of Murder. Said Ruckman, is about 21 years old, dark complexioned five feet or eleven inches high, has a scar on his nose, and one in his upper lip, has a down look; took with him one blue blanket Box coat, and a half worn fur hat, blue Janes pantaloons, and had a mixed cotton coat, and a mixed cotton vest.—The above reward will be given to any person who will deliver the above murderer Joseph Ruckman, to me in Delphi, Indiana.

J. T. HOPKINSON, Shff. C. C.
Jan. 19th, 1833.

First and Last.

N. B. As I have quit the business and will leave the town the first of June, I have placed my accounts in the hands of James H. Stewart, Esq. for settlement; and have duly authorized him to pursue such measures as will insure their speedy collection.

GEO. W. GOODLANDER.
Delphi, March 22d, 1833.

Dissolution of Partnership.

BROWN & WHITE,

PROPRIETORS of the Mansion House, Indianapolis, hereby inform the Public, that they have dissolved partnership; and that from henceforth all business connected with the Mansion House will be conducted by B. Brown, who is authorized to settle all accounts, and to receive all demands due the establishment.

BAZIL BROWN,
GEO. W. L. WHITE.

B. BROWN,

Respectfully informs his friends and the public, and particularly his customers, that he intends continuing business as heretofore, and will give them every assurance of his unremitting exertions to deserve their patronage.

Indianapolis, February 7, 1833. 42.

ESTRAY COWS.

TAKEN UP By the Subscriber, Living nearly opposite Logansport on the East side of the Wabash. One Cow Eight or Nine years old. White back and Belly; boared in each Horn, with a small crop of each ear and two small notches in the right, and also one two year old Heifer of a dun color, a crop off the right ear and a hole in the left; and a short tale no other marks perceivable.

The Cow Appraised to $8, 50 Cents.
The Heifer to $5,00 by A. Chamberlain & J. Vigus.

C. VIGUS.
47.

BETTER PRESS PRINTING

SUCH AS,

BOOKS,
PAMPHLETS, CARDS,
HAT BILLS, LABELS,
HANDBILLS,
Deeds, Mortgages, and
BLANKS

NEATLY EXECUTED AT THE OFFICE OF THE CASS COUNTY TIMES.