WHAT A WORLD IT IS, ANYHOW.

A writer in Forest and Stream calls attention to the fact that man only wrests with infinite pains from nature the things that he needs, while hurtful and deadly plants and animals increase many fold with all his efforts to exterminate them. The wheat and corn which with toil and anxiety man raises for his bread are subject to destruction by heat or cold, by wet or drought, or insect pest. A hail storm may annihilate in half an hour the wheat crop of a year and beggar the farmer. "But neither frost nor hail nor thunder," no, nor nothing else, ever destroys the weeds that make life a burden to the agricultur-ist. Thistles, ragweed and the unspeakable ox-eyed daisy not earthquakes could do away.

In the animal world the wild ducks and geese that used to be so abundant have nearly disappeared, but hawks, crows, owls and English sparrows remain. Farmers and farmers' boys have waged war in America for two centuries against crows and hawks. Yet crows are apparently more abundant than ever, and hawks are certainly not disappearing.

The gentle quail, which furnishes food for man, starves when the snow is on the ground; but the field mouse, that plays havoc with the grain, lives royally under the snow. The same snow imprisons the deer, apparently just to let his enemy, the wolf, get a better whack at him.

So it is throughout—the things that we want and are good for us we must work our heads off to secure, and then we don't always get them. The things that we don't want and are a nuisance and a pest to us we can't get rid of, though we fight them all the time.

On the whole, what a world it is anyhow!

A Noted Theologian.

Rev. Charles A. Briggs, D. D., profesor of biblical criticism in the Union Theological seminary (Presbyterian), of New York, was born in New York, Jan. 15, 1811, entered the University of Virginia at the age of 16, and four years later Union Theological seminary, where he completed a course of study. He served with the famous Seventh Regiment in 1861, and later took a theological course in Germany. There it is claimed he im-bodied some of the views which have lately called out pronounced criticism.

Heterodoxy.
Pray then, put the sermon by—vex my soul no more with creeds;
They are only stones and husks to my hungry spirit's needs.

I am tired of striving sects, with their various bigotry—Ah, for me death holds no terror but the fear of losing thee!

In a Heaven apart from these could my exiled soul rejoice?
Could I join the angel's song, missing thence thy tender voice?

What are these gates of pearl if they parted thee and me?

What the streets so fair and golden if I walked them seeking thee?

What to me would be the joys of that bright and sunshiny land.
If among them I should lack evermore thy loving hand?

What to me the pastures green where thy feet could never be?
What the paths beside still waters if thou walk-est not with me?

Ah, wherever after death my still faithful soul may dwell.

Saints can't be bliss or woe—they may name it Heaven or hell.

By this only, oh, beloved, will my joy or pain be wrought.

I shall find my heaven beside thee, or my hell where thou art not!

—Florence Percy.

A NICKEL IN THE SLOT.

The penny-in-the-slot machine is growing in depravity. It has now taken to throwing dice.

There are about 12,000 nickel-in-the-slot machines in use in this country and they comprise fifty varieties.

A PRINTER put a penny in the slot of a machine intended to prove a man's striking power, and then punched the pad offered to receive the blow. The printer refused the advance and will not fight the men. There are about 100 men out now.

An Aged Odd Fellow.

DANVILLE, Ind., April 3.—Thomas L.

Bedford, of this city, is probably the oldest odd fellow in the world. He was 84 years of age Wednesday, and the ledge of Danville presented him with a jeweled odd fellow's veteran's badge. He has been an odd fellow sixty-three years.

LOCKJAW CAUSED HER DEATH.

MUNCIE, Ind., April 3.—Tuesday night Miss Clara Koontz died at her home near Yorktown, this county, of the injuries received by a schoolmate accidentally hitting her in the temple with a stone. After a week had elapsed lockjaw set in, causing death.

INDIANAPOLIS POLICE REORGANIZED.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 3.—The entire police force has been reorganized.
About fifty of the old force were dropped. Although two or three commissioners are democrats more than half the new force are republicans.

SOUTHERN INDIANA TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

EDINBURGH, Ind., April 3.—The fourth annual meeting of the Southern Indiana Teachers' Association is being held here.
The first session was held Wednesday night and was largely attended.

BURGLARS IN AN INDIANA TOWN.

VINCENNES, Ind., April 3.—Tuesday night thieves raided Oaktown, 12 miles north of this city, and entered every store in the place except two. They secured about $1,200.

TINNERS LOCKED OUT IN INDIANAPOLIS.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 3.—The tinners having refused to accept the agreement presented by the bosses, were locked out. About 200 men are affected.

ATTEMPTED HIS OWN LIFE.

LOGANSPORT, Ind., April 3.—B. F.

Mussey, a carpenter out of work, tried to commit suicide by taking laudanum and cutting his throat. He may recover.

TOOK POISON.

COLUMBUS, Ind., April 3.—William Monroe, of this city, committed suicide by taking poison Wednesday. Domestic troubles were the cause of the deed.

BABIES IN A FLOCK OF SHEEP.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., April 3.—A flock of sheep belonging to George Bower was attacked by hydrophobia and all had to be killed.

PROOF OF AUTHENTICITY.

MCWATTY (at the breakfast table)—
Mrs. Small, this egg has a chicken in it.

Mrs. Small—Shows it's genuine. I never use artificial eggs.—West Shore.

BRITAL.

Mrs. Bonfant—Mr. Guyver paid me a charming compliment to-night. He said I didn't look a single day over twenty-five.

Mr. Bonfant—You don't. You look thousands.—Judge.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

Tom—What did you say her name was?

Jack—Constance.

Tom—And yet she jilted you.—Light.

VERY PROPER.

CHICAGO, April 3.—Wednesday night William Brown, a striking molder, was shot through the heart by a non-union man whom Brown and others had attacked on the street.

The Very Latest News from Many Parts of the State.

Made a Demand for $100,000.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 3.—The old state board of agriculture, through Sylvester Johnson, its treasurer, has made a formal demand for the $100,000 appropriated to it a couple of years ago.
Auditor Henderson refused to issue a warrant for the money. Mr. Johnson said the demand was made for the purpose of forming a basis for a suit after the new board has been appointed. The secretary and auditor of state have been trying to make up the new board. When the two of them got together to appoint a board it was found that there were four districts without applicants. The men who were willing to serve in three of these districts were found in a few days, but a search for a man in the one vacant district so far has been in vain. The appointee must be a republican and a manufacture. As soon as a man is found the board will be announced.
The time for appointing the board expires Friday.

Beat the Boycotters.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 3.—The F.
M. B. of Underwood, Scott county, attempted to boycott Will Hosea, the storekeeper at that place, and run him out of business, but Hosea undersold the association store and finally compelled its doors to be closed by capturing its trade. The alliance now wants to buy Hosea out, but he declines to sell.
