This is a shoe
That's Sure to go through
Eighteen Hundred and Ninety-Two.

Give your feet a show. They'll have to carry you through the new year. If you give them their deserts, you'll put them into shoes that they will take kindly to. You will be doing a handsome thing by them if you encase them in a pair of our $5.00 shoes. When you are wearing them neither you or they will have anything to complain about. The day may come when a better shoe than this can be sold for less money. For time brings wonderful changes as well as new years. But it hasn't come yet and there's no sign of it.

Respectfully Yours,

J. S. KELLY.

How We Reach Perfection.

We are having a big run on our $10 Suits and Overcoats and it doesn't astonish us in the least. They've hit the nail on the head as nothing else in that line ever did before. What is the secret of their success? There isn't any secret about it. There can't be any secret about what everybody knows and the first thing that leaked out about them was that they are away above par in value and away below par in price. Is the run subsiding? Not a bit of it. On the contrary the tide is rising. This, of all others, is the time to buy. You never make any mistake when you go with the rising tide to headquarters.

REVENGE IS SWEET.

A Bold Attempt to Assassinate John Tracy.

Last evening John Tracy, who lives near the Junction, attended the U. B. prayer meeting at the court house and about 9 o'clock he started home, having enjoyed a feast of spiritual things, and being of a proper frame of mind for transmission to fairer world on high. But it never once entered his head that he would soon run a narrow risk of being translated beyond this vail of tears. After he had crossed the Pike street bridge, over the Monon railroad, and was near the John Lee property, a man bundled up in a fur overcoat suddenly stepped out from in hiding and walked rapidly toward Tracy. When he reached Tracy he pulled out a revolver, and saying something about "revenge being sweet," he fired three shots in rapid succession at Tracy's breast. Then the man turned and disappeared down the street. Tracy went on home and a doctor was summoned, when it was found that two shots had taken effect, one having penetrated the left lung, and another the left shoulder. One of the balls was extracted, and Tracy is suffering conside ably from his wounds. He has no idea as to who the man is who attempted to assassinate him, as he says he he has had no trouble with any person, and therefore he can see no reason why an attempt should have been made on his life. There seems to be a mystery connected with the affair which will probably be cleared up before many days. The pistol was so close to Tracy that his coat was burned. Tracy lives on the corner of Pike and Pine streets.

CHURCH NOTES.

Rev. R. S. Inglis will officiate at the First Presbyterian church to morrow.

Rev. G. W. Switzer will conduct services at the Methodist church to-morrow.

Rev. G. P. Fuson will conduct the services at the Baptist church to-morrow.

Dr. R. J. Cunningham will preach at Center church to-morrow morning and evening.

There will be no services at St. John's to-morrow, owing to the building undergoing repairs.

The usual services at the Christian church to-morrow will be conducted by Rev. S. W. Brown.

Natural gas will be put in the grates in Prof. Milford's private office and the minerological laboratory.

Rev. J. H. Penny will hold services this evening, to-morrow morning and evening, and every evening next week, except Tuesday, at the court house. There have been six conversions thus far.

Elder Coleman, of Bloomington, will preach at the A. M. E. church to-morrow. Bishop Brown has promised to send the church a first class pastor within the next ten days. This promise has smoothed the troubled waters and all is now lovely.

The Natural History Society met last evening in President Tuttle's room. A paper on "Circulatory Powers in Animals" was read by L. E. Acker and Prof. Thomas gave an informal report of his experience at the late meeting of the Academy of Science. President Coulter of the State University wrote that he accepted the offer of the society to become an associate member. Fry and Demaree, who were expected to read papers, turned up missing.

No Light To-night.

The armature of the incandescent machine of the electric light plant burned out last night and, of course, the lights all went out. A new one accompanied by an expert is now on the road and will be here to-morrow night so that the consumers will not be out of light except for this evening. The loss is about $400 but the city does not lose a cent of this as the company stands it.

Fire in the Country.

Last evening at near 8 o'clock the woodshed of J. W. Whitsett, who lives a mile south of the city on the Ladoga road, was discovered to be on fire, and was entirely consumed, together with twelve cords of wood, coal and a number of gardening implements. The fire originated from an ash barrel, and is supposed to have been smouldering for a day or two. By hard work the house was saved.

Private Opinion Made Public.

Lillian Lewis: "I ought to have had a better audience than I had last night. My company are better than ever before and should have filled the hall to overflowing. I won't come back any more if I can't get better audiences. Yes, sir, that house ought to have been jam packed last, night, so it ought."

A Surprise.

Last evening at the home of Miss Anna Drury, a number of her young friends assembled to celebrate her eighteenth birthday. Card playing was indulged in until a late hour and elegant refreshments were served.

—Fifteen per cent off on all our overcoats to order at C. E. Gilbert's.

Peecinct 15—Abner Jones, delegate; F. G. McIntire, alternate.

Precinct 16—E. C. Snyder, delegate; Lem McClamrook, alternate

A Waveland Wedding.

One of the prettiest weddings which has been solemnized at Waveland for a long time was that of Rev. J. P. Robinson and Miss Mary Russell. The ceremony took place in the Christian church, which had been beautifully and artistically decorated for the occasion, and was performed by Dr. D. R. VanBuskirk. Miss Pauline Russell presided at the piano and as she charmingly executed Mendelsohn's exquisite wedding march the bridal party entered and proceeded to the altar when the fortunes of the happy young couple were united in a most impressive manner. After the ceremony a reception was given them at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. Robinson is a rising young minister in the Christian church and has secured for a wife a young lady of a most estimable and lovable character.

Badly Hurt.

This afternoon a Miss Wyncoop residing north of the city was suddenly called out to her home, a messenger having arrived with the intelligence that her father was dangerously hurt. The same messenger took out a doctor to attend the wounded man.

Death of an Iowa Jurist.

BURLINGTON, Ia., Jan. 9.—Judge C. B. Harrington died here Thursday. He was born in Clarendon, Vt., in 1812. He studied law, served four terms in the legislature, occupied other positions of trust, and came to Burlington in 1857, where he practiced law for many years.

How to Cure a Cold.

One of our citizens who has been troubled with a severe cold on the lungs effected his recovery in the following simple manner: He boiled a little boneset and hoarhound together and drank freely of the tea before going to bed. The next day he took five pills, put one kind of plaster on his breast, another under his arms and still another on his back. Under advice from an experienced old lady he took all these off with an oyster knife in the afternoon and slapped on a mustard paste instead. His mother put some onion drafts on his feet and gave him a lump of tar to swallow. Then he put some hot bricks to his feet and went to bed.

Next morning another old lady came in with a bottle of goose oil and gave him a dose of it on a quill, and an aunt arrived about the same time from Bethel with a bundle of sweet fern which she made into a tea and gave him every half hour until noon, when he took a big dose of salts. After dinner his wife, who had seen a fine old lady of great experience in doctoring, in Franklin street, gave him two pills of her make about the size of an English walnut and of a similar shape, and two tablespoonfuls of homemade balsam to keep them down. Then he took a half pint of hot rum at the suggestion of an old sea captain in the next house and steamed his legs with an alcohol bath.

At this crisis two of the neighbors arrived, who saw at once that his blood was out of order, and gave him a half gallon of spearmint tea and a big dose of castor oil. Before going to bed he took eight of a new kind of pills, wrapped about his neck a flannel soaked in hot vinegar and salt and had feathers burned on a shovel in his room. He is now thoroughly cured and full of gratitude. We advise our readers to cut this out and keep it where it can be readily found when danger threatens.
