

You can go to your store and get the best corset there is (that's Ball's), wear it two or three weeks, return it, and get your money again, if it isn't exactly right.

The reason is that this corset is right for nine out of ten; and the merchant, or rather the maker behind him, takes the risk of the tenth.

There is a primer on Corsets for you at the store.

THE GRAND ISLAND SUGAR FACTORY.

The largest beet sugar factory in the world has just gone into operation at Grand Island, Nebraska. The result of its first day's run was 300 lbs. of pure, white sugar. The machinery was all imported from France and Germany, and cost, together with the building, over a million dollars, $1,000,000 of which was a donation from the citizens of Grand Island and vicinity. It took 100 freight cars to transport the machinery from New Orleans, where it was landed, to Grand Island. Henry L. Oxnard, the founder of the factory, is an Englishman, and is very wealthy. The factory has on hand, boots enough to run it for three months, in which time it will turn out over 20,000 barrels of sugar. Should this great enterprise prove successful, Mr. Oxnard will be another object of Democratic abuse, and Mr. Oxnard will have a new subject for his column and vituperation, at the next session of Congress.

FLAGS FOR THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Past Department Commander, C. M. Travis, in his annual address uttered the following patriotic sentiment concerning the flags and the public schools: To inculcate the sentiments of loyalty and patriotism as prominently in the virtues of the American citizen is one of the sacred objects of the Grand Army of the Republic. The youth of our land should be taught to reverence the flag of our fathers as the emblem of Liberty and National Union. Baptized in the blood of 500,000 of our comrades it is a sacred emblem to us. As we love that dear old flag let us leave nothing undone that would preserve it, with all its sacred associations until time shall be no more.

There should not be a school in the State of Indiana, where that flag is not held up before the youth and all that it represents inculcated into their minds and hearts. Following the recommendations of Past Commander in Chief Warner, I earnestly request every post in this department to take immediate steps to provide every public school within its jurisdiction with the flag of our country. I entreat you comrades to begin now. Where there is the will there is a way. God will bless your efforts. Provide the flags and have them ready, and on the 22nd day next February, let there be held appropriate presentation ceremonies at every school in the State. Oh! what a sublime spectacle it will be! The veterans "who placed their bodies as a living wall" between the folds of that flag and an armed rebellion, who carried it to victory upon five hundred battle fields, who dared and suffered so much beneath its folds, presenting it, with their own hands to the organized youth of the land. It will be a kindling of the fire of patriotism that will cause the dying embers of treason to go out in an eternal darkness. It will be adding an additional guaranty that our fallen heroes shall not have died in vain.

A GREAT RUSH.

A Busy and Exciting Day at the New York Custom-House.

TRADERS EAGER TO BEAT THE TARIFF.

Importers Persuade the Collector to Keep Open Until Midnight in Order That Newly-Arriving Merchandise May Be Entered at the Old Rates.

HEAVY RECEIPTS.

New York, Oct. 6.—For the first time in the history of the New York custom house that institution was kept open for business until midnight Saturday. It is also probable that Saturday was the most remarkable day in the history of the custom house. It was the last business day of the "old tariff," the new tariff going into effect to-day, and though the rush of business had been great throughout the week, increasing steadily as Saturday drew near, nobody had any idea of the rush of merchants, brokers and clerks which was preparing for the last hours of the old law. As the afternoon approached the retunda and corridors of the custom house became crowded with persons in various stages of excitement, nine out of ten of them holding packages of invoices or other customs papers in their hands. When 6 o'clock drew near the crush was increasing to an alarming extent, and it became evident that many merchants were likely to suffer disappointment at the last moment in their efforts to get goods through the custom house. The result was that Collector Erhardt, who has been working night and day, to use a set phrase, since the recent pressure of business began, was besieged with callers who begged him to keep the custom-house open until 5:30 p. m., at least, in order that they might get all the benefit possible from the old tariff. The collector telegraphed to Secretary Windom for instructions.

While the answer to the telegram was anxiously waited the crowd grew larger every minute, and those who wished to see the collector had to make their way to his presence through a dense mass of perspiring brokers, who filled the re-echoed and overflowed into the corridors. One young broker who had been waiting since 11 o'clock in the morning said that the failure of the City of Chicago to enter in time to bring her cargo in under the old law would cost the firm he represented between $30,000 and $40,000 in extra duties.

Many of them present were interested in business connected with the City of Chicago from Liverpool, shipped and supposed to be putting on every pound of steam she could carry in her efforts to "beat the tariff," others had their hopes centered on the Netherlands-American liner Zaandam from Rotterdam. This vessel was also "reported," according to the custom house codes, and it was hoped that she would reach port in time to save thousands of dollars for the consignees of her cargo. The Etruria, of the Cunard line, from Liverpool, was also due, as were the Furnessia of the Anchor line, from Glasgow, the St. Regulus from Antwerp, the Thingvalla from Christiania, the Ruzla and Australia from Hamburg, and the Pacific from Gibraltar. In addition to these transatlantic steamships there were a number of coastwise steamers expected.

According to the stories circulated about the custom-house the fastest tugs procurable had been chartered by the agents of the lines interested in the arrival of "tariff steamers," and they were waiting down the bay under full steam, ready to take off the captain or some other officer of the expected steamships and bring him to the city in time to enable him to "pass in his papers" and save the cargo from the new law.

At 9:30 a dispatch came from Secretary Windom telling him to exercise his discretion, and the latter said he would extend the hour of closing to midnight. Business was promptly resumed on all sides with feverish activity. The entries made Saturday were over 800 up to 8 p. m.; the ordinary number for a day is 400, but even this increase of 100 per cent. in the entries does not give an adequate idea of the actual increase, for the entries as a rule were for very much larger amounts than usual. In addition the receipts for Saturday, up to 8 p. m., were $1,134,584.48, and for the past week $4,045,000. The average receipts per day at the custom house are about $500,000, or say $3,000,000 per week.

The only ships to arrive were the City of Chicago, St. Regulus and Etruria. Captain Haines of the Etruria tottered into the custom house with his papers only ten minutes before 12 o'clock. It was calculated that the failure of the other steamers mentioned to get here on time will cost the importers an extra million dollars.

Severe Storms Abroad.

BERLIN, Oct. 6.—Terrific storms are reported in Schleswig and the East Sea provinces. The hail ruined the crops and smashed thousands of windows at Elmshorn, which was flooded by the sea. Numerous houses were unroofed and many of the inhabitants were injured. At Neustadt a man was blown into a well and drowned. In the same town the tent and paraphernalia of a circus company were destroyed by the storm. At Dantzic a tram-car was overturned and several of the occupants were crushed to death. Many shipwrecks, attended by loss of life, are reported.

Russian Soldiers Drowned.

BERLIN, Oct. 6.—The Vossische Zeitung asserts that it has received positive confirmation of the report of the drowning of General Barovski and 870 soldiers through the collapse of a bridge at Koono during the recent army maneuvers in Russia. The same journal adds that the Russian censor of telegrams has suppressed all messages in regard to the disaster.

Death from Hydrophobia.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 5.—Louis Fisher, aged 12, died a horrible death from rabies, the result of a bite by a pet dog in June last.

SPECIFICS.

We Are After New Subscribers!

THE JOURNAL, both Daily and Weekly, excels all rivals in Montgomery county in circulation, but we are not satisfied. We must have a large number of new subscribers, and quickly, too. Therefore, we have arranged to make the following

2 Great Inducements.

GRAND PREMIUM OFFER!

WORKS OF CHARLES DICKENS,

In Twelve Large Volumes,
Which We Offer with a Year's Subscription to this Paper for a Trifle More than Our Regular Subscription Price.

Wishing to largely increase the circulation of this paper during the next six months, we have made arrangements with a New York publishing house whereby we are enabled to offer as a premium to our subscribers a Set of the Works of Charles Dickens, in Twelve Large and Handsome Volumes, with a year's subscription to this paper for a trifle more than our regular subscription price. Our great offer to subscribers eclipses any ever heretofore made. Charles Dickens was the greatest novelist who ever lived. No author before or since his time has won the fame that he achieved, and his works are even more popular to-day than during his lifetime. They abound in wit, humor, pathos, masterly delineation of character, vivid descriptions of places and incidents, thrilling and skillfully wrought plots. Each book is intensely interesting. No home should be without a set of these great and remarkable works. Not to have read them is to be far behind the age in which we live. The set of Dickens' works which we offer as a premium to our subscribers is handsomely printed from entirely new plates, with new type. The twelve volumes contain the following world-famous works, each one of which is published complete, unchanged, and absolutely unabridged:

DAVID COPPERFIELD, MARTIN CHUZZLEWIT, NICHOLAS NICKELBY, DOMBEY AND SON, BLEAK HOUSE, LITTLE DOOR, OUR MUTUAL FRIEND, PICKWICK PAPERS, BARNABY RUDGE AND CHRISTMAS STORIES, OLIVER TWIST AND GREAT EXPECTATIONS, THE OLD CURIOSITY SHOP AND THE UNCOMMERCIAL TRAVELER, A TALE OF TWO CITIES, HARD TIMES AND THE MYSTERY OF EDWIN DROOD.

The above are without question the most famous novels that were ever written. For a quarter of a century they have been celebrated in every nook and corner of the civilized world. Yet there are thousands of homes in America not yet supplied with a set of Dickens, the total high cost of the books preventing people in moderate circumstances from enjoying this luxury. But now, owing to the use of modern improved printing, folding and stitching machinery, the extremely low price of white paper, and the great competition in the book trade, we are enabled to offer to our subscribers and readers a set of Dickens' works at a price which all can afford to pay. Every home in the land may now be supplied with a set of the great author's works.

Weekly Journal, one year, with a set of Dickens' Works, by mail or delivered, 3 months, and set of Dickens' Works, 3.25
Daily Journal, by mail or delivered, 3 months, and set of Dickens' Works, 5.75

Cash Invariably in Advance, but we pay the Postage.

The American Farmer!

It is with pleasure that we announce that we have made arrangements with THE AMERICAN FARMER, an illustrated farm magazine, will be mailed FREE to the subscribers of The Weekly Journal, who will pay up all arrears on subscription and one year in advance, and to any new subscriber who will pay one year in advance. This is a grand opportunity to obtain a first-class farm paper free. The American Farmer is a 16-page journal, of national reputation, published at Ft. Wayne, Ind., and which ranks among the leading agricultural papers. The regular subscription price is $1 per year. It costs you nothing. Call and get a sample copy.

Should any subscriber of THE DAILY JOURNAL wish to take advantage of this offer he can pay for 3 months in advance, $1.25, and have the American Farmer sent to him. Comend see samples of the Works of Dickens, and American Farmer

Being at considerable trouble and expense we will have to declare those offers
