

There are many white soaps, each represented to be "just as good as the Ivory." They are not, but like all counterfeits, they lack the peculiar and remarkable qualities of the genuine. Ask for Ivory Soap and insist upon having it. It is sold everywhere.

It would be better to open the basements of churches and let the children attend school there than to turn the little ones away without any education at all.

That gallant old boy Gen. Sherman still thinks the war ended with Vicksburg and Gettysburg, and should have been stopped after Gettysburg, without carrying it into the last ditch.

The new election law is an expensive piece of machinery. The principle of the law is all right but the details which make it so expensive are open to severe criticism. For this enormous expense attached the Democrats alone are responsible.

It is very evident that one or two Democratic candidates are placing money among the purchasable element of voters. In the face of the stringent law this is a bold move. Republicans, however, are wide awake and some fine morning there will be a surprised Democratic candidate in the toils.

Caught by Marked Money.
NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Mrs. Mary Rice, cashier of the Prudential Insurance Company of Jersey City, was arrested Friday night charged with embezzlement. The company has been missing small amounts of money and finally put detective to the work on the case. The woman was detected by the old trick of marking money, which was found in her possession. Mrs. Rice was but 22 years of age and was recently married.

Three Times the Victim of Fire-Bugs.

Fortunate Father and Son.
"I am as certain as I now live," says C. E. Bartholomew, of Kaskaskia, Mich., "that Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, of Roundout, N. Y., saved my life when I was a victim of that terrible venal disorder—Bright's disease. My son had a fever sore on his leg. He, too, used Favorite Remedy, and is now well. But for this medicine I am sure both father and son would have been six feet under the sod."

WITHIN OUR BORDERS.

Interesting Intelligence from Indiana Cities and Towns.

Report of Home & Justice.
LOGANVILLE, Ind., Oct. 13.—Ten years ago Maggie Taylor, aged 14, had a son in this city. She was the only child and was very handsome. One night years ago she threw a shawl over her head, saying that she intended making a short vacation, nowhere. From that night she has never been seen or heard from until Friday night. Detectives searched the city and country, but no trace of the missing girl could be found. Friday night while the aged parents of the missing girl were eating their evening meal, having long ago given up their daughter as dead, the kitchen door flew open and before the bewildered parents stood their long lost daughter, haggard and careworn. The mother spoke to the daughter, but received in reply the laugh of a maniac, for such she was. Saturday she was placed in jail and papers will be secured admitting her to the asylum. The girl can not tell where she came from or who brought her home. It is a very strange case and will be fully investigated by the authorities.

Neatly Swindled.

MARION, Ind., Oct. 13.—Saturday morning the sheriff of Plymouth, Ind., arrested J. F. Williams on a charge of fraud. Williams came here from Plymouth last Wednesday, and represented himself as the agent of the Chicago Loan & Investment Company. The officer who made the arrest states that Williams was discharged by the above company a year ago, but that he had since been doing business in their name, pocketing the proceeds, and that in this way he has swindled the people of Indiana out of $300. The officer was accompanied by the proprietor of the Ross House at Plymouth, who states that Williams left him owing a board bill of $95. The sheriff also stated that his prisoner is guilty of burglary, having not less than three wives.

Exploded on the Track.

HUNTINGTON, Ind., Oct. 13.—Engine No. 69 on the Chicago & Erie road, Edward Murphy, engineer, and George Kirby, fireman, was ordered Saturday night to West Point, west of this city, to bring in a freight train the engine of which was disabled. When, in a long cut two miles west of this city, the engine exploded, blowing out all the front end, tearing out the bottom and twisting machinery generally. Notwithstanding the explosion the engine kept the train and ran 500 feet before stopping. The firemen and engineer jumped the engine while it was in motion. The engineer had his leg broken and was badly scalded, while the fireman was badly cut about his face and head and is scalded. His recovery is doubtful.

Indiana Temperance Workers.

TRINITY HALL, Ind., Oct. 13.—At the second day's session of the twenty-third annual convention of the W. C. T. U. of Indiana, the principal proceeding was the election of officers. Mrs. Josephine Nichols declined to be considered a candidate for re-election as president. The following are the officers:

President, Mrs. Mary E. Haggart; of Indianapolis; Vice President, Mrs. L. W. Beck; of Bloomington; Corresponding Secretary, Miss L. E. Reed; of Indianapolis; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Alice N. Hastings; of Richmond; Treasurer, Mrs. Mary G. Hay, of Indianapolis.

Shot His Child for a Burglar.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Oct. 13.—Wright Parks, thinking that a burglar was entering his room Friday night, shot through the door. Immediately there was a child's scream: "Oh, papa! It's me; you have killed me." It was his own daughter. The ball went clear through her body and lodged in her spine. It will kill her probably."

No Cigarettes for the Students.

MADISON, Ind., Oct. 13.—The Hanover College faculty have forbidden the smoking of cigarettes by the students, and dealers in the village have consented not to sell them to the students. The students threaten to send away and buy them by wholesale.

In picking use pure spices and high grade vinegar. We have the finest grown and manufactured.

The Ball corset has soft eyelets. Soft eyelets are loops of corset lace stitched into the corset; softer, smoother, pleasanter, neater, more womanlike than metal.

The Ball is the easiest ever worn by woman. The ease is due to covered coils of fine wire spring in the sides. These springs hug the figure gently, and yield with every little strain.

The Ball is "boned" with Kabs that never breaks or kinks or rolls up or shifts from its place.

You can wear a Ball corset two or three weeks; and, if you don't like it, return it to where you got it and get your money back. The manufacturer pays the merchant to do that.

CHICAGO CORSET CO., Chicago and New York.

DILLON AND O'BRIEN.

Balfour Threatens to Extradite Them as Fugitives from Justice.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—It is reported that Balfour will advise the Government to take steps for the extradition of O'Brien and Dillon on their arrival in the United States on the ground that they are fugitives from justice, having broken their bonds while on trial on a criminal charge.

DUBLIN, Oct. 13.—When the magistrate's court at Tipperary reassembled Crown Prosecutor Ronan stated that the Crown had decided to prosecute the charges of conspiracy against all the defendants, notwithstanding the fact that Messrs. Dillon and O'Brien had of their own volition abandoned their defense and left the country. The courts, he said, had decided that under circumstances such as had arisen in the present case, it was not necessary to stop proceedings on a trial.

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—Thomas P. Gill, member of Parliament and a staunch supporter of Parnell, was among the passengers on board the steamer Alaska, which arrived here Sunday from Liverpool. It is understood that he will arrange for the reception and tour of Messrs. O'Brien and Dillon.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 13.—At 1:30 Saturday afternoon a terrible explosion occurred in the engine-room of P. Hayden's rolling-mill at Spring and Water streets. The roof collapsed immediately afterward, and three men were caught in the wreck. The work of rescue began immediately. John McNeary was taken out with most of his bones broken, and he lived but a few minutes. S. D. Milligan was found still alive, lying in the wreck of the furnace terribly crushed and burned. Fire was all about him, and he died later in horrible agony. H. C. Freeman, the third victim, was badly, but it is not thought fatally, scalded.
