SHALL THE BOY LEAVE THE FARM?

There has always been a belief that it was a bad sign that the young men were leaving the farm and flocking to the towns and cities. But in view of the results obtained by present day students of political economy, it should be regarded with feelings of satisfaction.

It is estimated that under a system of scientific farming, toward which we are rapidly approaching, not over one-third of the American workers will be required to till the soil. In fact, a larger number so engaged will engender a competition ruinous to profit. At the present time about forty per cent. are needed to do our farming, owing to wastes caused by lack of method. So the farmer should not grumble when he sees the young men leaving fertile fields for crowded streets. It means one less competitor for him and one more consumer for his products. His only care should be that these young men receive the training necessary to make them good citizens wherever they go.

In the selection of a new fair site by the State Board of Agriculture two members of the board were offered bribes by persons interested in the Miller farm. That farm was not chosen and the bribes were not accepted, but the board for some unknown reason refused to expose the men who attempted to corrupt it.

When a full and free investigation of a circumstance like this is avoided, it is pretty good evidence of an Ethiopian in the coal bin. The grand jury, however, proposes to investigate.

The loafer is an object of scorn. He becomes even more so when we realize that he lives at the expense of those who work. The number of loafers of each community register the amount of poverty in it. Before warm weather sets in the county commissioners should provide the court house fence with sharp iron spikes.

COLLECTING agency has been organized in Northern Indiana which proposes to annoy bad debtors by sending an agent dressed in green to see them several times a day. This is a kind of blackmail like the "bad debts" scheme which was pronounced unlawful by the courts a few years ago.

If the farmers who want the government to help them out of all their troubles would try to farm in a more scientific way, in a more business like way, they would in a few years be prospering and without the need of help.

The Pennsylvania Democrats have declared for Hillaas their choice for President. Cleveland is slowly sinking out of sight.

SENATOR SHERMAN favors Harrison for another term. The people have confidence in Sherman's judgment.

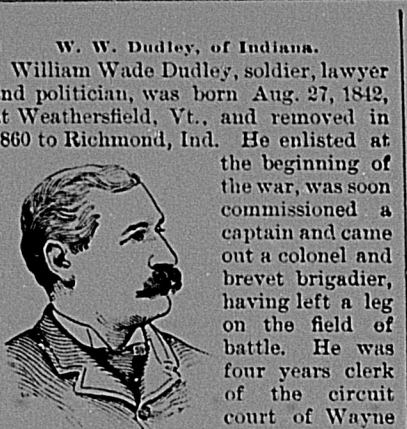

Again the Waveland Silver Mines.

Those who supposed the frequent mention of the mining operations on James R. Canine's farm, last summer, was a joke, may be surprised to learn that active work has been going on there for several weeks. Not much noise has been made about it, but Mr. Canine has had two men hard at work, and they have sunk a shaft fifty-five feet deep, and were obliged to stop work until a steam pump can be arranged to keep the water out.—Waveland Independent.

DEAFNESS CAN BE CURED.

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that we cannot cure, by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular, free.

INDIANA.

Bits of Information from Various Parts of the State.

Democrats Meet.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Jan. 9.—The democratic convention of the Eighth congressional district Friday afternoon re-elected James M. Hoskins, of Clay, as district committeeman. Ex-Congressman Lamb presided and in his speech said that the democrats in this district would take no backward step in the fight for tariff reform, but would insist on the same issues as in 1888. Dr. Gantz, of Saline City, in seconding the nomination of Hoskins, also nominated ex-Gov. Gray for president, which evoked considerable enthusiasm. A resolution in favor of Indianapolis as the place for holding the national convention was passed.

Bluffton, Ind., Jan. 9.—A meeting of the democratic tariff reform league of the Eleventh congressional district of Indiana was held in this city Friday.

D. W. Kincaid, of Warsaw county, was selected as chairman of the league, with R. K. Erwin as vice president. Jerome Perff was chosen as state central committeeman for the district. Resolutions were passed endorsing Isaac P. Gray as a suitable candidate for president of the United States on the democratic ticket in 1892. Samuel F. Cary, of Ohio, addressed the meeting.

Evansville, Ind., Jan. 9.—At a convention here Friday of democrats of the First congressional district August Brentano, of Vanderburg county, was elected member of the state central committee. Resolutions were passed endorsing the party's position of 1888 on the tariff; also J. G. Shanklin, editor of the Evansville Courier, for governor, and Indianapolis as the place of the next meeting of the national democratic convention.

The Bribery Scandal.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 9.—The state board of agriculture appointed a committee to investigate the charges that R. M. Lockhart, of De Kalb county, had been corruptly approached by persons interested in the purchase of the Miller farm as a state fair site, and two hours later submitted a report. The committee stated that Lockhart had been so approached by a "person unknown" that $2,000 had been placed in the hands of another person "unknown" and that Lockhart had kept other members of the board advised of his actions. They further found that the written agreement between Lockhart and the briber had been burned and the money returned. While Lockhart is relieved from all blame by the committee, it is manifest that no effort was made to get to the bottom of the matter and the investigation was simply a farce. The action of the board emphasizes the belief that there has been corruption in the matter and that it is anxious to hush it up. All the facts will be brought to the attention of the grand jury, and Lockhart will be compelled to expose the person with whom he entered into the corrupt agreement.

Suing on an Old Claim.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 9.—A novel suit has been begun by Louis J. Liebrich, administrator of the estate of John G. Liebrich, against William Hansen and the estate of the late Charles Mayer. The complaint alleges that twenty years ago John G. Liebrich, intending to go to Germany, bought of Mayer & Hansen bills of exchange on a Wurttemberg house for 2,500 guilders; that Liebrich died before going and that the bills of exchange were therefore never used. The suit is for the return of the money paid for the exchange, amounting in American currency to about $2,000. The long delay in demanding the return of the money, the complaint explains, is due to the fact that the bills of exchange were lost and forgotten and only recently discovered.

Coal Miners Resume Work.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Jan. 9.—Bituminous coal miners of the Clinton district resumed work Friday, and the trouble in that section is at an end. The operators, who had been protesting their refusal to continue the system of checking off organizers, were in their offices, but they agreed to hold no man accountable for his participation in the strike. What effect this action at Clinton will have on the rest of the miners of the state is problematical, but it is claimed by the operators that it is the beginning of the end of the check-off system. Without that system in force it would be difficult to keep up a miners' organization, so they say.

Both Sides Must Be Heard.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 9.—Judge Brown, of the circuit court, has directed the entry of an order directing that no hearing will be granted in a divorce case until the defendant, if within jurisdiction, is present while the case is heard. Judge Brown believes both sides of a divorce case should be heard before a decree is granted.

A Milliner Burned Out.

MARTIN, Ind., Jan. 9.—The millinery store of Mrs. A. M. West and stock of pictures, belonging to J. H. Lopez, were burned Friday morning. The loss on the former is $600 covered by insurance, on the latter $1,500 with no insurance. The loss on the building is $1,000, with $800 insurance.

Death of a Prominent Physician.

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Jan. 9.—Dr. Howard McCullough, one of the most prominent physicians of this city, died Friday of Bright's disease. He occupied the chair of physiology at the Fort Wayne medical college and was a member of the local pension board. He was unmarried.

Died of Her Burns.

GOSHEN, Ind., Jan. 9.—Myrtle Brown, who was so terribly burned by the explosion of a can of kerosene the other day, died Friday morning. Her flesh was burned to a crisp, which resulted in blood poisoning. Her mother, who was also burned, is very low.

Russell Sage.

The well-known financier, writes: "506 FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK CITY, Dec. 20, 1890."

"For the last twenty years I have been using Alcock's Porous Plasters. They have repeatedly cured me of rheumatic pains and pains in my side and back. Whenever I have a cold, one on my chest and one on my back speedily relieve me."

RUSSELL SAGE.

Lane's Family Medicine moves the bowels each day. Most people need to use it.

A Dangerous Safeguard.

There has been a gun standing behind a cupboard in a Pine street residence for the past eight years. It belonged to the occupant's father, and was set up there in a loaded condition. Its presence was always an eye-sore to the occupant's wife, who shared fully with the sex her fear of firearms. So the other day, Friday, we think she induced her husband to take it down and fire it off. He had never fired of a gun that had been loaded eight years; in fact, he never fired of a gun at all, so he poked it out of a window and took aim into the garden without the faintest shadow of fear. His wife being afraid of firearms, stood behind his back and looked over his shoulder with her eyes shut tightly. He shut his eyes, too, and then he pulled the trigger.

What immediately followed, neither appears to have any settled idea. He says he can vaguely remember hearing a noise of some kind, and has an indistinct impression of passing over something which must have been his wife, as she was found between him and the window by the neighbors who drew him out of the fireplace. The fact that one of his shoulders was set back about two inches, and that three of her teeth were imbedded in his scalp, seemed to indicate that in stepping back from the window he had done so abruptly, and this conclusion, we are glad to say, was verified by both on being restored to consciousness.

The laws of health are taught in the schools, but not in a way to be of much practical benefit and are never illustrated by living examples, which in many cases might easily be done. If some scholar, who had just contracted a cold, was brought before the school, so that all could hear the dry, loud cough and know its significance, see the thin white coating on the tongue and later, as the cold developed, see the profuse watery expectoration and thin watery discharge from the nose, not one of them would ever forget what the first symptoms of a cold were. The scholar should then be given Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, freely, that all might see that even a severe cold could be cured in one or two days, or at least greatly mitigated, when properly treated, so soon as the first symptoms appear. This remedy is famous for its cures of colds, coughs and croup. It is made especially for these diseases and is the most prompt and most reliable medicine known for the purpose. 50 cent bottles for sale by Nye & Co.

Newspapers Endorse.

"Educators are certainly the greatest benefactors of the race, and I, after reading Dr. Franklin Miles' popular works, cannot help declaring him to be among the most entertaining and educating authors." Immediately after using New Cure he felt better and could lay down and sleep all night, and is now a well man. The New Cure is sold, also free book, by Nye & Co.
