HURT AT A FIRE.

Clark's Hotel, in Boston, Party Destroyed by Flames.

MANY GUESTS WERE PANIC-STRIKEN

Several of Them Leap or Fall from Great Heights and Are Badly Hurt. One Fatally A Girl Badly Injured in Milwaukee.

A HOTEL TAKES FIRE.

Boston, Mass., March 31.—Clark's hotel on Washington street was badly damaged by fire, which broke out at 4 o'clock a. m. Wednesday. The guests awoke to find themselves enveloped in smoke, and became panic-stricken, and three of them were injured. Ernest W. Perry, of Leominster, Mass., received internal injuries which will result in his death. Thomas W. Southworth, of Cambridgeport, had both legs broken; Mr. Stockwell, of Laconia, N. H., had one leg broken. A number of other guests were bruised.

Narrow Escape of Firemen.

There were about fifty guests in the hotel, among them the members of the Sheppard's company. Three members of engine 26 had a narrow escape from death. They were precipitated into the front basement by the giving way of the grating protecting the basement window. The cellar was a mass of flames and for the moment it seemed as if the men must be burned to death. They were safely rescued, however, although in an exhausted condition.

Frantic Efforts to Escape.

The guests in the hotel had fire escapes in the rooms—ropes with attachments for sliding down—but they were too bewildered to use them. A rush was made for the fire escapes on every place. It took some few minutes before the excited throng could get the escape in working order, and then commenced the scramble down the rounds. It was during this descent that Mr. Perry met with the accident which will cause his death. He either jumped or was pushed from the ladder, which he had reached the level of the third story.

Mr. Southworth's Injuries.

While rushing about in search of an exit from the burning building, Mr. Southworth mistook the opening of the elevator well, and fell down three stories, lighting on top of the elevator, where he was found in an unconscious condition by the firemen when they got into the place. So rapidly did the flames spread that it was impossible for the guests to have anything, some of them barely having time enough to dress. In the attic were six chambermaids, who were, with some difficulty, rescued by the firemen and assisted down the ladders to the street.

The Loss.

The loss on the burned building, which is owned by Edward Bangs, is estimated at $25,000. The lessee, Marcus C. Clark, suffers a loss of $20,000; estimated. Charles Green & Co., tailors, 555 Washington street, lose from $5,000 to $10,000 by smoke and water partially insured.

A Girl's Awful Fate.

MILWAUKEE, March 31.—The four-story brick building at 529 and 531 Market street, occupied by the Berger Bedding Company, was completely destroyed by fire Wednesday evening despite the fact that a blinding rainstorm was falling. Frank Knuth, a 16-year-old boy employed in the engine room, was terribly scalded and was taken to the emergency hospital. He cannot survive his injuries. Theresa Basil, a 15-year-old girl, jumped from the third story but her fall was broken by two policemen, who were somewhat bruised. The girl escaped without any serious injury. The loss to stock will be about $25,000, partly covered by insurance.

THE FREE WOOL BILL.

The Discussion in the House Will Proba-ly Result in Favor of the Measure. WASHINGTON, March 31.—It is settled now that this week will close the general discussion on the free wool bill. At a conference of the democratic members of the ways and means committee Wednesday it was formally decided that general debate should close this week. In order to give as many members as possible opportunity to discuss the tariff it was resolved that night sessions should be held for the remainder of the week and that on Saturday a motion should be made to close the general debate. Under this programme it is contemplated that the wool bill shall be taken up and passed on Monday, a few hours probably being previously allowed for debate under the five-minute rule. Chairman Springer will himself appear in the house on Monday and probably make the motion to suspend the rules for the passage of the bill.

The house on Wednesday passed a resolution embodying the plan outlined above. The remainder of the session was devoted to debate on the free wool bill, among those participating being Mr. Butler (Ia.), Mr. Ray (N. Y.), Mr. J. D. Taylor (O.), Mr. Layton (O.) and Mr. Crosty (Mass.).

Senate Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—In the Senate Wednesday Senator Stanford (Cal.) spoke in support of the bill introduced by him to determine the value of a legal tender dollar. His speech was in further explanation and advocacy of the land loan bill introduced by him some time ago. The remainder of the session was devoted to a discussion of the plan to assign army officers as Indian agents. An amendment was agreed to by adding to the house measure a proviso that whenever the president shall be of the opinion that the good of the service specially requires it he may appoint a civilian.

Western Union Loses a Suit.

CORPORA, Tex., March 31.—A young man in Corsicana has secured a judgment for $1,000 against the Western Union Telegraph Company for failure to deliver a telegram announcing the death of his father.

HOUSES WERE HURLED AWAY.

Kentuckians Rendered Homeless by the Recent Cyclone.

TAYLORVILLE, Ky., March 31.—Details of the late storm in this section are coming in and show that much damage was done. Six substantial log and frame dwellings were blown down and as many families left homeless. Barns, fences and outhouses in a space half a mile wide and 2 miles long were swept away. The mountain sides were almost stripped of timber, and huge boulders were torn from the face of the cliffs. An apple orchard consisting of over 500 trees, belonging to C. Howard, tenant court clerk, was swept away. A large log dwelling belonging to Nouble Minix was totally destroyed and some of the heavy logs were blown a distance of half a mile. Nothing was left but the foundation, part of the floor even being torn away from the sills, but his wife and five little children were left standing together in the middle of the floor unhurt, except a leg slightly bruised by falling timber. Giant forest trees were carried over the tops of the whirlwind left them untouched. White oak logs that will weigh a ton were carried across a small mountain, and a small frame house was set down within 20 feet of the logs intact.

INDEMNITY FOR ITALIANS.

Report That the United States Will Pay for the Mafia Lyschings. INDIANAPOLIS, March 31.—Friends of ex-Gov. Porter have reason to believe that he will return in a short time to his post in Rome as United States minister to Italy. News received from Washington indicates that the administration is willing to pay 100,000 francs to the relatives of the men murdered by the New Orleans mob as indemnity. The payment of this sum, it is understood, is to be accompanied by a claim to the government of Italy, which will make it plain to the government of that country that this act on the part of the United States is in no wise to be considered as an acknowledgement of its obligation or liability for the failure of the local authorities in New Orleans to protect the lives of Italian citizens, but as an evidence rather of the good will and friendliness of feeling which has always characterized the relations of this government with that of Italy. It is understood that congress will not be called upon to appropriate the money, but that the existing fund of the state department is to be drawn upon. This will save time and enable the administration to act promptly in the matter.

NOW SENATOR MILLS.

Formally Installed in the Upper Branch of Congress.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Roger Q. Mills is a full-fledged senator. The ceremonial of his formal installation took place in the senate immediately after the reading of the journal, in the presence of many friends in the galleries and colleagues of the house on the floor. It was the achievement of a life-long ambition, but there was a tinge of regret in it for him just the same. For nineteen years he has sat in the house. Flowers whose fragrance rose to the galleries hid his desk in the senate from view and over sixty members fringed the outside tier of seats when Senator Coke conducted him to Vice President Morton to receive the oath. That duty over, he returned to his desk, shook hands with all his former colleagues, then with the senators who came up to welcome him, finishing with Minister Montt, and then he took the seat formerly occupied by Chilton and became, on this, his 60th birthday, an out-and-out grave and revered seigneur from Texas.

BEHIND SEA ARBITRATION.

Secretary Blaine Will Conduct Further

Negotiations on the Subject.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Secretary Blaine has resumed the discharge of his official duties and will conduct all further negotiations on behalf of this government in the Behring sea matter. Gen. J. W. Foster will continue to assist in the conduct of these negotiations, as well as others affecting the commercial interests of the United States. The two gentlemen named had a conference with the president Wednesday morning in regard to the details of the reply to be made to Lord Salisbury's note of the 26th inst., agreeing to a renewal of last year's modus vivendi under certain conditions respecting indemnity. It is said that no further action will be taken in regard to the arbitration treaty until the arrangements for the modus have been completed.

FOURTEEN WERE DROWNED.

The Bark Falls of Garry Cut Nearly in

Two by the Steamer Thetis, Off the Isle of Wight. LONDON, March 31.—A collision resulting in the loss of fourteen lives occurred off the Isle of Wight. The British bark Falls of Garry, from San Francisco for Havre, came into collision with the British steamer Thetis. The Falls of Garry was cut nearly in two and sank almost immediately. The crew of the Thetis hastened to assist the wrecked seamen, who were struggling in the water, and succeeded in saving sixteen of them. Fourteen were drowned.

Killed in a Schoolroom.

CHICAGO, March 31.—In the schoolroom of St. Ignace college, just after school had been called to order, Wednesday Sims McGuire, a 6-year-old boy, who had just purchased a pistol, attempted to show it to John Keegan, a 5-year-old playmate. In some manner the weapon was discharged, the bullet penetrating young Keegan's heart, killing him.

OUT OF THE RACE.

Senator Cullom No Longer a Presidential Candidate.

LETTER OF WITHDRAWAL WRITTEN.

Full Text of the Document, Giving the Reasons for His Action. The Party Shown the Necessity for Harmonious Action.

WILL NOT RUN.

WASHINGTON, March 31.—Senator Cullom will not be a presidential candidate. His formal announcement to this effect was given to the press Wednesday night in the form of a letter which the senator wrote to ex-Mayor Roche, of Chicago, under date of the 28th inst. The withdrawal from the presidential field is unqualified.

Not Much of a Surprise.

The letter is no surprise to the senator's friends here, as they have expected it for the last few days. Monday, however, the senator almost concluded to withhold the letter. Gen. Post, of Illinois, who called on him and had a lengthy talk on the state and national politics, left him with the impression that however the senator might have felt about quitting the field, he had concluded to fight it out. But constant reports appearing in print that Cullom was being "forced out," finally led him to put a stop to the talk, which had become very irritating to him, by asking his Illinois friends not to urge his name any further.

Senator Cullom's Letter.

Senator Cullom's letter to ex-Mayor Roche follows:

UNITED STATES SENATE, WASHINGTON, March 28, 1892.—Hon. John A. Roche, Chicago, Ill.: My dear friend: Yesterday, the 28th, in which you inquire concerning my wishes in reference to the selection of a delegate to be chosen by the republicans in the several congressional districts and in our state convention to represent the party in the national convention to be held at Minneapolis on June next, has been received and I take pleasure in answering you frankly as to my position. I have said to republicans who have written to me and to the gentlemen representing the press, that I have no objection to my name being placed in nomination for the national convention, but I would esteem it a high honor to have the support of the Illinois delegation in the national republican convention for president of the United States, and would be pleased to have the delegation do all that honorably could be done to secure for me the nomination.

I have had many letters asking me to leave my post of duty here and come to the convention and take part in the campaign going on there between candidates for the several state offices, and also to look after my own interest in the selection of delegates to the national convention. I have declined to do so, and as I am situated I do not feel at liberty to leave my official duties to take part in any campaign for myself or any one else, and would not do so for any one else.

No Longer a Candidate.

To the people of the state of Illinois, who have honored me repeatedly with their confidence and whom I have served officially for many years, I desire, however, to say that my name shall not be longer used as a candidate for the office of president. The people seem to favor the renomination of President Harrison, whose administration has been able to clear our country of the influence of the great evil of the day, and I believe in the principles and policies of the party and I expect always to do my part as I may be able, in upholding it in power and in its absence. I have before me in Illinois and in the nation a great and stubborn battle.

Must Have Harmony.

We must have harmony in our ranks if we are to be successful in success either in state or nation. Our state and national conventions should be wise in the selection of candidates who are not likely to create dissension in the state and nation, and by success give assurance of the continuance of our present wise and patriotic foreign policy, a well-considered fiscal policy, the foundation principle of which is honest money for honest people, a revenue policy under which American trade and industry are protected from extortion and unjust discriminations, that will give the country a pure and competent civil service, that will compel reform for the rights of every citizen in every state, that will make the government puissant in its parts, and invincible in its unity. With respect, I am very truly yours, "S. M. CULLOM."

FLOODS IN THE WEST.

Dakota and Montana Towns in Danger from High Water.

ST. PAUL, Minn., March 31.—Reports from North Dakota and eastern Montana indicate the greatest spring floods in ten years. The James river is rising very rapidly, having gone up 3 feet since Tuesday night. At Jamestown, N. D., the water is 7 feet deep in the Russell Mill mill and still rising. Residents all along the river are preparing to move to higher ground. The southern part of Grafton, S. D., is a lake, reaching for miles into the country. The river is higher there than it has been since 1880. Northern Pacific trains are held up a few miles below there on account of high water. In Montana there are washouts in every direction, the Great Northern being the chief sufferer. The main break occurred on the Montana division between Wolfstien and Spring Brook, and was caused by the overflow of the Missouri's tributaries, which at this time of year are fed by the melting snow from the Rockies. The flood carried away a bridge and 12 miles of track and trestle, blocking everything. It will take thirty-six hours to repair the road.

Joseph Lytle Dies at the Hands of Lynchers in Findlay, O.

HE BUTCHERS HIS WIFE AND CHILD.

Although Neither Is Yet Dead, They Cannot Recover—Inflamed Citizens Take the Wretch from Jail and Lynch Him.

SHOWN NO MERCY.

FINDLAY, O., March 31.—Joseph Lytle was taken from the jail here by a mob of angry men at 12:30 o'clock this morning, and lynched. The mob included 1,000 men. The windows of the jail were broken, but the cell of the prisoner could not be reached by that means. Then the determined men procured oil-well drills and battered down the doors, and the murderous wretch was at their mercy.

Strung Up.

He was dragged out into the street and taken to a bridge a short distance away. A rope was put around his neck and one end thrown over a cross piece of the structure. When the mob were in the act of pulling him up a shot from a revolver parted the rope and the wretch fell to the ground. But the mob were determined that the wretch should die. He was quickly picked up and hustled to the nearest telegraph pole, where the lynching was completed.

His Awful Crime.

Lytle butchered his divorced wife and his two daughters in a horrible manner Wednesday morning. He was an inmate of the National soldiers' home at Dayton. He got leave of absence and returned home with murder in his heart on Sunday. From that day until the moment of the bloody crime he hid quietly in the house with his unsuspecting though estranged family. He carefully sharpened his murderous hatchet and after breakfast Wednesday he crushed the skull of his daughter Della with the pole of the hatchet, and leaving her for dead dealt a blow at his daughter Emma, who escaped with a comparatively slight wound. Then he rushed at the invalid who was once his wife. Giant though he was and weakling she, a terrible struggle ensued. He rained blows on her, which she warded off with desperate energy. Six blows landed on her head without breaking her skull. One blow cut a finger of her right hand. Then the woman was exhausted and the fiendish ex-husband crushed her skull. After this he cut the piano, the pictures and all the furniture to pieces and gave himself up. The only motives assigned is total depravity.

AT FEARFUL SPEED.

A Runaway Train Crashes Into an Engine—Two Men Killed.

READING, Pa., March 31.—The crew of a train coming down the steep grade on the Frackville branch of the Philadelphia & Reading railroad late Tuesday night lost control and engine and cars shot down the decline at a fearful speed. The engineer and fireman jumped for their lives. After running some distance the light locomotive was overturned, and there was a terrible crash, both locomotives being badly damaged and the cars sent flying in every direction. Brakeman Josiah Troy and John Bauer were lying on the platform in front of the light engine and when the collision came they were crushed to death.

The origin of the fire is a mystery. The loss on barn and contents will be something in the neighborhood of $30,000.
